Ingenious Connecticut.

During the last twenty years, by the Patent Office record, Connecticut has led every State in the country in inventiveness, except in four separate years when it stood second in the list. There is scarcely an article in common use about your house that is not made in Connecticut, from the hinges and locks on the doors to the billiard table, the clock on your mantel, the sewing machine in the workroom, your silverware, your gun, your bicycle or automobile, your piano, and piano player, and many such simple things as axes, nails, kitchen hardware, knives and forks and needles and chains. If there be anything that you cannot trace to Connecticut, you will find that the machinery for making it or the first shaping of raw material came from this State. The letter box you pass on the way to your office and the typewriter in use there, the ship in the harbor, and the railroad train you ride in, all have the Connecticut stamp on them somewhere.

THE KEYSTONE STATE

Latest News of Pennsylvania Told in Short Order.

At the closing session of the Farmers' Institute in King of Prussia, State Senator Algernon B. Roberts spoke on the subject of good roads and discussed the Sproul good roads law. Senator Roberts said that the criticism of the Grangers that the road bill increases the burden of taxation upon the farmer is entirely unsound and it is to be regretted, the speaker said, that the farmers are opposing this measure, which was passed for their especial benefit. If the bill was amended, Senator Roberts said, to suit the Grangers, so that the State should apportion the appropriation among the townships and let them spend it as they see fit, the result would be most unsatisfactory. The people would refuse to pay even the small road tax which is now demanded and the money would be spent by the supervisors in the same careless manner which they exhibit it the management of country highways so that instead of being a good roads bill it would be turned into a bad roads

The Dauphin County Court heard the case of lames Russ, a Harrisburg hotelkeeper, against the State of Pennsyl vania, an action to recover money for services, food and drink furnished the members of the Legislature of 1897 dur ing their trip to New York on the occasion of the dedication of the Grant Memorial Tomb. The bill sent in by Memorial Tomb. Mr. Russ was for $5911. Judge Weiss granted a compulsory non-suit after hearing the testimony of several wit nesses. Permission was given, how ever, to move for an opening of the non-suit upon argument. The famous legislature junket of which this bill is a relic was taken under the auspices of the Military Committee of the Senate under a resolution passed by both Senate and House. Every legislator and legislative employee who could get away took part in it. No one asserts that Mr. Russ did not furnish food and drink in abundance.

David Patterson, dreading a long term of imprisonment in the peniten tiary for stealing goods from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, broke away from the officers in the Blair County courtroom and jumped out of a secondstory window, falling forty feet into a snow bank. After this desperate leap for liberty he was chased several squares by the officers before he col-apsed. He was picked up unconscious. Patterson resides at Kitanning Point. He will be sentenced as soon as he recovers from his injuries.

As a result of the breaking of a governor belt, allowing an immense fly wheel to run away and burst, in the Cambria Steel Company's No. 2 rail nill, Johnstown, three men were killed and nine badly injured. When Engineer Hishler, who was standing by his engine, felt the jar of the immense fly wheel running wild, without pausing to consider his own danger, he rushed to the steam valve and tried to stop the engine. He was too late, however, for the explosion of the wheel was almost ustantaneous.
