Spring Mills. Saturday evening last quite a large number of the K. G. E. astounded David Burrell, one of the highly esteemed citizens, and an old veteran of the civil war, by visiting him in a body and in a manner, taking entire possession of his residence, the occasion being the anniversary of his birthday. It was a surprise party in every sense of the word. It was kept such a profound secret, that although Mr. Burrell is a member of the organization, he had not the remotest idea that such a visitation was contemplated. In addition to the Sir Knights, quite a large number of his relatives and immediate friends were present. An evening of extreme pleasure and enjoyment followed. An elegant and substantial supper, beautifully and artistically arranged, had been previously provided to which all did ample justice. Prof. C. E. Ziegler presided at the organ and played several exquisite selections. Mrs. Margaret Ruhl sang very sweetly the new song of "The birds will come again" besides several other favorite pieces. Miss Ida Condo also played and sang quite a number of popular songs. Music, song and mirth ruled the evening. Having been delightfully entertained, and wishing Mr. Burrell many returns of the day, at a seasonable hour all retired to their respective homes. Mr. Burrell was the recipient of a large number of remembrances and presents of a very substantial character. The following were among the guests present: H. B. Hering, R. U. Bitner, O. T. Corman, U. Fame's Brief Life. One thing is certain in regard to fame—for most of us it will be very brief in itself, for all of us it will be transient in our enjoyment of it. When death has dropped the curtain, we shall hear no more applause, and, though we fondly dream that it will continue after we have left the stage, we do not realize how quickly it will die away in silence while the audience turns to look at the new actor and the next scene. Our position in society will be filled as soon as it is vacated and our name remembered only for a moment, except, please God, by a few who have learned to love us not because of fame, but because we have helped them and done them some good.—Henry Van Dyke. A Dread Ordeal. The Rev. Mr. Inch of Dumbarton tells how on one occasion in his old church in Dundee a brother minister had preached a rather long sermon, and he (Mr. Inch) had occasion later on to enter the pulpit to make an intimation, whereupon a "wee Macgregor," who was in the gallery with his mother and the rest of the family, took fright and exclaimed very loudly: "Come awa', maw. There's another man gan'nae begin!"—Glasgow Times. Too Eager For His Own Profit. Hewitt—I overreached myself the other day. Jewett—How? Hewitt—I was so anxious to unload a lot of pennies on a street car conductor that I forgot I had a transfer ticket in my pocket.—Brooklyn Life. Parliamentary Procedure. "The first thing to be done," said the committee-man in an important tone, "is to organize. Therefore—" "I beg your pardon," said an older member. "We have not been photographed yet."—Judge. Sober.
