MISS FOX BURNED TO DEATH.

Alone in Her Humble Dwelling Her Clothing Ignited from Smoke Pipe.

The Woodward correspondent furnishes a sad story in the death of Miss Sarah Fox, who lived in a humble home on the mountain side, near that place.
Miss Fox, who was about seventy years of age, was a sufferer from dropsy, and had two attendants in the persons of David Dorman and Irvin Stover, both of whom stayed with the lady Saturday night. When morning came Mr. Dorman, who lives nearby, went home for his breakfast, leaving the patient in care of Mr. Stover, who for some reason left his charge before Mr. Dorman returned.
On entering the Fox home Mr. Dorman was almost dumbfounded to find that Miss Fox was dead—her flesh being burned to a crisp. Her clothing had been burned from her body, and the floor coverings, at that instant, were kindling flames that would have completely cremated the lifeless body.
With considerable difficulty the flames were extinguished and an alarm sent out to neighbors.

It appears that Miss Fox's clothing was ignited by ashes falling from a pipe she was smoking.

Deceased was a member of the Evangelical church, and in absence of her pastor, Rev. O. L. Buck, the funeral sermon was by Rev. Sheeder, Tuesday following.

The deceased had no relatives about Woodward, but has one sister living in Clearfield county.

A number of the seventy-four subscribers have sent remittances, for which they have the Reporter's thanks. A reply from each one is expected, and, no doubt, the expectation will be realized.

Nation's Biggest Business.

The United States has 95,924 post offices, and the mass of mail matter which passes through them would require thirty-one trains, each a mile long, traveling 203 times around the equator, to deliver it at its destinations. Its weight would be more than 745,000,000 pounds. If an average could be made, every man, woman and child in the United States would receive sixty-one letters, thirty-one newspapers or periodicals and fourteen packages, and every sixth person would receive a registered letter.

It consists of a 3000 acre tract of timber, saw mill, camp, six horses and three miles of tram-way, etc. The amount of timber on the tract is estimated at 3,000,000 feet. The price paid is $14,000.

Kulps Got Big Trout.

The M. H. Kulp Company, of Shamokin, of which former Congressman Kulp is the head, Saturday night acquired the lumber interests of the John F. Duncan estate, which includes many thousands of acres of virgin timber land situated in Union, Centre, Clinton and Lyscoming counties.
The deal also includes the entire capital stock of the White Deer Valley Railroad Company, whose road connects with the Philadelphia and Reading at White Deer station.
This purchase gives to the Kulp family control of all the undeveloped timber land remaining in the large territory lying between the Lewisburg and Tyrone Railroad on the south and the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad on the north.

He then congratulated the members of Central Pennsylvania Conference for their devotion and loyalty, and said, "I am favorably impressed with the contributions from this conference to the general church work. Your conference has been a seed basket, where preachers have been brought forth and laborers sent into other fields."
