I. O. O. F. ANNIVERSARY SERMON.

Rev. McInay Expounds True Odd Fellowship—Growth of the Order.

Rev. G. W. McInay, himself a member of the order, delivered the anniversary sermon to the I. O. O. F., Sunday evening, in the Methodist church of Centre Hall. Every portion of available space was taken up by members of the order and their friends.

Rev. McInay delivered a most interesting sermon. He said in part:

"God is the author of a fatherhood which is both temporal and eternal. Jesus Christ is the completion of a friendship that he taught, and the expression of a love never equalled in time nor shall it ever be equalled in eternity."

When I speak of Odd Fellowship I speak of no new thing, for its principles are taught in God's own truth and are heaven-born principles.

This Order was established in principle, if not in practice, under the reign of Nero, A. D. 65, then called "Fellow Citizens."

In the fifth century I find this Order springing up in Spain, in the sixth century in Portugal, in the 12th century in France, in the 14th century in England, and in 1800 in America, with but five brothers as members, where today we have 1,330,000, of which 25,000 are in Pennsylvania.

We are sometimes criticised for being secret. There are no secrets about Odd Fellowship other than those we use for our protection against intruders. There are many "open secrets" about this Order, a few of which I must tell here.

During the year 1903, we spent $4,068,500 for the alleviation of suffering and the burial of the dead, and in the eighty-six years of our history in the United States, we have laid $19,000,000 upon our altars for these purposes named.

To be an Odd Fellow my brother at your best, for service, you must have Christ Jesus within.

Some men make the awful mistake of putting their Order instead of the church. My dear brother there is no salvation in any Order under the sun. Salvation is of God, through Christ Jesus.

Do not base your hope of salvation on your relation to this, or any other organization, less than the Christian Church.

Following are the names of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in attendance:

COBURN CANNING FACTORY.

Board of Managers—The Structure, and How the Concern Will be Run.

G. R. STOVER, W. H. GROVE, A. F. KREAMER, T. A. MEYER, W. T. WINKLEBLECK.

The above gentlemen constitute the board of managers of the Coburn canning factory; they will represent the co-operative company comprised of thirty or more gentlemen—mostly farmers—who have contributed toward capitalizing the concern at $10,000.

The factory itself is in the course of construction under the management of Construction Agent W. W. Wolf, who represents The Hastings Industrial Company, of Chicago. The location is south of the L. and T. railroad, at a point a short distance west of the station on that road.

The building will be frame, weather-boarded and painted. The main building will be 28x48 feet; to which will be attached a husking shed, 16x29 feet; processing room, 16x32 feet; ware-house 16x32 feet; open porch 16x32 feet; boiler room, 16x24 feet. The work on the foundation and building will be done by local mechanics, and it is the intention to have the structure finished and machinery in place by June 30th.

The capacity of the plant will be ten thousand cans daily. At present the company has a guarantee that fifty acres will be planted to tomatoes, the acreage being distributed largely among those interested. A further effort will be made to secure an additional acreage of tomatoes, and an acreage of beets. Pumpkins, apples and huckleberries will also be canned. Large quantities of huckleberries are shipped each season from Coburn, and instead of sending this produce to the market in a raw state, it will hereafter be canned.

Following are the stock holders in the company:

- L. H. Stover, G. R. Stover, J. E. Harter, C. N. Meyer, T. A. Meyer, A. Harter, D. Meyer, E. A. Hartges, A. J. Stover, A. Bartges, Emma Vonada, J. Kerstetter, J. W. Kerstetter, A. F. Kreamer, I. A. Meyer, A. Vonada, J. W. Meyer, M. Everett, W. D. Bartges, G. M. Bower, A. W. Ulrich, H. M. Swartz, W. T. Winkleblech, D. F. Corman, W. H. Grove, S. R. Lingie, E. J. Hinds, F. P. Vonada, T. A. Hoesterman, Mrs. T. B. Everett, W. V. Gentzel.

The following diagram will give a fair idea of the general plan of the building in course of construction.

THE PRIEST VINDICATED.

Father Zarek Discharged after Hearing Report of Coroner's Autopsy.

Father Victor Zarek, the Polish priest at Clarence, who had been in jail since Sunday night charged with causing the death of young Andrew Sofka, who died Sunday morning, 24th ult., it was alleged, as a result of a whipping given him by the priest, was triumphantly vindicated at the habeas corpus hearing held Thursday of last week before Judge Love.

The report of the coroner's autopsy was submitted, which stated that Sofka died of peritonitis, superinduced by appendicitis.

It was apparent that the Commonwealth had no evidence. A statement was made by A. O. Furst, Esq., in which he said that the boy, who was incorrigible, had been placed in charge of the priest by his mother, and he admitted to having whipped him lightly with a switch. The boy had his coat and vest on and heavy winter underwear, and was a stout, hearty boy.

The whipping occurred on Wednesday, and the boy afterwards apologized to the priest. He was able to play ball on Thursday and worked in the mines Friday. Saturday he was taken sick, and on Sunday the priest administered the rites of the church to him before he died.

The Pennsylvania State College.

The Pennsylvania State College has grown so rapidly, both in the scope of its work and its buildings and equipment, that many of its friends do not appreciate the leading position it now occupies among the technical institutions of the country. The number of students in attendance has more than doubled within the last four years, and today 64 counties of the state are represented in the student body. This growth is due largely to the fact that it has come to be recognized that a thorough training along technical lines, or a general College education, can be obtained at the State College at a minimum expense. The proof of this statement is seen in the fact that for the last four or five years graduates of the College have been placed in responsible positions before Commencement Day, many more opportunities being offered than could be accepted.

COURT NEWS.

Remainder of Proceedings of Last Week's Court.

A subpoena in divorce was awarded by the court in the case of Margaret A. Gilson versus Thomas Gilson.

On motion the court ordered a new election precinct or district for Rush township, to be known as the eastern election district of Rush township. He appointed as Judge—Harry Potts; Minority Inspector, E. J. Goodyear; Registration Assessor for said district, Appointment to be in force until successors are elected at February election 1905. The place for voting was fixed in the school house in the village of Cassanova.

When the case of Jane Cowher versus Wilson Frantz, appeal, was called Wednesday morning, all other traverse jurors not empanelled in that case were discharged.

The usual form for the report of the grand jury was used, and the only report made was that they acted upon sixteen bills of indictment; that they found eleven true bills and ignored five. They also reported that they acted favorably on two bridge views. No other findings were reported or recommendations made.

The following cases on the civil list for trial during the week were continued:

Joseph Brothers & Co., versus Grant Hoover and Richard Hoover; appeal, plea, non assumpsit.

Jacob Test versus George R. Mock, administrator of etc., of Jacob Mock, deceased.

A voluntary non suit was entered in the case of S. F. Dorman versus Christie A. Homan and Thomas A. Homan. The case of Carrie Harter and A. Harter versus John D. Long was settled by the parties.

The grand jurors were discharged at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday.

The court handed down an opinion in the case of William Witmer versus Dora Witmer and James Witmer which was tried at November term of court 1903, in which he was refused a new trial. The case was decided in favor of the defendants at the trial.

The court also handed down six road and bridge petitions on which the appointment of the following persons as viewers was made:

Petition for county bridge over the race, near P. R. R. depot in Bellefonte, A. A. Dale, Esq., was appointed surveyor, and Potter Tate and Benjamin Gentzel viewers.

Petition of citizens of Rush township for the vacation of public road, John A. Way, surveyor, and Christ Sharer and S. R. Pringle, viewers.

Petition for county bridge in Spring township, near Coleville, E. R. Chambers, Esq., was appointed surveyor and Samuel Decker and Daniel Heckman viewers.

Petition for public road in Curtin and Howard townships, Clement Dale, Esq., was appointed surveyor and John B. Harris and Samuel Aley viewers.

Another petition was presented by the citizens of Howard and Curtin townships for the vacation of a public road leading from Morrison Watkins to Stone Hollow on which the court appointed D. W. Pletcher surveyor, and Randolph Pletcher and Harry McDowell viewers. At last Argument court the court handed down an opinion in which proceedings to have this same road vacated were set aside.

LOCALS.

Ex-Sheriff Spangler planted shade trees along the front of the meat-market lot, adjoining the diamond.

D. H. Shlegal, of Spring Mills, plasterer, paper hanger, etc., last week did work for Alfred Durst and several others in Centre Hall.

The prospects for a wheat crop have improved fifty per cent within the past two weeks, but the crop, nevertheless, will be very light.

Clyde A. Boyer was advanced from night to day ticket agent at Milton. The order took effect Thursday of last week. The position Mr. Boyer now holds is a most desirable one.

Simon P. King, proprietor of the Musser House, Millheim, one of the most up-to-date public houses, beginning of this week was unable to be about on account of illness. Among the late improvements to his hostelry is a perfect electric call bell system which connects the office with every room in the house.

One can accurately judge the character of customers served by a firm from the class of goods found in its stock. Those whose stock is composed of inferior makes and grades are apt to prey on the credulity of the uninformed. Where standard goods, and nothing else is found, selections may be made at random without risk. This may be regarded as a hint that a blind man would make a first class selection of a musical instrument if he were to select a "Knabe," "Schomacker," "Briggs," "Hobart," "Cable," "Riasas," or any musical instrument found in the well stocked music store of C. M. Gehhart, Bellefonte, where none but the highest grades of musical instruments will be found.

RICHARD CARLE IN "TENDERFOOT"

At the Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, May 2nd, has had an uninterrupted run of more than a year. "The Tenderfoot" is the work of Richard Carle, who staged the production and takes the principal comedy part, as well. The music is by H. L. Heartz, a composer of long standing, who is known favorably through "Miss Simplicity." His work and Mr. Carle's was produced originally in Chicago where it had a run of twenty weeks.

"Novelty is the keynote of "The Tenderfoot." The author has dared to raise his curtain on a stage teanted only by a Chinaman. Presently a troop of Texas rangers comes galloping on in a dashing cavalry song. The rangers give way to a western gambler, an authress from the east and a prairie waif, and then are introduced all the picturesque characters that the picturesque dividing line of Texas and Mexico affords.

The cast includes Edmund Tanley, Charles Wayne, Henry Norman, William Rock, Helena Frederick—the latter, especially well known in Philadelphia—Mary Ryan, Agnes Paul and Ethel Johnson.

Of the several song hits the principal one is "My Alamo Love," sung by Mr. Carle and chorus, which popularized "The Tenderfoot" the country over, long before it left Chicago.

"The Tenderfoot" will run for two weeks, matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

THAT RURAL TELEPHONE LINE.

The Subject may be Presented in a Formal Way by Informed Persons.

A meeting was held in Middleburg, beginning of this week, to discuss the formation of a rural telephone line.

Many local companies, such as is under consideration in Snyder county, are in successful operation in various localities. They are successful in a financial way as well as in point of service.

The south side of Centre county is admirably situated for the successful operation of rural telephone lines because the district is a kingdom within itself, and once the lines were established throughout its domains the real benefits would only be realized by its inhabitants.

A gentleman acquainted with the workings of such local companies called at this office to secure names of persons located in the different parts of Penn's Valley, who might be interested in connecting the farm, the hamlet, the village, the town, and the borough by a net work of copperd wires, and later the subject may be presented in a formal way.
