Now its a '5'.

It will take a '5' in the Reporter label to put the majority of the Reporter readers a year in advance. Fives have been bought up right along by Reporter subscribers, and in order to make patrons feel entirely free to buy, it is announced that there is a '5' lying back for every subscriber whose label shows a figure of less denomination than the popular one [5] mentioned.

The Sick.

Mrs. Flora O. Bairfoot is confined to bed and is suffering from a severe attack of quinsy. Mrs. Boal, wife of Rev. J. W. Boal, has been ill since Saturday. Armsby, and Prof. Butz, of Pennsylvania State College, have written the management of the Patron's Exhibition that they will arrange to have an exhibit on the grounds, and that it will be fully up to its high standard of excellence. The College exhibit has always been one of great interest to those attending the encampment and tends to bring the average agriculturist into closer touch with the State's great educational institution.

State Librarian Montgomery Speaks.

A note from State Librarian Thomas L. Montgomery to the secretary of Progress Grange reads thus: "I have received a clipping from the 'Reporter' which has given me a great deal of pleasure. In it it is stated that the Grange has opened its library for the use of the public. This seems to me to be a public spirited act and cannot fail to have good effect in increasing the use of the literature sent it by the State, by the people at large. If I can in any way increase the effectiveness of this library it will give me great pleasure."

WALLACE WALKER'S LOSS BY FIRE.

Barn and Contents Destroyed Near Rebersburg. Monday evening at about eight o'clock the barn on the farm belonging to and occupied by Wallace Walker was struck by lightning and burned. The stock was all released except one calf and one pig, which it is believed the lightning killed. The wagons, hay rake, riding cultivator and binder were burned. The barn was well filled with hay and two loads of grain had been hauled in. By great efforts the dwelling house and summer house were saved from destruction. The buildings were insured in the Anville fire insurance company.

Focht Beaten.

After dodging the Republican conference of the Northumberland-Union-Snyder Senatorial district for two months, Press Muzzler Benjamin K. Focht, of Lewisburg, was defeated by ex-Representative Fred C. Godcharles, of Milton, for renomination for State Senator.

Pattison and The Grange.

Ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison, while in and out of office, had a kind feeling for the agricultural class and their organization, especially the Grange. Bearing this good feeling in mind, the flag on the Grange Arcadia was placed at half mast when the announcement of the ex-governor's death was received.

Ex-Commissioner Henry Campbell died at his home in Ferguson township Tuesday forenoon. Interment took place this (Thursday) forenoon in Fairbrook cemetery, Rev. Edgar Heckman officiating. He held various local offices, and was a director in the Grange fire insurance company. During the war he was a member of Company D, 148th Regiment, and was three times wounded.

J. A. Sweetwood and Miss Elizabeth Alexander, of near Centre Hill, were callers last week. Mr. Sweetwood brought with him some samples of his mammoth timothy and oats. Monday afternoon a terrific hail storm passed over the Seven Stars and Franklinville district, extending, in a less destructive form, into the west portion of Ferguson township. Crops were greatly damaged. At a meeting of Progress Grange Saturday afternoon, Prof. H. F. Bitner will speak on the geological formation of Centre county, a subject which Prof. Bitner has given much thought and study. Every member of the grange should hear this talk.

Messrs. D. A. Boozer and Frank P. Geary, of this place, have made application to the department of fisheries for a consignment of frogs to be placed in the large pond constructed by the former above town. The conditions for frog culture at the point mentioned are ideal. Roland C. Faust and family, of Altoona, visited friends and relatives about Potters Mills for several days, returning home Monday. Mr. Faust is employed as brakeman in the Altoona yards, and has been in Altoona during the past seven years. Before going home, Mr. Faust paid his respects to the Reporter office. Dr. Austin Thomas, of the allopathic school, has located in Centre Hall and will be found at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Stump, on Main street, where he and Mrs. Thomas have secured rooms and boarding until a suitable home can be rented. Dr. Thomas is formerly from the state of Maine, which state he left on account of the severity of the climate.

W. R. Bray, wife and baby, of Freeland, Tuesday were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer. Mr. Bray is head of the Mining and Mechanical Institute at Freeland, an institution for the purpose of preparing young men for technical colleges. He was here to spend a part of a check for one hundred dollars given him by Mrs. Cox, a supporter of the school named, in recognition of his faithful work. Mrs. Bray is a sister of Miss Rebecca J. Moyer.

THE NEW DORMITORY.

The College is Erecting a Handsome Building to Supply the Needs of the Present Large Student Enrollment.

The foundations of a new dining hall and dormitory are now well under way at Pennsylvania State College. If the work of construction is continued with the same energy the building should be completed before severe winter sets in. This dormitory is to accommodate approximately one hundred and fifty students in the sleeping rooms and will have facilities for seating nearly nine hundred people in the dining room. The plans show a family entrance for the convenience of such persons other than students who may wish to obtain table board at the building. The materials of construction to be used are brick, terra-cotta, granite, and slate on the outside, and the style of architecture is such that this new equipment will be in entire harmony with the magnificent Auditorium and Library.

The interior is to be furnished in natural wood with plastered walls and ceilings. The students' rooms are very inviting with large windows and commodious closet room. The dining room is exceedingly large and should prove not only a great comfort to the students as a place wherein to dine, but will also be a fitting place for the Commencement dinners and other large gatherings of friends. The heating and lighting will be furnished from the central plant at the Engineering Building and will be as perfect and modern as is possible. The arrangements in the kitchen, pantry, refrigerator, etc., are exceptional in their convenience and utility.

LOCALS.

A Missouri editor explains why Missouri stands at the head in raising mules, by saying it wouldn't be safe to stand at the other end. From the best information at hand, the death of Mrs. Peter Smith was the first to occur on those premises. D. J. Meyer has been suffering severely from sciatic rheumatism. Part of the time he was obliged to remain in bed. Harry Kittleberger, of Curwensville, is the guest of the Bartholomew family, being a friend of Miss Anna Bartholomew. Seventeen arrests were made in Williamsport for selling milk and cream that had been doctored with formaldehyde or boracic acid. Miss Minnie Winkleman, of Nittany, the first graduate from the Lock Haven Hospital, a nurse of great skill, is taking care of Mrs. Gress. Lou Dillon, the trotting mare, is believed to be out of danger. She suffered from a fever. Her owner would not part with her for any money. Rev. S. H. Dietzel, of Maytown, filled the appointment in the Reformed church Sunday evening. The sermon received very favorable comment. Merchant C. W. Swartz and family, of Tusseyville, were in town Saturday, and were traveling in a turnout that would be creditable to a first class city livery. Ralph Boozer came home Saturday from the Williamson Free School of Mechanical Arts, and will remain during the vacation which continues until September. Miss Lodie Shaffer, of Rebersburg, was the guest of Miss Bertha Strohmeyer, for several days this week. She is the daughter of S. B. Shaffer, formerly Landlord of Old Fort Hotel. Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith and daughter Julia, of Indianapolis, Indiana, came east last week to attend the funeral of the former's mother, Mrs. Peter Smith. After staying at Centre Hill for a week, they will return home. According to the report State Chairman Hall has struck oil on one of his properties near Ridgway, after boring for some time. It is said that a fair flow was encountered and that the property is a promising one. The strike is the first to be made in Elk county.

DEATHS.

HEZEKIAH EWING.

Hezekiah Ewing, for many years one of Ferguson township's most prosperous farmers, died at his home in State College at eight o'clock Sunday evening of dysentery, after an illness of one week. He was born at Graysville, sixty-six years ago, and most of his life was spent on his beautiful farm at Fairbrooke. Six years ago he retired from active work and purchased a residence at State College, where he has resided since. Gray Meek, an ideal newspaper, whether judged mechanically, editorially or from a local news point.

Protesting that he is carrying out the policies of his lamented predecessor, President Roosevelt goes over, bag and baggage, to the "stand patters," throwing McKinley and reciprocity to the winds. In taking this line of action Mr. Roosevelt is inconsistent with himself as well as forgetful of his pledges. Such shifting and tergiversation cannot win for him a higher place in the popular estimation.

The Clearfield Republican remarks: Over in Centre county the friends of Ellis Orvis are enthusiastically claiming he will not have less than 1500 majority over Love. Why even in Rush township, where the Washburn-Hess wholesale was granted for political effect, Love cannot get anything like his party vote.

Charles F. Murphy, the leader of Tammany Hall, has returned to New York and assured the reporters that Tammany "will give Judge Parker our honest support." That goes without saying.
