

ADVANCE OF JAPANESE FORGES.

Mikado's Army Going Ahead With Great Rapidity in Direction of Liaoyang--Russians Are Retreating--Kuroki Cuts the Railroad.

Liaoyang (By Cable).—The Russians retired from Anshanshan Saturday after a fight which commenced on the morning of August 26 and continued in a desultory manner all day and night.

Arrangements for a battle had been completed by the night time, when the order to retire was given on account of the situation to the East.

The order was received with disappointment by the troops. The retirement was made in an orderly manner.

The plain between Anshanshan and Haicheng was covered with Japanese troops, who burned the bridge and shelled the railway station after the Russian retreat.

The Russian losses amounted to 300.

The Japanese are advancing with great rapidity.

After 3 o'clock Friday the Japanese succeeded in commanding Kaofengshik from Paoshankan, where their advance first began on August 23, and also from their position at Liang-shikshan on the east, in such a way as to force the Russian center and right flank, compelling the evacuation of Anshanshan today. The Japanese south front therefore is several miles nearer Liaoyang.

At 3:30 o'clock Japanese shells from a concealed battery in the vicinity of Paoshankan began falling in the road west of Kaofengshik, leading to Liaoyang, thus threatening to sever communication to the west. The Russians still controlled the road to the north.

The Japanese fire ceased in the evening, but commenced again in the morning upon the Kaofengshik position, but as the Russians did not reply the Japanese apparently suspended their operations to reconnoitre, while the Russians fell back to a more favorable position.

The gradual withdrawal of the Russians before the Japanese advance the Russians consider as increasing the security of their position, as it is freely acknowledged that the Japanese are able to beat them in detail in the mountains. The Russians generally praise ability and valor of the Japanese.

Mukden Railroad Cut.

Tokyo (By Cable).—The general staff maintained silence throughout Sunday concerning the fighting in the vicinity of Liaoyang. It is reported that General Kuroki has seized and cut the railroad south of Mukden, thus separating the Russian forces and cutting Liaoyang off from a direct line of retreat, but confirmation of this report cannot be obtained.

The fighting reported occurring east and southeast of Liaoyang is regarded here as preliminary to a larger contest in the immediate vicinity of Liaoyang.

It is expected that Generals Kuroki, Oku and Modzu will press forward speedily.

Reinforcements at Dalny.

Chefu (By Cable).—Seven hundred Chinese who went to Port Dalny in the hope of sharing with the Japanese in the business boom there, returned to Chefu and report that the Japanese are monopolizing all opportunities at the port.

These Chinese say that twenty transports, bearing 22,000 troops to reinforce the besiegers of Port Arthur, have arrived at Port Dalny during the past fortnight.

DROWNED WHILE FISHING.

Five, and Perhaps Six, Lives Lost in Vicinity of Skowhegan, Maine.

Skowhegan, Me. (Special).—At least five and perhaps six persons have lost their lives during the past two days while fishing in the southern part of Somerset county. Four were drowned at Hayden Lake, about six miles from here, while the bodies of two others were discovered in a pond at Mayfield, twenty-five miles to the north.

The two accidents at Hayden Lake occurred Sunday afternoon. Prevost and Bolger were fishing, when the former attempted to put on his rubber coat and overturned the little boat. Bolger managed to swim ashore, but Prevost was unable to extricate himself from his coat and was drowned. While the search was being made for his body another boat was discovered floating bottom up, and soon the bodies of Newell and Weymouth were found.

Bolger stated that he noticed three men in the boat. The third man is not accounted for.

OIL GUSHERS AFIRE

The Flames Originated From a Friction Spark.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT OVER $200,000.

The Conflagration Spread to Other Wells—Four Tanks, Each With a Capacity of 1,200 Barrels, Caught and Burned—Large Lakes of Oil Masses of Flames—Employees Joined in Fighting the Fire.

Crowley, La. (Special).—The biggest fire in the history of the mammoth oil fields is raging. Morse Well No. 8 came in, a boiling gusher, pouring out a volume of oil at the rate of 10,000 barrels a day.

The fire caught from a spark emanating from friction, and rapidly spread to other wells. Four oil tanks, each of which had a capacity of 1,200 barrels, caught and burned. Two were full of oil and two were empty. Four standard rigs, the property of the Morse Company, were also destroyed.

During the afternoon the fire was confined to the Morse wells Nos. 7 and 8. Large lakes of oil, which had formed when the Morse No. 8 came in caught fire.

A meeting of the employees of the other wells was held, the wells were shut down and the forces joined in fighting the flames.

Eight lines of steam pipes have been laid to the burning wells, and more are being prepared.

The oil being burned is worth $400 an hour, and the loss will amount to $200,000. The fire cannot spread farther.

Petroleum at Antwerp on Fire.

Antwerp, Belgium (By Cable).—The oil tanks at Hoboken, three miles from here, containing about 26,500,000 gallons of petroleum, are ablaze, together with all the sheds, wagons and paraphernalia.

The fire started at the Russian Company's tanks, through the ignition of escaping gas, and the flames quickly spread to the Standard Oil Company's tanks. A high wind fanned the fire.

Troops assisted the firemen to localize the conflagration.

The firemen said nothing could be done except to allow the fire to burn itself out. The estimates of the losses run into millions of francs.

The Standard Oil's nine tanks contained 60,000 barrels of oil. They are a total loss, but were insured for $240,000.

The storm came up suddenly. Trees in the grove were struck by lightning, many of them were blown down and the rain fell in torrents.

The people who took refuge under the trees, at the first sign of the storm, were caught by the falling branches and injured. Many horses were killed in the same manner. Some of the animals were injured lying upon the ground.

Some of the buildings in the vicinity were blown down and others were unroofed. Hundreds of forest and fruit trees were torn up, and corn and oat fields were laid waste, entailing a loss of thousands of dollars.

JAPAN WARNS THE POWERS.

Russia Must Disarm Her Warships at Shanghai.

Washington, D. C. (Special).—Japan has addressed a note to the powers informing them that unless Russia forthwith disarms her warships in Shanghai, Japan will be forced to take whatever steps she deems necessary to protect her interests. Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, called at the state department and left with Mr. Adee, the active secretary of state, the communication of the Tokyo government.

Japan Is Determined.

Mr. Takahira said: "While Japan sincerely hopes that the reported intention of Russia to disarm the Askold and Grozovoi at Shanghai will promptly be executed, my government has felt that it was advisable to inform the powers what must necessarily be its attitude in the event that the disarmament of the Russian ships is delayed. The conditions at Shanghai are peculiar because of the many international interests there, and my government is desirous of giving these interests every consideration."

"Will it be necessary to send a Japanese squadron into Shanghai and take away the Russian ships, as was done with the Ryeshitlni at Chefu?" the minister was asked.

"My government has not indicated in its note to the powers," the minister replied, "just what steps will be necessary if the Russian ships are not immediately disarmed. But it should be remembered that the Ryeshitlni was not completely disarmed when seized by the Japanese, and under the circumstances her presence in Chefu was exceedingly disadvantageous to Japan for military reasons."

In Conference With Adee.

When the minister called at the state department he spent some time in conference with Acting Secretary Adee, but further than to receive the communication Mr. Adee was careful not to disclose the attitude of this government, although the minister was assured that the continuation of a Chinese neutrality was earnestly hoped for by the United States. The minister told Mr. Adee that Japan had been informed by China that the Russian ships would be disarmed, but as far as the legation here knew, no official date for this action had been named.

It is understood that a similar note to that presented by Mr. Takahira was also delivered at the various foreign offices by Japan's diplomatic representatives.

The statement is definitely made here that Japan is sincerely desirous that China's neutrality shall be maintained. The Japanese government, however, feels that if China fails to insist upon the immediate disarmament of the Russian ships at Shanghai her neutrality will have been violated and in a manner so dangerous to Japan's own military interests that Japan will be forced to take such measures as will effectively remove from the stage of activity the Russian ships which have sought refuge in Shanghai.

Trouble May Be Avoided.

In state department circles the opinion is expressed that the Russian ships will soon be disarmed and both at the state and navy departments advice have been received that the incident is regarded in Shanghai as practically closed. It was suggested that the effect of Japan's note probably would be to strengthen the determination of the Chinese officials to maintain the neutrality of the Peking government, not only at Shanghai, but at other points where an attempt may be made to violate it.

RELIEF TO THE OPPRESSED

The Czar of Russia Grant's Some Concessions.

DUE TO SON'S CHRISTENING.

Lengthy Manifesto Issued in St. Petersburg—Entire Abolition of Corporal Punishment and Its Curtailment in Army and Navy—Fines Imposed Upon the Jewish Communities Are Remitted.

St. Petersburg, (By Cable).—The Czar issued a lengthy manifesto on the occasion of the christening of the heir to the throne. It is introduced by the following message to the people:

"By the will of God, we the Czar and autocrat of all the Russians, Czar of Poland, Grand Duke of Finland, etc., announce to our faithful subjects that on this, the day of the christening of our son and heir, the Grand Duke Alexis Nicholavitch, following the promptings of our heart, we turn to our great family of the empire, and with the deepest and most heartfelt pleasure, even amidst these times of national struggle and difficulty, bestow upon them some gifts of our royal favor for their greater enjoyment in their daily lives."

The various benefits bestowed on many classes are then enumerated at length. One of the most important provisions relates to the entire abolition of corporal punishment among the rural classes and its curtailment in the army and navy.

The manifesto remits land purchase arrears, which affects one of the largest classes of the population throughout the empire, and its benefits are also extended to estates in Poland.

The general provisions of the manifesto include an all-around reduction in sentences for common law offenses, a general amnesty for political offenses, except in cases of murder and the education of the children of officers and soldiers who have been victims of the war, as well as assistance for such families as need it, whose bread-winners have fallen in the service of the country.

The sum of $1,500,000 is set apart from the state fund for the benefit of landless people of Finland.

All fines imposed on villages, towns or communes of Finland for failure to elect representatives or to serve on the military recruiting boards during the years 1902 and 1903 are remitted.

Permission is granted to Finns who have left their country without the sanction of the authorities to return within a year. Those returning, who are liable to military service, must immediately present themselves for service, but Finns who have evaded military service will not be punished provided they present themselves within three months of the birth of the heir to the throne.

Certain classes of offenses, including theft, violent robbery and embezzlement, are pardoned, and the governor general of Finland is directed to consider what steps can be taken to alleviate the lot of those forbidden to reside in Finland.

Fines imposed upon the Jewish communes in the cases of Jews avoiding military service are remitted.

Persons arrested for offenses punishable by fines, imprisonment or confinement in a fortress without loss of civil rights and who were still awaiting sentence at the time of the birth of the heir to the throne are pardoned.

Political prisoners who have distinguished themselves by good conduct may on the interposition of the minister of justice obtain the restitution of their civil rights at the expiration of their sentences.

Persons guilty of political offenses committed within the last 15 years who have remained unidentified will no longer be subject to prosecution, while political offenders who are now fugitives abroad may apply to the minister of the interior for permission to return to Russia.

The manifesto concludes: "Given at Peterhof on this eleventh day of August, 1904. (Signed) "Nicholas."

The date of the manifesto—August 11—is the old, or Julian, style, coinciding with August 24 of the new, or Gregorian style.

PEACE CONFERENCE.

President May Be Authorized to Summon Such a Body.

St. Louis, Mo. (Special).—One of the proposals that will be made by the American group before the interparliamentary conference, which will be held in the Hall of Congresses at the World's Fair next month, is that the President of the United States be authorized to call a general peace conference sometime next year. It is not the intention of the American group to have this conference along the lines of that at The Hague. They wish to establish a system of arbitration between the countries of the world which will bring about a reduction of the armaments of the powers.

Another proposition, that during times of war private property on the high seas which is not contraband be declared exempt from seizure, will be made at the St. Louis conference.

Senator Campbell Renominated.

Berkeley Springs, W. Va. (Special).—The democratic senatorial convention for the Fifteenth senatorial district met at the courthouse in this place and nominated Senator William Campbell, of Charles Town, to succeed himself in the State Senate.

Stabbed By Father-in-Law.

Cleveland, O. (Special).—Harry F. Payer assistant city solicitor, was stabbed in the neck by Thomas Graves, his father-in-law, in the Arcade building, following a quarrel between the two men. Payer's wound is said to be serious. Graves was promptly placed under arrest. It seems that Payer had acted as attorney for Mrs. Graves in a suit for divorce. The quarrel is said to have been relative to the divorce proceedings.
