Dog Bites Grocer.

S. Thompson Hibish, a grocer of Selingsgrove, while sweeping snow from his pavement Sunday morning was bitten in the hand by a dog, supposed to be mad. Mr. Hibish lost no time, but took the first train for Baltimore for treatment in the Pasteur Institute.

Caught the horse Thief.

The horse and buggy of Michael Yount, of Union county, which was stolen from the church grounds at Lewisburg, was recovered by an officer, and the thief, a jail bird named Kimble, of Millburg, was also captured. He had disposed of the buggy and was trying to sell the horse when he was located and captured. He was lodged in the Lewisburg jail.

Shot Friend, Thinking Him Turkey.

John Searer, nineteen years old, was seriously shot while hunting near Shinde, Millin county. He was digging a rabbit from a stone pile, when his companion, Elmer Fisher, saw his head bobbing through the underbrush, and mistook him for a turkey. A full charge took effect in his left side, arm and head. Sixty-seven holes were counted in his hat.

From Country to Town.

John A. Strunk writes the Reporter from Iola, Kansas, thus: I have rented the farm, near Vernon, and moved to Iola. I am teaming at present, but may get to doing something else soon. * * * The Ohio and Kansas Oil Company has four good oil wells, near Vernon. They are located about two and one-half miles from the farm I have. There are two wells on the farm of Rev. Kelsey, and he has been offered one hundred dollars per acre.

Was It Our William?

In the Altoona Tribune of Thursday the following appeared:
The five young children of William Johnston, were being taken to Williamsport on Tuesday by a woman by the name of Mrs. Mees, who claimed she was taking them to that city, after being given authority to do so, to place them in a Catholic home. Poor Director Pensyl took charge of the little ones and had them sent to the almshouse, where they will be kept until a complete investigation is made into the matter.

Unquestionably the Best.

"The Pittsburg Post" is constantly increasing in favor with the reading public of the large section of country, in which it circulates. It is a Democratic paper, although it numbers many thousands of Republicans among its subscribers, simply because it is a bright, clean, up-to-date journal—a newspaper in the highest sense of the word. "The Post" is not given to scandal or sensationalism and its object is to give all the important news in the most attractive form. "The Post" is not only a paper for the business man, but also for his family. The editorials of "The Post" aim to be instructive and entertaining and to elucidate clearly the meaning of the important happenings of the world. "The Post" is particularly a favorite with the women, because it makes a special endeavor to give them just the kind of news that interests them. "The Post's" market and financial news has long been noted for its reliability, and its railroad industrial news is equalled by no other paper.

DARING ROBBERY!

Occurred in Masonic Temple, Altoona—$3000 Secured.

The people of Altoona were startled Saturday afternoon by a robbery that was committed in the very heart of the city in the bold and daring style that would have marked a hold-up in the wild and woolly west. Two masked men, at 11:25 o'clock in the morning, entered the office of the Leahy Coal Mining Company, in the Masonic Temple, Twelfth Avenue and Eleventh Street, bound and gagged the clerk, Wilbur M. Ale, and made off with $2,000 in cash that was to be used in paying off the Company's miners at Lilly and Benscreek.

The robbers entered when Mr. Ale was alone. As soon as the office door was opened, one of the robbers struck Ale, knocking him down. The men were masked, and displayed a revolver.

Clerk Ale was gagged by wrapping several yards of cloth about his head. The robbers then turned their attention to the bag of gold and emptied it into some bag or satchel. Ale could not tell which because of his obscured vision. They coolly walked out of the door, which they looked after them, and down the stairs and away. Paymaster Leahy returned to the building about 11:30 o'clock. He stopped in the hall a few minutes to talk with George Eppleman, another coal operator with offices in the same building. During their conversation they heard rapping in the Leahy office. Leahy finally walked to the door, rapped and receiving no answer called to Ale. He still received no answer and becoming alarmed a step-ladder was secured and assisted by Mr. Eppleman and Thomas Nicholson, he crawled through the transom and discovered the daring robbery.

Aged Woman Turned into Human Torch.

Mrs. Anna Harbridge, aged seventy-six years, of Julian, this county, was badly burned Monday, 5th inst., while fighting a fire, which threatened her home. She lives near to the Bald Eagle railroad, a large field being between her home and the tracks. A spark from a passing engine set fire to the grass in the field. The wind was blowing toward Mrs. Harbridge's home and, noticing the danger, she went out into the yard to fight the flames. She had been there but a short time when her clothing caught fire and in a few minutes she was a human torch. Her cries brought to her aid Miss Mary Wilson, who lives with her. She at once started to tear off the burning clothing. Other help arrived but not until Mrs. Harbridge was badly burned about the face, hands and one side. In spite of the extent of her injuries she is expected to recover.

One Deer Per Hunter Enough.

From reports Secretary Kalbfus, of the State Game Commission, estimates that the 3000 hunters in Pennsylvania woods this season killed 1000 deer and several hundred bears.

The commissioner will oppose the bill to be presented to the next Legislature to permit hunters to kill only buck deer on the ground that many does and fawns would be killed and left in the woods by hunters afraid to claim them.

Mr. Kalbfus says there were many more hunting camps than usual in the Pennsylvania woods this year, and that one man should not be permitted to shoot more than one deer during the season.

May Get You into Trouble.

The practice of writing just a few words in a package of papers or of merchandise mailed at a lower rate than letters is said to have become so common that postmasters have been instructed to examine such packages and report to the department officials. The cost of prosecution in the United States District court and a fine of twenty-five dollars would be as small a penalty as the sender could escape with.

Grange Program.

Below is the Program for Progress Grange for the meeting on Saturday, 17th inst.:

Appointment of a committee on the good of the Order. Jas. A. Keller. Recitation, Roy Schaffer. The advisability of arranging for a course of lectures of general interest to the community. By the Grange. Recitation, Mrs. D. W. Bradford.

Social on Christmas Eve.

Mrs. Mary Shoop, Fourth Vice President of the Epworth League, wishes to announce that a social will be held in the Methodist church, Christmas eve, to which all are invited. There will be entertainment of a literary character as well as refreshments. No admission will be charged, but a dime will be looked for.
