After graduating from the Theological Seminary Dr. Wolf pursued a further course of study at the German Universities of Tubingen and Erlangen. He returned to the United States in 1865 and was engaged in ministerial work in Northumberland county for two years, after which he occupied a pulpit in Baltimore for six years.

SPRING MILLS I. O. O. F.

Banquet Saturday Night—Speeches Follow the Satisfying of the Inner Man. The Spring Mills Lodge I. O. O. F. held their annual banquet on Saturday evening last and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, was largely attended. The hall was brilliantly illuminated, and every necessary arrangement made to insure comfort and convenience.

The tables were beautifully set and were lavishly furnished with dishes and dainties of a choice and most inviting character.

Robert Finkle, with his high-grade phonograph furnished music, and operatic songs during the banquet, which enlivened and added greatly to the entertainment. Immediately following the supper, Professor S. Ward Gramley, as toast-master, in his usual polished and courteous manner, called upon members and guests for any remarks they might be pleased to make. Frank Musser, was the first to respond then Rev. Bierly, followed by Messrs. Meyers, Dr. Brauch, C. P. Long, T. M. Gramley, R. E. Catherman, C. C. Cummings, and T. B. Jamison, all of whom delivered short addresses eulogistic of the order, also complimenting the managers on the elegant character of the banquet, and the pleasure and enjoyment derived by being present on this very interesting occasion. At a seasonable hour all retired to their respective homes, expressing themselves as having been delightfully entertained.

Spring Mills Lodge is in a very flourishing condition financially and otherwise; among its members are some of the most prominent and influential citizens of Spring Mills, who take an interest in the order and attend the sessions regularly, and in consequence, the transactions and proceedings of the Lodge are controlled and conducted by members of ability and intelligence, hence its commanding influence and prosperity.

Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, who has made a trip of exploration to Alaska, declares that in the southeastern part of that Territory there is a practically inexhaustible supply of spruce timber for the manufacture of wood pulp. As the law now stands exports of timber, logs and manufactures of lumber from Alaska are forbidden. The House has adopted an amendment offered by Mr. Tawney to the bill transferring the control of forest reserves from the Department of the Interior to the Department of Agriculture, which gives authority for manufacture of wood pulp in Alaska and its exportation to the United States. If the Paper Trust should not be able to defeat this amendment in the Senate a way may be found to relieve the people of the United States from a most intolerable exaction.
