

TELEPHONES FOR FARMERS.

A Co-operative Scheme which makes Telephone Service Possible for the Farmer. Nothing in recent years has come to the attention of the public that can exceed in interest the present proposition of the Bell Telephone Company for furnishing telephones to farmers.

The Bell Company will build a line to a given junction point, probably such point being at the outskirts of the borough limits of the towns where their Exchanges are located, and will assign certain wires from their switchboards to this junction point for the exclusive purpose of there connecting up with the farmers' line.

The farmers are to organize in convenient groups or clubs, and are to jointly build their own telephone line as far as this junction point, where the Bell people will attach it and so connect the group or club of farmers' telephones with their system.

The Bell Company will at very low prices, either sell or rent all the necessary apparatus required for installing the instruments and will rent their telephones and transmitters—the actual speaking parts—at very nominal rates, offering a choice of several arrangements for service with their Exchange and the Exchange subscribers. These arrangements are planned to cover all the different conditions to be found, and each club or group of farmers would be privileged to select the one best suited to their own particular needs. One arrangement contemplates unlimited service between the telephones on the farmers' line and the telephones in the Bell Company's Exchange, and another arrangement contemplates unlimited conversations between the telephones on the farmers' line and a small switching charge for each connection with a subscriber in the Company's Exchange.

Remembered Pastor.

The members of the various congregations composing the Centre Hall Reformed charge, very agreeably surprised their pastor, Rev. Daniel Gress, and Mrs. Gress, Wednesday evening of last week, by coming to the parsonage in person and bringing with them a very liberal donation. Those who were unable to reach the parsonage themselves, sent their "pounds" with friends. The evening was very pleasantly spent.

Heavy-Weight Hogs.

Charles W. Weaver, who lives along the pike east of Old Fort, reports some heavy weight hogs killed by him Tuesday Mr. Weaver sold the butchers a hog that dressed five hundred and eighteen pounds, and some few months ago he killed a porker that dressed six hundred and sixteen pounds. To show that this man is a grower of large hogs it is only necessary to say that last season two of his largest fattening dressed nearly six hundred pounds.

Bear and Three Cubs.

Last Monday while Clayton Auman and several other men were trailing logs down the mountain southeast of Wolf's Store they came across a large black bear with three little cubs. The cubs were so small that they did not have their eyes open. An effort was made to capture the old bear alive, but it could not be done. Finally a well directed bullet was sent through her skull, killing her instantly. The little cubs were taken home by some of the men who will attempt to raise them. It has since been learned that one of the cubs died.

More Money for Schools.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Schaeffer appeared Tuesday night before the House Appropriation Committee in advocacy of an increased appropriation to public schools. He showed that since 1893 the appropriations to charitable institutions had increased from $571,373 to $2,050,997, and that other subjects had been likewise favored with equal increase.

In 1903, he said, $5,500,000 was given to the public schools. In this was added $98,000 to aid normal school students. Since then from the annual appropriation to the common schools has been deducted $237,500 for State aid to normal school students, and $50,000 for township high schools, leaving only $5,212,500 for common schools. The number of pupils in the common schools increased from 994,407 in 1893 to 1,200,230 in 1903, a difference of 205,823.

J. W. GEHART, ESQ., DEAD.

Former Partner of Ex-Governor Beaver Passes Away at Bellefonte.

J. Wesley Gehart, former law partner of General Beaver, and one of the most prominent business men of Bellefonte, died suddenly Tuesday morning of apoplexy at his home at that place. He was attending to his business affairs Monday and was apparently in good health.

Mr. Gehart was born at Millheim, May 25th, 1853. He was educated at Princeton, graduating in 1874. He was admitted to the bar in December, 1878, and later became the law partner of former Governor James A. Beaver, retiring from the firm in 1893 to give his attention to the iron business.

He was identified with the Valentine Iron Company, and was a stockholder in its successor, the Nittany Iron Company. He was also president of the Bellefonte Furnace Company. It was through his energy that the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania was built from Bellefonte to Mill Hall, and he has been general superintendent ever since its construction. He leaves a wife and three children.

DEATHS.

MRS. J. W. BAER.

Mrs. J. W. Baer died at her home at Potters Mills, Wednesday of last week, after suffering from cancer of the breast for a considerable length of time, and confinement to her bed for four months. Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble. Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, v.e. also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
