LOCALS.

Fine rains last week. Time to sow clover seed. Robins and blue birds are plentiful. The borough auditors' statement has been issued.

The funerals of Mrs. Arney and Mr. Homau were largely attended. March has been an ideal month from the standpoint of farm life.

Miss Emily Boal, of Altoona, is visiting her parents, who live near Centre Hill.

A horn owl, of unusual size, was captured at Lemont. The bird measured between five and six feet from tip to tip of wings.

For a sure louse killer and remedy for gapes, consult W. E. From, Millinburg, manufacturer of the Red Cross Louse Killer. (2)

The engagement of Miss Bertha Cross, of Philipsburg, and Sheriff H. S. Taylor is announced. The marriage is to take place during the early summer.

The present year, when completed, will have had fifty-three Sundays—the year came in and will end on a Sunday. The incident will not happen again for one hundred and ten years.

Smith Brothers, of Spring Mills, had charge of the burial of Mrs. J. J. Arney. The casket, which was one of the couch style, was very handsome and expensive. A metal rough box was also used.

Montgomery Ward & Company, of Chicago, have two large advertisements in the Reporter on pages three and five. This company will continue its advertisements, a change each week, for several months.

The Woman's Home Companion for April is the Easter number, and well befits the season. A leading article, "Most Picturesque of Easter Celebrations," describes an Easter in Jerusalem. The second in the series of articles on food-adulteration comes close home in relating "How the Baby Pays the Tax."

The student body at Pennsylvania State College were not favorably impressed with the general make-up of the state law makers who composed the committees that visited that institution recently. The addresses delivered by the distinguished gentlemen afforded amusement but no instruction for the students, and the rhetoric employed is said to have been altogether on the bluff.

A bill before the Legislature proposes to reduce the number of State reports printed, and if passed would save about $50,000 a year. This is a matter that ought to be handled with discrimination. There are many State reports that are of little or no value and a very few copies are enough but there are others which are not now printed in sufficient number to supply a proper demand.

Judge Orvis informed the barristers that he wanted them to be more particular in furnishing the evidence in divorce cases, that it was his intention to grant decrees only in such cases as the evidence warranted. He asked the attorneys to furnish both the questions and answers of witnesses instead of a synopsis of the testimony, the custom in vogue. He further stated that the testimony of near relatives would not be regarded as sufficient, but that he wanted evidence of a general character—the same as would be required in any quarter session case.

Celebrated Ninetieth Birthday.

Michael Rockey celebrated his ninety-ninth birthday, recently, at his home near Tylersville, in Sugar Valley. Mr. Rockey, although afflicted with palsy about three years ago, is in reasonable good health. He comes from a family noted for longevity, his mother having attained the age of one hundred and three years. His parents, Barnett and Margaret Rockey, came from Brush Valley.

Mr. Rockey, the subject of this sketch, founded the village of Tylersville and named the place after John Tyler, then president of the United States. He was one of the first school teachers in Clinton county and at that time when there were but two schools in Sugar Valley. Later he was elected to the office of justice of the peace by the Democratic party, and served in that capacity for more than a third of a century.

Michael Rockey was married to Miss Amelia Kleckner who passed away eleven years ago. Their children living are W. E. Rockey, Mrs. J. D. Hubler and Mrs. W. H. Rishel, of Tylersville; Misses Mattie and Catharine Rockey at home. He was again married eight years ago to his present wife, Mrs. Molley Tunke, of Coburn. One brother, William F., the last survivor of the family in nine children, lives in Lincoln, Nebraska.

The Sugar Valley Journal, in giving an elaborate account of the birthday celebration, closes thus: He attributes his long life to simplicity of habits. He has been a coffee drinker, a user of intoxicants and an exceedingly moderate chewer of tobacco.

Cassie L. Chadwick Gets 10.

Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick gets ten years in Ohio state prison for conspiracy to defraud the Oberlin bank. She was convicted on seven counts, and sentenced on six. An appeal was taken on her behalf.

Do You Want to Make Money?

Of course you do. Let us help you! Sell your cream, eggs and poultry to us and we guarantee that you will be pleased with the returns. Compare our prices with others buying cream, and you will be convinced that we can make money for you. We are now opening new cream routes. If our driver does not pass your place, drop us a line and we will have him call. We always pay the highest market prices for eggs, chickens, ducks and turkeys.

LOCALS.

The roads are drying off nicely.

The school term of 1904-05 is almost completed. Jacob Lee to-day (Thursday) moves from Linden Hall to Milton.

Henry Stoner will move to his farm at the station Tuesday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Henney and little son Ralph, of Yeagertown, drove to Centre Hall Sunday.

Next Monday it will be thirty-seven years since the first issue of the Reporter was printed in Centre Hall.

George Shell, of Millinburg, has been appointed fish warden for the counties of Centre, Clinton, Union, Snyder and Lycoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Arney and little daughter, were in Centre Hall over Sunday. Mr. Arney is the electrician at the Bellefonte electric light works.

George W. Kline, the junior member of the milling firm of J. A. Kline & Son, of near Millheim, was in town Saturday. Their mill is in operation and they are prepared to do custom work and supply flour, feed, etc.

John Runk, of Ryde Station, Millin county, was instantly killed by a falling limb of a tree. The unfortunate man was in the act of cutting down the tree when the limb fell and striking his head penetrated the brain. His age was about thirty-five years.

It is the intention of Mrs. Alexander McNitt, of Reedsville, to erect a substantial and modern brick residence at Reedsville in lieu of the one purchased by her from the John Wilson estate. Until its completion Mrs. McNitt will occupy the Worley home on Pearl street, Reedsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Decker, of Altoona, came to Penna Valley to visit friends and relatives, Saturday of last week. Mr. Decker is employed in the wood-work department of the Pennsylvania Railroad shops at that place, having been in the shops ever since he left Centre Hill two years ago.

The three acres of alfalfa sown by the writer last spring withstood the winter months very well. The indications are that there are an abundance of plants in thriving condition to make a good stand of grass. Three more acres will be sown this spring in order to give the crop a more thorough test.

A valuable horse belonging to David Stoner, of Tusseyville, fell dead while hitched to a wagon, Saturday last. Mr. Stoner was hauling baled hay to Linden Hall, and on his way home on reaching a point about one and one-half miles south of Linden Hall, the animal fell and died instantly.

James Scholl, of Farmers Mills, was a caller Saturday to have his name placed on the Reporter subscription list. He states that his sister, Mrs. Lucinda Weaver, will make her home with him. The latter's daughter, Miss Anna Weaver, for the present will have her home with Alfred Garbrick, near Zion.

John H. Bair, who recently sold his property at Tusseyville, to M. F. Roseman, mention of which was made at the time, purchased the Strouse farm of one hundred and sixteen acres, located near Penn Hall. Mr. Bair will not move to his new possessions until next spring. The price paid for the latter tract of land was $1250.

Hensyl Sechrist, of Lock Haven, was a pleasant caller at the Reporter office Saturday evening. For the past five years he has been employed in the office of the Lock Haven Democrat in the jobbing department. He was here to assist his parents to arrange their household goods, they having just come here from a point near Berwick.

After an absence of eight years, Frank Bierly, of Logansport, Indiana, came east on a visit to his father, Joseph Bierly, of Madisonburg. He also spent some time with his cousins, Messrs. Edward W. Crawford and J. Frank Smith, in this place. Mr. Bierly went west twenty-seven years ago, and is now engaged with a railroad bridge crew.

Prof. Etters, superintendent of the Bellefonte public schools, and Prof. John D. Meyer, principal of the Bellefonte high school, were in Centre Hall Saturday. Before returning to the county seat, the Potter township school directors were visited in the interest of the former's candidacy for the county superintendency of the public schools.

The large barn on the farm of A. R. Mench, near Cowan, Union county, was totally destroyed by fire. Seven cows, eight shotes, a large amount of grain and hay were destroyed. The horses were removed from the burning building, but in preventing one of the animals return to his stall, the tenant on the farm, Charles Mench, was seriously injured.

Ed. L. Bartholomew has been located at Millinburg by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and is now serving in the capacity of assistant station master at that point. He entered the Centre Hall station as a student about three years ago, and has been a faithful and accommodating man about the station. He is well equipped to enter the services of the railroad on his own hook, and will be found to be a perfect gentleman whether in or out of his place of business.
