Dillon and Green Must Hang. Every effort to save the necks of Green and Dillon has been made, and all have proven fruitless. They must hang May 9th. The board of pardons positively refused to interfere with the execution of the law in their case.

Meeting of Centre County Grange. The Centre County Pomona Grange will hold its second quarterly meeting in the hall of Washington Grange, near State College, Friday, May 26th. There will be two sessions, 9.30 a. m. and 1.30 p. m. GEORGE DALE, Master. D. M. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

The Court and License. The action of the Court in the granting of liquor licenses needs no apology nor defense. That is the judgment of the great majority of the citizens of Centre county, who will refuse to admit that the granting of licenses is the chief prerogative of the Court. The people on the South side of Centre county are content to leave the granting of liquor license wholly to the Court, where it belongs. The sooner the silly babbling in this connection is ended the better.

Horse Company Formed. The following gentlemen, F. H. Clemson, F. W. Krumrine, Adam Krumrine, A. F. Markel, George B. Thompson, W. C. Meyer, B. D. Thomas, John H. Breen, E. W. Hess, Newton E. Hess, and Charles H. Foster, mostly from College, Ferguson, Patton and Harris Townships, have formed a horse company and purchased a French Percheron stallion, gray in color. The animal was purchased from a salesman representing the Hartman Stock Farm, of Columbus, Ohio.

WHEAT IS NOT KING.

Corn Has Usurped Its Dominion As the Leading Agricultural Product. Recent warnings by the Department of Agriculture that the American wheat crop is threatened with exhaustion is echoed by conditions pertaining to the crop in the northwest this spring. For several years the acreage of wheat has been diminishing in Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota. This year, according to reports from the fields, shows a larger reduction than in any single preceding year; and this, too, in a time when wheat is commanding a very high price. Farmers in northern Iowa twenty years ago made wheat their chief crop. They had little live stock, and wheat could be turned into ready money promptly. But as soon as they got into stock they dropped wheat in favor of corn and forage crops. Nebraska is having the same experience. South Dakota was once almost entirely a wheat state. It was supposed that it would not produce good corn. But now it is one of the good corn states, and now corn is crowding out the wheat. In southern Minnesota grades of corn are being developed that will mature safely, and corn is crowding wheat out of even the greatest wheat state. North Dakota cannot raise wheat because it is too far north; but even there the tendency is away from wheat and toward forage crops that will make live stock more profitable. It is freely predicted by western mill men that American wheat will in a few years be unequal to the American demand.

Died in California. Phillip J. Bugbee, died in San Jose, California, after a very brief illness. He suffered from a growth near the heart, and a short time prior to his death was informed that an operation was necessary. He was born in New Orleans, 1850, and when two years old went with his family to the Pacific coast. Mr. Bugbee was the husband of Mary Meyer, sister of D. J. Meyer, of this place. Mrs. Bugbee and two daughters survive.

Birthday Surprise Party. One of the largest parties of this kind enjoyed by the young people of Spring Mills and vicinity was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Corman, Saturday evening, in honor of their daughter, Miss Anna. There were present one hundred and ten guests. After the refreshments were served the company was treated to music and spent the time in a social way. Miss Corman received many pretty gifts, amounting, it is said, to fully fifty dollars, from her friends.

LOCALS. Day laborers are scarce. Oats and barley are being sown this week. Miss May Rhone was home from Harrisburg over Sunday. The library in Grange Aroadia will be open to the public Saturday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock. Jared Kremer, of Rebersburg, was in town last week. He was formerly a resident of this place, and when here feels quite at home. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Oasap, of Altoona, were in town Saturday. They had been visiting their former home in Harris township. The Hospital Aid Society will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. Frank Bradford. A full attendance of the members is desired. The only candidate to announce for the office of county auditor on the south side of Centre county is James W. Swabb, of Harris. See his card under political announcements. Prof. Warren P. Smiley, who died at Pine Grove Mills a short time ago, and whose death was mentioned in the Reporter of last week, was the husband of Ella Goss, well known in Centre Hall. A missionary service under the auspices of the C. E. Society will be held in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock. An address on missions will be made by Dr. Boal. All are cordially invited. C. A. Weaver, of Penn township, announces his name in this issue for the office of county commissioner. Mr. Weaver is a well-known Democrat and has to his credit many years of work for Democratic success in Centre county. Prof. James Bright, professor of Language in Johns Hopkins University, is in Centre county, and beginning of this week was the guest of his brother, Dr. John Bright, of Rebersburg. Prof. Bright was born in Aaronsburg, and is probably one of the most scholarly gentlemen credited to Centre county. The second choice scheme worked on Harry Allison, of Gregg, could not be brought into play when the commissioners were named. Mr. Underwood made an effort to profit by the second choice ruling, but he ran against a snag, and was told that outside parties had no right to say a word in the convention. But when the old and heretofore unused rule was found to serve the "leaders" to place their names and shut out Penns Valley, Chairman-to-be Quigley, a spectator, was on his feet in a jiffy in the interest of his pet candidate, Mr. Swartz, and the result was magic like.

GEORGE W. KOCH. George W. Koch, for many years a resident of Potter township, died at his home a short distance east of Centre Hall, Wednesday evening of last week, after an illness that confined him to bed for a period of five weeks. The ceremonies at the grave were conducted by the order of Free Masons, of which the deceased was a member. Mr. Koch was twice married. The deceased was a farmer by occupation and was a prominent figure in the locality in which he lived. Two brothers survive, namely, John, of Tusseyville and Frederick, of Penn Hall. Mrs. Henry Smith, deceased, was also a sister. The surviving children are William, who with his family lived with the aged father and mother; Maggie, Mrs. Charles B. Neff, Centre Hall; Jennie, wife of William F. Rokey, Tusseyville; Kate, wife of George Lee, Tusseyville; Mary, wife Ezra Ripka, Lewistown; and Myra, at home.

He was twice desperately wounded in battle—once through the left hand, badly crippling the same. He refused the offered discharge, went back to his regiment and remained with it to the end. In 1886 he was married to Miss Sarah Meyer daughter of the late Maj. John Meyer, of Rebersburg. Surviving him are his wife and two brothers, George and Frederick Miller, of Freeburg.

THOMAS KENNEDY. Thomas Kennedy, a well known farmer of the Buffalo Run Valley, died at his home on the McKnight, farm near Hunter's Park. He had been ailing for some time and his death was due to the infirmities of old age. He was seventy-five years of age and is survived by his aged wife.

WORK OF THE COURT. Kessinger, Fultz and Fultz Pleaded Guilty of Larceny and Receiving Stolen Goods—Verdicts in Other Cases. (Reported by W. Harrison Walker, Esq.) The regular April term of court commenced Monday morning at 10 o'clock, with Hon. Ellis L. Orvis, President Judge, on the bench. Prothonotary Klimport and Register Archey were in their respective places. Gilbert Burrows, Esq., the official court reporter, arrived in Bellefonte on the 9 o'clock train. The morning session was taken up by the presentation of motions and petitions by the several members of the Bar. A committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect on the sudden death of Hon. J. Wesley Gephart reported. The grand jurors were then called whereupon the court appointed Joseph Cedar, of Bellefonte, foreman, and after they were duly sworn and affirmed, instructions were given to them by His Honor. He instructed them that their duties were of a very important character and that the different discussions that took place in the grand jury room, and the statement made by witnesses for the Commonwealth, as well as by the District Attorney, should be regarded with entire secrecy. The court defined very clearly the difference between the grand and petit jurors. He also instructed them in regard to the disposition of the coats in case any bill of indictment was ignored by them. The constables of the several boroughs and townships of the county then made their quarterly report. A writ of habeas corpus was asked for in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Chas. Stewart, Howard Stewart and Winfield Gregg, who are now in jail at Bellefonte, charged with aggravated assault and murder of Barney McHugh. The date for the hearing was not fixed by the court, but likely will be during the week. In the case of Commonwealth vs. Harry Kessinger, Geo. Fultz and Edson Fultz, who were charged for stealing $4500.00 from Michael Eby and Henry Eby, asked for permission to enter their plea of guilty. They also waived finding of the grand jury. These three defendants were each indicted on two counts; first larceny, and second receiving stolen goods. Sentence was suspended until later in the week, when they will be brought before the court for disposition. (Continued on inside page.)
