WILLIAM L. SELLERS. Death called from this world, on Monday evening, one of Harris township's most venerable and highly respected citizens in the person of William L. Sellers. Mr. Sellers had been in delicate health for some weeks, and yet the end came unexpectedly. The she is a woman of a very practical and funeral services will be held from the executive character. home of his daughter, Mrs. A. E. Meyer, at Linden Hall, where the aged father spent the latter part of his softly and tenderly with the second life, this morning (Thursday.) In- and third finger of her hand in her enterment will be made at Boalsburg, and Rev. A. A. Black, of the Reformed officiate. Mr. Sellers was born in Juniata keeping. county, in 1818, but before marriage, and while yet quite a young man, came to Centre county, locating at Oak Hall, and after his marriage to Miss Susan Johnston, began business at that point. He continued in the foundry business until shortly after the death of his wife, which occurred after marriage. just twenty years ago, at which time he was succeeded in business by his son, Edward Sellers.

The deceased is survived by six children-James, who thirty years ago went west and located in Colorado, and later in New Mexico; William, of Pittsburg; Charles, of Downs, Kansas; Edward, Oak Hall; Mrs. girl.-Chicago Journal. Agnes Meyer, Linden Hall; Mary, wife of J. H. Weber, of Centre Hall.

The dead are Angeline, wife of Wm. Patterson, of Boalsburg; Lincoln and Walter Scott, The latter died in infancy.

JOHN MEESE.

John Meese, one of the best known residents of Benner township, died at his home at Roopsburg Saturday evening. He had been ailing for some time and his death was due to Bright's disease. He had been engaged in farming the greater portion of his life to give way—and smiled. It was when was given to John C. Rebekah Officers Installed

Miss Roxanna Brisbin, district deputy president, Tuesday evening installed the following officers of the Lady of the Valley Rebekah Lodge No. 263, LO O. F., Centre Hall:

Noble Grand, Edith Lutz; Vice Grand, Mrs. Kate Wilson; Secretary, Roxanna Brisbin; Treasurer, Mrs. Lucy Henney.

After installation the appointed commulti-e served delictous refreshments.

Hall-Love.

Miss Cora Love, formerly of Tusseyville, was married to R. H. Hall, in Okishoma, the latter part of May. The marriage took place in the home town of the Loves. The bride had been teaching Government school in Ashland, Indian Territory, for two years, and it was at that place where cupid shot his darts. The groom is president of the Bank of Ashland, capital stock $10,000, and in that thriving Indian Territory town the couple will reside. The Reporter and the bride's many friends in this valley extend congratulations to the groom and wish the couple a very happy life.

LOCALS.

Mrs. J. R. Sechrist and daughter, Miss Ethel, Tuesday afternoon went to Lock Haven, and before returning will stop at Howard.

Misses Rosa Yost and Ruth Smith, of Clairton, are being entertained at the home of J. T. Potter, west of Centre Hall. They expect to remain for several weeks.

A GIRL'S NATURE.

Little Signs That, It Is Said, Reveal

Phases of Character. Much of a girl's nature is betrayed by the little act of brushing a speck off a man's coat. If she picks off the thread or imaginary bit of lint very arefully between the thumb and fore-

On the other hand, if a girl should brush the coat lapel of her flance very deavor to remove an invisible speck it is a sure sign that she is more sentimental than practical. The man who church, pastor of the deceased, will marries her will-live in a continual atmosphere of remance and bad house-

There is still another type of girl who will brush the speck off a man's coat with a broad sweep of the hand in which all the fingers and thumb play a part. She is in all probability an athletic girl who excels at tennis, golf and the links and who will prove a high spirited, strong minded woman

Then, again, the girl who puts a flower in a man's coat with her hand held jauntily upturned from the wrist | Braucht, of Gregg, was presented and the flower held in the tips of her fingers is sure to be something, of a coquette, while the maid who gives you only the tips of her fingers when she greets you in the drawing room or public street is probably an ambitious Remarkable Smile.

Mr. Robert Pollok, a Scottish poet, while a student of theology once delivered a trial discourse before the Secession Divinity hall, Glasgow, the subject of which was "Sin." His man- tleman. ner of treating it was, in the opinion of his fellow students, rather bomwere audible symptoms of the amusement which they derived from Mr. Pollok's high flown phrases.

At last there came one flight of fancy which was so remarkable that the professor himself was fairly obliged max in his enumeration of the dreadful evils which sin had brought into the world. "And had it not been for sin," re marked Mr. Pollok, with great vehemence of manner and tone, "had it not been for sin, the smile of folly had name as a candidate, and asked the ne'er been seen upon the brows of wis-

Napoleon and His Hats.

It is interesting to note that the legend of the "petit chapeau" still exists. Frenchmen always refer to the headgear of the first Napoleon as "the little hat." This is because the hats worn by Bonaparte at Toulon, at Lodi, in Egypt, during the famous eighteenth Brumaire and at Marengo were all more becoming. As he became fat and 'potbellied" and as his face became bigger and bigger his hats became broader and broader. For instance, the hat of Waterloo is thrice the size of the hat of Austerlitz. These facts are recorded in the inventories of the emperor's hatters, Poupard et Cie.-New York Tribune.

The Bed.

The bed is a bundle of paradoxes. We go to it with reluctance, yet we quit it with regret. We make up our minds every night to leave it early, but we make up our bodies every morning to keep it late.-Colton.

Forged a Check.

A young man giving his name as E. S. Derr forged a check in the sum of $48.22 on Jacob From, in this place.

Derr had been staying with From, and some time ago the two went to Bellefonte. They went to the clothing store of M. Fauble & Son, where From is said to have introduced Derr as his cousin. Monday Derr went to the Fauble store and made a purchase. and in payment presented a Penns Valley Bank check made payable to him (Derr) with From's name on it. The paper was accepted by Faubles and the difference b-tween the pur- dresses, which they did. chase and the sum named on the check was paid to Derr. Later the and later disappeared.

Derr, from reports, has been known towns in the west.
