

KITTLEBERGER-BARTHOLOMEW.

A Pretty Wedding Takes Place at the Home of W. H. Bartholomew, Centre Hall, Wednesday.

At high noon Wednesday, at the residence of the bride's uncle, Wm. H. Bartholomew, Miss Anna Carner Bartholomew, of this place, and Harry Joseph Kittleberger, of Curwensville, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by Rev. G. W. McInay.

The house was most prettily decorated throughout with ferns, daisies, roses and laurel, and on the stroke of twelve, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Helen Bartholomew, the wedding party entered the room, where, beneath an arch of laurel, the ceremony was performed. The beautiful and impressive service of the Methodist church was used.

The bride, who is one of Centre Hall's most esteemed young ladies and who has successfully taught school both here and in Curwensville for a number of years, was tastefully attired in crepe-de-chene. She carried a beautiful bouquet of bride roses, and was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Bartholomew. E. L. Bartholomew, a cousin of the bride, was in attendance as best man.

The groom is the youngest son of George Kittleberger, of Curwensville, where he is well and favorably known. The bride and groom were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

The guests present were: W. H. Bartholomew, Helen Bartholomew, E. L. Bartholomew, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Bartholomew and daughter Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kreamer, Mrs. Rose DeWoodie, Gertrude Spangler, Claire Kennedy, Rebecca Kreamer. The out of town guests were: The bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Bartholomew, of Philadelphia, and sisters, Mrs. C. A. Spencer and Gertrude Bartholomew, of Curwensville; the groom's sisters, Sallie and Effie Kittleberger, Mrs. G. F. Kittleberger, Ida Robinson, Ella Montellini and E. N. Bergerstock, of Curwensville; Rev. and Mrs. G. W. McInay and daughter Marion, of Spring Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Kittleberger left in the afternoon, amid a shower of rice and old gum-shoes, for a trip to Thousand Islands and the Great Lakes, returning via Albany and New York to Curwensville which will be their future home.

Teachers' Examination.

Teachers' examination for Centre Hall and Potter township will be held in Centre Hall, Thursday, June 22.

For Sale

A fine country village home; just what you like for a home, with good buildings. Suitable for business and residence; located on pike, at postoffice and railroad station, in Union county, Pa. Might exchange for farm or timber lands without buildings, or for other actual values. Address P. O. Box 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

Children's Day Observed.

The Presbyterians in Centre Hall held a very interesting Children's day service Sunday morning. The exercises were performed very creditably by all the children who took part. The decorations were exceedingly tasty and pretty. These services are a very important part of church work among children, and too much attention can not be given them.

LOCALS.

Miss Bessie Weber is home from Women's College, Fred-riek, Md., for the summer vacation.

C. E. Zeigler, of Spring Mills, was up this way Wednesday in the interest of the Lester Piano Company. From here he went to Hubersburg where he is placing a high-class musical instrument.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner W. Gonder, of Wall, were in Centre Hall, the guest of the former's mother, Mrs. William Colyer, for a few days. Mr. Gonder is a railroad engineer on the Pennsylvania lines.

The Children's service in the M. E. church at Sprucetown Sunday morning was largely attended. The young people deserve much credit for the manner in which they performed their parts. The music was of a high order and well rendered.

P. Gross Yearick, of Philadelphia, is in Centre Hall on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Phoebe Yearick, and sister, Mrs. W. B. Mingle. He took advantage of the slack time in his business to run out into the country, and, like when a boy, enjoy the everlasting benefits of pure mountain air.

COMMENCEMENT AT STATE.

The Semi-Centennial Jubilee Adds Additional Interest to the Annual Exercises—Large Attendance.

The semi-centennial jubilee at State added interest to the State's commencement exercises, and had much to do in drawing an unusually large attendance.

The exercises began Sunday morning with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. David Gregg, D. D. LL. D., president of the Theological Seminary, Allegheny.

Monday's exercises were interfered with to some extent by the death of Clark P. Stewart, of Pittsburg, a member of the Junior class. Funeral services were conducted over his remains in the Schwab auditorium, preparatory to shipping the remains to Pittsburg for interment. The young man was a son of Homer C. Stewart, a banker.

The speakers of the day made historical and commemorative addresses. The speakers and their subjects were as follows:

"Early Steps Leading to the Establishment of the Farmers' High School," Judge James A. Beaver.

"State College as Pioneer in Scientific Education," Dr. Albert H. Tuttle (68), of the University of Virginia.

"The Administration of the First President," Dr. E. Van Pugh, Prof. C. Alfred Smith, class of '61, of Chicago.

"The Place of the State College in the System of Public Education," Dr. N. C. Shaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"The Development of Engineering in the Pennsylvania State College," Prof. D. C. Jackson, class of '85, of the University of Wisconsin.

"Historical Sketch of the College From 1855 to 1905," by Prof. William A. Buckhout, class of '68, of State College.

"The State College and the Military Service," John I. Thomson, Jr., class of '62.

"Dr. Pugh as a Chemist," Dr. G. G. Pond.

"The Relations of the Farmers' High School to Agricultural Education and Research," Dr. H. P. Armsby.

Tuesday forenoon there was a general meeting of the alumni, former and present students, in the auditorium. The address of welcome was delivered by President Alberton, and the response by Alexander Patterson. Five minute addresses were then made in which the following persons indulged: T. Barlow, Hon. Cyrus Gordon, A. H. Tuttle, Hon. E. L. Orvis, Hon. A. O. Smith, J. G. White, C. C. Cheesney, J. A. Hunter, Nelson Lloyd, R. W. Williams, A. S. McAllister, F. J. Saunders.

Tuesday afternoon was devoted to sports on Beaver field in which the old students participated. According to the program "the has-beens vied with the never-was-ers." The events consisted of pillow fights, solo walk, tug of war, 100 yards dash, broad spit, hop step and jump, and base ball. In each of the events the participants were men of prominence.

The alumni parade by classes was a pleasant feature to the large number spectators. Each class was cheered lustily. Each class had one or more representatives.

Children's Service.

Children's service will be held in the Reformed church, Sunday, at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited.

Mrs. Rhone Seriously Ill.

Mrs. Rhone, wife of Hon. L. Rhone, of Centre Hall, has been seriously ill for the past two weeks. At this writing, Wednesday, there is no improvement in her general condition.

Slow Progress at the Well

Drilling at the well has been progressing slowly. Work was begun last week after "dry pipe" had been put into position, but after a few days' work it was discovered that it was necessary to continue the "dry pipe" to a greater depth, consequently drilling was discontinued until another instalment of pipe arrived. Wednesday drilling was resumed. The shaft has reached the depth of about one hundred feet.

Mrs. Bairfoot Broke Her Arm.

Mrs. F. O. Bairfoot fell down the attic stairs Tuesday morning and broke the inner bone of the forearm. She was alone in the house when the accident happened, and, receiving other severe bruises in her fall, was obliged to lie down on the nearest bed she could reach, from which place she experienced considerable difficulty in getting the attention of W. J. Smith, the man of the house, who was at the stable looking after the needs of his Jersey cows. In the absence of the local physicians, Dr. H. S. Braucht, of Spring Mills, was called to reduce the fracture.

The Shaffer-Hazel Reunion.

The Shaffer-Hazel reunion was in full blast when the Reporter went to press. The Grange Park presented the appearance of a gala day during the Grange Encampment. The Penn Hall band furnished music for the occasion.

A number of splendid addresses were delivered by those selected to speak on the occasion.

This is the third reunion, and one of the best yet had. There were representatives from many parts of the county in attendance.

LOCALS.

Best Manila hay rope, 15 cents per pound—C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

Messrs. John T. and Wimer Lee repaired the double dwelling house of Dr. G. W. Hosterman.

Festival Saturday night in Grange Arcadia. All invited. Proceeds for the benefit of the hall fund.

Mrs. Cyrus Brungart, after having been at Boolsburg for several weeks assisting in taking care of Mrs. Rebecca Sparr, is home again.

J. Nevin Meyer, of Rebersburg, representing school book firm of Mayard, Merrill & Meyer, New York was in town Monday.

J. B. Fleischer, of Jamestown, New York, has been in Centre Hall for the week superintending minor improvements on the Fleischer home.

The Presbyterian congregation of Milroy has extended a unanimous call to the Rev. Harold M. Robinson of Minneapolis, Minn., to fill the pastorate of that church.

Mrs. Rebecca Murray and Miss Edna Murray, of this place, attended the commencement exercises at State College. Among the graduates was Paul Murray, a son of the former.

William B. Fischer, son of Dr. Fischer, who had been south for several months on account of his health, is back to his home in Shamokin, and is much improved physically.

Mrs. Ellis Rudy, of Mazeppa, is visiting relatives in and about Centre Hall. Mrs. Rute, before marriage, was Miss Stover, a native of Farmers Mills, and has many friends and relatives in this section.

Miss Helen Hosterman is attending the commencement exercises at Allegheny College, of which institution she is a graduate. Before returning home she will visit class mates in Helletron, Weatherly and Williamsport.

Messrs. Foreman & Smith, Tuesday of this week, unloaded a car of farm implements, most of which had been sold in advance to the farmers in Penns Valley. The machinery was purchased from the International Harvester company.

While practicing on the diamond, a ball passed through Archie Homan's hands and landed square on his nose, battering up that appendage to a considerable extent. The ball came at an unexpected moment, else its arrest would have been easily made.

A sarcophagus, of large dimensions and of the finest granite, was recently placed over the grave of William Colyer, in the Lutheran and Reformed cemetery at Tusseyville. The work is a great credit to H. G. Strohmeier, of Centre Hall, who erected the same.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bradford, of near Centre Hall, attended the commencement exercises of the Reedsville High School from which Miss Beatrice Riden graduated. The young lady is a cousin of Mrs. Bradford's, and received from her a beautiful hand-painting, a country scene, the work of the donor.

Among the students who graduated from Pennsylvania State College was Paul Murray, of Centre Hall. He selected the electrical engineering course, and although obliged to do manual labor during every term to aid in his support his class standing was not reduced. His example as a student is worthy of emulation.

Mr. and Mrs. William Zeigler, who make their home with their son, George Zeigler, near Farmville, Virginia, in sending the Reporter a remittance, state that the season in Virginia is favorable to the growth of farm crops. Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler went south from Brush Valley a number of years ago, and although the former is seventy-eight and the latter seventy-five years of age, they are both enjoying good health, with the exception of an occasional attack of rheumatism.

Merchant W. H. Meyer is making extensive improvements on the buildings on his farm, at Centre Hill. Besides having the same repainted, which work is being done by Messrs. F. E. Arney and Ollie Mader, he is expending considerable money on a water plant, and when completed he will have hard and soft water all through the house. A large cistern was constructed on an elevation into which the water falling on the house roof will be conducted, and into another cistern water will be pumped, by means of a gasoline engine, from a spring. From these cisterns water is conducted to the house by gravity.

A Pennsylvania manufacturer—a citizen and successful man of affairs, contributes to the "Outlook" for this week a notable paper on the oppression and grievances and wrongs of Pennsylvania, culminating with the declaration that the great want and prime necessity of the State is a man at the head of its affairs not as a boss or political manager, but as governor, representing the real power of the people. It is unfortunate that the good people of Pennsylvania, because of their ring and machine servitude, have not made choice of such a governor when they had the chance, and when they passed by such men as Pattison and Jenks for such machine instrumentalities Stone and Pennypacker. That tells the story.

Double harpoon forks, $1.00—C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

Rev. F. F. Christine Dead.

Rev. F. F. Christine died suddenly at his home in Stewart, Ohio, Monday morning. Interment was made at Elysburg, his former home.

Rev. Christine and daughter, Miss Mable, were in a boat setting outlines Friday evening of last week, when the revered gentleman at once became limp and helpless, and it was with great difficulty that Miss Christine was able to reach the shore where her brother-in-law, Thos. L. Moore, of Centre Hall, was awaiting them.

In a dying condition Rev. Christine was taken to his home, and several physicians were called, but on Monday morning, as stated above, death came.

Rev. Christine was pastor of the Presbyterian church, in this place, for several years prior to 1900, and at the time of his death was serving a Presbyterian charge at Stewart, Ohio. His age was about fifty-seven years.
