

A VETERAN OF THE BLACK HAWK, MEXICAN AND THE CIVIL WARS.

CAPT. W. W. JACKSON.

Sufferings Were Protracted and Severe—Tried Every Known Remedy Without Relief—Serious Stomach Trouble Cured by Three Bottles of Peruna!

Capt. W. W. Jackson, 705 G St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I am eighty-three years old, a veteran of the Black Hawk, Mexican and the Civil Wars. I am by profession a physician, but abandoned the same. "Some years ago I was seriously affected with catarrh of the stomach. My sufferings were protracted and severe. I tried every known remedy without obtaining relief. "In desperation I began the use of your Peruna. I began to realize immediate though gradual improvement. "After the use of three bottles every appearance of my complaint was removed, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as an infallible remedy for that disorder."—W. W. Jackson. Address: Dr. S. E. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Worth More Than She Thought. Two stamps were once put into an offertory box by a lady in Georgetown. They were 2-cent stamps, issued in British Guiana in 1850. The lady had come across an envelope among her papers bearing two of these stamps. The incumbent, Canon Josa, sold the envelope with the two stamps on it by auction and it realized $205. The following year the same two stamps changed hands at $650, the first purchaser making $445 profit on the deal. The new purchaser sold them for $780 to a German dealer, who sold them to a Russian nobleman for $1,000.—London Tit-Bits.

Significance of Recent Benefactions to Colleges.

After all, the principal use of the college is as a place where the next generation is to get right ideas of what is worth while in life itself. The mere facts which, to the ignorant, seem the advantages of education, are of minor importance. We hear much in the periods of college commencement of the necessities of the modern university in the way of enlarged endowments and increased equipment. Some of this talk is, of course, reasonable enough. It is addressed mainly to the rich as a demand for the recognition by them of a duty of generosity, one which in our days has had a most remarkable response. But apparatus is an impossible substitute for ideals, and the best endowment of a college is the character of its graduates. The $2,000 bequest, for example, to his Alma Mater, which the will of the late William H. Baldwin contained, was small if considered as a mere matter of money, but his character and the ideals of public service which his life expressed form part of that permanent endowment which alone makes a university great. The memory of a railroad president ready to sacrifice, if need be, his position, rather than lose an opportunity for usefulness on an unpaid committee of citizens banded together for important civic service, is a rarer and more precious contribution to the fiber of university life than any mere material bounty from ravenous fingers unclutched by hypocrisy or the fear of death.—George W. Alger in the Atlantic Monthly.

New Jersey Honey Mine.

Nearly 100 quarts of white honey were removed from between the clapboards and plastering of the McMahon mansion in Milton avenue, Rahway, N. J., on a recent morning. Workmen discovered the honey oozing through the plaster, and, on making an opening, found the place packed from studding to studding.

The bees fought valiantly for their stores, stinging Moscs Reed nearly blind. They crawled under his clothes from shoe top to collar band, faithfully paying their respects along the route.

The house had been unoccupied for two years. It stands in the center of a rose and vine-filled pine grove, with wisteria in abundance. There are probably 200 pounds of honey yet between the walls awaiting removal.—New York Tribune.

The Locomotive's Offering.

When the Canadian Pacific railroad ran its first train through Maine there were a great many people on the border who had never seen a train of cars, and the first work train that came into one of the towns caused nearly all the people to turn out to see it. After they had gazed at the engine and cars for some time the train pulled on to a siding.

The roadmaster came along on a railroad velocipede and stopped at the town crossing. An old lady who had been gazing in wonder at the engine and cars asked some one what on earth that thing was. Some one in the crowd told her it was a young engine. She looked at it steadily for a few minutes, and then said: "What in the world are we coming to! Is it a yearling or a 2-year-old?"

Paint to Please the Dead.

It is at least eighty years since old Abbott Roby of Dunstable, Mass., died. He had hated black and dark colors all his life, and in his last sickness begged that he might not be buried in a black coffin. A coffin of any other hue was then unknown, and his request was received in silence or with expostulation. The old man became enraged, and, sitting up in bed, shouted: "If you bury me in a black coffin I'll get up, now I tell ye!"

The funeral was an event in the small town. It was conducted by the Masons, with ritual, procession and music, and when the community was admitted to view the remains it was seen that a dutiful son had painted a wide white stripe around the coffin, to the end that Roby's perturbed spirit might rest in peace.

New Anesthetic from Japan.

A new anesthetic juice has recently been discovered in Japan, the product of a plant growing in that empire. This anesthetic has been called scopalamine and is said to be superior in its effects to all other articles of this kind. It is administered hypodermically and produces a deep sleep lasting from eight to nine hours.

A WOMAN'S MISERY.

Mrs. John LaRue, of 115 Paterson Avenue, Paterson, N. J., says: "I was troubled for about nine years, and what I suffered no one will ever know. I used about every known remedy that is said to be good for kidney complaint, but without deriving permanent relief. Often when alone in the house the back ache has been so bad that it brought tears to my eyes. The pain at times was so intense that I was compelled to give up my household duties and lie down. There were headaches, dizziness and blood rushing to my head to cause bleeding at the nose. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me so much that I continued the treatment. The stinging pain in the small of my back, the rushes of blood to the head and other symptoms disappeared."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers, 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE KEYSTONE STATE

Latest News of Pennsylvania Told in Short Order.

Picking up a corked catsup bottle at dinner, Miss Retta Cessa, daughter of W. A. Cessa, landlord of the hotel at Rainsburg, Bedford county, attempted to open it, when it exploded, scattering the glass and contents in all directions. A fragment struck her brother, Raymond, in the right eye, destroying the sight. Another fragment passed through her cheek, cutting a hole two inches in length, while a third piece laid bare the bones on the back of her left hand.

Jared Borner, of near Glenville, York county, has just begun to read the Bible through for the nineteenth time. Recently he finished his eighteenth reading of the Holy Book. Borner began his Bible reading thirty years ago, and in all that time has never failed to give a considerable part of each day to the work. On Sunday he spends many hours in reading. He uses an ancient Bible, printed in German and as he sits on the porch of his home is a character familiar to many persons. Although nearly 90 years old, Borner only lately retired from active work at his trade, shoemaking. He has selected the text for the sermon to be preached at his funeral.

A runaway car loaded with boards crashed into the engine of a passenger train on the Bloomsburg and Sullivan Railroad near Coles Creek. The car was traveling at a mile a minute rate in time to reverse his engine when the crash came. When the car struck the engine lumber shot ahead and stripped the engine of smokestack, whistle chest, bell, sand box and cab. The engineer and fireman stuck to their posts and escaped injury, although several of the passengers were cut and bruised by the collision. The engine was wrecked.

Death pursued a log train on the Buffalo and Susquehanna Railroad, and finally caught up with it at Medora. Soon after the train started Brakeman Edward Fletcher became ill. Harry Ford took his place, and in less than an hour was retired with one arm crushed, having been caught between the bumpers. Simon Geary was then called out. Six miles from Medora the train ran away on a heavy grade, but was finally stopped without any one being hurt, but in the yards at Medora Geary was caught between the engine and a car and crushed to death.

While watching companions swim, 10-year-old Eddie Miller, of Bethlehem, grew alarmed at the blowing off of steam by a passing locomotive, and, falling into the Lehigh Canal, was drowned.

Elias W. Gilmer, a contractor, of Easton, while at work on his "last job," building himself a home, fell headforemost from the second story to the ground. He fractured his right hip, received bad contusions on the back of his head and was injured internally. His condition is critical. Mr. Gilmer, who is 72 years old, fell off a house some years ago and fractured an arm. He was also seriously injured by falling off Pardee Hall.

Miss Catherine Snyder, 18 years old, was probably fatally burned at her home, in Lancaster. An accident happened to an oil stove, and her father was in the act of hurrying it into the yard, when he collided with his daughter. Her clothing caught fire, and she was so terribly burned that her condition is precarious.

A victim of heat prostration, Lewis R. Hartman, a son of ex-County Commissioner Jeremiah Hartman, died in a hay mow in the barn of John Seidel, in Alsace Township. He was 28 years old. Pottsville has begun a suit against the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company for failure to pay tax on poles. The company will fight the case in court.

Louis Reiber, of Pottsville, lies in a critical condition from blood poisoning that resulted from his picking his gums with a brass pin. He will probably lose all his teeth.

The Berwyn White Coal and Coke Company, of Philadelphia, has taken an option on a tract of land in East Hollidaysburg, adjoining the new freight classification yard of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It is said that a large pressed steel car plant will be erected on this land.

The theft of a score or more of horses recently in Lancaster county is regarded as evidence that an organized band of thieves is operating. The latest victim is George Wilmer, of New Providence, whose roan mare was stolen from his barn.

Under the will of the late Mrs. Elmira Rohrer, probated at Lancaster, the following charitable bequests are made: Strasburg Methodist Episcopal Church, $500; Strasburg Presbyterian Church, $500; Memorial Welsh Mountain Mission, $500.

Bloodhounds are being used in the efforts to trace robbers who broke into the store of Clothier Greenwood, at Luzerne, and carried away much clothing. Joseph Bianco had a hearing before Alderman Barrett at Pittston and his 7-year-old daughter Mary told how he had shot his wife last week. Mary was the only witness of the crime and on the basis of her story Bianco was committed on a charge of murder.

BABY'S TERRIBLE SORE

Body Raw With Humor—Caused Untold Agony—Doctor Did No Good—Mother Discouraged—Cuticura Cured at Once.

"My child was a very delicate baby. A terrible sore and humor broke out on his body, looking like raw flesh, and causing the child untold agony. My physician prescribed various remedies, none of which helped at all. I became discouraged and took the matter into my own hands, and tried Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment with almost immediate success. Before the second week had passed the soreness was gone, not leaving a trace of anything. Mrs. Jeannette H. Block, 281 Rosedale St., Rochester, N. Y."

Lawson and the Wind Clock.

Thomas W. Lawson recently received a shock at his own specialty. He was driving a spirited horse to a light vehicle. Having occasion to leave it in order to enter an office building, he called to a street urchin.

"Sunny, hold my horse?"

"Cert," was the pert reply. "What do I get?"

"A dollar an hour," said Mr. Lawson, laughing.

"By that clock?" continued the lad, pointing to a street clock in front of a jeweler's.

"Yes," said the financier, much amused.

"All right," assented the boy, with a sudden alacrity in contrast with his previous hesitation.

Mr. Lawson performed his errand and emerged again from the office building.

"How must do I owe you?" he asked the boy.

"Two hundred and seven dollars."

"What?"

"By the clock, mister."

Mr. Lawson glanced at the clock—an advertisement. It contained no works, but was operated by currents of air, and the hands were revolving with the rapidity of a pin wheel.

"I thought Wall streeters could do more business on wind than anybody else," gasped Mr. Lawson, "but this takes my time!"—Success.

Investigate Prehistoric Tumulus.

A systematic excavation of the prehistoric tumulus on Clobber moor, Millgarvie, Scotland, began a few days ago. The operations are being conducted by Mr. W. A. Donnelly, whose former discoveries created so much interest in the archeological world. Already the workmen's operations have disclosed some remarkable features, and the finds are such as to rank in interest with some of the best in the Edinburgh museum. The tumulus is of the circular type, built on a rising mound 250 feet above sea level. It has a diameter of nearly ninety feet, and consists of an inner and outer circle. The urns already discovered were deposited in the outer circuit. Mr. Donnelly has also discovered in the same vicinity evidences of other Druidical remains.

COMES A TIME

When Coffee Shows What It Has Been Doing.

"Of late years coffee has disagreed with me," writes a matron from Rome, N. Y. "It's lightest punishment was to make me 'logy' and dizzy, and it seemed to thicken up my blood.

"The heaviest was when it upset my stomach completely, destroying my appetite and making me nervous and irritable, and sent me to my bed. After one of these attacks, in which I nearly lost my life, I concluded to quit and try Postum Food Coffee.

"It went right to the spot! I found it not only a most palatable and refreshing beverage, but a food as well.

"All my ailments, the 'loginess' and dizziness, the unsatisfactory condition of my blood, my nervousness and irritability disappeared in short order and my sorely afflicted stomach began quickly to recover. I began to rebuild and have steadily continued until now. Have a good appetite and am rejoicing in sound health, which I owe to the use of Postum Food Coffee."

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts."

For some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly dependent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.
