PROSPECTING AT BELLEVILLE.

At a depth of 300 Feet the Drill is Penetrating "Coal State."

The click of the heavy drills at the coal mines, near Belleville, which strikes nearly two tons, can be heard every day, says the Belleville Times. While making a short visit at the above place everything was found to be moving along fairly well. At a depth of about three hundred feet, the drill is now passing through what is known to prospectors as "the rotten coal state" which is found in all hard coal mines and is simply slate containing a certain amount of pure coal, the prospects are really becoming brighter every day, as by a microscopic examination the sediment contains a greater per cent. of coal and slush to a great extent resembles crude oil, being of a black greasy nature. The company deserves praise and honor for the pluck and energy manifested and the determination to search for the hidden treasure beneath, just as Providence has created them to be found and used as they become needed.

LOCALS.

H. H. Long, of Lemont, graduated a short time ago from a dental college in Philadelphia.

Joseph Smith, formerly of Penn Hall, is here from Illinois, where he makes his home with his sons, Dr. D. G. Smith, Elizabeth, and Ezra F. Smith, of Freeport. While in Centre Hall he stopped with his nephew, J. Frank Smith, merchant near the station. Mr. Smith will remain in the east for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hosterman are at present at the home of the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Hosterman, in this place. Mr. and Mrs. Hosterman have as yet not fully decided whether they will go to housekeeping in Bellefonte, where Mr. Hosterman has been elected assistant principal of the High School.

Miss Beatrice Riden, eldest daughter of Robert Riden, of Reedsville, and her cousin, Porter Albright, also of Reedsville, drove to Centre Hall Saturday where the former will visit Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bradford for several weeks. She is a graduate of the Reedsville High School and is a young lady of refinement and accomplishments.

John Rossman, Sr., of Gregg township, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is gradually becoming weaker. He is past eighty years of age and is suffering from a complication of diseases. His recovery is little hoped for. The aged gentleman makes his home with his son, Josiah Rossman, on the Brush Valley road, near Penns Cave.

The first trip across Nittany Mountain in his auto was made by A. C. Mingle, of Bellefonte, Sunday. He was accompanied by his wife and daughters. While in town he was the guest of his brother, W. B. Mingle, Esq., but when it came to exercising the machine a number of old friends were included in the list. Mr. Mingle handles the auto as though he were a trained chauffeur.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Two Important Decisions Have Been Handed Down.

The superior court held a short session in Philadelphia, last week, and then adjourned to meet in October. One of the most important decisions was embodied in an opinion by Judge Orlandy, sustaining the constitutionality of the pure food law and affirming the decision of the quarter sessions court of Philadelphia in the case of Charles W. Spencer, convicted of selling Hamburger steak containing illegal preservatives. Spencer was fined $50 and costs after a long and bitterly fought trial in the lower court.

The superior court, in an opinion by Judge Porter, also decided that selling cigars on Sunday does not constitute a breach of the peace. Addison Foster, of Delaware county, on the charge of repeatedly violating the Sunday law of 1794 by selling soft drinks and cigars, was held by a local justice under bonds to keep the peace. The superior court discharged Mr. Foster. Judge Porter pointed out that no disorder was charged against Foster, and said the magistrate, under the circumstances of this case, had no jurisdiction to require Foster to enter bail to keep the peace.

"Fewer Gallons; Wears Longer." The secret is out and Centre Hall can go on living just as if the riddle had never been asked.

No it can't either. Centre Hall is not going to be what it was before. Its houses are going to be brighter; its people a little more prosperous—they are going to have some of their money left to buy other things.

The answer to the riddle is this: you can paint a building with fewer gallons of Devco Lead and Zinc paint than with mixed paints, and it will wear several times as long as a building painted with lead and oil mixed by hands.

There's proof abundant of it all over the United States. There will soon be proof abundant of it in Centre Hall. What will people do with the rest of their money?

The descendants of Jacob Wagner, Sr., deceased, of Tusseyville, Pa., expect to hold a reunion in the grove of M. F. Rossman, at the foot of Tussey Mountain, one and one-half miles southwest of Tusseyville, Thursday, July 27.

All the relatives and friends of same are hereby cordially invited to be present, provided they come supplied with the necessary things of life for the day.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent. of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills.
