Hot Ice Cream a New Dainty for the Fair Sex.

"Have you heard of the new hot ice cream?" asked the woman who seems to know of all the new things almost before they come into existence.

"It sounds piquant," said her companion, dryly.

"Well, it is, and something more. It is served in one of the tea-andchatter rooms, where you go after a shopping tour to pile all bundles on a couch and sit in a bow window and tell your companion all the things that you always thought that you would never tell to any one. There are iron lanterns, instead of electric globes, and the maids wear linen frocks and don't slam things down before you."

'And the hot ice cream?"

"I'm coming to that. It is really a frozen pudding. It is made of vanilla ice cream with boiled rice and ginger mixed with it and all frozen together. It hails from the Chinese quarter of San Francisco, and it tastes good and doesn't give one indigestion, as the cold-all-the-way-through ice cream is apt to."

"Do you know what it sounds like to me? The Frenchman's description of the Irishman's whisky punch. He said it was called 'puncu,' but it ought to have been called a 'contradiction,' because he put in whisky to make it strong and water to make it weak, lemon to make it sour and sugar to make it sweet, and then he said, Here's to you!' and drank it himself!" -Montreal Herald.

Admitting that for revenge she killed her 19-month-old child, stabbed her husband and then tried to kill herself while insanely jealous of her sister, Helen Hanley, Mrs. Annie Gabes is in a critical condition at the Eastern District Hospital, and under arrest.

George Gabes and his wife came here from Denver, and lived at 49 Driggs avenue, Williamsburg. When Miss Hanley joined them, a few weeks ago, Mrs. Gabes became jealous, and while nursing her baby boy yesterday plunged a knife through his heart. Then she attempted to kill her husband, and ended by slashing her own arms and wrists and stabbing herself in the abdomen. She surrendered to the police cheergret.

An odd will has been filed for probate by executors of the estate of Deane Miller, who lived at 12 West Fortyfourth street. Half of the residuary estate is to be held in trust, the interest to be paid to the testator's brother, Clark A. Miller, of New Rochelle, and at the end of three years part of all of the principal to be paid over to him on condition that during that time he has abstained from the use of liquor in every form. Dr. Charles C. Miller, another brother, inherits the other half of the estate and some personal belongings, and is one of the executors, with full power to determine what portion of the conditional bequest shall be paid over.

Samuel Brooks, a bather at Audubon Beach, thought it would be smart to upset three girls who were rowing in a boat nearby, and he and a companion, securing opposite ends of the boat, rocked it in spite of the girls' protests, until it upset and all three were in the water. Then the toughs left the girls to help themselves. Swimmers reached them just in time to save them from drowning.

Brooks was more unfortunate than his companion, who escaped. He reached shore to find a mob awaiting him, and was beaten with unbrellas, sticks and fists until the police found it a difficut matter to rescue him. He would probably have been killed but for that intervention.

Abraham Liebermann is one of the little tenement babies of Williamsburg to whom hot weather means suffering, maybe death. So his parents have been taking him to the roof of their tencment, at 47 Morrell street, to catch what he might of the stray breezes. Last evening Abraham crawled out to the cornices on an exploring expedition and fell five stories to the street below. In his fall he overturned a baby carriage, struck head first and was killed. The infant in the carriage was not hurt. 000

He suited action to the word, removing his coat and inviting the jurymen to do likewise. The lawyers in the case also peeled off. "There is no use hiding behind one's dignity in such weather as this," said the Court.

COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

R. G. Dun and Company's "Weekly Review of Trade" says:

"Seasonable merchandise goes into consumption more freely than usual, retail trade exceeding expectations at many points, and preparation for Fall and Winter business is on a liberal scale, except in a few agricultural communities where there is a disposition to await definite assurances regarding the crops.

"The official report was more encouraging as to grain and later dispatches to this paper from the principal farming centers indicate that good results are being attained despite some excess of moisture.

Manufacturing reports are irregular, the cotton industry being unsettled by the rise in 'raw material; woolen mills have a similar, but less sensational obstacle; footwear shops are shipping less freely, but are maintaining the higher level of prices and current dullness in pig iron does not weaken confidence in an early resumption of liberal purchases.

"Recent large transactions in hides strengthened the tone, and further advances are recorded in light-weights. Failures this week were 223 in the United States, against 225 last year, and 26 in Canada, compared with 20 a year ago.

Bradstreet's says:

"Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending July 13 are 852,660 bushels, against 1,005,644 last week, 1,-412, 498 this week last year, 3,652,784 in 1903 and 3,775,222 in 1902. Corn exports for the week are 834,772 bushels, against 932,225 last week, 574,929 a year ago, 1,402,404 in 1903, and 1,062,100 in 1902.'

Grow to Twice Actual Weight of Those Exposed to Sunlight Only - Latest Victory For This New and Beautiful Illuminant.

The experiments recently made at Cornell University prove that the beautiful rays from the gas, acetylene, are as effective as sunlight on the growth of plants, and this may soon become a subject for serious consideration by all progressive cultivators of the soil.

The results of the experiments are astonishing, inasmuch as they show conclusively the great increase of growth attained by supplementing "The Light of Nature" with "The Light of Acetylene" during the hours in which the plants would otherwise be in darkness. For instance, a certain number of radish plants subjected to acetylene light during the night grew to twice the actual weight of the same number of radishes given daylight only. all other conditions being equal and peas had blossomed and partially matured pods with the help of acetylene light, while without the added light not even buds were apparent.

Acetylene is already taking its place as an illuminant for towns from a central plant, for lightinghouses, churches, schools and isolated buildings of all kinds, and it is being used successfully for many other purposes.

A striking and important feature of acetylene is the ease and small expense with which it can be made available compared with the great advantages derived from its use. The machine in which the gas is generated is easily installed.

Queer Proofs of Love. Mme. Myriam Harry, the Parisian novelist who has traveled about the world a good deal, tells what evidences of affection are prized by men and women in different countries. In Jerusalem she once met a young Arab woman who had not a tooth left in

Harry was told that there a husband was not believed to love his wife properly until he had made a present to her of a coffin. In Galicia, among the sect of masochists, a man values his wife's affection by the degrees of suffering which she causes him to endure. Mme. Harry there once heard a betrothed youth say to his affianced bride: "If you really loved me you would consent to bind me and flog me with this whip." At Stockholm one of Mme. Harry's friends is now suing her husband for divorce on the ground that "he does been in retirement for his health.

"I have sometimes thought it might be a good thing for a man to go away for awhile," he said, "and to get cured perhaps of habits that were gaining too strong a hold on him. I changed my opinion on the second part of that proposition, however, after I had an evening with a friend of mine who had just come back from a course of treatment.

"We were together in a cafe for an hour or more. During all that time he would, of course, not take a drink. Such a thing never occurred to him. But he would take some coffee. I think I had two highballs while we talked. I know he had seven pots of black coffee. There didn't seem to be much doubt that he had gotten over one habit. He had acquired another, however, that made it seem a stand-off whether he had gained by the change."

CHANGED HUSBAND. Wife Made Wise Change in Food.

Change of diet is the only way to really cure stomach and bowel trouble. A woman says:

"My husband had dyspepsia when we were married and had suffered from it for several years. It was almost impossible to find anything he could eat without bad results.

"I thought this was largely due to the use of coffee, and persuaded him to discontinue it. He did so, and began to drink Postum Food Coffee. The change did him good from the beginning, his ' digestion improved; he suffered much less from his nervousness, and when he added Grape-Nuts food to his diet he was soon entirely cured.

"My friend, Mrs. ---- of Vicksburg (my former home), had become a nervous wreck also from dyspepsia. Medicines had no effect, neither dld travel help her. On my last visit home, some months ago, I persuaded her to use Grape-Nuts food. She was in despair, and consented. She stuck to it until it restored her health so completely that she is now the most enthusiastic friend of Grape-Nuts that I ever knew. She eats it with cream or dry, just as it comes from the package -keeps it in her room and eats it whenever she feels like it.

"I began eating Grape-Nuts food myself when my baby was two months old, and I don't know what I should have done without it. My appetite was gone, I was weak and nervous and afforded but very little nourishment for the child. The Grape-Nuts food, of which I soon grew very fond, speedily set all this right again, and the baby grew healthful, rosy and beautiful as a mother could wish. He is two years old now and eats Grape-Nuts food himself. I wish every tired young mother would do her."
