It was not necessary for the Ambassador to convey this information officialing to the plan arranged the Russian Foreign Office was to advise the French government of the act of signature, and that government in turn was to advise the Japanese government.

Mr. Takahira appeared at the State Department with a message stating that the Emperor of Japan had signed the treaty at Tokio. A cablegram was immediately dispatched to Spencer Eddy, charge of the American embassy at St. Petersburg, who was instructed to inform the Russian Foreign Office that the Emperor of Japan had performed his part, and both copies of the treaty having been duly signed, and each of the great nations lately engaged in hostilities, having been officially informed of the fact, the Russo-Japanese war which began February 8, 1904, with the attack of Togo's fleet upon the Russian ships at Port Arthur terminated officially October 14.

Little remains to be done to meet the official requirements. At a later date probably in the course of a month or two, copies of the treaties will be actually exchanged, probably in Washington by the Russian ambassador and the Japanese minister or charge, for it is possible that Minister Takahira will before that occurrence have gone to Japan on a leave of absence. There is nothing for this government to do in the way of proclamation.

The Aurora, Jemtchug and the Oleg, constituting Admiral Enquist's squadron at Manifa, and the Lena, at Mare Island, which have been interned for months, may probably now be released whenever the Russian government sees fit to make the request, though, as it is understood, the ships have been undergoing extensive repairs to make them seaworthy, it may be sometime yet before they are ready to sail.

Four-masted Schooner Harry A. Berwin, Bound From Mobile, Ala., to Philadelphia, Scene of Mutiny-Three Negroes All That Remained of Crew-Captured and Taken to Southport, N. C.

Southport, N. C., (Special).-Captain Rumill and four of his crew of the fourmasted schooner Harry A. Berwind were murdered in a mutiny while the vessel was bound from Mobile to Philadelphia.

The schooner Blanche H. King, Capt. J. W. Taylor, bound from Brunswick, Ga., to Philadelphia, put in Southport, bringing in irons three negroes, all that remained of the crew of the Harry A. Berwind. The captain, mate, cook and an engineer, who did hoisting work about the latter vessel, apparently had been killed in the mutiny and their bodies thrown overboard. The body of a fourth sailor, a negro, was found lying on the deck, where he too had been killed. The Harry A. Berwind was bound to Philadelphia from Mobile, which port the vessel left September 23 early Wednesday morning. She was sighted 30 miles off the Cape Fear bar by Captain Taylor, whose attention was attracted by reckless manner in which the ill-fated vessel was being steered, her course threatening to run down his own vessel. Captain Taylor and crew boarded the vessel and placed the negroes in irons, bringing the two vessels off the bar, when one of them was towed in by Wil-
