John B. Knox Home.

John B. Knox of Anniston, Ala., who has frequently of late been spoken of as a candidate for the United States senatorship, was in Birmingham yes terday on his way home from Europe where he has been for two months.

Mr. Knox is looking well and says he had a most enjoyable trip. On the subject of politics, he had nothing to say, or, at least, he said nothing When the subject was mentioned, he looked at his watch and said:

"It is now 3:30 o'clock. The base ball game at West End park begins at 4. Gentlemen, I'll bid you good afternoon."

And with that, Mr. Knox left the lobby of the Hillman and made for the ball game.-Birmingham Age-Herald

The Key to Power. Success in life is a delicate and difficult thing to define. To many-rightly or wrongly-it is synowmous with the accumulation of wealth, the standard of achievement and the end of all ambition worthy of human endeavor. But whatever may be our delineation of this subtle and somewhat fickle goddess, the possession of a substantial bank account is, for most persons -for all, in fact, who are not degen erates-a most laudable object of ambition. It has a psychological value all apart from its conventional, commercial value. It is veritably the key to power-not alone through what it buys, but through what it does-unlocking those secret sources of strength that transform the delinquent into the alert, the vacillating into the confident, kindling the embers of hope, and giving the race to the slow, the battle to the weak.-Business Men's Magazine.

Woman Bosses Gang of Workmen. Having no children and disliking the idleness of hotel life, since her husband's business keeps him but a comparatively short time in any city. Mrs. William Partridge is pleased to assist him and by so doing has gained the sobriquet of "lady boss" from the men whose work she directs. The Arm contracts to drill wells, lay sewers and construct water systems and Mrs. Partridge thoroughly enjoys the out-of-door life. When working through rock mountains she calmly directs the work of the laborers as they ram dynamite into the drilled holes and does all the work of a foreman as efficiently as any of the sterner sex. As she is a modest, welldressed young woman there is no suspicion that Mrs. Partridge is other than an onlooker until a question is asked her or she gives an order to the seventy-five men, who grin and proudly declare they like to be "bossed" by a woman.

Pitiful Plight of Aged Man.

Because Oliver Powe, a builder of Ansonia, Conn., put all his property ir his wife's name and she died childless he lost it all, according to the probate court's ruling, and is left penniless at the age of 72, too infirm to work. Believing that at his wife's death he would be her heir. Mr. Powe had his home and savings, $22,000 in all transferred to her, so she would have no trouble in getting his estate should he die first. Mrs. Powe died a year ago, her estate was promptly claimed by her relatives and the probate court sustained their claim. Mr. Powe has brought a suit for equitable relief.

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter.

Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.
