

TEACHERS AT BOALSBURG.

Teachers' Local Institute for District Number Four Holds Interesting Sessions.

Local Institute of District No. 4, embracing the townships of Harris, Potter, Ferguson and College, met in annual session at Boalsburg, Saturday, December 30th, 1905.

The first topic on the program was "The disciplinary value of the school to the pupil," had been assigned to Prof. L. E. Pottenberger, of Pine Grove Mills, but as he was absent that topic was dropped and the next topic was taken up.

Things worth while—For the teacher, for the pupil, for the parent—was first discussed by H. H. Ream. He spoke of the teacher being a moulder and fashioner for the pupil.

E. H. Williams, of Oak Hall, gave some very good hints. He referred to the value of home study, confidence on the part of the pupil, etc.

County Superintendent D. O. Eiters was then called upon and gave some very good thoughts. He spoke of the value of electing good directors, make them feel they are the power, the main spring of the educational machinery.

In Memory.

Verses dedicated to Andrew J. Stiffler, who died November 25, 1905, by his son Fred A. Stiffler, of Palms, Michigan:

In the old Spruce town churchyard, Within sound of rippling Laurel rill, Beside the clay of our dear mother,

That which was mortal of our father Reposes, so silently, so still.

We love to think that our beloved dead Can rest free from every care or pain— Amid so many scenes we adore—

Scenes embalmed to us forevermore— While with God their spirits reign.

Between the graves of our loved ones A marble rises toward the sky.

Yet the good works they did between The morn of their life and its e'en Shall live, when monuments shall die.

Lingering still amid the tombstones, We note the inscriptions written there, And recall the faces of hosts we knew

Whose remains now death's hallway strew, Their life having gone to eternity—where? Passing these scenes, I calmly pray

Oh, G'd. Grant grace, that we may Our dear ones worthily greet

In your bright land, at Jesus feet, From father and mother to part no more, Where heaven is home for evermore.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made.

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Cora Walker, of Porterville, California.

There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold so quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take.

These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills.
