COURT NEWS.

Second Week of Court Continues Until Saturday Afternoon.

The second week of court continued its sessions until Saturday afternoon. The jurors, except those empaneled on the last case, were discharged Friday, at noon.

Ezra Ripka, of Penn township, vs. Anville Fire Insurance Company of Lebanon. This was a suit brought by Ripka to recover a policy on a house he bought which subsequently burned down. Ripka bought the house on a Saturday expecting to move in the next Monday. On Saturday he insured the house in the Anville Insurance Company and paid the premium and all. He paid $637.50 and had it insured for $500. On the following Monday morning before he had time to move in the house burned down. The company refused to pay the claim, giving the excuse that they had never approved the application.

The jury awarded Mr. Ripka $519, being the amount of insurance with interest. The verdict is subject to a point in law to be decided by the president judge.

Walter Weaver vs. Thomas M. Weaver, administrator of etc. of Michael P. Weaver, late of Spring township, deceased, and Thomas H. Weaver an heir of said decedent. The plaintiff brought this suit against his father and administrator of his grandfather to recover labor, etc., done on an alleged contract between the grandson and grandfather. The plaintiff lived with the grandfather from early childhood to the time of the grandfather's death, and from the testimony it appears the grandfather promised that if the young man was a good boy he was to leave the property in which they lived. The grandfather died intestate, making no provision for his grandson. The jury awarded the young man the sum of $1050.

Mary A. Colyer vs. Calvin Ruhl. This case grew out of a disagreement as to the ownership of a calf. It appears that Mrs. Colyer gave Mr. Ruhl a calf in the spring of 1904, "to raise," she claimed, and he claimed "to keep." Last fall Mr. Ruhl advertised the animal for sale along with his other live stock, whereupon Mrs. Colyer issued a writ of replevin. The jury decided in favor of the defendant, Mr. Ruhl.

LOCALS.

Epworth League entertainment in Grange Arcadia, Saturday evening.

Harry N. Meyer, the Millheim insurance agent, was in town the latter part of last week.

Miss Brezzy Benner, who had been in Philadelphia for the past few months, is home for the remainder of the winter.

Miss Lizze Luse, daughter of Nicodemus Luse, of near Centre Hill, was the guest of Merchant and Mrs. W. H. Meyer over Sunday.

Among the callers from Bush Valley, at the Reporter office, last week, was W. E. Bair, of Smulton, a farmer and mechanic. Mr. Bair investigated the merits of the Reporter's water motor, as he contemplates installing power with which to do light farm work. He has a water plant of his own, and consequently will be able to produce power at a minimum cost.

The Penn's Valley Ministerial Association held its monthly meeting in the study of Rev. J. M. Rearick, at ten o'clock, February 6. Rev. C. J. Stonecypher read good paper on the Preparation and Delivery of sermons. The general discussion that followed emphasized various points in the paper and brought out new ones. The meeting was a helpful one to the seven ministers present. At twelve o'clock the association adjourned to the Lutheran Parsonage to partake of a bountiful repast and spend an hour in social intercourse.

Taken to Orphan's Home.

Levi and Daniel, sons of the late Harry Fishburn, and grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Stump, of near Millheim, were taken to the Bethany Orphan's Home, Womelsdorf. They were accompanied to the orphanage, a reformed institution, by their guardian, Mr. Miller, of Pleasant Gap.

Marriage Licenses.

John Witmer, Milesburg.

May Lucas, Milesburg.

George D. Fortney, Boalsburg.

Effie M. Long, Boalsburg.

Wilbur F. Hall, Howard.

Elizabeth M. Robb, Romola.

James N. Catherman, Millheim.

Ortha E. Corman, Coburn.

Grammar School Closed.

The Grammar grade of the borough schools is closed for this week, owing to a severe cold contracted by the capable teacher, James B. Strohm.

He was threatened with pneumonia, but by taking good care and avoiding exposure he hopes to overcome it. So far as is known now, Mr. Strohm will resume teaching Monday.

Phonographs.

N. B. Fisher, of Boalsburg, who has been doing an extensive business in the sale of Phonographs and records, will be at the Centre Hall Hotel February 14, 15 and 16, and at the Potters Mills Hotel on the 22nd. Entertainments will be furnished almost every hour of the day and evening. See posters and circulars.

The Epworth League Entertainment.

There is every indication that the Epworth League entertainment Saturday night in Grange Arcadia will be a side-splitting affair. Great fun is looked forward to, and every one who wants the corners of his mouth to turn up, should secure a ticket.

A number of those who take part in the three plays to be rendered, have on former occasions happily entertained their audience, and that is the best guarantee that the performers will be amply able to please a second time.

LOCALS.

Entertainment in Grange Arcadia Saturday evening.

The ice man is having his inning; the coal dealer as well.

Miss Eliza Moore has returned to Aaronsburg, after a month or more spent among relatives here.

H. H. Miller and wife, of Rebersburg, while in town Saturday, were the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. D. J. Meyer.

The revival being conducted by Rev. McClay at Millheim, will be continued during this week.

John F. Zeigler, of Altoona, is in Loraine, Ohio, at present, the guest of his sister, Mrs. A. S. Krapp.

Reserved seat tickets for the Epworth League entertainment, Saturday evening, on sale by C. D. Bartholomew.

D. K. Keller went to Clearfield county Wednesday to adjust a fire loss in the Centre County Mutual Fire Insurance company. He represented his father, who is secretary.

Rev. L. E. Lauffer, pastor of the Aaronsburg Reformed church received a call from Martinsburg, and it is thought that he will accept.

The commissioners in Clinton county have given notice that they will be in the office only Wednesday and Thursday of each week, except during court week, and for the stated appeals.

Alfred P. Hosterman, near Centre Hill, is hauling saw logs to the mill and having it cut into timber with which he intends building a straw shed and make other improvements on his farm.

Information received daily from Mrs. Weber states that her husband, John H. Weber, is improving every day. He is at the U. of P. Hospital, Philadelphia, and his friends here hope to see him return before many weeks.

Mrs. W. H. Meyer, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Nicodemus Luse, of Centre Hill, recently visited Union and Northumberland county. They devoted the time between Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Katherman, at Millburg, and Jacob Lee, at Milton.

J. Wesley Gobble, of Georges Valley, was called Tuesday, and informed the Reporter that his father, Samuel Gobble, of near Penn Hall, will make sale of his personal property, Friday, March 23. After the sale the Senior Gobble will make his home with his son, in Georges Valley.

The Lewistown Democrats acted wisely in nominating H. J. Fosnot, editor of the Democrat and Sentinel, for the office of Burgess. Mr. Fosnot for twenty years has been fighting for a better governed, and a more up-to-date Lewistown, and with all insisted on the most rigid economy.

The Walkers, west of Centre Hall, have taken the contract to stock the saw mill of McNeill-Huyett Company, east of Centre Hill, and are doing so now. They are men of experience in that line of work, and it is said Pappy Walker can get a bigger pull out of a team of horses than any other man in Centre county.

Benner Walker, of near Centre Hall, experienced hard luck beginning of this week. He and his father, Jacob Walker, each bought a horse at the Millheim horse sale Monday. The animals were taken home that day, and the next day the one belonging to the Junior Walker died. Veterinary Surgeon Ritter pronounced the disease lung fever.

DEATHS.

JOHN G. EMERICK.

John G. Emerick died at the home of his son, Leslie Emerick, at Wallace town, Thursday of last week, at the age of sixty-five years and nine months, from the effects of a paralytic stroke received a short time prior. He is survived by a widow and four children: Leslie, at Wallace town; Maude, Bessie and Norman, at home at Centre Hall.

The deceased was a brother of Henry Emerick, of Centre Hall. One sister, Mrs. Absalom Musser, of Aaronsburg, also survives.

MRS. ROBERT SMITH.

Mrs. Robert Smith died Saturday at the home of her only child, Samuel Homan, near Farmers Mills, at the age of seventy-three years.

Interment took place Tuesday forenoon. The deceased was a sufferer from rheumatism, and recently received a paralytic stroke.

Her maiden name was Susan Hockman. Her husband died fifteen years ago.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Snyder, of the United Evangelical church, interment being made at Farmers Mills Tuesday morning.
