A doctor is all right when you are sick, but he ought to let well enough alone.

THE IDEAL HOME.

Man's Ideas Constantly Change as He Grows Older.

As the male member of the human pecies advances in years his ideas as to what constitutes an ideal dwelling change so absolutely that there is between the different places he would select almost no similarity.

At three years old his ideal is a tent formed from a table cover, a blanket, a spread, a piece of carpets or any other material that can be so arranged Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wood spent that it will form a little place into which to crawl.

At six the best possible dwelling is a hut built of barrel staves, boards and planks, and unknown to persecuting adults, and especially to policemen.

A boy of ten would selet a spacious cave, with a marvelous secret entrance, preferably with the entrance under water at flood tide, with the floors covered with heavy costly carpets, the walls, decorated with deadly weapons inlaid with gold, silver and precious stones, and with enough food stowed away to enable the inhabitants of the place to live for a year if necessary.

At twenty the heart's desire is a room in a large hotel where the cost would be at least $3 a day and where schoolhouse, the sleigh runner was there would be a dinner at 7 o'clock, with lots of pretty and rich women cupants were thrown out and the present, a big smoking room and plenty of stationery with a heavy gold monogram or crest stamped on it.

At twenty-five the best possible home is a neat, comfortable modern flat in some respectable neighborhood, not too far from the cars, theaters and shopping district, and with asphalted streets fined to her room for a few days owing so there will not be too much noise.

At thirty-five the only proper dwelling is a town house, preferably situated near houses of men whose wealth is reckoned in the tens of millions of dollars and who really have considerable money, said house to have a mammoth ballroom, music room and art gallery, and in addition to this house another country house within easy distance of the city, and still again, in its first examination this week, and addition to these two houses, a modsubmitted the answers to the State est but quaintly elegant cottage at some popular seashore resort.

At fifty a man's tastes have toned down, and he longs for a little cottage in the country, where all is quiet, where birds sing and there are chickens in the yard, a cow in the stable, a goodly plot of ground that continually yields an unfailing supply of fresh vegetables and where all is modesty, Grover Gentzel, of Altoona, spent sweet content and freedom from the usual annoyances that make life a burden.

At sixty the cottage has grown smaller, and the man would be content with less ground, fewer chickens and vegetables and could get along quite nicely without the cow.

Communion services were observed At seventy any place will do so long as a man is not disturbed and has reasonable assurance that he will not be. -Exchange.

Victims of Old Jokes. A hospital surgeon says that there is more facial paralysis among bank paying tellers, photographers and elevator operators than in any other classes. He accounts for it with the words, "Old jokes,"

"Jokes! How so?" "Whenever a bank clerk hands out a fresh, crisp bill, the man on the other side of the window says: 'New money, eh? Made it yourself, I suppose?' It is up to the teller to force a laugh. The man on the chair says, 'Ain't you to have a summer normal. He is one afraid I'll break the camera? He would be mortally wounded if the operator did not laugh. One man out of every ten will enter an elevator and say to the boy at the rope, 'Lots of ups and downs in your life, ain't there? The boy forces a smile. "Year after year of this sort of business tells in the long run. The victims come here for treatment, and we can hold out no hope to them unless they get into another line of labor."-Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Samuel Rogers, tavern keeper in Philipsburg, was granted liquor license Wednesday. In the license list on eighth page, that license is among those held over.

Over-Work Weakens

Your Kidneys. Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or ou of order, they fall to do Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar siz-es. You may have a es. You may have a sample bottle by mail Home of Swamp Root. Nee, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Some people only put their best foot and the sump-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y., on every bottle.
