LOCALS.

Dr. J. F. Alexander was able to take a drive into the country Sunday.

James S. Stahl and son Bruce, Saturday morning went to Altoona where they spent several days with Claude K. Stahl.

R. B. Spangler, of Hastings, was in town over Sunday, and spent the time with his parents, ex-Sheriff and Mrs. John Spangler.

E. Austin Krape, of Yeagertown, is seriously ill, the result of an affection of the spine. Besides his physical ailments, it is said his mind has entirely given way within the past two weeks. Arrangements had been made to take him to Danville Asylum, but his physician would not permit his removal on account of his delicate physical condition.

Messrs. Stephen and Jonas Smith came from Philadelphia Wednesday of last week on account of the serious illness of their father, returning Saturday. In the meantime their father died and was buried. These young men are holding good positions, the former being a stenographer in the circulation department in the Philadelphia Inquirer, and the latter is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at its offices in Broad Street Station.

Rev. G. W. McInay was in town Tuesday, on his way to attend the 37th annual session of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the M. E. church which convenes in Tyrone this week. Rev. McInay has just completed his third year's pastorate in the Penns Valley charge and has proven himself able to bring things to pass. Each year of the three, the benevolent offerings have been in advance of the preceding year, the gains along all lines being anywhere from forty to sixty per cent. above what the records showed when he came. During the last year repairs to the extent of about $1000 have been made on church property, more than half of which was also provided for during the year, and the balance is forthcoming. His many warm friends are sincerely trusting that this pleasant relation and association may not be broken into by a removal this year.

Aaronsburg.

Frank Tomlinson, of Clearfield, made a business trip to his farm, east of town, last week.

Dr. D. K. Musser, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday with his brother, A. S. Musser, in this place.

E. G. Mingle and family and Miss Amy Stover spent Saturday with friends in Rebersburg.

Warren Winkleblich and family and Mrs. Annie Detwiler spent a day at Rebersburg, last week.

Mrs. Harvey Charles and daughter, Mrs. Stella Feidler, of Hartleton, spent a day with Jacob Feidler.

Rev. G. W. McInay, pastor of the M. E. church, took supper at the home of B. W. Wyle on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Condo, Mr. Roush and family, Merchant Detwiler and wife were guests at the home of Mr. Shoop, near Penn Hall, on Sunday.

Misses Ray Smith, Bertha Armstrong, Joyce and Mary Bible, and George McCormick, of Potters Mills, accompanied W. C. Mingle to the home of his parents, in this place, Sunday. Mr. Mingle is teaching school at Potters Mills.

A Safe Cough Medicine for Children. In buying a cough medicine for children never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. It is especially valuable for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills.

DEATHS.

JOHN TROXELL SMITH.

Potter township lost a good and substantial citizen in the death of John Troxell Smith, of near Tusseyville. After a brief illness of bronchial pneumonia, Mr. Smith succumbed Wednesday of last week. Interment took place Saturday, at Tusseyville, Rev. Daniel Gress, of the Reformed church, officiating.

It was in 1847, November 28, that the deceased was born at Exchange, Montour county, and he lived at that place until coming to Potter township, about twelve years ago. In his earlier life Mr. Smith had been engaged in the mercantile business, but during the latter years he was following agricultural pursuits, and in this line he was very successful. The farm which composed his home is an illustration. Before he became its owner, the tract of land was considered altogether unproductive, yet by skillful farming the acres were made to produce splendid crops.

Miss Elmira E. Bitler, also a native of Exchange, became the wife of Mr. Smith, December 31, 1867, and the union resulted in the birth of eleven children, all of whom, as well as the mother, survive. They are as follows: Frances, wife of Charles McClenahan, Pleasant Gap; Jacob, Glen Iron; Ida, Mrs. Gideon Hartman, Turbotville; Adam, Lemont; Clyde, Boalsburg; Stephen and Jonas, Philadelphia; Lloyd, Ada, Benjamin and Raymond, at home.

EZRA SMITH.

A telegram was received by Elias E. Smith, at Penn Hall, announcing the death of his nephew, Ezra F. Smith, which it is surmised occurred at his home in Freeport, Illinois. Interment was stated to take place Tuesday morning.

The deceased was the eldest son of Joseph Smith, of Elizabeth, Illinois, formerly of Penn Hall. About thirty years ago Mr. Smith and his wife went west, where Mr. Smith engaged in various business pursuits. The last heard from him direct by his friends in the east was a letter stating that he had been in Dakota and other points to visit his brothers and sisters.

Surviving Mr. Smith are a widow, nee Miss Rose Rishel, sister of 'Squire M. L. Rishel, of Farmers Mills, and four children. The first wife of Mr. Smith, now deceased, was Miss Rebecca Lauver, who about thirty-five years ago taught school in Centre Hall. The four children were born, two to the first and two to the second wife.

The brothers and sisters surviving are: Margaret, Mrs. John Hazel, and Eliza, Mrs. James Grenoble, Chicago; George, Dakota, Illinois; Dr. Domer G., Elizabeth, Illinois.

EX-CONGRESSMAN ARNOLD.

Ex-Congressman William C. Arnold, of DuBois, died suddenly at Muskegon, Mich., where he had gone on a business trip. Deceased was a native of Clearfield county and was fifty-five years of age. He was a lawyer by profession and was also engaged in the banking business, coal and lumber industries. He was a Republican in politics and served this district in Congress from 1895 to 1899, while eight years ago he was talked of as a gubernatorial possibility. His wife died in 1897, but he is survived by four children.

Had Luck Not Slugg.

That bad luck never comes singly is illustrated by the misfortunes experienced by James Moyer, of Yeagertown, formerly of Centre Hall. A week or two ago Mr. Moyer left his pay envelope in his pocket and hung his pantaloons in one of the numerous closets used by the employees of the Burnham works for that purpose. Some time afterward, Mr. Moyer discovered that the closet door had been loosened from its hangings, and his earnings were missing.

But this was not the man's greatest loss. A few days ago the house in which the family were living took fire and was burned, together with nearly all the household goods. Further details are unknown.

Keith's Theatre.

The leader at Keith's Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, this week is the famous Boston musical organization, The Fadettes, composed entirely of ladies. The Barrows-Lancaster Co., appear in a delightful sketch, "Tactics; or, the Blue and the Gray." De Mar and Fortune present "My Sweetheart." Others equally as strong who help to fill up the bill this week are Bobby North, giving Hebrew parodies; Marena, Navarro & Marena, acrobats; Senator Frank Bell, in monologue; Carter & Bluford, Morton & Diamond, the Six Provenances, Europe's foremost organization of lady cyclists, and many others.

Day School.

The undersigned announces that she will open a school in Centre Hall, beginning April 9, to continue for six weeks. HELEN S. HOSKINSON, Centre Hall, Pa.

Smith, the Photographer.

W. W. Smith, the Photographer, will be in Centre Hall Friday, April 6, from 8 to 2:30 o'clock.

THE MAGICAL DURIAN.

It Brings the Highest Price of Any Oriental Fruit.

It was at the height of the durian season, when all animal kind in Malay, two legged and four legged, is animated by an insatiable lust for the fruit itself and quick to fill with savage anger against whatever stands in the way of satisfying its appetite, for not the least remarkable quality of this remarkable fruit is the amatory effect it has upon those who consume it, says Caspar Whitney in Outing. All durian eating Malays, man and beast, are aflame with erotic fire. The jungle resounds with the fighting of love-lorn brutes and the towns awaken to courtship.

The durian is about the size of a pineapple, with a similarly rough outside covering armed with half inch spikes which are tough and sharp. It grows on trees fully sixty feet in height whose trunks are bare of limbs except at the very top, and when the fruit ripens it drops to the ground. So as the season approaches natives erect small huts under the tree or near by, from which they watch for the falling fruit.

Those who are fortunate enough to have such trees growing on their own land practically live on the income derived from the sale of the durian, for in the peninsular market it brings the highest price of any eastern fruit. In the jungle edge, where these trees have no ownership, the race to build the first hut and thus establish proprietary interest in the falling fruit is equal in intensity to a land rush, and in the jungle the natives must compete also with the wild beasts that share man's fondness for this extraordinary fruit.

Once in the jungle as I sat smoking, pouncing out some lost scolding tracks, a falling durian attracted my attention. The nearby trees seemed alive with monkeys racing to first reach the ground. One monkey that had been left at the post, so to say, deliberately dived from the top of the tree where he sat, fully forty feet, into the top of a smaller tree below, whence he swung to the ground. But, though he beat out the others, the durian had disappeared. A small leopard-like creature had sneaked off the fruit, and I was too absorbed in watching the aerial flight of the monkey to get more than a glimpse of the thief. The troop of monkeys that instantly forgathered discussed the situation loudly and in very obvious anger.

WHERE LUCK WAS LOST.

In trying to take short cuts to success.

In looking on the dark side of everything.

In overconfidence born of a first easy victory.

In not working to a plan or programme.

In not being ready for the opportunity when it came.

In sampling every kind of investment scheme that came along.

In dreaming of great things instead of doing the little ones at hand.

In being so disagreeable and selfish that they could not make friends.

In waiting for somebody to help them or give them a boost or for some rich uncle to die.

In refusing to take the positions they could get because they did not know whether they would like the work or not.—Success.

The Outlook For History.

History must be human, making its final appeal not as a monument of erudition, but as a masterpiece of art, in which the collective deeds and passions of men shall be not merely pictured with photographic accuracy, but vitalized and interpreted. Let us not suppose that this is a new aim. The great historians have always held it. The idea that Thucydides and Tacitus neglected to consult all the material available in their time is ludicrous. Gibbon knew his "sources" as profoundly as the impeccably correct Gardner. Mommsen, we may be sure, had not, like Stubbs, a body of evidence which he dared not explore. The master historians in the future, by whatever method they may work, will prove themselves to be akin to these in insight, in power and in art.—W. R. Thayer in Atlantic.

Had Them Either Way.

In his "Recollections of a Virginian" General Dabney H. Maury tells of an old lady in Fredericksburg who was reduced to taking in boarders in order to make both ends meet. On one occasion of peculiar stress the lady was so empty that the good lady took to her bed and summoned her servant, "Nancy," she said, "there's nothing in the house for my boarders to eat except mush. But give them that. If they are Christians they will accept in resignation and thankfulness. And if they are not Christians it is a deal too good for them."

Reap Your Reward In Peace.

You have a disagreeable duty to do at 12 o'clock. Do not blacken 9 and 10 and 11 and all between each and reap your reward in peace, so when the dreaded moment in the future becomes the present you shall meet it walking in the light, and that light will overcome its darkness.—George McDonald.

Encouragement.

Mr. Bashleigh—Miss Dora, I couldn't begin to tell you how much I—Dora Hope—You certainly have been a long time beginning, my poor boy. Go ahead.—Chicago Tribune.

Occupied.

First Cook—An' what was yes talkin' about? Second Cook—Oh, we was discussin' the mistress problem.—Puck.

Letter to Foreman & Smith.

Centre Hall, Pa.

Dear Sirs: The way to reckon the cost of paint is to put both costs together, the cost of the paint and the cost of putting it on.

It would save this country hundreds of millions of dollars a year; it would save you alone (if you happen to be a victim) several dollars a year.

See how it works. It costs as much to put on one paint as another, don't it? Yes, if you use the same number of gallons.

Well, don't it? No, you'll use twice as many gallons of adulterated paint as of Devco; and you've got to pay twice as much for putting it on.

Mr. N. Avery, Delhi, N. Y., has two houses alike and in same condition. Painted one house with Devco; 6 gallons. Painted the other house with a paint that was half adulteration; 12 gallons. Same painter, Geo. Gilbert, did both jobs. One cost $27; the other $54.

Better go by the name. Yours truly F. W. DEVCO & Co., New York.

12 Creamer & Son sell our paint. A woman seldom tells a man she is in the wrong until after he has apologized.

The Taking Cold Habit

The old cold goes; a new one quickly comes. It's the story of a weak throat, weak lungs, a tendency to consumption. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral breaks up the taking-cold habit. It strengthens, soothes, heals. Ask your doctor about it.

The best kind of a testimonial. "Sold for over sixty years."

Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of SASSAPARILLA, PILLS, HAIR VIGOR.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

Keep the bowels regular with Ayer's Pills, just one pill each night.

A Chicago Alderman Owea His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick, 220 So. Florida St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills.

Rebersburg.

Wilbur Diehl, of Connecticut, is visiting his parents.

Lee Rites, a lumberman from Hyner, is at present sojourning here.

The thermometer at this place registered fourteen degrees below zero Saturday morning.

The high winds of last week drifted the snow in the cross-roads in this valley, making traveling very difficult.

Calvin Finkle and daughter, of Spring Mills, spent last Thursday at this place, the guests of J. W. Harter.

While John Noll was smoking his meat the other day the smoke house caught fire and burned to the ground, destroying all his meat.

Misses Nellie Mingle and Amy Stover, two young ladies of Aaronburg, spent Saturday in this town, at the home of Scott Stover.

Dr. Yearick had his household goods hauled to Lamar one day last week, and from there shipped to Woodland at which place he will follow his profession.

Henry Meyer and sister, Miss Mary, and Edwin Royer, all students at Bucknell College, Lewisburg, are spending a short vacation with their parents in town.

The new landlord, Mr. Eckert, takes possession of the hotel today (Thursday) and Mr. Shaffer moves into Wm. Limber's house, two doors west of the post office.

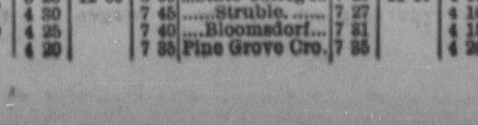

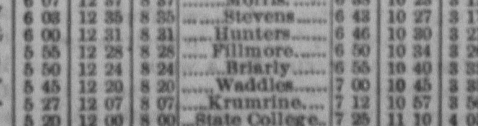

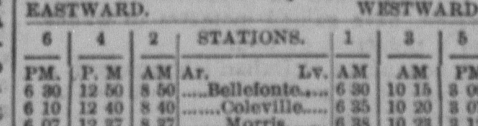

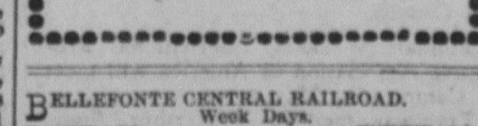

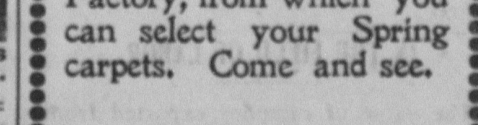

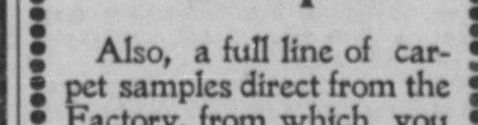

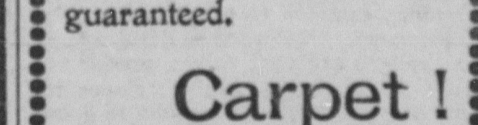

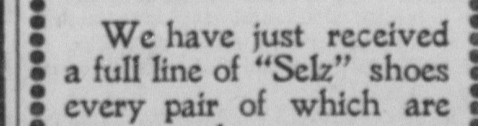

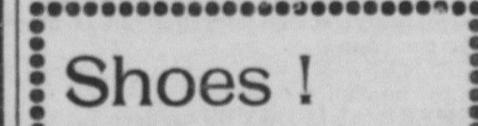

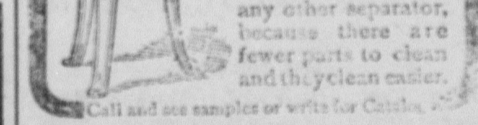

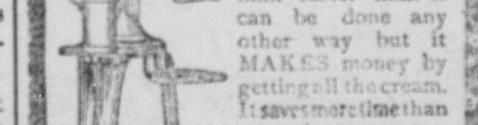

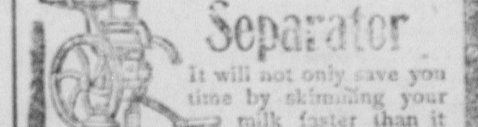

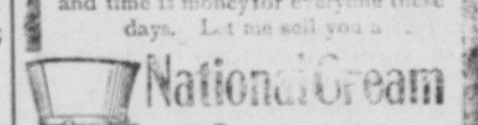

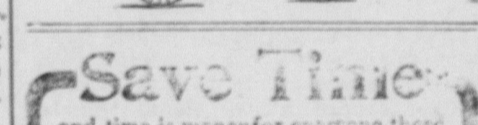

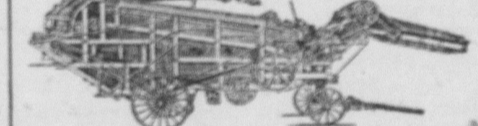

Jasper Brungart and Howard Miller spent the greater part of last week at Wolfs Store, taking an invoice of Harry McManaway's store goods which he sold to Samuel Gephart. The latter has employed Mr. Miller as clerk.

John Wetzel is finishing a term of school for Samuel Gephart, at Harter's school house, two miles west of this place. Mr. Gephart moved to Wolfs Store on Thursday and took possession of the store which he recently bought of Harry McManaway.

Good luck is really good management.

Buy Wood at a Wood Yard

Don't pay 8 cents per pound for wood.

If you buy 100 pounds of White Lead in kegs you get 88 pounds of White Lead and 12 pounds of Wood.

When you buy L. & M. paint you get a full gallon of paint that won't wear off for 10 or 15 years, because L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes L. & M. paint wear like iron.

4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

Actual cost L. & M. about $1 20 per gallon.

Sold in the north, east, south and west.

C. S. Andrews, ex-Mayor, Danbury, Conn., writes, "Painted my house 19 years ago with L. & M. Looks well today."

Champion Liniment for Rheumatism.

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills.

The true test of public greatness is to have dogs named after you.

A Traveling Salesman

for a New York shoe house bought a Kuppenheimer Suffolk Suit a few days ago. He said he had been obliged to leave New York a week earlier than he had expected and so did not get a chance to buy his suit before starting out. "It has made no difference, however," he said, "as long as I was able to get a Kuppenheimer suit is a Kuppenheimer wherever you get it. I never wear any other make. They're always correct in style, made of good stuff and fit well. I have found them far more satisfactory than the average custom-tailor clothes."

Men whose opportunities make them more competent than the average man to judge what is best in men's clothes, will tell you that you'll make no mistake in buying Kuppenheimer Clothes. A complete assortment carried by
