

THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

News of a Semi-Local Character Gathered from the Exchange Table.

Junia is the only county that has not made application for State aid for road improvement.

The Northumberland county auditors have been at work (?) ever since the beginning of the year.

Avis is to have a new industry, to be called the Avis Cut Glass Works, for which a charter has been applied for.

During the last three years C. S. Fouse, of Marklesburg, Huntingdon county, has planted 1700 trees near his home, and all are thriving.

After an illness of several months duration ex-Sheriff Thomas K. Henderson died at his home at Warriorsburg, aged upwards of seventy-five years.

A severe, destructive hail storm passed over Lycoming county, the centre having been about Montoursville. Trees were badly damaged and in some instances buildings were destroyed.

Clearfield county grangers have openly declared their intention to ignore the criticism of those who think they should not take that body into politics and reassert their determination to pick their candidates from the party nominees solely on their merits.

George Yeger, a lunatic in the Danville Asylum, has a bank deposit of $6000 in a Sunbury bank, and at the same time the Snyder county authorities have been paying his keeping at the asylum. The county commissioners recently quit paying Yeger's bills, and have brought action to recover the sum already paid by them.

Pennsylvania Sons of Veterans, who will meet in encampment at York in June, have confidence that Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, will accept their invitation to address them. They are endeavoring to induce the Senator to attend the camp-meeting in the Opera House on Wednesday evening of the encampment week.

Charles H. Shank, president of the Windber local, United Mine Workers of America, was arrested on a charge of arson. Shank, it is alleged in information made before Judge Davies, of Paint Creek borough, set fire to a double tenement house, in Windber, owned by the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company. The house was entirely destroyed.

In addition to supplying all the paper used by the United States Government for postage stamps, the New York and Pennsylvania Company, whose mill is located in Lock Haven, will produce the paper for all the internal revenue stamps. It has just obtained the contract. This revenue paper was made there during the Cleveland Administration, but the company was underbid for a renewal.

It is presumed that an attempt was made to wreck an evening passenger train on the Bald Eagle Valley road, one day last week, by pounding open the switch lock and opening up the switch. Instead of the passenger train meeting with a wreck, an extra freight train coming from Tyrone ran into the trap. All the men, except Engineer Pol. Sasserman, leaped from the train. The engineer was severely injured. The engine was badly wrecked, as were also a number of box cars.

A terrific rain, hail, lightning and wind storm swept over the southern section of Blair county Wednesday night of last week. Hail fell as large as hickory nuts, and the rain came down in torrents. Fruit trees were stripped of their buds and many windows were broken. Thomas Lynam's new barn, along the Leamersville Pike, eight miles south of Altoona, was blown down and pieces of it were carried half a mile. Lynam and four horses were buried in the debris.

The large manufacturing department of the Clearfield Novelty works, at Clearfield, owned by former Congressman James Kerr, was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning, and the night watchman, Alfred Carlson, lost his life. While making his rounds of the plant between 2 and 3 o'clock Carlson must have been seized with heart failure or have met with an accident on the third floor, as he registered at the clock at 2:10, and a few minutes afterwards flames appeared on that floor, evidently starting from his lantern. His charred remains were found in the ruins later. The loss is upwards of $50,000 with insurance of $12,500. Over 100 men are thrown out of employment. The plant will be rebuilt.

No Strike.

The coal operators and miners entered into an agreement whereby each party stipulates that the award of the anthracite coal commission will be continued until March 31, 1909.

The agreement, on the whole, is a concession both by operators and miners, to the force of public opinion, which has been consistently opposed to a disastrous strike.

Geniz-ii & Herzer Horse Sale.

Messrs. Genzell and Beezer will hold a horse sale at the Garman House, Bellefonte, Saturday, May 12, at 12:30 o'clock. A car load of western horses, all fine stock, will be sold.

DEATHS.

GEORGE KLINE.

One of the oldest and at one time one of the most prominent farmers in Spring township, and the head of a most highly respected family in that township today, died Tuesday night at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Boyd Williams, near Shiloh church. The gentleman referred to is George Kline, who had reached the age of eighty-seven years. Interment will take place at Shiloh cemetery, Friday morning, Rev. J. I. Stonecypher to officiate.

The death of Mr. Kline was due to a general breaking-down, incident to old age.

Mr. Kline was a native of Snyder county, and from there came to Penn Hall. From that place he moved to the Valentine farm, in Spring township, which farm he tenanted for forty years.

The surviving children of Mr. Kline are Rev. Robert Kline, Allentown; Harrison Kline, Spring township; Mrs. Sarah Mease, State College; Maggie, wife of ex-Sheriff W. A. Ishler, and Miss Olive, who was the constant attendant of the father during his last illness.

MRS. ANTHONY KNOFF.

The death of Mrs. Mary, wife of Anthony Knoff, occurred at their home at Oak Hall, on Saturday night at eight o'clock, rather unexpectedly. She had been ill for some time but was supposed to be improving. Her age was seventy-five years and three months. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. J. I. Stonecypher, were held Tuesday morning interment being made in the Boalsburg cemetery.

An aged husband and the following children survive: Mrs. Ann Davis, Philipsburg; Mrs. Kate Irvin, Snow Shoe; Mrs. Ida Barton, Mrs. Mollie Maynor, and Murray, Pittsburg; Mrs. Nan Corrigan, State College; Wm. Milesburg; Samuel, Altoona, and Al, at home.

MRS. JONATHAN WALKER.

The many friends of Mrs. Jonathan Walker, of Wolf's Store, were called to mourn her death Saturday morning, she having died rather suddenly from neuralgia of the heart. Interment took place at Rebersburg, Rev. Wetzel officiating.

The deceased's maiden name was Amanda Duck, a native of Snyder county. Her husband died about nine years ago.

The children who survive are: Wallace, Rebersburg; William, Pitsaun; Harry, Mrs. William Tyson, Mrs. Ida Weaver, and Miss Anna, all of Wolf's Store.

MARTIN FUNK.

Martin Funk, an esteemed resident of Port Matilda, died at the age of sixty-eight years, two months and twenty-two days. He had resided all his life in Half Moon Valley and at Port Matilda. Surviving him are his wife and the following children: Mrs. E. H. Rothrock, Mrs. M. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Alfred Eves, John Funk, all of Tyrone; Daniel, Ezekiel and Elsie, at home. Three sisters and two brothers also survive him, Mrs. Sarah Ray, of Falls Creek; Mrs. Jerry Farber, of Philipsburg; Mrs. George Loner, of Stormstown, Wesley and Daniel Funk, of Altoona.

GEORGE MCCLELLAN MEER.

George McClellan Meek died at a Philadelphia hospital Thursday morning of last week, after having been at that institution for seven months. He was a son of Fletcher Meek, of Ferguson township, and a resident of Altoona, to which place he went some years ago, and became chief lumber inspector for the railroad shops. His age was forty-four years. He is survived by a wife, nee Miss Mary Stover, daughter of Adam Stover, of Penns Valley, and four children.

IRVIN WISE.

Irvin Wise died at his home in Berwick, the interment taking place Wednesday in the Berwick cemetery. His age was about forty years, and he is survived by a widow and two children.

Mr. Wise was a native of Nittany Valley, and five years ago was a resident of Centre Hall, having been interested in the Centre Hall foundry at that time.

The indirect cause of his death was due to an injury received to his head, while at work in the iron mills.

ISAAC RAYMOND.

The funeral of Isaac Raymond took place from the home of T. A. Benage, near Penns Cave, Sunday forenoon, Rev. Gross officiating. Death occurred Thursday of last week, the deceased being aged eighty-eight years, four months, seven days.

Mr. Raymond was twice married, both wives having preceded him to the grave.

OLIVER WOLF.

At the age of fifty-nine years, ten months, Oliver Wolf died at his home, at Wolf's Store, Saturday evening. Interment took place Tuesday, at Rebersburg, Rev. H. C. Bixler officiating. Mr. Wolf's death was due to a complication of diseases. He is survived by his wife and two children, namely, Edwin, Wolf's Store, and Mrs. Joseph Meyer, Boalsburg.
