For the Superstitious.

If you are superstitious about the number 13 you had better give the Reporter your quarter dollars, for on each one are 13 stars, 13 letters on the scroll of the eagle's beak, 13 leaves on the olive branch, 13 arrow heads and 13 letters in the words "quarter dollar." Now it's not safe to keep them so just bring them in and get credit on your subscription for the full amount.

No Jury or Judge.

Centre county recently made a record by holding court without a judge. Clinton county next week will have the experience of holding court without either judge or jury. The sheriff of the county has notified all jurors not to appear, as there will be no jury trials. Constables are expected to make their returns as usual, and any business that can be transacted without the service of a law judge will be disposed of.

The Card of Thanks.

The editor of this paper would be the last man on earth to knowingly say a word to hurt the feelings of any of its subscribers or citizens, especially at a time when the dark winged messenger of death has brought sorrows to the home, but from the best of motives it is desired to call the attention of the readers of the Reporter to the custom of publishing "cards of thanks." It is a custom that has outgrown its purpose, if it ever had one. When sickness and death comes to your home it is only natural that your friends and neighbors should do what they could to assist you. They would be heathens if they did not. They know from the expression on your face that you are thankful and deeply appreciate all they do, and it is not necessary to rush into print and tell the world that your neighbors were kind when you were in trouble. The reading public are becoming tired of the old stereotyped "card of thanks." You can express to your friends, by a look or word your thankfulness in a more impressive manner than you can in a column of cold type. In some instances people insist on having the notice printed, such will be charged fifty cents, payable in advance. Resolutions of respect, one-half cent a word, also payable in advance.

OGALS.

As a suggestion for centennial year improvements, C. I. A. Chapman, writing in The Wilkes-Barre Record, asks that the posting of advertisements be prohibited. "How much longer," he asks, "must the sensibilities of people be shocked by finding on nearly every post and tree, on every shed or barn, a constant glaring, gigantic reminder of merchandise, of stud-horses and corn whisky?"

Prof. William F. Zeigler, principal of the Cheltenham High School, sends the Reporter an invitation to the dedicatory exercises of the Cheltenham school districts' new building. The school is at Elkins Park, Montgomery county. Prof. Zeigler, formerly of Spring Mills has been connected with this school for several years, and has been building up a splendid institution. A most elaborate program has been prepared.

There are still some men in this community who stand around on the street corners and from morning until night complain about the town, their neighbors, their taxes and the weather. Such men are mighty common clay and it is fortunate that their number in Centre Hall are few. Such men are of no use to a town. They seem to live but no one can tell how. Like mosquitoes and flies, they are not fatal but disagreeable to have about.

CUT DOWN DEATH HARVEST

Advice to Nurses, Attendants and Others in the Sick Room.

"Wipe out typhoid by killing the germs contained in the discharges of the patient before they leave the sick room to lay other fellow beings low with this disease." Such are the instructions that Health Commissioner Samuel G. Dixon gives in his new circular on typhoid fever addressed to nurses and attendants in charge of persons suffering from this infectious malady.

"I want to send that message ringing through the whole state," said Health Commissioner Dixon the other day. "I want to get every local Board of Health to see that in every home where there is a person ill with typhoid fever, the physician, the nurse or attendant shall be impressed with the duty of letting no infection from their patient be the cause of giving the disease to another, and the way to do this first of all is to kill the germs of the disease that comes from the patient before those germs leave the sick room. I am determined that the appalling harvest that typhoid is reaping in Pennsylvania shall be cut down. It can be done—it must be done. If, beginning today, the nurse or attendant in charge of a typhoid fever case will see to it that the discharges from the patient are thoroughly disinfected before they are carried out of the room in which the typhoid victim is confined we can almost wipe out typhoid in a year's time. I realize that this is a big 'if,' yet it is one of the simplest ways in the world to blot out a disease that is appallingly epidemic throughout the whole state, if only each and every person to whom this message is directed will hear it and heed it."

In his typhoid circular Health Commissioner Dixon sets forth simple methods of killing the typhoid germs before they are carried out of the sick room.

Secure any of the following disinfectants: Kreolin, Lysol, Tri-Kresol, Chlorinated Lime, Chloride of Lime or bleaching powder, or a 40 per cent. solution of Formaldehyde, which is preferred.

Make up disinfectant solutions from the above by adding three teaspoonfuls of Kreolin, Lysol or Tri-Kresol or eight teaspoonfuls of the 40 per cent. solution of Formaldehyde to a pint of water, or one-half pound of Chlorinated Lime to one gallon of water.

Keep constantly in the bed-pan, urinal, chamber or commode or vessel intended to receive the discharges from the bowels or bladder, a moderate quantity of the disinfectant solution selected, and after receiving the discharges add a quantity to equal the amount of the discharges.

Cover and remove the vessel and allow the contents to stand for one hour before emptying the same.

Never empty the discharges upon the surface of the ground, or into a stream, even though disinfected.

If the discharges are emptied into a water closet or privy they must be thoroughly disinfected first. They must never be buried until after being thoroughly disinfected, and then never less than one foot deep nor within one hundred feet of a well or water course.

If a privy well is used, empty three gallons of any of the disinfectant solutions into it daily.

Keep constantly on hand a basin or other vessel containing one of the solutions mentioned for the purpose of washing your hands.

Wash your hands in the solution immediately after handling the patient, the discharges, or any of the body clothing.

Keep constantly in a convenient place a tub or other proper vessel containing a sufficient quantity of one of the disinfectant solutions in which to soak all of the patient's bed and body clothing.

(If Chlorinated Lime is used for this purpose, one-half pound should be diluted with eight gallons of water.)

Place all such clothing in this vessel immediately upon its removal from the bed or body of the patient, leaving it in the disinfectant solution for at least three hours, after which it should be boiled thoroughly for at least one hour.

Do not permit the use by others of drinking vessels or eating utensils used by the patient, until boiled for at least one hour.

Do not eat or permit others to eat scraps or remnants of food left by the patient.

Burn all such material at once. Add a disinfectant solution to all water that has been used for bathing the patient, and dispose of it in the same manner as the body discharges.

Do not throw this water on the surface of the ground.

Thoroughly disinfect all discharges from the mouth and nose.

If received in vessels treat as all other discharges.

If received in handkerchiefs treat as bed clothing, or if received in old linen burn the same at once.

Thoroughly clean the room to exclude all flies and mosquitoes.

Buy Oil from the Barrel.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for canned oil, which ought to cost but 60 cents a gallon. Ready-mixed paint is half oil and half paint. Buy oil fresh from the barrel and add it to the L. & M. white which is semi-mixed.

When you buy L. & M. paint you get a full gallon of paint that won't wear off for 10 or 15 years, because L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes L. & M. paint wear like iron.

4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

Actual cost L. & M. about $1.20 per gallon. Sold in the north, east, south and west.

C. S. Andrews, ex-Mayor Daubury, Conn., writes, "Painted my house 19 years ago with L. & M. Looks well today." Sold by Rearick Bros., Centre Hall.
