"I Owe My Life to Pe-ru-na," Says Mrs. Huffaker.

Mrs. Mittie Huffaker, R. R. No. 3, Columbia, Tenn., writes: "I was afflicted with dyspepsia for several years and at last was con-fined to my bed, unable to sit up.

"We tried several different doctors with-"I had given up all hope of any re-lief and was almost dead when my husband bought me a bottle of Peruna.

I have been experimenting with a laxative addition for quite a length of time, and now feel gratified to announce to the friends of Peruna that I have incorporated such a quality in that I have incorporated such a quality in the medicine which, in my opinion, can only enhance its well-known beneficial character. She will carry 550 passengers in first class, 350 in second class, 300 in third class, and 2,300 in her steerage, so that with her crew of 650 officers and men she will have room for 4,150 souls. Her cargo holds will have a capacity of 16,000 tons of freight.

It's easier for the average woman to preserve fruit than it is for her to preserve her good looks.

The Point of the Proverb.

An old proverb advises the shormaker to stick to his last. It means that a man always succeeds best at the business he knows. To the farmer it means, stick to your plow; to the blacksmith, stick to your forge; to the painter, stick to your brush. When we make experiments out of our line they are likely to prove expensive failures.

It is amusing, however, to remark how every one of us secretly thinks he could do some other fellow's work better than the other fellow himself. The painter imagines he can make paint better than the paint manufacturer: the farmer thinks he can do a job of painting better, or at least cheaper than the painter, and so on.

A farm hand is one of Octave Thanet's stories tells the Walking Delegate of the Painters' Union, "Anybody can slather paint:" and the old line painter tells the paint salesman, "None of your ready made mixtures for me; I reckon I ought to know how to mix paint."

The farm hand is wrong and the painter is wrong: "Shoemaker, stick to your last." The "fancy farmer" can farm, of course, but it is an expensive amusement. If it strikes him as pleasant to grow strawberries at fifty cents apiece, or to produce eggs that cost him five dollars a dozen, it is a form of amusement, to be sure, if he can afford it, but it's not farming. If a farmer likes to slosh around with a paint brush and can afford the time and expense of having a practical painter do the job right pretty soon afterward, it's a harmless form of amusement. If the painter's customers can afford to stand for paint that comes off in half the time it should, they have a perfect right to indulge his harmless vanity about his skill in paint making. But in none of these cases does the shoemaker stick to his

There is just one class of men in the world that knows how to make paint properly and have the facilities for doing it right; and that is the paint manufacturers-the makers of the standard brands of ready-prepared paints. The painter mixes paints; the paint manufacturer grinds them together. In a good ready-prepared paint every particle of one kind of pigment is forced to join hands with a particle of another kind and every bit of solid matter is forced, as it were, to open its mouth and drink in its share of linseed That is the only way good paint can be made, and if the painter knew how to do it he has nothing at hand to do it with. A paint pot and a paddle are a poor substitute for power-mixers, buhr-mills and roller-mills. The man who owns a building and neglects to paint it as often as it needs paint is only a degree more shortsighted than the one who tries to do his own painting or allows the painter to mix his paint for him. P. G.

The Latest Pennsylvania News Told in Short Order.

As a result of the explosion of a boiler of a locomotive on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Herndon, the following persons are dead: Charles Gotchall, of Sunbury, engineer; Ernest White, of Sun-bury, fireman; Frank Duke, of Northumberland, a brakeman. Gotchall and Duke were killed instantly while the illfated train was running from Sunbury to Harrisburg. The boiler of the loco motive exploded, but the wheels of the engine were not derailed and there was not a car of the freight train wrecked Members of the crew found the bodies of the three men. All were horribly mutilated and badly scalded. The railroad officials decline to assign any cause for the explosion, and as all of the men who were on the engine are dead it is not likely that the exact cause will ever be known.

Charles C. Larkin, veteran real estate dealer and former manufacturer of cotton goods, of Chester, died, aged 8c years. He recently made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, and worry aggravated his illness. He was formerly lay reader in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and was brother-in-law of Richard Wetherill, the wealthy engine builder. Chief Burgess Joseph M. Kerr, of Stroudsburg, took the law in his own hands and placed in the borough lockup Bert Shook, who is accused of swearing on Main Street. Shook was given five days on bread and water. One of the most remarkable holdups in police annals was perpetrated on Patrolman Ira Hetterly, a recent addition to Altoona's force, while he was patroling his beat in the Sixth Ward early the other morning. Three men surounded him, and after removing his helmet and making a football out of it, removed his coat, took his mace and revolver and badge and disappeared with the admonition that if he did not behave they would return and take his inderwear. The clothes and city's property lave not yet been recovered.

General Manager Robert Quinn, of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, inspected all the collieries in the Shamokin region. He says all the Pennsylvania collieries are working short-handed and in some places it is almost impossible to get sufficient men to operate the mines. He thinks the principal reason for this is because many men left the anthracite region and will not return until they have drawn pay where they are now working.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

"Domestic industrial conditions are greatly improved by the anthracite coal settlement and the resumption of traffic on the lakes, while the international situation is much brighter now that the French elections have passed without a serious outbreak. Foreign conditions are of unusual importance to business interests in the United States owing to the present close relations of the money markets. Prices of securities have recovered part of the recent loss, and heavy imports of gold have at least temporarily relieved the financial stringency.

Manufacturing plants operate close to their full capacity, with orders in the steel industry already running well into 1907, and structural work was never more active. Dun's index number of commodity prices on May 1, was $106,-059, against $106,066 a month previous, the slight decline being supplied by dairy and garden products, but compared with the level of all quotations a year ago there is an advance of 8.7 per cent. Railway earnings thus far available for April show a gain of 9.7 per cent. over the previous year. Mercantile conditions are still somewhat irregular, but show a slight improvement on the whole." ## New Hampshire Man Stuck to Letter of the Deed. There are some literal minded persons who are never satisfied with the spirit of the law, but who consider it necessary to enter into compromises with the letter. Of such was an old citizen of Hopkinton, N. H., a good many years ago, and his juggling with his conscience is recorded by Mr. Lord in the records of the town.

The old man used to boast that he never went back on his exact word, but had no compunction in going round it. Once he wished to buy a certain tract of land, and when the owner named the price he exclaimed: "I won't give it! I tell you I will never give it!"

The owner did not yield, nevertheess. A few days afterward the old man called again. He said nothing about the land, but stepped into the owner's barn and picked up a flail. "What's that?" he asked.

"That? Oh, that's a flail." "So you call that a flail, do you? Well, what would you take for it?"

The owner named a very small sum. "Now, I'll tell you what I'll do." continued the old man. "I'll give you the price you mentioned for your land and this flail. And you musn't forget the fiail. It must be included in the deed."

So the legal instrument was duly made out, signed and delivered, recording the purchase of a certain tract of land situated thus and so, and bounded as follows, and also a certain flail .-- Youth's Companion.

BREAD DYSPEPSIA. The Dig sting Element Left Out.

Bread dyspepsia is common It affects the bowels because white bread is nearly all starch, and starch is digested in the intratines, not in the stomach proper.

Up under the shell of the wheat berry Nature has provided a curious deposit which is turned into diastase when it is subjected to the saliva and to the pancreatic juices in the human intestines.

This diastase is absolutely necessary to digest starch and turn it into grapesugar, which is the next form; but that part of the wheat berry makes dark flour, and the modern miller cannot readily sell dark flour, : r nature's valuable digester is thrown out and the human system must handle the starch as best it can, without the help that Nature intended.

Small wonder that appendicitis, peritonitis, constipation, and all sorts of trouble exist when we go so contrary to Nature's law. The food experts that perfected Grape-Nuts Food, knowing these facts, made use in their experiments of the entire wheat and barley, including all the parts, and subjected them to moisture and long continued warmth, which allows time and the proper conditions for developing the diastase, outside of the human body.

In this way the starchy part is transformed into grape-sugar in a perfectly natural manner, without the use of chemicals or any outside ingredients. The little sparkling crystals of grapesugar can be seen on the pieces of Grape-Nuts. This food therefore is naturally pre-digested and its use in place of bread will quickly correct the troubles that have been brought about by the too free use of starch in the food, and that is very common in the human race to-day.

The effect of eating Grape-Nuts ten days or two weeks and the discontinuance of ordinary white bread, is very marked. The user will gain rapidly in strength and physical and mental health.

"There's a reason."

Wemen Grape Pickers.

The women of the grape pickers are picturesque in California. There is just a dash of Indian to give color to the cheek, a touch of Spanish, and just a suspicion of the old blood that built the wonderful cities ages ago in lower Mexico, making a combination attractive to the lover of the picturesque. Dark hair, flashing black eyes, intelligent faces, perfect courtesy, intelligence that but needs suggestion to lead to higher grades, indeed, one could not look at these pickers, these cholos, as the tenderfoot called them, picking grapes to see that it required but clothes and environment to make a

ADDRESSEDTO WORKING GIRLS

Miss Barrows Tells How Mrs. Pink. ham's Advice Helps Working Girls.

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female disorders, especially those who are obliged feet from morning until night in stores or factories.

(Miss Abby F. Barrows) Day in and day out the girl toils, The more desperate, abandoned and and she is often the bread-winner of the family. Whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, she must get to her place of employment, perform the duties exacted of hersmile and be agreeable.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach. In consequence of frequent wetting of the feet, periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden. All these symptoms point to a de-rangement of the female organism which can be easily and promptly cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Miss Abby F. Barrows, Nelsonville, Athens Co., Ohio, tells what this great medicine did for her. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham :--Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I feel it my duty to tell you the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier have done for me. Before I took them I was very nervous, had dull headaches, pains in back, and periods were irregular. I had been to several doctors, and they did me no good.

"Your medicine has made me well and strong. I can do most any kind of work without complaint, and my periods are all right. and we want you to know it, hence this effer. This offer may not appear again.

"I am in better health than I ever was and I know it is all due to your remedies. I recommend your advice and medicine to all who suffer." It is to such girls that Mrs. Pink-ham holds out a helping hand and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. She is daughter in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Her long record of necess in treating woman's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Sidewalks of France.
