

THE CENTRE REPORTER

THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1906.

CHURCH APPOINTMENTS.

Luthera—Centre Hall, morning; Union, afternoon; Georges Valley, evening.

Ohio's Democratic Governor Dead. Governor John M. Pattison, of Ohio, died Monday afternoon.

Hall Cuts Corn.

A severe hail storm passed over a portion of country about Oak Hall doing considerable damage to corn fields and gardens.

Horse Sale at Millheim.

Genzel & Beezer will sell a car load of fine Illinois horses at Public Sale, at the Musser House, Millheim; Saturday, June 23, 12:30 p. m., sharp.

Gregg Township Teachers.

The Gregg township school board at a recent meeting elected the following teachers:

- Spring Mills Grammar, Miss Orpha L. Gramley. Spring Mills Intermediate, Miss Alice Robinson. Spring Mills Primary, Miss Bertha Duck.

Winegardner-Goodhart.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Mary Goodhart today (Thursday) at 12 o'clock, when her daughter, Miss Myra, was united in marriage to William R. Winegardner, of Milroy.

The bride was given away by her uncle, Geo. L. Goodhart, the ring ceremony being used. Miss Ella Decker, of Spring Mills, acted as bride's maid, while Charles A. Close, of Tyrone, was groom's man.

Mr. Winegardner is employed as a foreman by the Cambria Iron & Steel Company.

The bride and groom left on the east-bound train for Philadelphia and Washington and other points after which they will return to Milroy, where the groom has a new home prepared for his bride.

They will be at home to their many friends after August 1st.

Potters Mills.

Everybody was thankful for the rain that came Friday.

Quite a number of farmers are busily engaged in re-planting corn which the cut worms destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bubb and son Chas., of Reedsville, were the guests of Mrs. Bubb's parents.

Lloyd Smith, of Yeagertown, and Harry Wilkinson, of Reedsville, came home to attend Children's service at Spruce-town.

W. C. Mingle and sister, Miss Nellie, of Aronsburg, were the guests of Miss Bertha Armstrong and mother.

The stone crusher is in full blast. The path master is John Close.

Miss Maggie Bible, of Milroy, visited friends here.

Samuel Johnson has been ill the past few weeks.

Mrs. Perry McKinney is seriously ill.

Miss Bessie Breen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Breen, attended commencement exercises at State College.

Dr. H. S. Alexander, wife and son Hugh spent Tuesday at Millheim.

Mrs. Michael Smith spent Wednesday at Spring Mills.

Mrs. John Harper and Mrs. M. Summers made a business trip to Centre Hall, Thursday.

Elmer Alexander, of Yeagertown, was the guest of his brother Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Henry Faust and family, of Jeannette, spent a few days with Mrs. Sadie Faust.

Quite a party of married folks had a pleasant time at Pat Garrity's Sunday. George McCormick and mother spent Sunday with Mrs. William Sweeney, at Coburn.

John Strong was home over Sunday. Samuel Koch and mother spent a few days with the latter's sister, Mrs. Perry McKinney.

Joseph Carson, wife and family spent Sunday at Oak Hall.

Empty things rattle most, especially heads.

The Defeat not a Discredit.

The ball game Saturday afternoon was a defeat for the Centre Hall team, but not a discredit. The opponents, the State College team, is a strong organization, the majority of players had years of experience on the diamond.

The score below shows that but two of the College team made hits off Bailey, while four of the downy-faced home team hit the whiskered pitcher of State. The local team is woefully weak back of the bat, and until some one of its number is developed to hold that place with credit, scores will continue to be against them.

The score:

Table with columns: STATE COLLEGE, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Glenn, Snyder, Fulton, C. Snyder, Markle, Garver, Cramer, Meek, Hartswick, and Totals.

CENTRE HALL, R, H, PO, A, E

Table with columns: Mitterling, Shutt, Stahl, Hosterman, Homan, Jacobs, Dunkle, Knarr, Bailey, and Totals.

State College . . . 0 0 1 3 0 2 0-7 Centre Hall . . . 0 0 1 0 0 0 0-1

Bases on balls, off Hartswick 1; off Bailey 5. Struck out by Hartswick 12; by Bailey 16. Two-base hits, Hosterman, Shutt, Hartswick, Markle. Umpire, Wm. Boozer.

LOCALS.

The Central State Normal School Commencement exercises begin on Sunday.

H. G. Stohmeier, last week, put up several tombstones and monuments, at Glen Iron.

Miss Emma McCoy is at Lemasters, Franklin county, at which place her sister, Mrs. Sartin, is ill.

The Central District Firemen's convention will be held in Bellefonte on the 22nd and 23rd of August.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bartholomew, who makes her home with her daughters in Curwensville, fell down stairs, one day last week, breaking her nose and received other bruises on her face and body.

Miss Alice Robinson was elected to teach the intermediate school at Spring Mills. Miss Robinson is a daughter of H. C. Robinson, of Centre Hall, and has a most enviable record in the school room.

Mrs. Mary Ann Evans has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. G. L. Goodhart, during the past week. Mrs. Evans makes her home with another daughter, Mrs. R. M. Smith, at Centre Hill, and while seventy-five years of age, is quite active.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Sankey are entertaining Theodore L. Kryder, of Lock Haven, who is just recovering from a severe illness of typhoid fever. After he has sufficiently recuperated, Mr. Kryder will enter the Getts-Implement store, Lock Haven, as chief clerk.

The music in the Children's Day service, in the Lutheran church, Sunday evening, was very much aided by Messrs. William Flory and Ammon Kerstetter, both of Pleasant Gap, and J. Frank Smith, of this place. They are skilled musicians as the tones from their cornets and trombone amply proved.

T. M. Gramley, of Spring Mills, and son, S. Ward Gramley, of Mt. Union, were in Centre Hall Monday. The latter was formerly principal of the Centre Hall schools, and last winter held a similar position in the thriving town of Mt. Union. Mr. and Mrs. Gramley are spending the summer months in the valley.

The midsummer fashions with a wealth of illustrations in color and in black-and-white are attractively portrayed in The Delineator for July. Helen Berkeley Lloyd tells how the Summer girl will be frocked and furbelowed, and the Dress of Paris is discussed by M. Edouard La Fontaine, one of the best known critics in Paris.

The case of the borough of DuBois against the DuBois Opera House company was tried in the Clearfield court and it was decided against the borough. The case grew out of a person getting hurt on Park avenue, and in suing the city they secured a judgment of over $1,000. The city then turned around and sued the opera house company to recover the amount, and Judge Smith charged the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant.

The case has been in the court for some time, and will cost the borough more than the amount sued for. Where is the man so happy as the one who applies himself to manual labor? Where is the home so happy as the one where all members of the household feel, at the close of the day, that they have performed some at least of the many duties devolving upon them? There may be a clash some day between capital and labor.

Should this period ever come, the hope is that labor, with the conquering tread of a hero, will trample beneath its heel the power that has, to a considerable extent, made labor laborious.

THE DESERT MIRAGE.

An Explanation of This Peculiar Freak of Nature.

One of nature's true wonders—one upon which much has been written, but which is yet not understood when its varied phenomena are considered—is the desert mirage. Travelers in the arid regions of the western and southwestern United States tell wondrous tales concerning the spectral pictures which the desert mirage has presented for their inspection. Cool sheets of water and waving trees and grassy swards appear where all is known to be parched earth and burning sands.

Occasionally a mountain range will appear on what is known to be a boundless stretch of level plain, or a herd of deer, cattle or other animals will be seen apparently contentedly grazing on the glassy surface of the atmosphere. Cities are occasionally seen hundreds of miles from civilization, and phantom ships have been known to loom up against the sky and appear as real vessels to persons who lived so far away from the waters that they had never taken the trouble to visit the seacoast and who had never seen a real ship.

The explanation of the mirage, as usually given, is as follows:

The sand, being intensely hot, causes the layers of air which rest upon it to become greatly rarefied, and under certain circumstances this layer is quite distinct from the denser stratum a few inches or feet above it—just as if it were a sheet of water upon which oil rested. It is this rarefied stratum of air which acts as a reflector and pictures to the eye those curious inverted images.

A WILDERNESS OF TREES.

Inaccessible Forests That Abound in Guatemala.

Nearly all of the northern and eastern part of Guatemala is covered with a dense tropical forest, consisting of mahogany, different kinds of cedar, chicle and other hard woods. Along streams down which logs can be floated much of the mahogany has been cut, but as yet very little of the other woods has been marketed. This is especially true of the departments of Peten, Alta Verapaz and Izabal.

Most of the forests still belong to the government, and the usual method of securing the timber is by concession, by which a certain number of trees are cut at a given price per tree, or a stipulated sum is paid for the timber on a given tract. It is not an easy matter to get titles to large tracts of land in Guatemala, as it is discouraged by the government. These concessions are not usually granted for a longer period than five years. Sometimes it is stipulated that if a certain number of trees are cut during that time they must be renewed.

The pine forests are limited, being in the mountainous country principally and inaccessible. Most of the lumber used comes from the United States, principally from California. The forests of this country are generally so inaccessible that the railroad companies import nearly all their ties and even import coal, because it is difficult for them to get enough firewood.—New York Herald.

Marriage and Health.

Marriage is an institution highly conducive to the health of both husband and wife, says American Medicine. Statistics prove that among married men over twenty years of age and women over forty the mortality rate is far less than among those who remain single. Among the widowed and divorced the mortality is exceptionally great. Suicides among the unmarried are much more numerous than among the married. The matrimonial state promotes temperance in every form. Furthermore, the probable duration of life of a married man of thirty exceeds that of his unmarried brother by five years, and the wife may expect to live one year longer than a single woman of the same age.

She Snubbed Napoleon.

Mme. de Chevreuse, a representative of one of the noblest families in France, declined the honor which Napoleon wished to confer on her, that of being maid of honor to his sister-in-law, the queen of Spain. She afterward became Josephine's dame du palais, but always affected to look down on the imperial court. One day she went to a reception at the Tuilleries blazoning with diamonds. "What splendid jewels," remarked Napoleon. "Are they all real?" "Mon Dieu, sire, I really don't know, but at any rate they are quite good enough to wear here!"

Rude.

"Well," said Mrs. Bruggins after a solo by a fashionable church choir tenor, "if that ain't the rudest thing I ever saw!"

"What?" inquired her niece. "Why, didn't you notice it? Just as soon as that young man began to sing every other member of the choir stopped. But he went right through with it, and I must say I admire his spunk!"

Athletic Amusement.

Everything in nature indulges in amusement. The lightning plays. The wind whistles. The thunder rolls. The snow flies. The waves leap. The fields smile; even the buds shoot and the rivers run.

In Anticipation.

THE PECTORAL FINS.

Without Them the Fish Would Stand on Its Head.

The pectoral fins of a fish are the two fins, one on each side, just back of the head. These fins aid the fish to some extent in swimming. They are small organs which the fish feathers very beautifully and are of value chiefly to preserve its equilibrium. It is with these fins that the fish maintains its horizontal position in the water when not swimming. Without them the fish would stand on its head. Sometimes a fish loses one or both of its pectoral fins by disease or by accident. A fish without pectoral fins is in a bad way.

While most fishes keep a horizontal position in the water when not swimming, there are fishes that do not. One of these fishes is the flatfish, which when motionless suspends itself in the water, head downward, at an angle of forty-five degrees or even nearer the perpendicular. A flatfish kept in an aquarium which had lost both its pectoral fins inclined over backward past the perpendicular when motionless to about the same angle that it would have kept in the other direction if its pectoral fins had been intact, so that when not in motion it seemed to be lying at an angle on its back.

In the same aquarium there was a striped bass weighing about a pound and a half, one of whose pectoral fins was attacked at the tip by fungus, which gradually encroached upon it. Finally the diseased portions of the fin were cut off with a pair of sharp shears, the cut being made within the sound part of the fin. At first the fish was like a man in a boat pulling one long oar and one short one—it couldn't hold a course. But it soon accustomed itself to its new condition, and thereafter it got along very comfortably.

SWISS EDUCATION.

A Serious Matter, Guarded Jealously by the State.

One reason why the Swiss fare well is that their public school system is probably the best in the world, and with them public school education is practically compulsory. You can send your child to a private school (in some cantons) if you insist upon so doing, but the face of the government and the force of public opinion are sternly against the practice. In the canton of Solothurn private schools are absolutely forbidden. In other cantons a private school pupil must secure a formal permit from the local authorities, and in some cantons he must pay a charge to the public funds. The idea is that the public schools are good enough for all; that rich and poor are to meet there on even terms; that the public school is the nursery of democracy and patriotism; above all, that democracy is the lifeblood and strength and very soul of the republic, and the republic is Switzerland, and without the republic Switzerland is nothing. Private schools for Swiss children are few in number, and such as exist are under the strict supervision of the state. Education is a serious matter in Switzerland. There is no escape from it. A parent must send his children to school or go himself to jail. They kept a Seventh Day Adventist in jail for two years because he refused to let his child attend school on Saturdays. As it then seemed likely he would spend the rest of his life in a cell he surrendered.—Everybody's Magazine.

The Man Who Sings.

Give us, oh, give us, writes Carlyle, the man who sings at his work! Be his occupation what it may, he is superior to those who follow the same pursuit in silent sullenness. He will do more in the same time, he will do it better, he will persevere longer. One is scarcely sensible of fatigue while one marches to music. The very stars are said to make harmony as they revolve in their spheres. Wondrous is the strength of cheerfulness; altogether past calculation are its powers of endurance. Efforts, to be permanently useful, must be uniformly joyous, a spirit all sunshine, peaceful from very gladness, beautiful because bright.

Eczema.

Cosmetic jelly has been found an excellent remedy for eczema. You can use it on the face without the slightest fear of unpleasant results. Take thirty grains of gum tragacanth and soak for three days in seven ounces of rose water. Force through muslin to make the preparation smooth and add an ounce of alcohol, an ounce of glycerin and a suggestion of boric acid, say half a teaspoonful. The jelly is a preparation which has been found wonderfully fine for chapped face and hands.

Has Three Climates.

Abyssinia has three climates, according to the altitude above the sea. In the low country or valleys bananas, dates, indigo, cotton and other tropical plants flourish. Elephants, lions, giraffes, zebras and gazelles abound. The intermediate zone recalls the climate of Sicily or of Andalusia, in Spain. There is good pasture for flocks and herds in the highest region.

Origin of "Whig."

What is the origin of the word "whig"? A twenty-year-old number of Spurgeon's magazine, Sword and Trowel, says, "In Cromwell's day the royalists first called the liberals whigs, taking the first letter of each word in their motto, 'We hope in God,' and forming them into this word."

An Explanation.

Joe—But, my dear fellow, is your income enough to justify your marrying? Fred—I'm afraid not. Joe—Then what reason have you for taking so serious a step? Fred—I have no reason. I'm in love.

Keith's Theatre.

At Keith's Chestnut Street Theatre Philadelphia, Virginia Earl and her "Johnnies" are the leading attraction. J. Kiernan & Company appear in "Taming the Beast", and Mr. and Mrs. Perkins Fisher present "The Half-Way House. The Three Seldons in classic, antique posings are a pleasing feature. Madame Argyro Kassron, the Hungarian violinist, and Harry Davenport, with his English caricatures, are worthy of notice. Tony Wilson, Mile. Heloise and the Amaras sisters compose a strong combination of acrobatic actors. Harry Evans, the boy baritone; Mills & Morris, black-face comedians; the Orpheus Comedy Four, and Miles & Rickard, are others who help to make a very complete bill.

The Month of June The Month of Weddings. Whether it is your own wedding or that of your best friend, you'll need a new suit, and for such an occasion you will find nothing better than a Kuppenheimer garment. It's poor economy to buy cheap goods of any kind—that is, cheap in quality—but to buy an inferior make of black goods is throwing money away.

Buy Oil from the Barrel.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for canned oil, which ought to cost but 60 cents a gallon. Ready-mixed paint is half oil and half paint. Buy oil fresh from the barrel, and add it to the L. & M. paint which is semi-mixed.

When you buy L. & M. paint you get a full gallon of paint that won't wear off for 10 or 15 years, because L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes L. & M. paint wear like iron.

4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

Actual cost L. & M. about $1.20 per gallon.

Sold in the north, east, south and west.

C. S. Andrews, ex-Mayor, Danbury, Conn., writes, "Painted my house 19 years ago with L. & M. Looks well like iron."

Sold by Rearik Bros., Centre Hall.
