

DEATHS

JACOB CATHERMAN.

The death of Jacob Catherman occurred Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. H. Weaver, east of Centre Hall, along the Spring Mills pike. The gentleman was aged eighty-one years, six months, and had made his home with his daughter for some time. For quite a while he had been suffering from heart trouble and dropsy which caused his death. The deceased was a carpenter by trade and had also done considerable farming. The funeral took place Wednesday, Rev. J. M. Reaick, of the Lutheran church, officiating.

The surviving brothers and sisters follow: Mrs. Annie Emery, Laurelton; Frederick, Millheim; Mrs. Catharine Bitner, Spring Mills; Samuel, Minnesota; Mrs. Sarah Emrick, Minnesota; Reuben, Dakota, Ill.; William, Bellevue, O.; Mrs. Annelia Binman, Laurelton; Daniel, Hartleton; Mrs. Tamar Derr, Lewisburg; George, White Deer.

THOMAS WOLF.

Thomas Wolf, the well-known representative of the Osborne Harvesting Machine Company, died Friday at his home in Madisonburg, aged thirty-seven years. Interment took place at Madisonburg, Tuesday morning, Rev. F. Wetzel, of the Reformed church officiating, assisted by Rev. Snyder, of the United Evangelical church.

The deceased is survived by a widow, who before her marriage was R. S. Hoekman, and one son, three or four years old. The following brothers and sister survive: George N. Wolf, Spring Mills; Dr. L. E. Wolf, Markelburg; Mrs. Charles Brown, Madisonburg.

MARTIN EMMERT.

The death of Martin Emmert occurred at his home in Beloit, Kansas, a short time ago, aged seventy years. He had been critically ill for several weeks prior to his death. He is survived by his wife and four daughters—Mrs. S. W. Keiser, Mrs. H. H. Dilworth, Mrs. A. R. Eastman and Mrs. Samuel Thorstenberg.

Mr. Emmert went west in the early 50's from the "Branch," above Boalsburg. Previously the family lived in Potter township, on the Stiver farm. While a resident of Beloit, Mr. Emmert conducted a drug store.

MRS. ROBERT SARTIN.

The death of Mrs. Robert Sartin occurred at her home in Lemaster, Franklin county, Friday morning. Interment took place Monday at Mercersburg, her former home. She is survived by her husband and one son.

The deceased was the eldest daughter of John McCoy, deceased, of Potters Mills. The brothers and sisters surviving are Alexander McCoy, Potters Mills; Mrs. J. W. Witmer Wolf, Ardmore; John McCoy, in the west; and Miss Emma McCoy, Centre Hall.

MRS. LEAH WOLF.

Friday of last week, Mrs. Leah Wolf, of State College, widow of Emanuel Wolf, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Weaver, at State College, of diseases incident to old age. Deceased was aged seventy-six years. She is survived by the following children: M. L. W. Edward, and M. H. Mater, of Altoona; A. S. of Keyser, W. Va., and Mrs. Daniel Weaver, of State College. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, interment was made at Boalsburg.

JOHN E. FLECK.

John E. Fleck, the well known dairyman, who has been in failing health for the past three years with diabetes, was at last obliged to yield to the ravages of this subtle disease, at his home in Decatur township, Clearfield county, about a mile and a half from Philipsburg. His age was forty-nine years.

DEATH OF AN INFANT.

The community sympathizes with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bloom, west of Centre Hall, in the death of their infant, aged two months. The child died Saturday morning. Interment was made Monday morning, at Centre Hall, Rev. J. M. Reaick officiating.

STERRETT GILLILAND.

Sterrett Gilliland died at his home in Reedsville, Millin county, after a brief illness, aged fifty-six years. He was born at Oak Hall, this county, and is well known throughout Penns Valley. Surviving him are his wife, two brothers and two sisters.

Nittany Mountain.

O. M. Loneberg, George W. Hornor, Charley Pecht and Harry Penney-packer composed a fishing party that went to MeVeytown last week to try their luck.

James Dubbs moved into the George Rosman house and is stove sawyer for Charley Pecht at the Robinson stove mill.

J. B. Sprow has been in bed for several days, suffering from rheumatism. It interferes with his work somewhat, coming in the berry season.

Tone Noll lost one of his horses last Friday. The animal stepped in a post hole the Sunday previous and received injuries from which he died.

Mrs. Rachel Miller and Miss Anna Smith, of Altoona, have been visiting their mother, Mrs. Hannah Smith, for several weeks.

LOCALS.

Huntingdon will celebrate the Fourth in an elaborate style.

Miss Edith Boozer is home from Mt. Airy School, near Philadelphia.

Miss Jennie Kerstetter, of Laurelton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Milford Luse, in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Worrell, of Girard, Kansas, are east, and are the guests of Mrs. Worrell's mother, Mrs. Emma Sankey, at Potters Mills. They will remain among friends in the east for several weeks, unless Mr. Worrell is called home by the railroad company with which he is engaged.

After reading this issue, send it to your friends in the distance; or better yet, call at the office and send it to your friend or relative for six months or a year, for you can expect just such a paper as this for fifty weeks during the next year. Throw in your mite toward placing Centre Hall and Centre county where they belong upon the map. This paper will do its part; you do yours.

Last week the school board at Spring Mills, in electing teachers for Gregg township, elected Miss Alice Robinson, of Centre Hall, for teacher of the intermediate school, and Miss Bertha Duck for the Primary Department, while the intentions were the reverse. Consequently on Saturday evening the board rectified the mistake and Miss Duck takes the Intermediate and Miss Robinson the Primary Department.

Among others from a distance who attended the Winegardner-Goodhart wedding in Centre Hall, last week, were: Mr. W. H. Schuyler, Mrs. G. L. Goodhart, Miss Sadie McKinney, George L. Lee, John D. Dauberman, Centre Hall; Mrs. W. H. Lucas, Miss Ella Decker, Spring Mills; Rev. H. M. Robinson, A. L. Shaffer, Elemuel Winegardner, Misses Kate and Sarah Winegardner, Milroy; C. A. Close, Tyrone; Misses Jennie Shrive and Sarah Goodhart, Cleveland; and Mrs. R. H. Goodhart, Altoona.

ODD WATER WHEELS.

Some Float on Streams—Huge Ones Make a River Lift Itself.

The people of Syria and Tiflis make their streams do things that Americans do not seem to have learned the secret of persuading the water courses of this country to perform.

At Tiflis the natives have learned how to utilize the power of the current of the river Kur without building dams. What they have accomplished possibly might be done by an American farmer living on the banks of a rapidly moving stream and desiring a small, cheap power. The Caucasians build floats on the surface of the river. Into them are set water wheels. The whole affair is fastened to the bank in such a way that it will rise and fall with any change in the level of the surface of the river, so that the power is about constant all the time.

In Hama, the ancient "entering in of Hamath," the Syrians have accomplished a feat that makes one think of lifting oneself over a fence by tugging at one's bootstraps. They have harnessed the historic Orontes, or Nahr el Asi, as the Syrians call it, into the work of lifting itself many feet toward the zenith and trained it thus to water their fruitful gardens and orchards.

As for size, the water wheels which do this work are as to other water wheels what Niagara is to other waterfalls. As one stands by one of these great wooden frames revolving upon its wooden axle and looks up at its perimeter forty feet above one thinks it large and is astonished when he turns his gaze up stream to see that relatively it is not a great wheel, for in the distance looms up one sixty feet in height. Even then he is not prepared for the spectacle of one ninety feet in diameter grunting around on its cumbersome axle just outside the town.

Life in Hama for some people is like the liking of others for olives, an acquired taste, because of these very water wheels. According to one feels about it, it is a musical city or one filled with nerve racking groans. Day and night without ceasing these massive, slow revolving structures utter speech. For those who have acquired a taste for their companionship the never ceasing tones are soothing, resembling the ocean roar or a slow fugue played on some cyclopean organ. The diapason tones are deeper and louder than the deepest organ stop. Now they are in unison, now repeating the theme, one after another, now for a brief moment in a sublime harmony never to be forgotten, according to one-traveler, then once more together in a tremendous chorus. The sounds are described as a slow movement up the scale, followed with a heavy drop to the keynote as: Do mi sol, do do do; do sol la, do do do. This unceasing Slaypbean music, it is said, has been going on for a century at least.—New York Tribune.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

How hard a man falls after having been boosted too high!

When a man gets the baby to sleep, how proud he is of himself!

There is usually enough humiliation in all our lives to keep us modest.

It is not the stingy man who becomes a burden as age approaches; it is the spendthrift.

A pathetic admission older people often make is, "The romance has all been knocked out of me."

What has become of the old fashioned woman who called her friends "copycat" when they bought something like hers?

When a man is reasonably happy and content, it doesn't just happen. He is compelled to use common sense and work to an end.—Aitchison Globe.

Estimating a Horse's Height. The Arabs have two methods of estimating the height to which a colt will grow, the first being to stretch a cord from the nostril over the ears and down along the neck and compare this measurement with that from the withers to the feet, and the other method being to compare the distance between the knee and the withers with that from the knee to the coronet. In the first method it is considered that a colt will grow as much taller as the first measurement exceeds that of the second, and in the second method, if the proportion is as two to one, the horse will grow no taller.
