To the Best Paid Man.

It's sound sense that we tell you.
Your work costs less dollars and is best every time you use the L. & M. Paint.

You do more painting with one gallon of L. & M. than with two gallons of other paints and the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes the L. & M. Paint wear like iron.

4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

Actual cost L. & M. about $1.20 per gallon.

A. T. Terrell, Riverhead, N. Y., writes, "10 years ago painted with L. & M. Only now requires repainting."

Sold by Rearick Bros., Centre Hall.

DEATHS.

MRS. LEONARD RHONE.

Mary A., wife of Hon. Leonard Rhone, died at her home in Centre Hall, Sunday afternoon after a brief illness of pleuro-pneumonia. Her sickness began more than two years ago when organic diseases developed. She was an inmate of the German Hospital for a time, but the relief was only of a temporary character. Mrs. Rhone was able to be about the most of the time since her first illness, but never fully recovered. She was suddenly seized with pneumonia Wednesday which terminated in her death a few days later.

Mrs. Rhone was the last surviving daughter of James and Rebecca Sankey, deceased, of Potter's Mills. Thomas Sankey, the great-grandfather, settled on the Sankey homestead in Potter township, some years prior to 1794, but not as owner. His sons, Jeremiah and Thomas, Jr., (the former grandfather of Mrs. Rhone) purchased the property in 1802, from the executors of General James Potter. It was here that Mrs. Rhone was born, and the old family home was visited by her the last time she was away from Centre Hall. The only surviving members of the Sankey family are two brothers, Dr. James W. Sankey, of Des Moines, Iowa, and Hon. Robert A. Sankey, of Wichita, Kansas. The latter was at the bedside of his sister at the time of her death.

The marriage of the subject of this sketch to Mr. Rhone took place in 1864. Their home was "Rhoney-mede," a beautiful homestead west of Centre Hall, until a few years ago, when they became residents of Centre Hall. Mrs. Rhone was domestic in her habits, and when not engaged in church work or work connected with social orders, she was always found at home in company with her daughters, Misses Mae V. and Florence S. Before marriage, Mrs. Rhone became a member of the Methodist church, and continued her membership in that religious body to the end.

Like her husband, Mrs. Rhone was an ardent supporter of the Order of the Patrons of Husbandry. She was a charter member of Progress Grange, instituted in 1874. She was a delegate to the National Grange for eighteen years, and was Ceres of the Assembly of Demeter, the highest court in that order.
