DR. ATHERTON DEAD.

President of Pennsylvania State College, after an illness of over a year—Died Tuesday.

After twenty-four years' service as president of the Pennsylvania State College, during which time he saw it grow from a very ordinary school to the great institution of learning it now is, Dr. George W. Atherton died at his home at State College Tuesday afternoon from bronchial affection.

His illness dates back more than a year, and last winter he spent three months in lower California, in the hope that the climate there would prove beneficial.

While he was at college the Civil War began, and he went to the front as a lieutenant in the Tenth Connecticut Volunteers.

After continuing his duties a short time in Albany he accepted a professorship at St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., where he remained until 1868, when he became a member of the faculty of the Illinois State University.

In 1869 Professor Atherton was appointed professor of political economy, history and constitutional law at Rutgers' College in New Jersey, remaining in the position fourteen years.

He was defeated for Congress on the Republican ticket in 1876 in a strongly Democratic New Jersey district. In 1878 he was appointed a member of the commission which revised New Jersey's system of taxation.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas it has pleased the Great Master in His infinite wisdom to remove from our midst, after a long life of activity and usefulness, our esteemed and very worthy sister, Mrs. Margaret Rhone, who died July 28, 1906, at her home in Centre Hall, Pa.

Resolved, That by her death Progress Grange has lost one of its most worthy and consistent members.

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the will of the Great Master we do not feel mourn for our departed sister, who has been called from the field of labor to her reward.

Resolved, That we extend our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family and that in memory of our departed sister these resolutions be placed on our Grange records; a copy be sent to the family, also to the county papers, and Farmers Friend for publication.

MRS. J. W. OSNLEY, MRS. M. A. ROSS, MRS. SAMUEL DURST, Committee.

A Poem.

Heartfelt thoughts on the life and death of Mrs. Margaret Rhone. Could the weary of heart she has helped to cheer. Tell half of her words and ways 'Twould reveal more closely than we have known. How much she should be praised. Could we her home life now unfold A self-sacrificing love Would be seen to have governed her family life, As pure as from above. Could we, her neighbors of Centre Hall, Today now interview, We'd learn a story of neighborly acts Enspired by only a few. Could the record of Grange work now be read 'Twould show her intellect grand Was given to elevate country life In her own—her native land. Could we see what she did for the cause of Christ In the church of her choice and away 'Twould reveal the reward of the unseen world In the realms of eternal day. Could we but realize here today How well her work is done Methinks it would comfort our broken hearts And cheer each sorrowing one. Could we? Ah yes, we'll hope we could And trust we surely will Live as she lived, die as she died, God's sweet commands fulfill. MRS. MARTHA THOMAS.

To a Smart Property Owner.

Painting is practical work. Skill wins. It's the same with paint making. You know 4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil makes enough paint for a moderate sized house—the best paint money can buy—because the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes the L. & M. Paint wear like iron. Buy L. & M. and don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil, as you do in ready-for-use paint, but buy oil fresh from the barrel at 60 cents, and mix with the L. & M. Actual cost L. & M. about $1.20 per gallon. Sold by Rearick Bros., Centre Hall.
