NEW STYLE OF BOOK HEROINE.

Fiction has its phases, like the moon, and each successive season brings a new kind of heroine into fashion. Now, if we read the signs rightly, the turn is coming of the woman who works for her living. Miss Dolf Wyllarde has introduced her in England, and Mme. Marcelle Tynayre in France. Miss Violet Hunt announces a novel devoted to her hard case, and we hear of masculine novelists who have the same topic in hand for exposition in the early autumn. It is a change; and, from the artist's point of view, it shuold prove to be a change for the better. Life is more real and earnest-and need not be less picturesque-for the woman who fends for herself in a world not altogether sympathetic, than for her sister whose sole task is to do nothing gracefully until Prince Charming's attention is attracted. She is nearer to the things that matter, and by no means necessarily so dull a creature as Gissing, in "The Old Women." made her out to be. On the whole, indeed, the new boom (if we have the right to call it so) presents lively possibilities .- London Graphic.

TO CLEAN STONE STEPS AND HALLS.

Boil 4 pounds of pipeclay in one gallon water and one of beer (sour beer answers admirably for this), and enough stone-blue to make a good color; well wash the steps with this, and allow it to dry, then rub it up with a flannel, and finally with a hand-brush. Another good way to keep steps in condition is to rub them well with a dry brick or sandstone, and then brush of the dust thoroughly, when they will look beautifully white.

WEAVING SILK RAGS.

Tiny looms for the weaving of silk rags into strips which are afterwards joined to make rugs, or couch covers, or even portieres, are among the interesting invention brought about by the interest women are taking in all forms of handicraft.

On the loom can be woven strips of about nine inches wide, the warp threads stretched as firmly as in the big, full-edged affairs used for the heavier sort of work.

"Hit-or-miss" patterns are as popu lar in silk work as they are in oldfashioned rag carpets, used now only for kitchen or nursery, but often strips composed of two colors are made, with one used for bordering the ends.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Soaking handkerchiefs all night in strong salt water will greatly facilitate their washing.

When washing flannels get rid of as much dust and dirt as you possibly can by shaking and brushing before plunging into water.

After blankets have been washed and hung on the line and are thoroughly dry beat with a carpet beater. The wool will become light and soft like new.

In laundering white spreads or any large piece where difficulty is experienced in finding the large soiled spots a good plan is to fasten a piece of black slik thread to most soiled places The spots can then be easily de tected.

Ironing silk when wet gives it a smooth, glossy appearance, but should the waist get dry before it is ironed 141/2@15. dip it in clean cold water and roll in a cloth. Do not sprinkle over it as that would make it look rough and blotchy when ironed.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review af 'l'rade" says:

Comparisons of the volume of current business with results at the corresponding date in previous years are so uniformly favorable that the outlook can only be regarded with confidence. Semiannual statements are now sufficiently complete to make it certain that the first half of 1906 was the most prosperous six month period in the nation's history, and, unless heavy cancellations occur, the last half of the year will establish a still higher record. Contracts come forward freely in the iron and steel industry, the only idleness being due to repairs necessitated by the vigor with which production has been pushed, and footwear factories are receiving orders for delivery next February, while even the textile mills report that purchasers have ceased efforts to secure more attractive terms.

Aside from a little too much rain in some cotton States the week's crop news is encouraging, and grain will soon be out of danger.

A REMARKABLE SPRING.

One of the most remarkable springs in the world, says J. A. Eddy, in the Engineering and Mining Journal, has recently been discovered in New Mexico. It is literally a spring saturated with sodium sulphate. Distilled water weighs eight and one-third pounds per gallon; the water of this spring weighs 10 2-3 pounds. The temperature of the spring is a little over 110 degrees Fahrenheit, As the saturated liquid overflows and cools, it forms a crystalline mass like ice, which, in the course of ages, has spread into a snowwhite bed of solid sodium salts, miles in extent and as level as a lake. The warm brine, Mr. Eddy reports, is inhabited by a minute shrimp-like organism, and a species of plant is found growing in the dry expanse of sodium sulphate.

WORLDS FOR EXPLORERS

Notwithstanding the rapid advance of exploration in various parts of the globe a recent estimate by a member of the American Geographical Society shows that no less than 20,000,000 square miles of the earth's surface yet remains unexplored.

The largest unexplored area is in Africa, 6,500,000 square miles, but even North America contains 1,500,000 square miles of virgin territory. It is surprising to learn that there is three times as much land awaiting the foot of the pioneer in North American as in South American.

RECIPES.

For Raspberry Jam-Select rasp berries which are perfectly ripe, weigh them, and allow a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit. Mash the sugar and fruit together. Put the whole into a preserving kettle over a clear fire. Stir frequently, and skim as it boils. It will take from three-quar ters to one hour to cook. When done put it in small pots or glasses, and when cold cover with brandy paper and tie close or paste paper over This is the way the famous cooks in,

Peggotty's Pudding-Four ounces of flour, four ounces of suet, rind and juice of lemon; tablespoonful of treacle, one ounce of candied peel, one | teaspoonful milk. Boil three and a quarter hours, slfted sugar to be strewn over before serving.

Strawberry Jam-Look over very carefully some small or crushed straw berries, see that they are nice and clean. Weigh and to every two pounds ! of fruit add one and one-half pounds of sugar. Put both fruit and sugar into a pan and crush slightly with a wooden spoon. Then place the pan over the fire and let it get hot gradually and simmer a little. Test a lit tle on a spoon and see if it jells. It should be stirred occasionally while boiling, and if any scum rises take it off with a spoon. When the jam is done put into jars.
