[Appointments not given here have not been reported to this office.]

The Personal Registration Law.

The personal registration law does not apply to townships and boroughs but only to cities. Its the same old way in the country.

Turkey Dinner at Old Fort,

A turkey dinner will be served at Old Fort hotel Sunday. An extra effort will be made to elegantly serve the many guests of the hotel.

Dan Patch 1:55,

The peerless Dan Patch set the world's record a notch lower Saturday afternoon at St. Paul, Minnesota, by pacing a wonderful mile in 1:55.

The Boarding House.

The boarding house on Grange Park has been enlarged and will be managed for the Encampment association during the Encampment and Fair by Charles Wiley, of Dillsburg. The house will be ready to serve meals on Friday, and regularly from that time on. Manager Wiley is experienced in conducting boarding houses, and the public consequently will be well served.

Does Advertising Pay?

A year ago last month W. S. Krise and F. B. Ott, of Johnstown, bought the insurance and real estate business of the Millspan Co. and inserted an inch add in the daily papers. Today they carry nearly a whole column of buildings. advertising in the three daily papers of the city, describing properties and stocks of different kinds that have been placed in their hands to sell. They attribute their success to their liberal advertising, saying that in proportion as their advertising increased the number of customers increased. Yes, it pays to advertise.

Meeting of Town Council.

W. O. Rearick is building a new house in Milroy which when completed will be the finest building in that town.

The brick walls for the new Reformed church, at Tylersville, are being built. The work is being done by the Wolfs, of Bellefonte.

District Attorney W. G. Runkle, of Bellefonte, was in town Tuesday. He was interested in the matter of laying out a private road to the Grossman farm, south of Earlystown.

One of the best wheat crops reported thus far was raised by J. J. Arney, west of Centre Hall. The yield averaged thirty-one bushels per acre, thresher's measure. The variety is mostly fultz.

The United Evangelical church at Fairview, one of the appointments on the charge of Rev. J. F. Shultz, was extensively remodeled, and the whole of the indebtedness met by members of the congregation.

While cutting trees on the McNitt-Huyett lumber tract, east of Centre Hall, Samuel Meyer received a severe injury on his head. A limb on a large tree switched back, one of the branches striking his head, cutting his scalp and also bruised him otherwise. Dr. J. R. G. Allison sewed up the wound.

Williamsport is justly proud of a monthly illustrated family magazine, such as The Star Magazine, published by Hugh B. Fiedler, youngest magazine publisher in the state. The September number is now out. It is so full of literary matter and high grade illustrations as to make it worthy of being in every family where the mails County Commissioner John L. Dunlap has received the sad intelligence of the death by drowning of his sister-inlaw, Mrs. William Dunlap, of Freeport, Ill. The accident occurred in burg, this week. Apple river, Jo Davies county, Illinois. Mrs. Dunlap with six others made up a driving party that were enjoying a day's outing. Along about noon there was a cloud burst and in driving home they attempted to cross Apple river. The water rose so rapidly that the horses were taken off their feet and the occupants dashed into the stream. Mrs. Dunisp and Miss Nettie Murphy were drowned. Mrs. Dunlap was a daughter of John B. Osborn, and the family came originally from Centre of Charles Horner, at Spring Mills, ests of the state, which are the best county.

HE STANDS FOR "SQUARE DEAL"

The Fusion Candidate For Auditor Coneral In the Fight For the Constitutional Rights of the People.

William T. Creasy, in accepting the Democratic-Lincoln Party nomination for auditor general, declared for reform in the most emphatic manner. He reviewed many of the changes the people demanded for years, but which were always denied them by the machine.

The action of some railroads in reducing their rate of fare, said Mr. Creasy, will have no bearing on the result at the polls in November, It will have no effect on the legislature of 1907, he added, declaring that the people will insist on the passage of twocent rate legislation, the right of trolley companies to carry freight and the creation of a railroad commission. Mr. Creasy's speech in full is as fol-

"Mr. Chairman and Committee of Notification of the Democratic and Lincoln Republican State Conventions: "Gentlemen-In accepting the nomination for the office of Auditor General I am deeply sensible of the responsibility which it involves. "While I appreciate the honor conferred, I cannot fail to realize the fact that personal considerations did not influence the choice of your conventions, but rather the belief that the candidate whom it named would, in good faith and good conscience, endeavor to discharge every duty, however grave, imposed upon him along the lines of honest government and good citizenship which are being laid down, in no uncertain courses, in Pennsylvania today.

"The declarations of principles and reforms advocated by the several representative conventions of that great body of the people of Pennsylvania who are opposed to the existing conditions and methods of the administra tion of those offices of the state government still in the hands of the machine, meet my hearty endorsement, and are in line with my efforts in the last six legislatures of our state.

"These platforms mean to give back to the people their constitutional rights which for 30 years or more have been shamefully trampled under foot by unscrupulous and defiant manipulators of a political machine run in the interests of predatory corporations.

"The result is a patch work system of laws for the benefit of the few at the expense of the many.

"In the Pennsylvania state government the auditor general's department is the business office of the state, and should be run on business principles. The reports, which are several years behind, should be promptly made. In no other department is the mighty sweet corn, potatoes, apples and other financial growth and industrial advancement of the state so clearly mani-

"The duties of the auditor general are ery broad and give him great which, if properly used, will save to the state thousands of dollars. In conjunction with the state treasurer, he collects and disburses annually over $20,000,000.

"What are the necessities of the state government which demand the production of such an immense revenue? There are always the expenses of the different departments of government the care of charitable institutions, and the payments to counties for schools. roads and other purposes, and yet the annual average balance remaining in the state treasury exceeds $10,000,000.

"When the thoughtful citizen takes the time to inquire into the history of the revenue legislation of Pennsylvania, he will find that the cumbersome and expensive methods under which the state taxes are collected are patches wpon a framework which was enacted nearly 100 years ago. And notwithstanding the totally changed conditions of today, the old vehicle is still driven recklessly, and it would be difficult to estimate the cost of the collection of state taxes, or explain the irrational methods that are used to disburse or invest the balances.

"It is a sound financial proposition that the government should not be a lender. It is also a common-sense proposition that it is a poor financial policy to exact taxes from the people and after deducting the cost of collecting them to repay them. Better permit them to remain with the people in the first instance.

"The man whose duty calls him to administer the affairs of the auditor general's department of Pennsylvania little one may relish the duty of showmust do his part in running the cumbersome tax machine as it is set up, but he is not a careful man who will not make a thorough examination and an overhauling of the machinery with ed States passes near the unfurled colà view to suggesting legitimate repairs. "The first consideration of a citizen who has been deputized by the people to fill a state office is their interests. "The unequal and excessive burdens of taxation justify one who would be come a finance officer of the state to safely and rightfully subscribe to the proposition in this reform fight, which " 'We repeat our demands for equaligation, and recommend that the large surplus of the people's taxes remaining in the state treasury from year to year Miss Bertha Hosterman is visiting be applied to the reduction of taxes for the support of the common schools levied in the several school districts Chas. Musser and James Smith left of the state, and to improvement of for Yeagertown, last week, where they township roads, and that the revenues derived by the state from licenses and personal property be retained by the several counties in which they are from Wolf's Store, is spending some raised.'

"Your candidate for auditor general in accepting this nomination, if called to the office by the vote of the people, promises a "square deal" to all, and will devote his best energies and abilities to administering the office faithwood and Samuel, attended the funeral fully and honestly for the best interinterests of the people."

FATE OF THE JUNE BUGS. Awful Ponishment That Was De-

ereed by an Ancient Council, "Lean has an official collector of June bass," writes a correspondent of the Cheer News from Switzerland. "This personage is appointed by the city council when the triennial pest of June bugs occurs, and he is empowered to destroy all the insects that may be brought to him. Each owner of a small estate is obliged to gather five pounds of bugs, and those who happen to be the proprietors of larger pieces of property must collect proportionately more. For each pound that is missing from this obligatory amount a fine of 10 cents is imposed, but if more than the required quota is forthcoming a premium of 2 cents a pound is paid. This remuneration is offered also to others besides the property owners. A landholder who entirely neglects to gather any bugs at all is subject to a fine of from $5 to $10. School children receive permission to enter large estates, where they shake the trees and poke long sticks about in their endeavors to dislodge as many bugs as possible. "In times of old, the ancient chroniclers tell us, it was the custom to attempt to rid the country of these unwelcome visitors by citing them into court and by banishing them from the country, but the wily insects failed to obey the summons and continued to fly about in the face of the law, laying eggs promiscuously and contrary to edict. In a certain village it was determined to make a terrible and lasting example of all the insects found within its borders. With considerable expenditure of time and patience quantitles of bugs were collected and placed in a huge sack. Deliberation was held as to the fate of these hard backed prisoners. Ordinary death was considered too light a punishment for such offenders. A hideous end must be "A procession of the inhabitants of the villa e, advisers and councilors, wise men and children, wended its way slowly toward the place of execution, the smandt of a high peak. This was laboriously climbed, an executioner with the bar of buzzing bugs in the lead. With due regard for the respon sibility and justness of their act, the wise men approached the edge of the precipice. The bugs were to be ignominiously dashed to pieces on the rocks thousands of feet below. The executioner hung over the crag, the bag, top downward, was opened and the bugs shaken out to their death But instead of falling like so many lumps of lead, as they ought to have done on such an occasion, the bugs, to the amazement of all, spread their wings and fiew away."

Vegetable Gluttons.

Sundews, common in English marshes, are sufficiently knowing to distinguish between various substances presented to them. Offer them a nice scrap of tender beef, and in a couple of hours they will have concealed it from sight. Try them with a piece of chalk or a tiny pebble, and they remain stolldly immovable. Wet the chalk and offer it again, and the plant apparently mistakes it for meat, the bristles gradually closing round it; then, discovering the deception, they gradually relax and return the chalk without thanks. These vegetable gluttons will absorb morsels of poached eggs and mutton chops, but cheese turns the leaves quite black and finally kills them.

Saluting the Flag. Army regulations prescribe in detail what honors shall be paid to the flag. and these regulations are implicitly and gladly observed. No matter how ing the respect due to some military superior, he is always ready and glad to do honor to his flag. Letter to P. R. Auman. Spring Mills, Pa.

Dear Sir: We shall feel obliged if you write us how you came out on your first few jobs Devoe, as to gallons expected and used. Take job A. You made your price, expecting to use 25 gallons Devoe, and used 15. Job B. You expected to use 15 and used 10. And tell us what paint you had used before. Of course, you judge Devoe by what you have used before.

Here's how a few came out. M. A. Thomas, painter, Lynchburg, Va., writes: "My first job with Devoe, I estimated 37 gallons; it took 25. Since then I have not used anything

C. B. Edwards, Raleigh, N. C., bad used 30 gallons paste paint on his house, and bought 30 gallons Devoe; A. E. Gleon, his painter, said it wouldn't be enough. Had 16 gallons

Mayor W. W. Carroll, Monticello, Florida, writes: "Painter estimated 35 gallons for my house; took 20 galons Devoe."

Gilmore & Davis Co., contractors and painters, Tallahassee, Florida, say 2 gallons Devoe spreads as far as 3 of any other paint they know, and covers

S. A. Bullard, painter, Sandford, Florida, estimated 50 gallons for Odd Fellows and Masonic Halls; they took 29 Devoe.

Jones & Rogers, Merkel, Texas, estimated 10 gallons Devoe for Mr. Pratt's house and bought 5 galions for first coat ; it painted two coats.

Erb-Springall Co., San Antonio, Texas, painted two houses same size for D. J. Woodward, one lead-and-oil, the other Devoe. Devoe cost $12 less for paint and labor. Tom Masey's painter, Walnut Springs, Texas, estimated for his house 10 gallons Devoe; he had 4 left.

You see how it goes. Even the best painters can't guess little enough at Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co.,
