Duke and Duchess of Marlborough Disagree.

MR. VANDERBILT AS CONCILIATOR.

Father of the Duchess Trying to Prevent a Separation-For Sometime the Couple Have Been Living Apart, Owable Disposition of the Duke.

London (By Cable). - Disagree ments between the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, which have been prolonged over a period of 18 months or more, English society is convinced, will result in their separation unless the earnest efforts now being made by the father of the Duchess and other relatives result in a reconciliation.

K. Vanderbilt, the father of the Duchess, arrived in London on Tuesday and went directly to Blenheim, where his daughter is with her children. The Duke is not at Blen-heim, and all negotiations for a reconciliation have been conducted through Mr. Vanderbilt.

Incompatibility is the only reason assigned for the strained relations existing between the Duke and the Duchess. This has become acute during the past 18 months, and they have been apart for increasingly long The Duke's relations with periods. his wife's family have not been cordial for sometime, chiefly due, it is said, to the disappointment to his expectations caused by the second marriage of W. K. Vanderbilt.

Dislikes Americans.

The Duke, according to all accounts, is not blessed with a very amiable temper, and affects an intense dislike for Americans, which is most trying to the Duchess, who has many American friends of whom she is fond.

Nothing annoyed the Duke so much as the frequently printed reports of his having received magnificent pres-He ents from his father-in-law. never neglected an opportunity to deride these rumors. When Sunderland House was being built it was published that this was being done with money furnished by W. K. Vanderbilt as a Christmas present to the Duke and Duchess.

The Duke, angered by the publication, gave out a sharply worded denial, in which he intimated that W Vanderbilt had not given either himself or the Duchess anything beyond the marriage settlements.

No Trouble Over Money.

Paris (By Cable) .--- The cause of he disaster to the submarine boat utin, involving the loss of 16 lives, s still a mystery. The naval officers tre generally of the opinion that when Lieutenant Fepoux ordered the boat to be submerged in the rough ea running the helmsman depressed he rudder too much and the Lutin pitched to the bottom, overturning her accumulators and suffocating the rew with the fumes from the acids efore they had time to release the afety weights or the telephone buoy. The water pressure is 60 pounds to the inch at the depth where the submarine boat lies, which, it is believed, would be sufficient to start her plates, especially if it is true, as announced in a special dispatch from Bizerta, that the Lutin stranded a ortnight ago; that her hull may have been injured and that she was not docked after having been hauled

The Ministry of Marine is coming in for a lot of criticism, owing to its failure to properly equip the Bizerta Naval Station with salving apparatus, as it was proposed to do after the disaster to the submarine boat Farfadet, which sank last summer off Bizerta. Some of the newspapers express the opinion that the aid to have been torn away from its repeated accidents to submarine boats should lead to an international agreement to prohibit their use, lands, 50 of her passengers being claiming that it is proved that they are more dangerous to their own The St. Lucie's home port was crews than they are ever likely to Tampa. Duke's father and mother both di played incompatibility in their marital relations as proof of their theory.

The two children-the Marquis of Blandford and Lord Iver Spencer Churchill-are, of course, a powerful deterrent to the separation of the Duke and Duchess. Their friends sincerely hope that a reconciliation may be effected, although it is said that the family of the Duchess has foreseen the ultimate result for several years.

Because of the fact that the Duke and Duchess have been so much before the public since their marriage. the report of their disagreement and possible separation naturally spread quickly in London society.

TEN BURNED TO DEATH.

Believed To Be Due To The Work Of Burglars.

Birmingham, Ala. (Special) .- Ten men were burned to death, two others were, perhaps, fatally injured, and a third was slightly hurt in a fire which destroyed the boardinghouse of Mrs. E. E. Wattley, in Third Avenue, between 2 and 3 o'clock A.

There were 21 boarders in the house, almost all of whom were street railway employes. In addition the e were three other persons-Mrs. Wattley and her two sons. The Wattleys have been accounted for.

All the dead and injured occupied rooms on the second story of the house. The flames enveloped the entire building when the fire was discovered, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the persons on the lower floor made their escape. They saved nothing. Every piece of furniture in the house was burned.

The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin. Burglars have been detected on the premises twice within the last two months, and Mrs. Wattley thinks the house was burglarized and then set on fire. Thieves were discovered at work during the progress of the flames, and the police were called to keep guard. The 10 charred bodies are at the morgue, where it is impossible to tell one from the other. When the inmates awoke the entire building was wrapped in flames, and the fire burned so rapidly that only a few of those in | ica on the return. the house escaped.
