LOCALS.

This is November 1st.
Mrs. George Grimes, at Oak Hall, is ill.

Lyman L. Smith, the grain and coal dealer, is on his pins again.
D. R. Sweetwood, of Potters Mills, has concluded to move to the west to be nearer several of his sons.

In order to judge the capitol correctly, excursionists should have quotations on putty and plaster paris.

Miss Romie Van Pelt left Centre Hall for Bellefonte Tuesday. Before returning she will go to Philadelphia. James Horner, of Centre Hill, has planned to have his sale of farm stock and implements, Saturday, November 17th.

Get out the vote. See that every voter in sympathy with good, honest government gets to the polls. Go early.

Penns Valley will do something to Mr. Quigley on election day that will make him wish the devil had the Dutch.

Dr. W. A. Alexander, who had been temporarily located at Potters Mills, will return to Lewistown on the 5th of November.

Another Pennypacker excursion to Harrisburg Saturday. The next excursion will be at the time of the inauguration of Emery, the anti-graft governor.

Messrs. A. C. Mingle, W. I. Fleming, J. Will Conley and Frank Warfield, of Bellefonte, attended a meeting of Masons, at Centre Hall, Monday evening.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, at Des Moines, Iowa, by resolution warns its members not to sign, present to citizens for signing, or in court liquor license petitions.

After a week's stay at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. M. Fisher, at Penn Hall, James A. Keller returned to his home Wednesday afternoon. His health has improved considerably.

Mrs. Boyer, wife of C. A. Boyer, station agent at Milton, is at the home of her sister, Mrs. James C. Goodhart, near Centre Hall. While in the valley, Mrs. Boyer will also visit other relatives and friends.

George Barner has concluded to move to Nittany Valley instead of remaining on the McClintic farm recently purchased by I. J. Zubler. Mr. Barner has leased the Furst farm, near Salona, for a period of five years.

The November McClure's is a striking number and will be remembered long beyond the usual term of magazine literature. The leading article is a brilliant challenge to the advocates of Spelling Reform, coming from no less an authority than Professor Hugo Munsterberg, Harvard's noted psychologist.

Colyer.

Mrs. John Barr, of Spring Mills, spent the Sabbath at the home of Sue Long.

Miss Anna Fahringer, of Northumberland, is paying her parents a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lee, Ruth Swabb, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Heckman and Charles Miller took advantage of the excursion to Harrisburg, Saturday.

Bruce Weaver spent Sunday very pleasantly at William Reiber's.

A Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home for seven years, and it has always proved to be a reliable remedy. We have found that it would do more than the manufacturers claim for it. It is especially good for a croup and whooping cough."—Rev. James A. Lewis, Pastor Milaca, Minn. M. E. Church. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is sold by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

GLENN-FOREMAN.

A Pretty Wedding at the Home of F. A. Foreman.—Bride Formerly from Centre Hall.

At eleven o'clock on the morning of October 31st, the marriage of Miss Sarah Elsie, the eldest daughter of F. A. Foreman, to Samuel H. Glenn took place at "Sunny-side-on-the-pike," near Spring Mills, the home of the bride's father.

The house was beautifully decorated with potted plants, evergreens and autumn leaves, and thrown open to a large number of guests from near and far. Those from a distance were: James J. Glenn, of Princeton University, New Jersey, a brother of the groom; Miss Lulu M. Davis, Lewisport; Miss Anna N. Hartwick, Altoona; Mrs. Mary Styne, Williamsport; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Stauffen, Harrisburg.

Precisely at eleven o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's bridal march, played by Miss Claire A. Kennedy, of Centre Hall, the bride entered the room where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel Gress, of Centre Hall. The bride was attired in cream mohair and carried chrysanthemums. Miss Clara N. Robb, of Bellefonte, who was maid of honor, wore a dress of light blue mohair and had a bouquet of carnations. The groomsmen were Ralph C. Meyer, of Altoona. The bride and groom with their attendants formed a pretty bridal group.

The presents were many, beautiful and valuable. Besides decorative art, wrought by the hands of loving friends, fine furniture, costly linens, rich cut-glass and silverware, there was an elegant dinner set.

The bride is a charming young lady, well known in Centre Hall, where the family made their home for several years. The young lady had been a telephone operator for some time. The groom is a son of Samuel Glenn, Esq., of Lemont, and has a lucrative position in the erecting department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, at Altoona, where the young couple will be at home after December 1st.

Quigley and Schools.

Mr. Quigley is quite cunning. He knows the farmers are kicking because the school tax is necessarily high. He is in with the push and consequently cannot promise to vote money from the treasury for legitimate purposes. He tries to blind the country voter and tickle the school enthusiasts. He promises to vote for a larger appropriation for centralized township schools and township high schools!

What does this mean? It means that if elected Mr. Quigley, the Republican nominee for state senator, will vote to take from the common schools more money and give it to the centralized township schools and township high schools. Every dollar given to these schools, under the present system of distributing the public school appropriation, is a loss to the common schools; in other words, the appropriation received by the townships will be just that much less.

Mr. Quigley's promise will not cost the state an additional cent—it simply robs the common schools and pays it to the centralized township school and to the township high school.

Seeing is Convincing.

The effect of the excursions to the capitol will not fail with good results. Seeing is convincing. The capitol is grand, but close observers will not fail to see many defects already visible. The skeptic who looks for himself acknowledges that the state must have been cheated. When the country mechanic comes to that honest conclusion, the report of experts will be dumbfounding. An ordinary eye can detect the cracks in marble panels, ill-fitting joints, battered plaster mouldings, etc., the expert with the privilege of turning things upside down and inside out, could make discoveries that would correspond to the multiplicity of charges of graft, the word the governor does not want used or discussed.

Keith's Theatre.

Mrs. Langtry, the renowned English artiste and beauty, is filling her first vaudeville engagement in America at Keith's Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, this week. The bill this week includes many other great features, a top-liner being Morris Cronin and Troupe, European jugglers. Some of the musical entertainment is furnished by the four Sutcliffe sisters, international vocalists; the Ollivotti Troubadours, instrumentalists, and Diamond and Smith, illustrated songs with motion pictures. Matthews and Ashley's songs and parodies are sure to amuse. An extra added attraction consists of Wylie's dogs. There are many other gems of song, scene and mirth.

A Good Liniment.

When you need a good reliable liniment try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It has no superior for pains and swellings. A piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm is superior to a plaster for lame back or pains in side and chest. It also relieves rheumatic pains and makes sleep and rest possible. For sale by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

CHILDREN IN THE SCHOOLS.

Last of Diseases That Bar Pupils From Attending Public Schools.

The Department of Health at Harrisburg has carefully tabulated the diseases for which scholars may be enjoined from attending school. No child will be allowed to attend school if he resides in the same house with any person afflicted with spotted fever, whooping cough, measles, German measles, mumps or chickenpox. Such children should be forbidden to attend any school, public, private, parochial, Sunday or other schools, says Mr. Dixon. Pupils who are themselves afflicted with tonsillitis, scabies, pediculosis capitis, impetigo contagiosa, favus "pink eye," tinea circinalis, or erysipelas should not be allowed to attend school while suffering with these diseases, nor should they be admitted except on a doctor's certificate. These orders are being obeyed quite well as a whole, although they are observed much more faithfully in the cities than in the rural districts.

Swartz's Store Robbed.

Swartz's store at Tusseyville, was robbed last Thursday night of goods valued at $25.00. Entrance was gained through the rear door by the use of a key. The cellar door was found open in the morning, the robber evidently having provided for escape in case of being disturbed. The goods stolen were mostly mittens and gloves.

The Tusseyville postoffice is located in the building, but nothing in that department was in the least disturbed. The money drawer was also let go by without attention. The indications are that the robber was one of the amateur type. There are suspicions, but no evidence to warrant arrest.

To a Smart Property-Owner.

Painting is practical work. Skill wins. It's the same with paint making. You know 4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil makes enough paint for a moderate sized house—the best paint money can buy—because the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes the L. & M. Paint wear like iron.

Buy L. & M. and don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil, as you do in ready-for-use paint, but buy oil fresh from the barrel at 60 cents, and mix with the L. & M.

Actual cost L. & M. about $1.20 per gallon.
Sold by Reaick Bros., Centre Hall.

The Frank Farm Sold.

The Frank farm, the property of the late Mrs. Sarah Frank, of Millheim, located west of Millheim and north of the pike, containing about fifty-five acres, was sold at public sale to Speer Breon, of near Millheim. Mr. Breon will occupy the farm after next spring. The Frank home in Millheim, on Penn street opposite the Lutheran church, was bid up to $700, but the offer was not taken.

Road View.

Road viewers performed the preliminaries on a road leading from the residence of C. C. Bariges to the railroad station at Spring Mills. The viewers appointed were Jacob Wagner and D. J. Meyer, with Wm. M. Grove as surveyor. The Gregg township supervisors also attended the view. Mr. Meyer, on account of a rheumatic attack, was unable to be present.

Death of a Child.

Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lee received a dispatch from their son Arney Lee, at Pittsburg, stating that his daughter, Ethel, aged about four years, died that morning of diphtheria. The little child was at the home of its grandparents in Centre Hall for several days, and had only been taken home two weeks prior to her death.

Get Out the Vote.

The one thing that is necessary is to get out the Democratic vote. The success of the Democratic ticket depends entirely upon that. You are not doing your whole duty by simply going to the polls and voting, but to do your full duty you must see that your neighbor gets to the polls.

Number of Excursionists.

The excursionists from Penns Valley to Harrisburg Saturday were quite numerous. The tickets sold at the various points are as follows: Centre Hall, 72; Spring Mills, 34; Coburn, 103; Linden Hall, 24; Oak Hall, 23; Lemont, 26; Bellefonte, 44.

A Reliable Remedy for Croup.

Mrs. S. Rosenthal, of Turner, Michigan, says: "We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ourselves and children for several years and like it very much. I think it is the only remedy for croup and can highly recommend it." For sale by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

Quigley did not promise to investigate the capitol scandal. If you want to know anything about the mahogany colored putty and eighty dollar spittoons you must vote for Mr. Dimeling and Mr. Noll.

Quigley indorses the capitol steal by not making a promise to favor investigating the scandal.

Harris Township.

John Zeigler, of Altoona, visited here over Sunday.

George E. Meyer, of the Mountain City, visited his parents, returning home on Monday laden with corn and pumpkins, ready for Hallowe'en.

Robert McCrae and family are visitors from Pittsburg.

Charles Fisher spent Sunday at home, having returned Saturday from a business trip to West Virginia.

Plenty of room in the cornfields for busy hands; plenty of corn, too; some ears so large it almost takes two men to handle them. There is a new variety—the bloody butcher—grown here which is quite productive. The seed was brought from Illinois several years ago by David Lohr.

On account of the illness of the pastor, communion services in the Reformed church at Boalsburg were postponed until Sunday, November 11th, at 2:30 o'clock.

A political meeting was held in the town hall Saturday evening. Col. H. S. Taylor, Col. D. F. Fortney and Attorney J. C. Meyer, of Bellefonte, were the speakers.

Miss Annie Kaup, of near Bellefonte, visited here for a few days.

Quite a number from here were to Harrisburg Saturday. Although unfortunate in getting there at the expected time, they all enjoyed the sights.

County Superintendent D. O. Etters, of State College, visited some of the schools here on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Keller, of Axe Mann, spent Sunday in Boalsburg.

S. Hazel, a representative of the Houserville woolen mills, passed through this place Monday with goods for winter wear.

Found Dead in Field.

Monday noon Michael Miller, of Madisonburg, was found dead in a corn field, near Penn Hall, where he had been working. Mr. Miller, with some other men, were engaged in husking corn for his son-in-law, Reuben Vonada. At noon time Mr. Miller failed to return from his work, and upon making search he was found dead.

The deceased was a farmer by occupation, but had been living retired since the death of his wife some few years ago. His age was sixty-nine years. Interment was made at Madisonburg.

The surviving children are: Mrs. Clark Gramley and Mrs. Chas. Small, Rebersburg; Mrs. E. Calvin Zeigler, Spring Mills; Mrs. Reuben Vonada, Penn Hall; Edward Miller, Center Mills.

Kerr Farm Not Sold.

The Kerr farm, near Centre Hill, offered for sale Saturday by James B. Strohm, administrator, was not sold. The highest bid was $25.00 per acre, by Elmer Hettinger, the tenant. Later a private offer was made by another party.

Smith, the Photographer.

W. W. Smith, the Photographer, will be in Centre Hall Friday, November 2.

Spring Mills.

J. O. Beatty has resigned his position with W. H. Allison and is now working for the Bell telephone Company.

The new railroad bridge below Allison's grain house is about completed.

Foster Walker, who has been staying in Philadelphia for the past two years, is visiting his parents and friends for a few days.

Quite a number from this place attended the Democratic meeting at Polk Hill, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Shires, who has been ill for some time, is slowly improving.

Wilbur Burkholder spent Sunday in Spring Mills.

G. C. King commenced working at his new barn, Monday.

Quite a number of people from this place went to Harrisburg Saturday. The rebuilding of the Bell telephone line is almost completed this far.

Mrs. Dallas Duck is ill at present. Some one helped himself to some of J. W. Wood's meat.

Mrs. Chapman is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Hoover, at this place.

Mrs. Roland Gentzel and two children, returned to their home in Altoona, after a visit to relatives here.

Woodward.

Mrs. Keller and son Joseph having spent a week with her sister, Mrs. Luther Miller, left for their home in Milton, Saturday.

C. D. Motz and family, Mrs. Wise and son, Elwood Orndorf, the Haines Brothers and Paul Stover were to Harrisburg Saturday to see the capitol.

Mrs. Tammie Musser, of Coburn, spent the Sabbath with friends here.

Messrs. Edward Sheesley and Lawrence Miller attended meeting at Coburn Sunday evening.

Samuel Mowery and family, of Aaronburg, spent Sunday with Mrs. Elias Motz.

Misses Emma Eberhart and Mabelle Wolfe spent the Sabbath with the family of Harris Stover.

Harry Kessinger, of Nittany, is home for a visit.

Samuel Motz is on the sick list.
