

Dyspepsia of Women

Caused by Female Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. M. Wright

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has a peculiar tonic effect on the female organism.

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Maggie Wright, Brooklyn, N.Y., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had failed. She writes:

"For two years I suffered with dyspepsia which was so severe that I was unable to attend to my daily duties. I felt weak and nervous, and nothing that I ate tasted good and it caused a disturbance in my stomach. I tried different dyspepsia cures, but nothing seemed to help me. I was advised to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and was happily surprised to find that it acted like a fine tonic, and in a few days I was again strong and could digest my food. My recovery was rapid, and in five weeks I was a well woman. I have recommended it to many suffering women."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cure of female troubles, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Drought and the invasion by locusts is causing damage to the grain areas in the Province of Santa Fe, Argentina, reports Consul General Cole. The drought is so bad in one section that one meat-freezing company has had to suspend killing, due to a shortage of suitable animals.

The Ideal Family Laxative
is one that can be used by the entire family, young and old, weak and strong, without any danger of harmful effects. It should have properties which insure the same dose always having the same effect, otherwise the quantity will have to be increased and finally lose its effect altogether. This preparation can be found in that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, because its ingredients are on the part, herbal extracts, and every pill is kept for three years before being sold, which allows them to mellow. We do not believe there is a laxative on the market that is so carefully made.

Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used. They have been in use for over a century and are sold in every drug store and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

Curious Freak Of Nature.
A curious freak of nature is reported in Jacksonwald, Pa. From the side of an old apple tree grows a big red apple. The fruit springs directly from the bark without branch or twig. Last spring the tenant noticed a small bud, which he did not disturb. Presently a small apple formed, and today it is perfect in shape and very large. Farmers declare that they never saw an apple grow out of the bark before, and many have driven miles to see it.

He who believes in luck usually gets the hard brand.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weakness and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensations in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cure. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening preparation known to medical science. It is made of the glycerine extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy of known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Weekly Review of Trade and Latest Market Reports.

R. G. Dun's "Weekly Review of Trade" says:

Traffic delays, high money and some unrest in the ranks of labor have not yet checked commercial progress on the whole, although in special industries or localities that the restraining influence of these adverse factors are felt. Some irregularities of temperature also provide the week's trade reports with less uniformly glowing descriptions of retail distribution. Wage earners are agitating for more pay or shorter hours in several industries, especially in the railway service. Already manufacturers and dealers are making plans for the greatest business on record in jewelry and other holiday lines.

A further advance of about 5 cents per ton in the price of pig iron is the best evidence of continued prosperity in that industry.

Improvement in the primary markets for cotton goods has gone so far that conservative operators begin to express a fear that a set-back will be encountered through the curtailment of consumption.

Edwin H. Pavitt, the aged farmer who is charged with killing his wife, Kate, aged 60 years, who was found dead, having been killed with a hatchet in her home in Chester, September 12, still maintains his innocence, although he has been almost continually sweated by District Attorney MacDade, County Detective Berry and Detective Charles Klett, of Philadelphia, since he was arrested. Pavitt occupies a cell in the lock-up and is being furnished food from a nearby restaurant. He takes his arrest coolly and shows the same indifference which has characterized his actions all during the time, since he was first suspected of the murder. The only statement he will make to the officials is that he is not guilty; that everything will come out in the hearing, and he feels positive that no man will stand for his conviction of the crime. District Attorney MacDade, who has been working on the case, is positive that he has the right man and will present at the hearing several witnesses who have heretofore not been called. County Detective Berry, who made the arrest, refuses to make any statement other than he believes that he has in custody the murderer.

After dreaming twice during the night that his father, Richard Roland, had died, Marshall Roland awoke in the morning to find that his dream had come true. About 3 o'clock A. M., Mr. Roland awoke from a dream in which he saw his father cold in death. Unable to sleep he went to the door of the room and looked in. Mr. Roland, Sr., was lying with hands folded across his breast, apparently sound asleep. The son went back to bed and again dreamed the same thing. Arising shortly before 6 o'clock he again went to his father's room and was horrified to find that his aged father had apparently been dead several hours. The deceased was 82 years of age and was in good health when he retired.

Charles Ohmacht, a resident of Carbondale, has brought an action in trespass against the Delaware & Hudson Railroad Company, alleging permanent disability and claiming damages in the sum of $25,000. The injury to the plaintiff occurred last March. According to his declaration, the plaintiff was in a wrecking crew sent out from Carbondale to Forest City to clear a wreck. The steam crane on the wreck car was in charge of a young man named Ralph Blair and the plaintiff avers that Blair had been kept employed without sleep for thirty-six hours. While the tank of the wrecked engine was in the air, the steam in the crane went down suddenly, the tank of the locomotive falling across the legs of the plaintiff.

While returning to their homes from a meeting of the Women's Relief Corps, at Mt. Carmel, Mrs. Thomas Miles and Mrs. William Klebenstein, the latter treasurer of the corps, were held up by two men and robbed of their purses containing in all about $20. The robbers then ran down an alley and made their escape. The robbery occurred a square and a half from the main street.

John N. Rowe, a farmer, aged 52 years, was instantly killed at a grade crossing at Midvale, near Waynesboro. Rowe's wagon was struck by a draft of four runaway cars. Rowe was thrown 200 feet. His skull was crushed and both arms and legs broken.

The most interesting bonfire in the history of that section blazed up in the center of Waynesboro. The furnishings of a dozen gambling dens, confiscated by the county authorities, were fired and reduced to ashes. Officials from the District Attorney's office raided all the gambling houses in the town Sunday night, arresting seventy-five persons and confiscating the furnishings of the rooms. Some of the resorts raided were patronized only by wealthy residents and the furnishings were expensive. The entire lot was piled in a heap in the town square and fired in the presence of several hundred spectators. The property burned was estimated to be worth between $4000 and $5000.

Hannah R. Godshalk, aged 55 years, wife of Joseph Godshalk, died suddenly at her home along the Old York Road. Mrs. Godshalk was a familiar figure to every driver and autoist who used the Old York Road. For almost a decade she and her husband collected the tolls from those who used the turnpike. Thursday night she left her husband in the little office and walked toward the dining room. As she crossed the threshold she fell and died in a few minutes.

During a fit of jealous rage, William Valinsky, a contract miner of Shenandoah, became involved in a quarrel with his wife which resulted in his striking her over the head with a heavy cane. She was removed to the Miners' Hospital where she died without regaining consciousness. Valinsky was promptly arrested and committed to prison. He offers no explanation for his crime other than saying that his temper got the best of him and he was not himself when he struck her.

Bears, which are numerous in Monroe and Pike Counties, are giving the farmers no little trouble. A bear was seen near Broadheadsville and a posse of farmers formed to capture him. After an all-day hunt the animal escaped.

THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectively, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists, and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.
