MAKING WAMPUM.

A Process That Requires Both Patience and Skill.

With certain tribes wampum is still highly prized and necklaces are worn by men, women and children when they are the fortunate possessors of them. To make wampum various kinds of shells are used, white and those having a lavender hue being most liked.

The thin shells are broken into little pleces and by aid of nippers are made ries. as nearly round as possible. When each piece is drilled in the center, the old time fire kindling style of drill be ing used, the shells are then strung and

The Grove family, at Centre Hall, has undertaken a job of considerable importance and magnitude-that of training and educating Indians. A short time ago Miss Anna Grove engaged as a teacher in the Indian school at Carlisle, and now Earl Grove has accepted a similar position in an Indian school in Nebraska.

It has been frequently suggested and the suggestion is a good one, for every farmer to place his name and the name of his farm on his road gate. Not only would persons driving to a place more easily flud it, but it would add more pleasure and interest to people driving from place to place. This last result would have special effect with regard to well kept and pretty houses. An observing person will seldom pass a beautiful farm without desiring to know who is its enterprising owner.

Delay In Divorces. "The underlying reason why so much time usually elapses between the filing of petition and the hearing or trial in divorce proceedings is not generally understood," remarked a lawyer who makes a specialty of this character of practice. "Perhaps it is within the circle of truth to say that in a majority whichever side be plaintiff, should 'stop, look and listen,' as it were, the trouble would be adjusted out of court grimages must be made to secure the entirely.
