THESE are a host of petty ailments which are the direct result of the weather.

It is more true of the excessive heat of summer and the intense cold of winter, but is partly true of all seasons of the year.

Whether it be a cold or a cough, catarrh of the head or bowel complaint, whether the liver be affected or the kidneys, the cause is very liable to be the same.

The weather slightly deranges the mucous membranes of the organs and the result is some functional disease.

Peruna has become a standby in thousands of homes for minor ailments of this sort.

With the weather below zero, John Marshall, his invalid wife, their daughter and two visitors had to run for their lives the other morning when flames almost completely destroyed their home at Collingdale. An alarm was sent out and the fire companies from Norwood, Sharon Hill and Pocolcroft responded, but little of the house could be saved. The fire was discovered by Mr. Marshall's daughter while the family was at breakfast, and so quick was its spread that they were compelled to leave their uncompleted meal and fly. Several streams from the chemical extinguishers were soon playing on the blazing building, but the water was turned to ice almost as soon as it left the nozzle. Mrs. Marshall received such a nervous shock from the excitement attendant on the fire that a physician had to be summoned. Mr. Marshall is the father of former County Commissioner J. Harry Marshall and of former Sheriff J. Humphrey Marshall, both prominent in Delaware County politics.

The home of William G. Daniels, at Scranton, former clerk of the County Commissioners, now secretary of the Poor Board, was almost totally destroyed by fire. The total loss on house and furniture will reach $4,000, on which there is some insurance. The fire was due to the thawing out of frozen water pipes which was being done by the domestic Miss Emma Barosch. In the work the young woman used a hand lamp, the flame from which overheated and set fire to the wood work.

The lives of two children, John and Mary Machak, aged 3 and 5 respectively, were sacrificed in a fire which broke out in a large double house in the Fourteenth Ward, Johnstown. The little ones were suffocated by smoke as they lay in bed in an upper room. Fire from a defective flue attacked the partition between the two houses and shortly filled the side in which the children were with smoke, suffocating them. The damage to the building was slight.

Quite a sensation was caused in Bethlehem when Postal Inspector W. W. Stone, of Philadelphia, arrested Walter F. Hoffman, a highly respected young man, and charged him with robbing the mails. Hoffman had been employed at the post office for seven years as chief mailing clerk, but his irregularities are said to have extended over a two year period. When arrested several decoy letters containing silver coin were found on his person. At a hearing before United States Commissioner W. J. Jones, Hoffman was held in $1,000 bail. His trial will take place in the United States District Court at Philadelphia in March. Hoffman is largely the support of a widowed mother and an invalid sister. He is 26 years old.

A number of property owners in Springfield encouraged by Mrs. Mary Agnew, a neighbor, recovering damages from the Lewellyn Mining Company for undermining and causing her lot to cave in, instituted suit against the company for undermining their houses and lots.

Woods, who has lately returned from South America, where she was at the head of the art department of Conception College, Chile.

The sharp turn of a trolley car, in rounding a curve in Pittsburg, shook Frederick Bushar, who was riding on the rear platform, so that he dropped his false teeth. He saw them going and in reaching to save them, fell headlong to the street. Bushar sustained a broken arm and shoulder and several fractured ribs, in addition to internal injuries. He lies in a serious condition.

Joseph Long, a Cambria brakeman, 21 years of age, fell under his train at Johnstown and was ground to pieces. As a reward for saving the First National Bank of Altoona from burning at Sunday morning's fire, President John Lloyd has sent to the Firemen's Relief Association a check for $250.

Caught between cars on the Reading Railroad at Landingville, William Martin, aged 21 years, has his chest crushed in. His death occurred instantly. The accident occurred when the man tried to pass between two sections of a coal train.

Valentine W. Schreiner and Catherine Schreiner, his wife, have brought suit in the Columbia County Court against the Shamokin & Mount Carmel Electric Railway Company for $12,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by Mrs. Schreiner when one of the company's cars collided with a cow.

Dynamite For The Whole Block. An innocent-looking pal, containing enough dynamite to blow a block to atoms, and a large number explosive dum-dum bullets were found in a tub in the bathroom on the third floor to a furnished-room house at 205 W. Eleventh Street early the other morning. The dynamite and bullets were wrapped in brown paper thick with dust. George Witham, a young electrician living in the house, found the pal on Monday night, but did not say anything about it until the next morning, when he told the landlady, Mrs. Frederick Peters, who promptly notified the police of the Charles Street Station. Policeman Walsh took the stuff to the station-house, first taking the precaution to fill the pal with water. Later it was removed to the Bureau of Combustibles, and Inspector Wolf, who examined the contents said there was enough dynamite to blow up the block, and that the bullets were of the explosive kind. The bullets were in boxes bearing the name "New York and Boston Drug Company."

The police do not believe that whoever left the explosives there intended to use them where they were found. They are trying to connect the finding of the explosives with the threatening letters received lately by a wine merchant named Marchini living nearby, who received an order a day or two ago to give up $2000 or have his place blown up.

Loot Factories Of $15,000 Goods. Cutting their way through a heavy wall strung with burglar-alarm wires, thieves gained entrance to the skirt factory of Samuel Berry, on the eighth floor of 3 West Eighteenth Street, almost in broad daylight and carried away silks valued at about $4,000. The burglary was the climax of a series of robberies in the vicinity. Equally successful was a raid of robbers recently who carried away $5000 worth of silks from the establishment of James B. Goggin, of 29 East Nineteenth Street; plundered a cravenette factory in West Twenty-sixth Street of goods valued at $3500 and took silks worth $2500 from another skirt factory. After boring through the Berry establishment wall with drills the robbers cut a hole about 14 inches between two beams. Through this one of the men crawled, and entering the factory, passed out more than 800 pounds of silks. It is believed the thieves had a wagon at the door of the building, less than 30 feet from Fifth Avenue, and carried their loot off by this means.

"Beat Me, But Not My Birds." "I could forgive my husband for beating me, but not for killing my pets," said Mrs. David Gruntz, of 132 West Twentieth Street, in Jefferson Market Court when her husband, David, was charged by the janitor of the building in which they lived with breaking furniture in the Gruntz's flat. "My husband is a walter," continued Mrs. Gruntz, "and is often away at night. My canaries were very tuneful, and their night singing kept me cheerful and untroubled during his absence. When he drank he would imagine things about me that were not true, and Wednesday night he came home and beat me. For that I pardon him, but for breaking the bird cage and killing the birds I find no leniency in my heart. It was cruel." "It was cruel," said the Magistrate. "Gruntz, $500 bonds to keep the peace for six months."

Anarchists To Have Love Feast. The case against Emma Goldman, Alexander Berkman and John R. Coryell, charged with having made incendiary speeches in a public meeting, was dismissed in the Essex Market Court by Magistrate Moss. As she left the court room Miss Goldman announced that the Anarchists would hold a "love feast" to celebrate her release. When the case was called Assistant District Attorney Keough asked for the release of the prisoners. He said the Grand Jury a few weeks ago refused to indict Miss Goldman for making an alleged incendiary speech at the Manhattan Lyceum. He declared that the case against the three defendants was of a similar nature, and that it would be useless to prosecute them.

Swiss Timepieces Dearer. Importers of Swiss watches and clocks announced advances in prices, varying from 5 to 15 per cent. on all except the highest grade of timepieces, thus following the lead given by American clock manufacturers, who recently put up their prices. Up to this time the American manufacturers of watches have not made any change, but the public will find nearly every other kind of device for telling the time more costly after this. It is likely that many retail dealers will add a greater percentage to the prices than the wholesalers did. The cheaper watches, which are the most affected by the increase, come in cases made of plated and oxidized silver, gun metal and nickel.

Measles And Pneumonia Fatal. Measles and pneumonia caused the death of 23 out of 800 coolies on the steamer Indus, from Calcutta for Trinidad. B. W. L., according to a report brought here by the Indus. After landing the surviving coolies at Trinidad the Indus sailed for Cuba, where she took on a cargo of sugar for New York. She was detained at quarantine upon her arrival, and will be thoroughly disinfecting before she is released.

No Need. "I wish, Jane," said the fond mother to her new nurse, "that you would use a thermometer to ascertain if the water is the right temperature when you give the baby his bath."

"Oh," replied Jane, cheerfully, "don't worry about that. I don't need any thermometer. If the little 'un turns red, the water is too hot; if it turns blue, it's too cold, and there you are."—Life.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Doctor Has A "Press Agent." Huddled up in one corner near the radiator, the book agent saw a man who was fairly sneezing his head off.

"Seem to have a had cold," ventured the agent.

"Awful," sneezed the sufferer.

"Got a doctor?" asked the agent.

"No," said the other man.

"Better get one," the agent advised. "If you have no regular physician I can give you the name of a man who cures colds like magic."

He gave the doctor's address and offered to stop and send around, if the man with the cold so desired. That night the book agent reviewed his day's work.

"Nary a book sold," he said, "but I discovered four patients for that jay doctor around the corner, and he'll give me half of his day's fees. He owes nine-tenths of his practice to me. He didn't have a patient when I met him. I volunteered to keep my eye open for sick people while in pursuit of the elusive trade, and when I found one who was a stranger in town and had no regular doctor to try to work him in, I succeeded so often that he now has a decent practice, and I earn more off my commissions from him than through my regular business."—N. Scotland Forever. An American tourist on a visit to Glasgow, a short time ago, on emerging from the railway station, was accosted by a lad with the usual cry of "Carry your bag, sir?" The gentleman, handing the boy the bag, requested to be shown around Glasgow.

Crossing George's Square they came opposite Sir Walter Scott's monument, and the boy said proudly, "That's one of the largest monuments in Scotland."

"Oh," said the Yankee, with an air of indifference. "We have three-cent cigars as big as that in America."

They boarded a train going east, and just as they alighted at the terminus a large bar of iron on a dray drawn by 12 horses came up the street. The American asked the boy what that was for, and the lad remembering the cigar, replied: "Oh, a new hotel has been built in the city and that's the kitchen poker."—Tit-Bits.

The Policy of "Pants." Many of the chiefs in the protectorate of Gambia wish to have their sons educated in the new Mohammedan school of that region; but there was a bar to their full enjoyment of the education they were likely to receive. The pious Mohammedan papers were afraid that the wearing of modern trousers was part of the school curriculum, and therefore they viewed the school with peculiar suspicion. The Governor of Gambia now reports that the parents have been assured that their children will not be converted into "trouser men," and the prospects of the school are now very bright.

It would be interesting to learn how this suspicion of the modern nether covering arose and whether the dry-goods merchants denied the natives their ordinary materials. But it may be interesting to recall the fact that the British Government forbade Highlanders to wear the kilt for some years after the battle of Culloden. However, the government was in a tight corner during their Continental wars, and they were glad to raise several regiments of Highlanders, who resumed the kilt, and the trouser-wearing edict died a natural death.—Tailor and Cutter.

NATURE PROVIDES FOR SICK WOMEN

a more potent remedy in the roots and herbs of the field than was ever produced from drugs.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers, few drugs were used in medicine, and Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., in her study of roots and herbs and their power over disease discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value. During its record of more than thirty years, its long list of actual cures of those serious ills peculiar to women, entitles Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the respect and confidence of every fair minded person and every thinking woman.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful functions, weakness, displacements, ulceration or inflammation, backache, flatulency, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

No other remedy in the country has such a record of cures of female ills, and thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound and what it has done for them.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. For twenty-five years she has been advising sick women free of charge. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and has her assistant for years before her decease advised under her immediate direction. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Cost Of Sunday Holiday. According to a Paris newspaper, a competent authority estimates that the yearly cost to the railroads of France of giving their workmen a day off each week will be from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000. It will be remembered that the Sunday Rest Law, recently passed, exempted the railroads from its provisions, the intention being apparently, to take up the needs of railroad workmen at a later time; but the railroads conferred with each other and agreed to grant the seventh day rest voluntarily.

PHILIPPINE "DOBIE ITCH." Itching Pimples Covered Body—Discharged For Disability—Found Cure in Cuticura Remedies.

"I enlisted in the Corps of Engineers as a telegraph operator, and, while stationed in the Philippines, I became subject to the 'Dobie Itch,' as the natives call it. In this disease small, white, itching pimples form under the skin, generally between the toes, on the limbs, between the fingers and under the arms. I never knew of a case originating outside the Philippine Islands, but have known of many cases where it has returned in this country and invariably at the same time of the year as the original attack. The cause, so far as I could learn, was some tropical parasite or germ peculiar to that region. "I got so bad that I was confined to my quarters a week at a time. The Army Surgeons applied some carbolic solution, and it would disappear for a time, when it would break out again. I was discharged from the Engineers by reason of disability contracted in line of duty, and when I had the trouble again, my druggist, Mr. Z., of Brooklyn, recommended Cuticura Remedies. The immediate relief was manifest with my first purchase, and the maldy quickly yielded to the Cuticura Remedies. It has never recurred or bothered me since I began to use and continued to use the Cuticura Remedies. You may quote me as a believer in Cuticura Remedies from personal experience. John S. Woods, 221 Sands St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 21 and 26, 1906."

Invigorate the Digestion. To invigorate the digestion and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels there's nothing so good as that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, which has been in use for over a century. They cleanse the blood and impart new vigor to the body. One or two every night for a week will usually be all that is required. For Constipation, Dropsy, one or two taken every night will in a short time afford great relief.

Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic your grandfathers used and being purely vegetable are adapted to every system. Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

Either men kick because they can't get government jobs, or, if they get one, because it wasn't better.

DOCTORS MISTAKES Are often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better. The doctor's wrong treatment, but probably very proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby obviating all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless. Its effects in any condition of the female system.

"As a powerful invigorating tonic 'Favorite Prescription' imparts strength to the whole system, and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, 'worn-out,' run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, 'shop-girls,' house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic."

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.
