U. S. DISPENSATORY

Describes the Principal Ingredients Contained in Pe-ru-na.

Are we claiming too much for Peruna when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Peruna is in reality such a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensatory says of the principal ingredients of Peruna. Take, for instance, the ingredient hydrastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensatory says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes, chronic rhinitis (nasal catarrh), atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach). chronic intestinal catarrh, catarrhal jaundice (catarrh of the liver), and in diseased mucous membranes of the pelvic organs. It is also recommended for the treatment of various forms of diseases peculiar to women.

Another ingredient of Peruna, corydalis formosa, is classed in the United States Dispensatory as a tonic. So also is cubebs classed as a stomachic and as a tonic for the mucous membranes.

Cedron seeds is another ingredient of Peruna, an excellent drug that has been very largely overlooked by the medical profession for the past fifty years. The seeds are to be found in very few drug stores. The United States Dispensatory says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a substitute for quinine.

Oil of copaiba, another ingredient of Peruna, is classed by the United States Dispensatory as a mild stimulant and diuretic. It acts on the stomach and intestinal tract. It acts as a stimulant on the genito-urinary membranes. Useful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhea, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys.

Against Wood Pigeons.

A campaign is being arranged in South Devon against the wood pigeons which abound there, and which, it is calculated, are responsible for damage to crops running into thousands of pounds annually. The movement is being organized by the tenant farmers, but all the landowners and shooting tenants are being invited to cooperate.

It is intended to line the borders of the great woods where the birds pass the night with guns, and when they return from their day's foraging, to shoot them, this being the only way in which warfare can be successfully waged against them .-London Globe.

Absent-Minded Man.

"I guess I had the most absentminded man in the world in my chair this morning," said a Seventeenth Street barber yesterday. "He came in and sat down near the door to wait his turn. I yelled 'next' at him two or three times when my chair was vacant, but he was dreaming and didn't hear me. Finally I touched him on the shoulder and told him I was ready for him.

"'What do you want me to do?' "Why, get in the chair if you want anything,' I replied, 'This is a barber shop. "'Oh, yes,' he said, and then he got into the chair. He leaned back so I let the chair down and shaved him. He didn't have a word to say When I finished him up he got out of the chair and took the check over to the cashier. He paid and started out. When half way through the door he stopped.

"'Say,' he said to me, 'what did you do to me?'

'I shaved you,' I said. "'Darn the luck,' he replied, 'I wanted a haircut." Then he went out scowling."--- Denver Post.

Market Reports.

New York .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

"In most sections of the country the movement of merchondise has resumed normal proportions, snow blockades being removed, but tardy deliveries still cause much complaint, especially in regard to grain. Retail stocks of winter goods were most sat-isfactorily depleted during the period of low temperature, and the new season will open under favorable auspices. Wholesale and jobbing houses report a liberal spring demand, particularly in dry goods, while at the interior there is a vigorous movement of agricultural implements and other farm supplies. A gratifying feature of many reports is the greater promptness of mercantile collections. Mills and factories have so much forward business that new contacts are not taken except at full figures, and there is dissatisfaction because shipments are not more prompt. Wages have been advanced | Essex Market Police Court on a sumin several important concerns and there are no serious labor controversies.

"Raw wool is firmly held at Eastern markets, although in limited demand, most manufacturers awaiting something definite before taking raw material freely. Footwear factories in New England have contracts on hand assuring activity until new business comes forward, although there is a notable scarcity of orders for fall delivery, and the only current activity is the supplementary spring purchasing by Eastern jobbers and some inquiry for early summer shipment. Quotations are fully maintained on all descriptions."

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

Weekly Review of Trade and Latest | Some of the Things Done Daily in the Metropolis.

A robbers' den, presided over by a beautiful woman, and yielding riches in jewels and silk like the fabled cave of "The Forty Thieves," was unearthed in the Bronx. The police have taken near $10,000 worth of diamonds, silks and silverware from the house. Some of the silver bears the monogram of the Waldorf-Astoria and Sherry's, while the gems found hidden are so fine that they could have been stolen only from very weathy persons; those that adorned the woman alone were worth several thousand dollars. The detectives have also captured the leader of the band. They say he has confessed, and that when they round up the rest of the band they will have destroyed one of the most gigantic and perfect criminal organizations in the history of New York.

She Rented Wedding Finery. Mrs. Louis Goldberg was in the mons to show why she should not return the gown which she had rented for her wedding.

On February 3 Gussie Klinger was married to Louis Goldberg. She rented her wedding dress of Sol Beir. She says that he was to include fan, gloves -- long, white gloves -- and white silk stockings. For the entire outfit she agreed to pay $3.

Beir sent for the gown on the morning following the wedding. In fact, he told Magistate Finelite that he sent for it many times. The bride demanded a rebate of $1 because the dealer had failed to send the fan, stockings of any shoes; the gloves were little, short, stingy things, the gown was not clean, and she could not wear it, anyway.

"I lend a dress by another girl to wear," she told the Magistrate, and turned on Bier. "What didn't you send the stockings and long gloves?' "But I gave her her money's worth," insisted Beir. "I get sometimes $10, $15, $18 for renting a dress, I give it to her for $3. What g she want?" Magistrate Finelite decided, however, that he had not kept his agreement with the woman, and said that he should return the $3, and that she should then give back the dress.

Whistles With Sweet Sounds.

If the present plans of the Board of Supervising Inspectors of the Steamboat Inspection Service are carried into effect all craft plying in New York harbor will be equipped with whistles that will discourse sweet music instead of ear-splitting sounds that disturb the peace of the people in the greater city living close to the North and East Rivers. The subject was discussed at a meeting of the Board. Director Stratton of the Bureau of Standards said that it was possible, by applying exact scientific principles, to measure the carrying power of a whistle or a siren, and also to determine the intensity of lights carried by vessels at night. Mr. Stratton nrged the Board to require the use in New York harbor of whisties giving forth soft, melodious tones, instead of those that shriek out hideous noises and make life miserable by day and sleep almost impossible at night.

Motorman Frozen At His Post.

Frank Antonio, a motorman on the Crosstown line in Brooklyn, was overcome by the cold early the other morning while on his way from Erie basin to the barn at Box Street and Manhattan Avenue, Greenpoint. When the car reached Jay and Willoughby Streets, Inspector John Thompson noticed that the car was passing streets where the motorman should have slowed down. The inspector boarded the car and found that Antonio was apparently frozen at his post. One hand was on the controller handle and the other on the brake, but the motorman was powerless to operate either. The Inspector took charge of the car and had Antonio taken inside, where he became unconscious. The car was raced to the Greenpoint barn, whence Antonio was removed to the Eastern District Hospital.

Up And Back For One Fare. Justices Gildersleeve and Amend of the Appellate Term of the Supreme Court handed down a majority opinion that a passenger on the lines of the New York City Railway Company is entitled to a transfer carrying him to his destination upon payment of one fare, even though the transfer may be to a line carrying in the opposite direction. Justice MacLean dissented. According to the opinion of Justices Gildersleeve and Amend the Railway Company is required to give a passenger a transfer from the place of embarkation to his destination, whether the line to which he is transferred runs in the same direction as that he has left or not. The Traction Company must furnish a continuous trip between any two points for one her dock after a slow and stormy passage across the Atlantic, she crashed into the pier shed, tearing away a section of the roof fully 100 feet in length. The steamer itself was not badly damaged. There was a mad scramble among the several hundred persons who were on the dock awaiting the arrival of the steamer when the roof grashed down, but all escaped injury.

Senator Clark Prefers Cars. A few nights ago, when miserable weather prevailed, sloppy under foot and a storm of half sleet pelting fown, a man in evening dress boarded the Connecticut Avenue "owl" car, says the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald. He had come from one of the downtown hotels, avoiding the cabbies marshaled at the entrance. He sat in the crowded and bedraggled car, drops of dampness hanging to the brim of his silk tile. wedged in between a white man and a negro carrying an obtrusive bundle. As he groped for his nickel fare, half the passengers snickered and made audible remarks about some people who could afford cabs. Half way up Connecticut Avenue the passenger who excited so much comment alighted and trudged through the storm to his place of abode.

It was Senator William A. Clark, of Montana, one of the richest men in the country. Few, if any, in Washington ever saw this multimillonaire in a cab, but every day he may be seen waiting on a corner or chasing his way through the vehicles of this thoroughfare to board the economical trolley.

A FRIEND'S TIP. 70-Year-Old Man Not Too Old to Accept a Food Pointer.

"For the last 20 years," writes a Maine man, "I've been troubled with Dyspepsia and liver complaint, and have tried about every known remedy without much in the way of results until I took up the food question.

"A friend recommended Grape-Nuts food, after I had taken all sorts of medicines with only occasional, temporary relief.

"This was about nine months ago, and I began the Grape-Nuts for breakfast with cream and a little sugar. Since then I have had the food for at least one meal a day, usually for breakfast.

"Words fail to express the benefit I received from the use of Grape-Nuts. My stomach is almost entirely free from pain and my liver complaint is about cured, I have gained flesh, sleep well, can eat nearly any kind of food except greasy, starchy things, and am strong and healthy at the age of 70 years.

AILING WOMEN

How Many Perfectly Well Women Do You Know?

"I am not feeling very well," "I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly." "My back aches as though it would break.

How often do you hear these significant expressions from women friends. More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and there is a cause.

More than thirty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. discovered the source of nearly all the suffering endured by her sex. "Woman's Ills," these two words are full of more misery to women than any other two words that can be found in the English language. Sudden fainting, depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere, backaches, headaches, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearingdown sensations, displacements and irregularities are the bane of woman's existence.

The same woman who discovered the cause of all this misery also discovered a remedy. Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs holds the record for a greater number of absolute cures of female ills than any other one remedy the world has ever known and it is the greatest blessing which ever came into the lives of suffering women.

Don't try to endure, but cure the cause of all your suffering. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. The following letters prove this:

Mrs. W. S. Ford of 1938 Lansdowne St., Baltimore, Md. writes :

Dear Mrs. Pinkham;-Dear Mrs. Pinkham;—
"For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, suppression, terrible dragging sensations and extreme nervousness. I had given up all hope of ever being well again when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended. It cured my weakness and made me well and strong." made me well and strong.

Miss Grace E. Miller, of 1213 Michigan St., Buffalo, N. Y. writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham ;-"I was in a very bad condition of health generally; irritable, cross, backache and suffered from a feminine weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vecetable Compound, cured me after all other medicines had failed."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ford and Miss Miller it will do for other women in like condition. Every suffering woman in the United States is asked to accept the following invitation. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.
