Linden Hall.

William Raymond and family, Tuesday, moved from Milmont to the farm vacated by John Strouse.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Rebecca Cumings entertained a number of young people in honor of her daughter Elsie's twelfth birthday.

George Diehl, of Colby, Ohio, spent several days with his brother's family here, after having been several weeks at his father's home, at Millinburg.

Miss Maude Miller visited her sister over Sunday, before returning to West Chester where she is a student at the Normal.

J. H. Miller, of Rock Springs, was a recent visitor here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stump are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Robert Herman, in Phillipsburg.

Miss Mary Waring, of Tyrone, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives here, returning to her home Monday evening.

Letter to E. M. Huyett, Centre Hall, Pa.

Dear Sir: You may like to know what you pay for the paint in a gallon of "paint," assuming the pure paint part of all "paints" to be all alike; which it isn't, and worth $1.75 a gallon.

Of a paint adulterated 10 per cent., the pure paint part brings $1.94 a gallon.

15 per cent. brings $2.06 a gallon.
25 " " 2.33 "
33 1/2 " " 2.62 "
50 " " 3.50 "
75 " " 7.00 "

The average adulteration of paint in this country is about one-third; so, you see, the average price the American people are paying for paint is about $2.62 a gallon.

It is a game of wits. Adulterators are always too sharp for the bulk of consumers. People won't pay $1.75 a gallon for paint. So they pay $2.62 a gallon for paint and something that looks like paint mixed with it. They pay the painter, besides, from $2 to $4 for painting those useless gallons.

Why do they do it? They don't know Devoe.

Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co., New York.

18 Kreamer & Son sell our paint.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Both Agreeable and Effective.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no superior for coughs, colds and croup, and the fact that it is pleasant to take and contains nothing in any way injurious has made it a favorite with mothers. Mr. W. S. Polham, a merchant of Kirksville, Iowa, says: "For more than twenty years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been my leading remedy for all throat troubles. It is especially successful in cases of croup. Children like it and my customers who have used it will not take any other." For sale by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

"PENN STATE" ALUMNI MEET.

Visit to Schenectady of Seniors in Electrical Engineering Signal to Pleasant Smoker.

About twenty members of the senior class of Pennsylvania State College visited the plants of the General Electric Company and the American Locomotive Company, at Schenectady, N. Y. Saturday the students left Schenectady for New York where they will study the typical engineering features of that city and vicinity. The party was in charge of Prof. J. P. Jackson and A. R. Dennington, instructors at the College.

While in Schenectady a smoker was held in Yates' boathouse and was attended by the students and graduates of Pennsylvania State who live in that city. There were twenty-three of the "old grads" present and they laid the preliminary plans for the organization of a local Alumni Association.

A light lunch was served and was followed by short talks on engineering work in general and at the General Electric works in particular, and on the happenings at the college for the past year. P. E. Smith was toastmaster and the following were called upon: H. D. Plank, G. E. Elder, S. E. Weber, W. E. Ketcham, H. E. Plank and B. W. Kline. There were also several informal talks by the visiting students. Mr. Weber referred to above is the son of John H. Weber, of Centre Hall, and holds a professorship in Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.

Weddings.

Two marriage ceremonies were performed by Rev. D. Gress, at the Reformed parsonage, Centre Hall, since the last issue of the Reporter. The first couple to be married, which occurred Thursday of last week, was Wm. Bright Bitner and Miss Mary Elizabeth Rossman, both of Spring Mills.

Wednesday noon the second ceremony was performed, and united in marriage George F. Potter, of Pine Grove Mills, and Miss Catharine Brown, of Linden Hall.

No Tinsel Cards.

Postmaster Boal informs the Reporter that he is enforcing the ruling of the Post Office Department against mailing tinselled souvenir postal cards, and that a large number of such cards have been thrown out of the mail by him. All cards having ornaments made of a composition liable to rub off and cause a dust while handling come under the tinsel head.

The 2-Cent Fare Bill.

The bill making two cents the maximum railroad fare for passengers passed finally both houses of the legislature. It now remains with the governor to sign or veto the bill. It is a foregone conclusion that the bill will be signed. The law will be effective after September 30 of this year.

Cemetery Association Meeting.

The members of the Lutheran and Reformed Cemetery Association will meet in the Lutheran church this (Thursday) evening.

Sunrise Easter Prayer Service.

As is their custom on Easter morning, a sunrise prayer service will be held in the Lutheran church, Centre Hall, at six o'clock.

Smith, the Photographer.

W. W. Smith, the Photographer, will be in Centre Hall Friday, April 5.

BRANCH CO. NO. 20.

The Patrons Rural Telephone Company Organized Tuesday Evening—Line to Run Along Brush Valley Road West of Centre Hall.

The farmers along the Brush Valley road, west of Centre Hall, have organized a telephone company, which will be known as Branch Company No. 20, The Patrons Rural Telephone Company, being the fifth similar Company organized about Centre Hall. The telephone line begins at the exchange of the Pennsylvania Telephone Company, better recognized as the Bell, and will terminate at the home of William S. Brooks, near Linden Hall. The officers elected by the company at its meeting held at the home of Howard Zeigler are: President, Ferguson Potter, Esq.; Vice President, William S. Brooks; Secretary, Joshua T. Potter; Treasurer, William E. Tate; Agent, J. W. Mowery.

Subscribers of stock for the building of the line, in addition to the officers named above, are Samuel Gingerich, C. W. Poorman, William S. Walker, H. C. Rothrock, Miss M. Rhoda Potter, W. H. Bartholomew and S. W. Smith. The probabilities are that other subscribers, both for stock and instruments, will be added. Construction of the line will be begun at once.

LOCALS.

March is almost down and out. Rev. Aikens will hold services in the Bellefonte Lutheran church Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Sanders and daughter Elizabeth have returned to Centre Hall, and expect to remain here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bradford moved from Earlstown to their home (the Hemphill house) in Centre Hall.

Edward Brown, of Bellefonte, although ninety-three years of age, travels the streets of that town quite easily.

The farmer, with the telephone and rural mail delivery, can open an office in his front room and conduct his business from his desk.

Mrs. W. H. Schuyler and Mrs. Mary Odenkirk are attending a missionary convention connected with the Presbyterian church, which is being held at Clearfield.

Miss Ella Thompson Mitchell, daughter of Joseph E. and Eliza L. Mitchell, of Lemont, died in Minneapolis, March 21st. Interment made Monday afternoon, at Lemont.

The third thunder shower came along Tuesday. These warm rains have started the grass and grain to grow. Wheat fields were never prettier in the last days of March than they are now.

G. W. Barner and family have moved from the McClintic farm, at Farmers Mills, now owned by I. J. Zubler, to Salona, to a large farm, known as the Furst farm. Andy Rote succeeds Mr. Barner.

On his return from conference, Rev. M. S. Derstine stopped with his mother, Mrs. Sarah Derstine, in Centre Hall, for a few days. As will be noted in the appointments he was returned to his former field of labor.

After being in Detroit, Michigan, with the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company, for about six months, Dr. J. K. Hosterman returned to the home of his father, A. P. Hosterman, at Centre Hill, and will remain there for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hosterman and little son were in Centre Hall over Sunday. Mr. Hosterman returned to Phillipsburg, but his wife accompanied by Mrs. G. W. Hosterman went to Lancaster where they will remain for several weeks.

Wm. H. Baird, of near Pleasant Gap, moved to his farm, south of Centre Hall, purchased some time ago from Dr. James W. Boal. He no doubt will make many improvements to the buildings and surroundings and make his home appear more than ever a delightful place.

The April issue of the Ladies' World is a particularly attractive number, full of interest from the title page, where the beautiful Easter verses are charmingly illustrated to the final pages, which are devoted to Talks on Dress making and Fashions and their accompanying illustrations.

The house occupied by the Heaton and owned by John Whitman, at Milesburg, caught fire Saturday afternoon and if help had not been at hand the place would have burned to the ground. The Baptist minister, Rev. Hall, was making a call at the Whitman home and assisted Mr. Whitman and his son in extinguishing the flames.

Proper Breathing.

According to a lecturer on health, people that breathe through the mouth, habitually neglecting the nose, the proper channel for the air supply, "have about upper lips, flat cheeks, irregular and decayed teeth, pigeon chests, pointed chins and pointed or upturned noses"—a dreadful list of dire penalties, in truth, fearful enough to convert us all in a moment, yet greatly exaggerated, of course. However, as we have heard many times, usually never heeding as we pass by, it is decidedly injurious to breathe through the mouth. Moreover, if we stop to consider a bit, we shall be able to see for ourselves several common sense reasons that ought to make us supply our lungs with air through the nose. Taken in by way of the mouth, the air reaches the lungs by a much shorter route and without the beneficial warming and cleansing process so well afforded by the longer nasal passage. In winter especially should we take care to breathe only through the nose, thus insuring greatly our chances of taking diseased air. It is merely a matter of habit and simply a question of trying after all.

Love Potions.

Love potions as used by the peasants of lower Austria and Syria are generally taken by the person who wishes to be loved. The common habit is to consume minute portions of white arsenic, which will in a few weeks develop a thin, pale girl into a plump, ray charmed beauty. Great care has to be exercised in taking the arsenic or death results, and when the habit is once formed it usually lasts for life, since the body becomes uncomfortable and even diseased, showing all the symptoms of arsenic poisoning, if the habit is broken off.

Some of the eastern nations use love potions differently. If a girl loves a man and he seems cold, she contrives to give him a drink of hashesh, obtained from Indian hemp. The man's brain becomes fogged, and he is ready to believe anything that is suggested to him. The girl suggests to him that she is beautiful and thus compels him to regard her unlovely features as she desires.

The Human Electric Battery.

The superstition that human beings should sleep with their heads to the north is believed by the French to have for its foundation a scientific fact. They affirm that each human system is in itself an electric battery, the head being one of the electrodes, the feet the other. Their proof was discovered from experiments which the Academy of Sciences was allowed to make on the body of a man who was guillotined. This was taken the instant it fell and placed upon a pivot free to move as it might. The head part, after a little ventilation, turned to the north, and the body then remained stationary. It was turned half way round by one of the professors, and again the head end of the trunk moved slowly to the cardinal point due north, the same results being repeated until the final arrestation of organic movement.

The Tobacconist's Essay.

One of the most peculiar things in the whole history of signs is the fact that while all other shopkeepers were parading the empyrean painters the tobacconist always called upon the wood-carver on the continent as well as in England. As long ago as Elizabeth's reign the wooden image of the Black boy was the favorite sign of the tobacco dealers. Later the customary sign was the Highlander or a figure of Sir Walter Raleigh. In Holland, for some strange reason, the tobacconists adopted the dairymaid as their sign, with the motto, "Consolation for sucklings." The Indian, naturally enough, has always been the predominant sign in this country, although once in a while a reversion to type crops out with the ancient black boy.

The Great Jenner.

An Englishman had occasion to go often to an eminent physician and said to James, "You will be tired of opening the door for me." "Not at all, sir," was the gracious reply; "you are but a hunt in the ocean."
Another Jenner was accustomed to say daily: his master's occasional absence: "Y—Thad better try hoptosite. There's a very respectable man hoptosite as we often sends to when Sir William is absent. His name is Jenner."—London Mail.

How Long the Bills Last.

A dollar bill has an average life of about fifteen months. Two dollar bills, not being quite so actively used, last on the average more than sixteen months. A five dollar bill lives on an average two years before it is worn out and the government is called upon to replace it. Ten dollar bills last about three years and twenty dollar bills more than four years.—Youth's Companion.

No Bargains.

"Eternal vigilance," shouted the orator, "is the price of liberty!" The women electors exchanged glances.

"That is the same price as last year," they remarked and shrugged their shoulders. There were no bargains to be had, and they lost interest in the proceedings.

The School.

"How do you get those clinging ways?" asked the country cousin. "Hanging from street car straps," answered the city girl.—Washington Herald.
