CHURCH APPOINTMENTS

Summer School

The spring term of the Boalsburg Normal and Preparatory School will open April 15th and continue eight weeks. Pupils from a distance can obtain boarding at reasonable rates. For further information address 3t H. C. ROTHROCK, Principal.

Post Cards

A new line of Souvenir Post Cards—all kinds and at all prices. The local views are the prettiest yet offered for sale at this office. Birthday, Stork, Art, Poses, Comic Cards, etc., etc.—more than one hundred kinds.

Fertilizers

Keep in mind that we can furnish you with any grade of fertilizers you may wish, or the raw material if you prefer to do your own mixing. Our goods are guaranteed to be just what they are sold for, and can be applied through any drill or planter. The acid goods are dry and easily applied. We have grades especially adapted to the growing of spring crops—oats, barley, corn, potatoes, etc. The quality of goods and the price is the argument. J. H. & S. E. WEBER, Centre Hall and Oak Hall.

Keith's Theatre

America's most popular comedienne, Marie Dressler, who gives character songs and impressions of stage types, is the "star" at Keith's Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, this week. Collins and Hart, comedy acrobats, are giving a pleasing performance, while the Doherty Sisters, singing comedienne, are much liked. This is the second and last week of Mrs. Theresa Renz' performance. She is a world famous equestrienne. McCullum's "Sunny South" is a spectacular and musical delight. Another leading feature is Charlotte Parry & Co., presenting "The Comstock Mystery." The children's favorite, A. O. Duncan, world's greatest ventriloquist.

LOCALS

A child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Andy Moyer, in this place.

Robert Ramer moved from Coupon, Cambria county, to a farm purchased by him situated two miles west of Altoona.

Mrs. J. W. Benner and Mrs. H. J. Mehafey, of Altoona, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Detrow, east of Centre Hall.

Mrs. Mariah Sweetwood, of Centre Hill, is at present making her home with her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Alexander, at Milroy.

All grades of fertilizers—J. H. and S. E. Weber, Centre Hall and Oak Hall. The quality of goods and the price is the argument.

James I. Lytle, at Earlstown, had the largest sale held in these parts—the sum total being nearly $3500. Eleven horses, one of which was quite old, sold for $2100.

Ellis Horner and family moved from Nittany to the Horner property, west of Centre Hall, now owned by Calvin Horner. Mr. Horner will be employed at Robison's stove mill.

A party of young people congregated recently at the home of Benner Walker, west of Centre Hall, to do honor to his son, Merrill, who had just turned the first leaf of a new year.

Emory S. Ripka, one of the Ripka Brothers, who conducted a general store at Spring Mills, is now a resident of Centre Hall, and occupies the west half of the Wion house, near the public school building.

The Clinton Democrat came out Saturday in what the paper termed a new Easter dress—in other words the paper was printed from new type. The Democrat is a new paper, and is deserving of increased patronage by the people of Clinton county.

J. H. and S. E. Weber, Centre Hall and Oak Hall, can supply you with all grades of fertilizers especially adapted to the growing of spring crops. When you buy from them you are not fattening the trusts. The quality of goods and the price is the argument.

The April "Arena" contains a very notable paper by Rev. Algernon S. Craspey entitled "The Historical Aspect of the Virgin Birth." Dr. Craspey discusses the question in a masterly manner, marshalling a vast array of evidence to sustain his position.

During the past two months mention has been made of the serious illness of Mrs. Andrew Ruhl, nee Emerick, at Buffalo Cross Roads. Her condition at present is somewhat improved, but she is just beginning to sit up in bed, and is yet in very delicate health.

Rebersburg

Mrs. Thomas Walker spent last week at Spring Mills with her sister, Mrs. T. M. Gramley.

Prof. Edwin Brungart, wife and child, of Selmsgrove, spent the Easter vacation among relatives here.

Rev. William Sholl and wife, of Port Trevorton, are visiting relatives at this place.

Miss Sara Guisewite, of Aaronsburg, came here last Wednesday and opened up a millinery store in Jerry Brungart's building, at the east end of town.

The grain fields in this section are bedecked with a heavy green and look very promising.

Forest Stover and wife, of Aaronsburg, spent Friday as the guests of Ross Mowery.

Curtis Weaver, of Philadelphia, is spending a few days under the parental roof.

Prof. Allen Zeigler, principal of the Hazleton schools, is circulating among friends at this place at present.

Griffith Garrett has been awarded the contract to remodel the Reformed church at this place. Work will commence in the near future.

Thomas Hubler is seriously ill at this writing.

Dr. Bright and daughter Mary were to Millersville on business a few days last week.

Dr. Krummer, the dentist, who had intended to move to Williamsport the first of April, has concluded to stay at this place a few months longer. He says he is overcrowded with work.

Rebersburg will have no meat market this coming summer. This is something that is very much needed in this town, as it will be very inconvenient for our citizens to get their supplies of fresh meat from adjoining valleys.

Wm. Hackman, the blacksmith, has hired a German to help him with his spring work.

Last Thursday Ammon Schroyer moved onto Thomas Brungart's farm, at the east end of this valley, and Allen Winkleblech, of Wolfe Store, moved onto the farm vacated by the Schroyers.

J. C. Morris, an instructor in a state reformatory, is visiting his family.

Charlie Mallory moved to this place from Smulton this week, and now occupies his father's house, in west Rebersburg.

Georges Valley

Al. Lingle and family left for Union county, Thursday last week, where they will move onto a farm. The house thus made vacant was bought by Wilbur Jamison, who will occupy it soon.

The surprise party held in honor of Robert Finkle, last Wednesday evening, was largely attended.

Green Decker and daughter, Miss Jennie, visited at the home of Ben Limbert, in Brush Valley, Sunday a week ago.

Mrs. Dan Hackman is improving. Clayton Barger, who had been employed at Burnham, is now at home.

Michael Decker and grandson, Rufus Rearick, called to see the former's brother, Green Decker, on their way home after a visit to Milroy.

Adam Hackman's moving passed through the valley last week, en route to their new home in Milroy.

Wm. Matter and family, James Leitzell, Chas. Bartges, wife and two nephews, Charles and Ralph, spent Sunday at the home of Green Decker.

Decker school closed Tuesday of this week. The debate last Friday was, Resolved that the world is growing better. Decided in favor of the negative.

Gentle and Effective

A well known Manitoba editor writes: "As an inside worker I find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invaluable for the touches of biliousness natural to sedentary life, their action being gentle and effective, clearing the digestive tract and the head." Price, 25 cents. Samples free. The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

The Capture of Jefferson Davis

How Mrs. Davis prevented her husband from escaping in his flight after the fall of the Confederacy is told in Mrs. Avary's book, "Dixie After the War."

After leaving Washington, Ga., Mr. Davis had heard that marauders were in pursuit of his wife's cortege, and, turning out of his course, he rode hard across country, found his family, conveyed them beyond the present danger, as he thought, and was about to renew his journey south.

The party camped, when he was roused at dawn by his negro servant, who said troops were coming. Mrs. Davis begged her husband to leave. His horses and weapons were near the road down which the cavalry was coming. In the darkness of the tent he caught up what he took to be his raglan, a sleeveless waterproof garment. It was hers. She then threw a shawl over his head. He went out of the tent, she keeping near. "Halt!" cried a trooper, leveling a carbine at him. Mr. Davis dropped his wraps and hurried forward. Mrs. Davis saw the carbine, cast her arms about her husband and lost him his one chance of escape, for he might have slipped away in the dark.

Choice of Cow's Milk

A writer states that where commercial milk is the only point at issue a milk must have a high percentage of solids in order to be "good." This is not true, however, where weak digestion is to be dealt with. Skim milk contains nearly all the protein of the whole milk, but after the fat in the cream has been removed the milk loses half its fuel value. What is left, however, has a value equal to that of the whole milk for the building and repair of tissue, for the making of blood and muscle and bone, while it has half the value of the whole milk for supplying heat and muscular power. Buttermilk is practically sour skim milk. Other things being equal, the milk of a cow which gives a large quantity is preferable to that of a cow giving a small quantity. The former is sure to have a rugged constitution, good digestive power, depth of respiration and good physiological traits. A plethoric temperament in the animal is desirable.—Medical Record.

A Wesley Anecdote

It is said that Charles Wesley was sometimes easily annoyed, and on one occasion at a conference he became so irritated at the prolix remarks of a speaker that he said to his brother: "Stop that man's speaking. Let us attend to business."

But the offender was relating his religious experience, and, though it was at so great a length, John Wesley evidently thought that no one had a right to interpose with it. He was therefore allowed to continue, but the moment came when Charles could contain himself no longer.

"Unless he stops," he whispered to John, "I'll leave the conference."

By this time John was enjoying the man's simple story, and he only turned and whispered to some one sitting near: "Reach Charles his hat."

Keep the Armholes Down

It is strange that not one person in a thousand knows how to help a man on with his coat or a lady with her jacket. They all make the mistake of holding the garment too high, especially the last sleeve. They lift it so that a man nearly dislocates his arm reaching for it. The more futilely he grabs and claws and lurches for it the higher they hold it until the wretched victim would have to get on a pair of stilts to find the armhole. The proper way? Why, hold the coat so that the armholes are as low down as the man's waist, taking care to keep the skirt of the garment off the floor, of course. If there is any struggle to find the last armhole, drop it still lower. Never raise it. Drop it until his hand slips into it naturally.

Substitutes For Tea

English cottagers have to use the leaves of shrubs and herbs for tea, such as the black currant. Our Pennsylvania mountaineers use the Soldago odorata for tea, instead of the costly China tea. Soldago odorata is a variety of the familiar goldenrod. In Louisiana it is largely used by the French population of the remote districts. Checkerberry or teaberry (Gaultheria repens) is a little spicy plant also used for tea.

Prince Hohenlohe In Life

When Germany sent Prince Hohenlohe to Paris in 1875 his physiognomy was not prepossessing. It was grave, sad, without life. With dead, expressionless eyes, the habit of carrying his head over his right shoulder, a slow step and the air of being overwhelmed with the burden of his moral preoccupations, all this tended to repel rather than attract.—Paris Figaro.

Authorized by Shakespeare

Shakespeare has "sixt" for "sixth." Doubtless he so pronounced it, for he was credited with having written the three parts of "Henry the Sixth," and he certainly wrote "The Life of Henry the Fifth," as the old edition has it. And it is worthy of notice that "afta" and "stexta" are the Anglo-Saxon forms.—Professor Skeat in National Review.

His Yankee Thrift

A Massachusetts man tells a story of "Old John" Langley, a veteran Worcester horseman, that is illustrative of Yankee astuteness.

One day Langley sought his tailor and in somewhat profane terms demanded "a pair of breeches of the best stuff in the shop." Of the many samples submitted Old John hit upon a beautiful silky broadcloth, the most costly piece of goods the tailor had, and, although this was most unsuitable for the purpose, Langley insisted that it was just what he wanted. Furthermore, he declared that he desired it "made up wrong side out."

The tailor expostulated in vain, but the trousers were made as per specifications and delivered.

A day or so thereafter a friend, calling on Langley, remarked on the trousers in uncomplimentary language. Langley said he was satisfied. More guffing resulted in an offer from Old John to bet $50 that the cloth cost more per yard than that in his friend's trousers. The bet was taken and the tailor was to decide it. He named the price. The friend would not believe that the rough goods could be so costly until he was shown the shiny silky side. Then he paid, as other men had on similar bets, so that Old John reaped quite a harvest on his original idea.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Better No Food Than No Opera

The creole would rather do without a few meals than miss a good opera with a fine cast, nor does this admirable spirit merely apply to the middle classes. Many a charming little creole lady who might point to a Marigny on her escutcheon would not hesitate if hard pressed to do her own housework in order to be able to blossom out at night in her proper place, radiant and exquisite, in a loge grille at the opera. It matters little in New Orleans to what unfortunate straits adversity may have driven a lady, even though she may do typewriting for people whom she meets socially, there are enough noble minded people of the ancient regime who will help her to forget the pinch of poverty and see that she receives the greatest consideration.

This inbred chivalry is one of the most marked and endearing traits of the southern character, lending to the south an atmosphere free from our parasitical flunkies over mere money or its lustings.—C. H. White in Harper's Magazine.

A Good Critic

Sir Henry Irving, the English actor, once wanted a white horse to use in one of his scenes, but no white horse that was suitable could be got. At last a stage hand advised him to apply to a certain distinguished actor manager, who, he said, had such a horse. Sir Henry visited the owner, inspected the horse, and the bargain was concluded, but as an afterthought Sir Henry said he trusted the animal was not fractious.

"Not at all, Sir Henry, I assure you; an excellent horse in every way. Why, I rode him night after night, and all I had to complain of was that he would occasionally yawn when I was on the stage."

"Indeed," said Sir Henry. "A bit of a critic, then, evidently."

The Wind Month

November was called by the ancient Saxons the wint monath, or wind month, on account of the gales then prevalent. It was also named the blot monath, or blood month, from the ancient practice of then slaughtering cattle for the winter provisions. It is said that the Roman senators wished to name the month after Tiberius, as months had already been named after Julius Caesar and Augustus, but the emperor, like Canute, felt that it was possible to have too much flattery and refused, remarking dryly, "What will you do, conscript fathers, if you have thirteen Caesars?"

The Uncharitable Game

Golf is considered bad for the temper, but even on a golf course one will not see anything approaching the rudeness that is to be seen on the croquet ground. If a golfer "fooles" a ball or gets "bunkered" he may throw his club about and use a little bad language, but he will not accuse the opponent of cheating and refuse to speak to the unfortunate person for the rest of the day, which a croquet player frequently does.—C. B. Fry's Magazine.

"So you have decided that Taliaferro cannot marry your daughter." "Most assuredly not; wouldn't have such a son-in-law."

"What's the trouble? Is he dissipated or profligate?" "Everything. He has an edition de luxe opinion of himself, but is in reality only a paper backed copy."—New York Press.

The Lobster

"Aw, g'on, Mike," said the British soldier, attempting to end the argument; you're a lobster." "Ye flatter me," retorted Mike. "Shure, a lobster's a wise animal, fur green is the color fur him as long as he lives, an' he'll die before he puts on a red coat."—Catholic Standard and Times.

EUREKA!

Yes, I Have Found It at Last.

Found what? Why that Chamberlain's Salve cures eczema and all manner of itching of the skin. I have been afflicted for many years with skin disease. I had to get up three or four times every night and wash with cold water to allay the terrible itching, but since using this salve in December 1905, the itching has stopped and has not troubled me.—Elder John T. Ogley, Rootville, Pa. For sale by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and one dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Cooper's New Discovery has taught me many things. Not least of which is that parasites or tape worms as they are called are responsible for an immense amount of suffering. Thousands of these creatures have been brought to me by people who have taken the New Discovery and I now know that an immense amount of supposed stomach trouble is caused in reality by one of these parasites. A man or woman may be afflicted in this manner for years and not realize the true cause of their suffering. When I first sold Cooper's New Discovery I did not know that the medicine would remove this trouble. I have since found that it invariably does so. The following letter is a fair sample of the symptoms as experienced by an individual thus affected:

"I was always tired. My stomach bloated and the slightest exertion made me sick, weak and dizzy. My appetite was variable and a good nights sleep was unknown to me. When I awoke in the mornings I had a bad taste in my mouth and a coated tongue. I heard of the wonderful benefits that were being derived from Cooper's New Discovery, and decided to try it."

"The horrible tape worm, sixty feet long that had been sapping my life away, passed from my system alive and squirming after I had taken three doses. Now I have a splendid appetite, every trace of stomach trouble has disappeared and my digestion is good. I sleep well and am gaining in strength every day." A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.
