NEW CRUSADE BY JOSEPH SECHLAR COXEY

Plans Circus Campaign For Non-Interest-Bearing Bond Ideas.

CRITICISES PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Coxey Says: "I Expect Soon To Be Worth Several Million Dollars and I Am Preparing To Take Up My Campaign Where I Was Forced To Leave It Several Years Ago."

New York (Special). - Joseph Schler Coxey, of the "Coxey Army" of 1894, is planning another great national crusade on new and sensational lines, and he may commence operations the present year. It all depends on the outcome of his investments, which now look exceedingly promising. Since he went through bankruptcy two years ago, following the failure of the steel mill which he had built at his home in Mount Vernon, Ohio, he has been engaged in retrieving his fortune.

Mr. Coxey, the erstwhile "General of the Commonwealth," was in New York several days ago, and said:

'I expect soon to be worth sevtral million dollars and I am preparing to take up my campaign of education where I was forced to leave it several years 'ago. I shall conduct this campaign on new and original lines and in a way that will be certain to attract the attention of the nation. I will travel with an entire train of cars and a tent capable of seating many thousands, and my coming will be advertised in advance, exactly like a great circus. I will also carry with me a complete company of high-priced performers, who will furnish entertainment for the cowds during the hours when I am not speaking, so that 'Coxey Day' will be a general holiday for miles around every town I visit.

This country is becoming ripe for just such a great movement. The indications point that way. Look at Roosevelt. In some respects he is more radical than I ever dared to be, and he is the head of the great conservative party of the country. Take his attitude for instance, on the bond and currency question and note the peculiar coincidence as to dates. March 25 last, the thirteenth aniversary of my march to Washington, Roosevelt's Secretary of the Treasury issued an order permitting Government bonds to be deposited in national banks on the mere security of railroad bonds.

"Supposing that during the hard times of 1893 and 1894 when the people were crying for circulating medium I had proposed that the Government release currency to the public on the deposit of railway bonds, what would have been said of me? You know what was said of me for proposing the issuing of money based on non-interest-bearing State, municipal and township bonds. I was called crazy and an anarchist. And in the American "square deal." yet today, when the stock jobbers in Wall Street want a little more President Roosevelt gives it to them on the precarious security of railroad bonds.

"But this isn't the only evidence of radical tendencies now being The President is just now busy try- and jewelry last month from Joseph ing debris. But is he sincere? In view of the revelations in relation to his dealing with Harriman, taking his own statements for our evidence, we have a right to entertain doubts. I will believe in his sincerity when, and only when, a few of the railroad magnates who have violated the laws are in the penitenti-

"In my crusade I shall advocate my allow States, municipalities and townships to utilize and legalize their own credit. I would also advocate the Government ownership of public utilities. I am 10 years ahead of Mr. Bryan on this platform. I refer to my testimony before the Ways and means Committee in Washington in 1895, when I said that the great question was whether the railroads are going to own this Government or the Government is going to own the railways, and I predicted in 10 years the great issue of Government ownership would come to a head."

course The tornado began at Alexandria, La., soon after 1 o'clock A. M., killing four persons there, probably fatally injuring three and seriously injuring 13 others. Soon after daylight it neared the Mississippi River, killing five persons at Jackson, La., while at Bayou Sara, La., at least half a dozen others are reported killed. There was one fatal injury at Jackson.

The tornado next appeared at Carson, Miss., where great property damage was done, and disappeared about near Selma, Ala., where the inhabitants saw whirling clouds rise into the air as they crossed the river. A Louisiana, were found to be $40,000 negro was reported killed near Sel-

A Night of Terror.

Alexandria, a town of about 16,000 inhabitants, had a fearful experience. When the tornado struck the electric lights went out, the cracking of falling buildings could be heard above the noise of the wind, and vivid lightning flashes showed such sights as an empty Iron Mountain passenger train rolling over and over. Immediately after the wind spent its violence a heavy hailstorm added to the general discomfort,

The main portion of Alexandria escaped the worst tornado, which cut a path through the northern portion of the town, a residence quarter. About a score of homes were demolished, 50 were damaged and altogether about 100 buildings were wrecked, including several business houses. The Iron Mountain Railroad lost its roundhouse. A freak of the wind drove a small section of a house into an empty passenger coach, wedging these two bodies almost inextricably together.
