

THE CENTRE REPORTER

THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1907.

TRAIN SCHEDULE

Trains leave Centre Hall on the Lewisburg and Tyrone Railroad, P. R. R. System, as follows: EAST.....7.17 a. m. and 2.35 p. m. WEST.....8.15 a. m. and 3.30 p. m.

CHURCH APPOINTMENTS

Reformed—Spring Mills, morning; Union, afternoon; Centre Hall, evening. Presbyterian—Centre Hall, morning; Spring Mills, afternoon. Lutheran—Centre Hall, morning, communion, preparatory service Saturday evening; Tusseyville, afternoon, communion, preparatory service Saturday afternoon; Spring Mills, evening.

Thaw Jury Disagrees

The Thaw jury disagreed—five stood for acquittal and seven for guilty of murder in the first degree.

A Distinction

"Oh, must you go, my darling?" Said Clementine to Joe. "Well, not exactly that, but I must now begin to go."

The Country's Greatest Asset

In an address recently delivered in Washington, Col. William Jennings Bryan said: "The country's greatest asset is its schools and colleges."

National Guard Encampments

The dates for the annual encampment have been fixed. The First and Third Brigades will encamp from July 7th to 13th and the Second Brigade will encamp from July 20th to 27th. The Third Brigade will camp at Mt. Gretna, the Second Brigade near Tyrone, and the First Brigade probably at Perkasie.

The Hawk Bounty

Since the passage of the act giving a bounty of seventy-five cents for the killing of hawks, farmers and hunters are interested in the manner which the bounty is collectable. In answer to frequent inquiries the mode of procedure is given. When a hawk is shot it must be produced before a justice and the bounty is given to the man who killed and brought the hawk to the office. After the justice has paid the sum he is reimbursed by the county at the office of the county treasurer.

Warren's Successor

James Foust, of Altoona, was appointed the successor of Dr. B. H. Warren as Dairy and Food Commissioner. He has had seven years' experience in the department, having had charge of the work outside of Philadelphia for a year under Dr. Warren. Mr. Foust was supported by A. L. Martin was re-appointed Deputy Secretary of Agriculture.

S. S. Convention

A district Sabbath School convention will be held at Centre Hall, May 28th, afternoon and evening. The district is composed of Potter and Gregg townships and Centre Hall borough. A program will be published later. Let all S. S. workers give prayerful thought to this convention, and consider it a personal duty to help make it an interesting, helpful meeting.

Mrs. H. W. KRAMER, Secretary.

The Standard Oil Convictions

The conviction in Chicago of the Standard Oil on 1462 counts waits the decision of the courts above before the verdict is established as law. But the decision, if sustained, clears away the last subtlety of this colossal lawbreaker. Instead of obeying the law, prohibiting rebates and special rates, its managers set out to evade it. The State rate was used to evade the law requiring all rates to be equal. By using this rate for shipments for hundreds of miles, and by paying the interstate rate only on crossing a State frontier, the Standard Oil shipped at 7 1/2 cents when others were paying 19 1/2 cents, and 6 when others paid 18. If the verdict stands, a fine of $29, 240,000 can be levied. If the full fine were imposed it would be none too great a penalty for this flagrant example of multimillionaires and a many-millioned trust which, instead of asking counsel how to obey the law, got advice how to evade it.

LOCALS

Many a fellow hasn't the sand to propose, although he has the dust.

WANTED—A yearling colt. Write, telephone or call at the Reporter office.

Alvin Stump is engaged in hauling cream for the Millinburg Creamery Company.

Bell telephones were installed in the residences of Rev. G. W. McInay and Station Master W. L. Campbell, of Spring Mills.

Station Agent W. F. Bradford and Merchant J. Frank Smith were fishing for trout Monday. They succeeded in capturing twenty-eight and forty-one of the speckled fishes.

With a view of engaging in other business, M. L. Duck, the Spring Mills tinner, has sold his entire outfit to H. I. Brian, of Bellefonte, who moved to that place a short time ago. He is considered a good mechanic and will be able to continue the extensive business built up by Mr. Duck.

HOUSE REVENUE BILLS

Many Measures Imposing Additional Taxes Sent to Senate, where Some Are Likely to Be Defeated by Corporate Interests.

The House last week passed finally the following revenue measures, some of which no doubt will meet their fate in the Senate:

Final passage, 138 to 25, of the Howard bill, levying a tax of three cents a ton on all anthracite coal mined in the state. If approved by the Senate would yield an estimated annual revenue of $2,000,000.

Final passage, 152 to 0, of the Beidleman bill, taxing the real estate of all railroad, street railway, water, gas, telegraph, telephone, electric light, heat and power companies for county, city, borough and all other local purposes.

Final passage, 152 to 1, of the Cressy bill, taxing express companies. Would yield an estimated revenue of $200,000.

Final passage of McClain bills, returning to counties personal property tax and state liquor license tax. Counties thus benefit to the extent of about $1,500,000 annually.

WORK IN THE SENATE

Mr. Miller, of Bedford, presented a bill making it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100 or three months' imprisonment, for making usurious loans on household furniture, sewing machines, musical instruments, jewelry, tools, etc. The bill does not apply to building and loan associations, trust companies and state banks, whose charters permit a charge of interest in excess of six per cent. annually.

The bill giving trolley lines permission to carry express and light freight, passed finally. The measure is now ready for the sanction or veto of the governor.

Rebersburg

Mrs. Polly Royer, an aged widow, is ill at present.

Miss Ethel Harter is spending this week among relatives in Selinsgrove.

Luther Gulsewite, of Harrisburg, visited relatives in town one day last week.

Milfred Garrett moved to near Tyrone, Friday, where he is engaged in farming.

Saturday Ross Mowery bought a fine driving horse from Dr. John Hardenbergh, of Millheim.

Howard Krape is selling buggies, wagons and farm implements for a Bellefonte firm.

Miss Sara Confer, of Greenburr, will be employed in the family of Calvin Weaver during the coming summer.

Some of the farmers who sowed their oats several weeks ago are lamenting over the wintry weather which has prevailed for the past few weeks.

Some of the fruit growers are spraying their fruit trees with a mixture composed of salt, lime and flour of sulfur for the destruction of the San Jose scale.

Eight horses were sold by different farmers in this vicinity, Friday. People all over the state are aware of the fact that Brush Valley is the place to secure fine horses.

After a vacation of a few weeks, the scholars are again wending their way to the school house on the hill, where the primary scholars are instructed by T. A. Auman, while J. A. Wetzel has charge of the intermediate and grammar grades.

Oak Hall

Nathan Dale, of Pleasant Gap, was a visitor at Sunny Hillside, last week. James C. Gilliland attended Presbytery in Altoona last week.

Mrs. Oscar Rishel and Miss Laura Benner spent Friday in Bellefonte.

Daniel Moser, of Baltimore, visited old acquaintances in and about town last week.

J. J. Tressler and son William, transacted business in Bellefonte Tuesday.

Miss Donna Gramley returned home Monday after spending the winter here.

N. J. Rishel is busily engaged in fencing B. E. Stamm's recently purchased property.

Miss Magaret Mothersbaugh, of Boalsburg, was a caller in town Wednesday morning of last week.

Miss Claudia Wieland returned home Thursday after teaching successfully a term of school in Potter township.

Miss Grace Gramley, of Juniata, was an arrival in town Thursday, and will spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. Ross Lowder.

The banks of the streams in this vicinity were thronged with fishermen from State College, Boalsburg and other nearby towns, on Monday.

Farmers Mills

Moses A. Stover and Samuel Wice each bought new cream separators.

Perry Detwiler has purchased a new spring wagon with which to take produce to Burnham.

Orris McCormick, the new landlord at Penna Cave, has been entertaining visitors to the Cave in grand style.

Clayton S. Detwiler and wife, of Philadelphia, visited his parents, at Penna Cave, several days.

With the aid of a horse and a rope Joseph Bitner was raising a telephone pole, Saturday. While thus engaged the rope broke and the pole came down, striking Mr. Bitner. He was knocked senseless and remained unconscious for some time. Dr. Braught was called in to give the sufferer relief.

THE MOON'S VOLCANOES.

Causes of the Gigantic Craters and Great Fissure Eruptions.

It is evident to any one who glances upward at the moon that its volcanoes are on an immensely larger scale than those which stud our globe. One explanation, now abandoned, is that the force of gravitation being there only one-sixth that of the earth the matter expelled from a crater would be spread far more widely, and explosions would be generally on a far more magnificent scale. Professor Pickering quotes this theory only to refute it in some comparisons which he made between the great volcanic region of Hawaii and one of the smaller craters of the moon.

The facts seem to him to be that the larger craters on the moon came into existence when the thin, solid crust covering the molten interior was, owing to the solidification and contraction of the crust, much too small to contain the liquid material. The craters were therefore formed by the lava bursting through the crust and so relieving the pressure. Later, after this relief had been found and the crust had thickened, the interior regions by cooling shrank away from the solid shell, which was now too large and, being insufficiently supported, caved in, permitting the great fissure eruptions which produced the so called lunar seas. These extensive outflows of lava dissolved the original solid shell whenever they came into contact with it, much as they do in the present day in Hawaii. Had the moon been much smaller these eruptions might not have occurred at all, and if the moon had been much larger their relative size would have been greater. Most probably on the earth similar outbursts were greater, and our original gigantic craters were destroyed by the outflow of the earlier archaic rocks which completely submerged and dissolved them.—London Post.

THE CRAFTY WOLF.

Stories of the Man Eating Feats Said to Be True.

A shepherd, upon calling himself St. Croix, was going to find out whether wolves and bears are mangled by the popular stories of their man eating ways. He writes his conclusions for Recreation.

First he tried running down the stories told in newspaper dispatches. Followed in this effort, he turned to the Indians. They knew the gray wolf, having wintered and summered with him. Had they ever known of an Indian being killed by one? No, no, but Mangan was very crafty and very much to be dreaded.

Quite so. But, once for all, had he ever to their knowledge killed a man? No, but they had heard—So it went—always the same intangible, unconfirmed rumor and the same absence of proof.

"Now for a few facts as to the wolf," writes St. Croix. "He can go eight days without food and can then eat forty pounds of meat at a sitting, so the Indians say. This is pretty fair for an animal weighing but eighty pounds. Yet we do not know the length of the sitting.

"The wolf will not venture on glare ice; he never crosses a lake until there is enough snow to hide the ice. To wetting his feet he is as averse as the domestic cat. He will not kill his game in the shelter of the forest, always driving it into some open place for the kill.

"When chasing a deer, he goes at a leisurely pace, sitting down at intervals to give the most dolorous and bloodcurdling howls. This drives the poor victim into a wild gallop and soon exhausts it, and as the wolf never tires he is sure sooner or later to catch up with the quarry.

"In winter the deer often makes for some wild rapid, into which it plunges, knowing that the wolf will not follow. Too often the deer drowns, but better such a death than one by the fangs.

"In summer a couple of wolves will secure all the deer they need by very simple tactics. Having put up the quarry, one wolf drives it by easy stages to some little lake—I speak now of the Laurentian country—and on reaching the shore the deer plunges unhesitatingly in, for its instinct tells it the enemy will not dare to follow.

"So on it swims, while the pursuer sits on his haunches and howls dully, no doubt because he sees his dinner escaping. At length the tired deer drags itself wearily from the water and shakes the drops from its coat on the sun warmed strand. Then the companion wolf, which has waylaid its coming, springs at its throat, and when the first wolf joins him they have a gorge that makes them independent of fate for a while week."

THE ESKIMO BABY.

How the Little One is Carried and Cared For by the Mother.

The arrival in the world of the youthful Eskimo is not greeted by the orthodox cradle and swaddling clothes. Practically till he can shift for himself he lives absolutely naked inside his mother's sealskin blouse, skin to skin keeping him warm.

This arrangement allows the mother to go about her work almost immediately, and she can also travel and hunt without a perambulator and without having to leave any one at home to "mind" the baby. The mother's dress is almost exactly like the father's, except that it has a long sort of tail reaching nearly to the ground, embryo, no doubt, of the modern "train."

Spared the miseries of soap and water and early weaned to the readily swallowed diet of blubber and raw seal meat, the infant rapidly develops that invaluable layer of subcutaneous fat which, while it enhances the "jolly" appearance of the lads and the shapeliness of the maidens, assists materially in economy in clothing.

Thus in their frigid clime, once in their skin tent, the whole family will divest themselves of every stitch of clothing, unembarrassed by the fact that so many families share the tent with them. Sociability is early developed when one's next door neighbor on each side is only separated by an imaginary line between the deerskin you sleep on and the one he uses. The winter deerskin serves as bed and bedding at night and as parlor furniture during the day. Community of goods is almost imperative under this arrangement. Thus when one kills a seal all are fed, and likewise when he doesn't all go hungry together.—American Missionary.

Magnetic Mediums

"You've got a pretty bad headache, sir, haven't you?" asked the barber, giving a dry shampoo.

"That's just what's bothering me," replied the man in the chair. "But how did you know?"

"Told it by my wrists and hands," explained the barber. "You and I are what they call magnetic mediums. And the electricity in my fingers takes the pain out of your head. But I get it. That's why I know. My hands are aching now. I don't often strike a customer like you, however, or I'd have to go out of business. I'll bet my arms ache for a half hour after you're gone."—New York Post.

Very Imposing

"How was it Dr. Knowit got such a big fee from Talkative?"

"Because when he was called to attend Mrs. Talkative for a slight nervous trouble he told her she had an acute attack of inflammatory verbosity."

"Well?"

"And recommended absolute quiet as the only means of averting paroxysms of cacathous loquendi. She's scared dumb."—Baltimore American.

An Accomplished Youth

"Well, Freddie, I suppose you have learned to read by this time?"

"Yes," said Freddie.

"Words of one syllable, eh?"

"Not yet, sir," said Freddie, "but I can read words of one letter with my left eye."

A Hard Lesson

Bobby's Uncle—Well, Bobby, what are you learning in school? Bobby—I'm learnin' what a chump I was for ever startin' in.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Remember this—that a very little is needed to make a happy life.—Marcus Aurelius.

The hour which gives us life begins to take it away.—Seneca.

The kodak girl has taking ways.

THE CRAFTY WOLF.

Stories of the Man Eating Feats Said to Be True.

A shepherd, upon calling himself St. Croix, was going to find out whether wolves and bears are mangled by the popular stories of their man eating ways. He writes his conclusions for Recreation.

First he tried running down the stories told in newspaper dispatches. Followed in this effort, he turned to the Indians. They knew the gray wolf, having wintered and summered with him. Had they ever known of an Indian being killed by one? No, no, but Mangan was very crafty and very much to be dreaded.

Quite so. But, once for all, had he ever to their knowledge killed a man? No, but they had heard—So it went—always the same intangible, unconfirmed rumor and the same absence of proof.

"Now for a few facts as to the wolf," writes St. Croix. "He can go eight days without food and can then eat forty pounds of meat at a sitting, so the Indians say. This is pretty fair for an animal weighing but eighty pounds. Yet we do not know the length of the sitting.

"The wolf will not venture on glare ice; he never crosses a lake until there is enough snow to hide the ice. To wetting his feet he is as averse as the domestic cat. He will not kill his game in the shelter of the forest, always driving it into some open place for the kill.

"When chasing a deer, he goes at a leisurely pace, sitting down at intervals to give the most dolorous and bloodcurdling howls. This drives the poor victim into a wild gallop and soon exhausts it, and as the wolf never tires he is sure sooner or later to catch up with the quarry.

"In winter the deer often makes for some wild rapid, into which it plunges, knowing that the wolf will not follow. Too often the deer drowns, but better such a death than one by the fangs.

"In summer a couple of wolves will secure all the deer they need by very simple tactics. Having put up the quarry, one wolf drives it by easy stages to some little lake—I speak now of the Laurentian country—and on reaching the shore the deer plunges unhesitatingly in, for its instinct tells it the enemy will not dare to follow.

"So on it swims, while the pursuer sits on his haunches and howls dully, no doubt because he sees his dinner escaping. At length the tired deer drags itself wearily from the water and shakes the drops from its coat on the sun warmed strand. Then the companion wolf, which has waylaid its coming, springs at its throat, and when the first wolf joins him they have a gorge that makes them independent of fate for a while week."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

There is a little wolf and a little rabbit in every man.

One way to be unhappy is to envy the happiness of others.

A lucky man always points with pride to his good judgment.

How many things there are in a grocery store you never will call for!

If you want to oblige a friend, do something for him his way instead of your own way.

A great many people see themselves as others see them, but they don't believe what they see.

Ever occur to you that many of your sorrows are silly sorrows—that is, sorrows that are not important?

Education is a great thing, no doubt, but the best housekeepers didn't get their knowledge out of books.—Aitchison Globe.

The Impression He Gave

His honor Judge Willis, on one occasion going home in an omnibus which landed him at an inn known as the Green Man, as usual passed the time in friendly discourse with the passengers. To one housewife who had been marketing he remarked that, owing to free trade, she was enabled to buy much more for her money than if she lived in a tariff country. To others he talked freely and dispensed counsel and advice indiscriminately. Arrived at his destination, he intimated to the conductor, "I want to get out at the Green Man." Accordingly the omnibus slowed down, but as he was leaving his seat a lady touched him on the sleeve and earnestly inquired, "My good man, don't you think you've had enough?"—London Tri-Bits.

"Old Hundredth."

"Old Hundredth" has been variously ascribed to Martin Luther, Dr. John Dowland and William Franck. Dr. Lowell Mason wrote quite a treatise on the old tune in 1852, saying emphatically that it was written by Guillaume (William) Franck in 1543. But later musical historians and antiquarians who have investigated more closely say it was composed by Louis Bourgeois, born about 1500 and died about 1572—some say in the massacre of St. Bartholomew, in 1551-52.—Musical Million.

Time's Changes

"You," said she as she came down the stairs leisurely pulling on her gloves—"you used to say I was worth my weight in gold."

"Well, what if I did?" he asked, looking at his watch for the third time in fifteen minutes.

"And now you don't think I'm worth a wait of two minutes."

They Go Together

"Any bottles? Any rags?"

"Queer combination you deal in, my friend."

"Not so queer. People as has bottles generally has rags."—Washington Herald.

Subscribe for the Reporter.

EUREKA

Yes, I Have Found it at Last. Found what? Why that Chamberlain's Salve cures eczema and all manner of itching of the skin. I have been afflicted for many years with this disease. I had to get up three or four times every night and wash with cold water to allay the terrible itching, but since using this salve in December 1905, the itching has stopped and has not troubled me since. Elder John T. Ougley Rootville, Pa. For sale by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Pottery Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

Attention!

A full line of Ladies' Underwear in muslin and cambric. Skirts trimmed in lace and embroidery. Corset Covers, Night Gowns.

Also a special line of Embroidery in Swiss, Nainsook and Muslin. Lace and Insertions.

Insertions for Waists and Skirt fronts. Call and see.

H. F. ROSSMAN SPRING MILLS, PA.

OUR SPRING LINE OF GOODS ARE ON OUR SHELVES FOR YOUR INSPECTION. CALL AND SEE.

C. A. KRAPE

Spring Mills, Pa.

Wanted

Lard, Side Meat, Onions, Chickens, Fresh Eggs.

Highest Cash prices paid for same delivered to Creamery.

Howard Creamery Corp. CENTRE HALL, PA.

PIANOS and ORGANS...

The LESTER Piano is a strictly high grade instrument endorsed by the New England Conservatory Boston, Mass., Broad Street Conservatory, Philadelphia, as being unsurpassed for tone, touch and finish.

The "Stevens" Reed-Pipe Piano Organ is the newest thing on the market.

We are also headquarters for the "White" Sewing Machine.

Terms to suit the buyer. Ask for catalogue and prices.

C. E. ZEIGLER SPRING MILLS, PA.

S. H. KNEPLEY, Blacksmith and Wood Worker...

Attention is here called to the fact that I have located opposite the School House and am prepared to do...

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING & WOOD WORK.

Special attention given to Resetting Tire AND Rimming Wheels—

Satisfactory work is guaranteed. Call to see me.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Sons of Swamp-Root Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER. NERVOUSNESS.

Nervousness makes people miserable, blue, and unhappy. They think something terrible is going to happen. At night they toss and worry and are not rested. They tire easily and haven't much energy. They think many things are the matter with them—Consumption, Kidney trouble, or twenty other diseases. It's just stomach trouble, nothing else in the world. Two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery will put the stomach in shape in three weeks. I know this because I've seen it tried a thousand times. Then all nervousness will disappear. I know this too, because I've seen it happen a thousand times. Here's a letter I got the other day:

"My system was badly run down and my stomach and nerves in an awful shape. I could not digest my food, was always tired and would often feel faint and dizzy."

"I had heard so much of your New Discovery medicine that I began taking it. Relief and strength and happiness were found in the very first bottle and the benefit I have received from it has been truly wonderful. I am no longer nervous, my appetite and digestion are good and I eat everything and sleep well." Mrs. W. J. Schauer, 220 Guthrie St., Louisville, Ky.

We sell Cooper's New Discovery. It makes tired, worn out, nervous people happy.

J. D. MURRAY, Druggist Centre Hall, Pa.

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Pottery Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

The magician shouldn't be satisfied to be up to his old tricks.

Some people are so stingy that they even begrudge the time they spend.

It doesn't always follow that a man with a full beard won't tell a barefaced lie.