

MAIL POUCH FOUND

By Millie Moyer, Along the Creek Above Potters Mills—Private Papers Not Destroyed.

The mail pouch and private papers of Postmaster G. M. Boal, carried away at the time of the robbery of the Centre Hall post office on Easter morning, were found along the creek above Potters Mills, near the burned improvements of Veteran J. B. Harper. The sack was not hidden, but simply thrown where it would not easily be observed.

The discovery was first made Tuesday afternoon by Ammon Bubb, who for some reason hesitated to disturb the property of Uncle Sam. The attention of his fellow-fisherman, Millie Moyer, of Potters Mills, was called to the find. The latter took the property in charge and telephoned the Centre Reporter to notify Mr. Boal.

The finding of the mail pouch at this point confirms the belief that it was "Deaf Tom" who extracted the kernel from the post office safe, and that the half-dozen or more tramps in this neighborhood previous to the robbery were all under one yegman leader, and that Ripka's improvement was the point selected for meeting after the robbery, and the place where the participants gloated over their successful raid.

"Deaf Tom" was seen one or more times in the mountains on roads leading to and from this point. He and his pals eluded the sheriff of Millin county, and finally emerged from the mountains at a convenient point at Sober Station, took the train for Lewisburg, and a day or two later the safe in the railroad station at that place was cracked.

The two men—Billy White and Paddy Ryan—now in jail awaiting trial for participating in this robbery, undoubtedly have a criminal knowledge of the looting, if they did not have an active part in it. These men were heading for the Ripka improvement, having asked the way there, and when taken in charge by Sheriff Kline had already traveled six or seven miles in that direction from the place where they claimed to have slept in a barn Saturday night.

But where is "Deaf Tom," the whiskered umbrella mender?

Dr. Youndt Dead.

The funeral of Rev. Thomass M. Youndt, of Reading, was held Tuesday. Dr. Youndt was superintendent of the Womelsdorf Orphan's Home, and the Board of Home Missions. He was prominent in many ways in the work of the Reformed church.

LOCALS.

It is possible to toe the mark without being well heeled.

Notice to the ash pile: Ellmore will get you, if you don't watch out!

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Strunk came back from Karlsruhe, the latter part of last week.

Heavy rain Tuesday evening and night. Wednesday morning bright and clear.

Herbert Goodhart, of Potters Mills, spent a few days with his cousin, Ross Bushman, in this place.

The Colyer branch of the Patrons Rural Telephone Company began stringing its wires Wednesday. They constructed their line in short order.

Rev. C. H. Brosius, of Grace Lutheran Church, Sunbury, tendered his resignation Sunday, and will go to Liberia, Africa, as the successor of the late Dr. Day.

After being the guest of Miss Alice Robinson, in Centre Hall, for ten days or more, Miss Virna Renick went to Philadelphia to accept a position with an insurance investigating concern. She will travel most of the time.

Miss Sarah J. Emerick, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Emerick, of Walker township, died after several months' illness of tuberculosis. She was born October 18th, 1870, thus being thirty-six years, five months and twenty-one days old. The remains were taken to Snyderstown for interment.

Mrs. Joseph Ferguson, for many years a resident of Phillipsburg, died in a Philadelphia hospital where she had gone for treatment. She was aged sixty-six years, and was born in Bald Eagle Valley. She was the daughter of Frederick Senner, deceased. Her husband died some years ago, but two children survive.

Among the callers Wednesday morning was Jacob F. Bitner, who is now boss over a gang of men in Carnegie's Duquesne steel works. He returned to Duquesne Wednesday, after having spent several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Bitner, at Farmers Mills. He is much pleased with his work, and thinks Uncle Andy's works just the place.

I. O. O. F. ANNIVERSARY.

Everything in Readiness for the Meeting in Lock Haven Friday.

The arrangements are complete for the Odd Fellows' anniversary celebration to be held Friday, at Lock Haven. The first anniversary of this association was held in Lock Haven in 1885, and it is proposed to celebrate this anniversary with more than ordinary interest. The exercises will include a business meeting in the morning, parade in the afternoon and special session of the grand lodge in the evening for the conferring of degrees.

Grand Master George H. Barnes, Deputy Grand Master H. H. Hart, Grand Secretary Joseph H. Mackey and other notable Odd Fellows will perform the secret work. The fourth regiment of the Second Brigade Patriarchs Militant, Colonel William H. Kiese, commanding, will act as special escort, and Deputy Grand Master Rev. H. H. Hart will deliver the anniversary address.

DEATHS.

ELIAS FETTEROLF.

Elias Fetterolf died at his home in Madisonburg Friday morning from ailments principally due to advanced age. Interment was made at Spring Mills Tuesday. Rev. Bixler and Rev. Rearick had charge of the funeral services. All local ministers were present.

Surviving the deceased is his second wife, nee Miss Elizabeth Shafter, and the following children: Mary E., wife of George B. Crawford, Freeport, Illinois; Sarah, wife of Prof. P. H. Meyer, Centre Hall; Elizabeth, wife of Joseph Bitner, Farmers Mills; Rev. R. Foster Fetterolf, Selinsgrove; Bertha, wife of Chas. A. Krape, Spring Mills.

For many years Mr. Fetterolf was a resident of Gregg township, where he conducted farming operations. He was a man highly regarded by all who knew him, and was a devoted member of the Lutheran church during the whole of his life. Eight years ago he moved from Spring Mills to Madisonburg.

The first wife of Mr. Fetterolf, whose maiden name was Wiand and the mother of the children named above, died 1896. The family was originally from Snyder county.

Seventy-six years, six months and sixteen days was the age of the deceased.

JAMES WILSON MOORE.

James Wilson Moore died at Missoula, Montana, Thursday, April 4th. He was injured by a fall about a month previous, from which an abscess formed. He was removed to a hospital, and after an operation passed away. Mr. Moore was born in Milesburg, this county, December, 1841. His wife, Miss Catharine Harpster, a daughter of Jacob Harpster, of Centre Hall, deceased, survives him; also a sister, Mrs. David J. Beale, of Philadelphia, and several nephews and nieces, among them being Howard Moore and Mrs. Abe Weber, of Howard. Early in life Mr. Moore went west, first locating at Sioux City, Iowa. From there he went to Montana in May 1865. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, having served in the 3rd regiment of artillery, and the 152nd Pa. Volunteers, entering the service in October, 1862, and receiving his discharge in July, 1865.

At the time of his death Mrs. Moore was on a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, having accompanied an invalid lady. She returned at once for the funeral.

ZANE BLAND GRAY.

Friday morning Zane Bland Gray died at his home in Tyrone. He was a native of Centre county having been born in Half Moon Valley. He was sixty-six years of age. In 1867 he was united in marriage to Miss Rachael Amanda Waddle. He was a life long member of the Methodist Episcopal church, also a member of the Tyrone Lodge No. 494 Free and Accepted Masons, and a member of the Williamsport Consistory A. A. S. R. The funeral occurred Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Interment at Tyrone.

STEPHEN LOBAUGH.

Wednesday afternoon the remains of Stephen Lobough were interred at Centre Hall, death having resulted from a paralytic stroke Monday afternoon at his home in Williamsport. His age was about fifty years.

The deceased was a native of Perry county, and was a printer by trade, having at various times been employed by most printing offices in this county. For several years he lived in Centre Hall. He was married to Miss Birdie Willow, who with one son, John, survives.

PETER FRANCIS MCGOVERN.

In attempting to jump a freight train at Butler, Peter Francis McGovern was thrown under the wheels and so badly injured that he died shortly thereafter. He was eighteen years old, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McGovern, of Bellefonte. Interment was made at that place beginning of this week.

Alonzo McEwen died at Irvons, aged sixty years. He was born at Unionville, and spent his early life in this county. He served throughout the civil war, making his enlistment from this county.

LAMARTINE'S PRESENT.

How the French Author Got a Big Price For a Little Poem.

Francols Buloz, the founder and editor of the famous French journal, La Revue des Deux Mondes, was by no means celebrated for his generosity to contributors. One day shortly after the publication of Lamartine's "Les Girondins," and while the literary world was ringing with the fame of its great author, Buloz called on him and asked him to write an article for his magazine. Lamartine consented, but stated that he could not have it ready for some weeks.

Buloz, fearing that this was only an excuse and that he would never get the article, offered Lamartine an advance. It so happened that the author was in need of 4,000 francs at that time, and he so informed the editor, who at once handed over the money. Three months later he called Lamartine's attention to the fact that the contribution had not yet been received. It was toward the end of 1847, and the great author was devoting his entire time to politics.

"While you are waiting for this article would you care for a little poem I have here?" he asked Buloz.

He enthusiastically replied in the affirmative.

Months later, when Lamartine had become minister of foreign affairs, Buloz again called upon him to remind him of the promised contribution.

"But you see my position," answered the minister, "how busy I am!"

Buloz frowned.

"But, citizen minister, a certain amount of money was advanced, and the interests of my magazine do not permit me to—"

"How much was it?"

"Four thousand francs."

Lamartine took this amount of money from the drawer and laid it upon his desk.

The editor, however, looked somewhat embarrassed.

"Well, what more can I do for you? You have your money."

"The fact is, I owe you for a small poem."

"Oh, that's not worth mentioning! I'll make you a present of it."

Buloz drew himself up haughtily.

"Citizen minister, La Revue des Deux Mondes does not accept presents. How much do I owe you?"

"Oh, well, if you insist," answered Lamartine dryly as he took up the 4,000 francs and replaced them in his drawer, "we will call it square!"

ODD CUSTOMS.

Every house must be decked with flowers on New Year's day in Japan.

In Buenos Ayres the police alone have the right of whistling on the streets. Any other person whistling is at once arrested.

In Ashanti many families are forbidden the use of certain meats. In like manner others are forbidden to wear clothes of a certain color.

If a carriage upsets or injures another carriage in the streets of St. Petersburg or if a person is knocked down, the horses of the offending vehicle are seized and confiscated to the use of the fire brigade.

It is the practice of the Ashantees and Fantees to bury one-third of the property of a dead man, converted into gold dust, under his head, and ridding the grave of an enemy is considered the proper action for a warrior.

Clapping the hands in various ways is the polite method in central Africa of saying "Allow me," "I beg pardon," "Permit me to pass" and "Thanks." It is resorted to in respectful introduction and leave taking.

Doves and Religion.

"One thing I remarked and think worthy of notice is that ever since Noah's dove every religion seems to consider the pigeon as a sacred bird. For example, every mosque swarms with pigeons, and the same exists in most Italian market places. The Hindoo pundits and the old Assyrian empire also have them, while Catholics make it the emblem of the Holy Ghost."

Lady Burton in her account of the Mohammedan mystery play of "Hasan and Hosseln" says:

"Then comes the bier with Hosseln's corpse and his son sitting upon it sorrowing and embracing him and a beautiful white dove in the corner whose wings are dabbled with blood. The effect upon the excited crowd is awful."—"Life of Sir Richard F. Burton."

Where He Worshipped.

As the new minister of the village was on his way to evening service he met a rising young man of the place whom he was anxious to have become an active member of the church.

"Good evening, my young friend," he said solemnly. "Do you ever attend a place of worship?"

"Yes, indeed, sir, regularly every Sunday night," replied the young fellow, with a smile. "I'm on my way to see her now."—"Ladies' Home Journal."

Cured of Rheumatism.

Mr. Wm. Henry, of Chantanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism try a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords. For sale by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.
