Pasture for Cattle.

Good fenced pastorage, water and salt, for cattle. Apply to EDWARD LUCAS, Boal Estate, Boalsburg, Pa.

Was She a Detective?

A bit of gossip is afloat. It is to the effect that the very attentive Miss Reark was in the employment of a Philadelphia detective agency while in Centre Hall, and that while she was most tenderly attending to the wants of Mrs. From under the guise of a nurse, she was really searching for evidence against her husband to convict him of the murder of Mr. Dale. The young lady certainly worked herself into the graces of those in the From home without a particle of suspicion.

Rebersburg.

Mrs. Samuel Schaffer is critically ill at this writing with no hopes for her recovery.

Wm. Bair has the carpenters engaged at building a new stable.

L. B. Frank quite recently had the old weather-boarding torn off of his house and new put on. Next the painters will give the finishing touch.

This week a new roof was put on the Reformed church at this place. Some remodeling will also be done to the interior of the building.

Misses Maggie Baney and Lulu Stover, two young ladies from Millheim, were guests of Miss Amy Stover, Saturday and Sunday.

Sunday the remains of Mrs. Lavina Bierly, widow of the late Wm. Bierly, deceased, were brought to this place and interred in the Union cemetery, Rev. Bixler officiating. The lady had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Stiver, at Mill Hall, at which place death occurred.

Edgar and Kline Schaffer, of Hanover, were called home on account of the serious illness of their mother.

Jefferson Smull and son Roy, of Mackeyville, were in town Sunday to attend the funeral of the former's sister.

Charles Heckman and wife, of Clintondale, spent Sunday among relatives at this place.

Little Dese Morris, granddaughter of J. C. Morris, while playing with corn the other day, put a grain in her nose. Dr. Bright was at once called in, but he has so far been unable to remove the grain and serious results are anticipated.

Charles Bartges, the jeweler, is doing very satisfactory work in his line, having demonstrated his efficiency in repairing clocks.

Reuben Bierly is ill, being confined to the house.

The medicine man and his wife left on Monday for Madisonburg. The people of this vicinity became quite interested in the voting contest. The following articles were chanced off during the week: A pearl pen holder with gold pen, to Miss Clara Eckert; a hollow ground razor, to Samuel Winters; a set of silver knives and forks, table and tea-spoons, to Mrs. Wm. Eckert; a baby ring, to little Wm. Hackman.

Spring Mills.

John Hagen and his entire force of workmen have started the erection of Merchant John Rishel's new store room.

Dr. H. S. Braucht and W. O. Gramley attended the twenty-third annual meeting of the Penn'a Odd Fellows Association, held in Lock Haven, Friday.

Rev. B. R. M. Sheeder, wife and daughter, Miss Bertha, were Spring Mills visitors on Saturday.

Communion services were observed in the Lutheran church at Penn Hall Sunday morning, and the M. E. church in town in the evening.

Chas. Sechrist, of Millheim, has accepted the position of assistant miller in Allison Brothers mill.

Wm. Meyer, who recently opened a meat market here, is doing a very satisfactory business.

Merchant C. P. Long is sporting a new horse which he bought from James Leitzell.

S. L. Condo, representative for the Millinburg Buggy Company, Monday made a business trip to Millinburg.

Candles are not the only things sold at light weight.

Free speech may simply demonstrate cheap talk.

DEATHS.

JOHN H. BIBBY.

John H. Bibby, for ten years proprietor of the Hotel Haag, Milton, and one of the best known hotel men in Central Pennsylvania, died in his apartments in that hostelry Sunday morning. About ten o'clock Saturday night Mr. Bibby suffered a paralytic stroke, from the effects of which he died six hours later. He was in the seventieth year of his age and is survived by his wife and five children, two sons, Harry and Robert, and three daughters, Mrs. Edward Van Allen, of Northumberland; Mrs. Frank E. Patterson, Philadelphia; and Miss Sara, at home. His funeral took place Wednesday morning. Services were held by Rev. Reagle, of St. John's Reformed church; Rev. Dr. Kieffer, of the Presbyterian church, and Dr. Grant, of Northumberland. The remains were taken to Northumberland where interment was made.

John Henry Bibby was born at Lakeville, Maryland October 26, 1837. He served in the Union army during the Civil War for four years and six months, in the quartermaster's department. Since the close of the war he has been engaged in the hotel business in a number of Central Pennsylvania towns, one of which was Spring Mills where he conducted the hotel that bore his name during the eighties, and was well known to the traveling public. He was member of the Order of the Knights of Malta and the Knights of Pythias.

MRS. CAROLINE SPIECE.

The death of Mrs. Caroline Spiece, widow of William Spiece, occurred at her home in Columbus, Nebraska.

During their early married life Mr. and Mrs. Spiece lived in Boalsburg where two children, William and Mary, were born to them. Both died before they reached their teens and are buried in Boalsburg. Mr. Spiece was a tailor, and upon moving west, about thirty-five years ago, continued to follow his trade. In the course of time his hearing became defective, and as he was going to his work one morning about five years ago, he was struck by a railway train and almost instantly killed. Mrs. Spiece was left with a good home and sufficient finances, and since her husband's death had been living alone.

One day several weeks ago Mrs. Spiece's neighbors missed her and became alarmed. A search was made of the house and she was finally found lying on the floor of the cellar. Her neck was broken and she had been bleeding from her nose and mouth. From all appearances she had been dead for several days. She had evidently been in quest of nails as she had a handful when found.

Mrs. Spiece was aged seventy-seven years, and was an aunt of Mrs. M. A. Woods, of Boalsburg, whom she visited during the summer and fall of 1905.

T. B. ARDELL.

T. B. Ardell, a well known citizen of Julian, died Thursday night of last week. He was found dead in bed. He is a brother of the late John Ardell, of Bellefonte. A few months ago he was married to Mrs. Margaret Brachbill, of Bellefonte.

Aaronsburg.

Prof. Henry Krape, who spent the winter months in Ohio, returned to his home Friday.

Dr. John Bowersox and wife moved into the house formerly occupied by the doctor's parents.

Mrs. William Reaker and mother-in-law, of Millinburg, visited at the home of Wilmer Stover, a few days last week.

Mrs. Clarke Snyder, of Bellefonte, spent a few days at the home of her grandmother in this place.

Prof. R. U. Wasson and family have moved into the home owned by John Haines.

Thos. Harter and wife and Charles Mensch and wife, of Bellefonte, came down in their auto Sunday and took dinner at the home of Lewis Mensch.

Mrs. Maggie Bitner and son, of Spring Mills, are visiting the former's sister, Miss Alice Bright, in this place.

Messrs. Fred Limbert and Thomas Weaver have had cement walks made in their back yards which is quite an improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hosterman, Coburn, spent the Sabbath at the home of John Haines.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Roland Curry, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by

Many a dark secret never comes to light.

Harris Township.

James A. Keller and his grandsons, James and Harold, of near Centre Hall, spent Tuesday in Boalsburg.

John Everhart and son Ben, of near Franklinville, were in Boalsburg Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Linn Woomer and child, of State College, spent Sunday with Mrs. Woomer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller.

Visitors from State College Sunday were Miss Margaret Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. John Baumgardner, and Samuel Kimpfort and family.

Mrs. Margaret Grove, of Pine Grove Mills, is spending some time at the home of Edward Lucas, being called there by the advent of a daughter.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lowder, of Oak Hall, was interred in the cemetery at Boalsburg on Monday.

Miss Edwina Wieland, of Linden Hall, is one of the juveniles attending school in Boalsburg, and is a guest at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Katharine Wieland.

Mrs. David Reed and Miss Sarah Reed, of Pine Grove Mills, Sunday visited Mrs. James Reed, who has been ill for quite a long time from a general breakdown of her system.

Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Kidder and daughter Mary attended the funeral of Mrs. Kidder's cousin, Edward Cronover, who died at Conneville and was buried at Manor Hill, Huntingdon county, Saturday.

J. M. Wieland and his little son Boyd, who has such a liking for farm work, made a trip to Sinking Valley last week, where the little lad will remain for the summer with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, to help at the farming.

Sanford Wilson, the father of Mrs. J. Durner, and who is engaged at cutting chemical wood at the lumber tract on Nittany Mountain, walked across the mountain, on Tuesday, to his home in Stone Valley, to attend to some necessary work there.

The farm generally known as the Joseph Meyer farm, located in the eastern part of this township, was purchased at private sale by Dr. L. E. Kidder for $7500, the price being about half what the property was valued at the time of Mr. Meyer's death. The land is in good condition, but the buildings need repairing.

Michael Woomer and sons, of State College and the Reed brothers, of Pine Grove Mills, did some fine mason work in Boalsburg during the last few weeks, at the Odd Fellows' building and the store home occupied by Harrison and Ishler, and also at the home of Mrs. L. Mothersbaugh, formerly the property of her father, David Keller, deceased.

Miss Gertrude Wieland was elected as a delegate to the National Assembly of Rebekahs, to be held at Reading the third week in May. Clyde Wieland will represent the Boalsburg Lodge at the National Convention of Odd Fellows, to meet at the same time and place. Both these meetings will open Tuesday evening, May 21st, and continue four days.

Prof. Pattee, wife and daughter, of State College, spent Sunday in Boalsburg. Mr. Pattee is president of the District Sunday School Convention comprising Ferguson and Harris townships. In the forenoon he addressed the Lutheran S. S. and in the afternoon the Reformed. They all took part in the study of the lesson. In his address he laid particular stress on the importance of bringing the little children to the Sunday school so that the truths of the gospel may be instilled into their minds at an early age. The family remained for the service in the auditorium which they greatly enjoyed, being especially pleased with the music. Mr. Pattee announced a district convention to be held in the Reformed church Tuesday, May 28, afternoon and evening. All S. S. workers are invited, as well as all others who should be in the S. S.

Plum Grove.

The farmers are busy now sowing oats and barley.

Mrs. P. H. Durst is very ill at this writing, and her daughter, Mrs. George Condo, of Jeanette, is at her bedside.

Miss Izora Rupp, of Oak Hall, spent last week at the home of H. E. Homan.

Dr. H. S. Braucht, of Spring Mills, was in this vicinity beginning of this week.

Frank McFarlane, of Boalsburg, transacted business in town Saturday.

Miss Mary Ethers and brother Earl spent Sunday with friends at Lemont.

George Roun, of Lemont, was in town Saturday.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lowder died Monday morning and was buried at Boalsburg Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

DIVIDES THE WORLD.

The Line That Marks Where Day Begins and Ends.

IT TRAVERSES THE PACIFIC.

The Way This Important Boundary Came to Be Established—Spots Where Today, Tomorrow and Yesterday Are Still a Confused Jumble.

It is evident that the day must begin somewhere, though it is a confusing thing to undertake to determine just where, for one may go on and on around the world and never catch up with it. On the other hand, if we are not careful in reasoning we will reach the absurd conclusion that it is Monday noon and Tuesday noon at the same time in any given place.

A writer in the St. James' Gazette treats this peculiar phase of the subject in a very definite way.

Seeing that as one moves westward the time gets earlier and earlier, so that when it is Monday noon in London it is some time on Monday morning in America, it follows that, if this principle were continued without limit halfway round the world, at the same moment that it was Monday noon in London it would be also twenty-four hours later—that is, Tuesday noon—in London. As this is reductio ad absurdum, we have to look for the limit, which does, in fact, exist, on the principle that as one moves westward the time gets earlier and as one moves eastward it gets later.

Before the circumnavigation of the globe there was no difficulty. When on a Monday the sun stood over London it was Monday noon in London. As the sun moved (to use the popular phrase) westward and stood a little later over Dublin it became Monday noon in Dublin, and so on until it reached the western limit of the known world.

When the sun passed over that limit, that was the end of noon for that Monday, and nobody knew what the sun was doing until he reappeared on the eastern limit of the known world, bringing with him Tuesday morning.

It is evident, therefore, that while the sun was in the unknown abyss between west and east he dropped the attribute of making the time at all places directly under his rays Monday noon and took to himself the attribute of making it Tuesday noon.

As the confines of the world were pushed farther eastward and westward, respectively, the unknown abyss where this change of attribute had to be made got narrower and narrower until, when the globe was circumnavigated, the place of change became simply a line.

This line exists and is the place where the days begin. As the sun crosses this remarkable spot the time jumps twenty-four hours onward—from noon one day to noon on the next day. The situation of the line has been located quite fortuitously—namely, by the circumstance whether any given place was first reached by civilized man journeying from the east or from the west.

The discoverer brought with him the almanac from whence he came, and if he came from the west the time in the new country would be later, and if he came from the east it would be earlier than the time in the country he came from.

America was reached by civilized man voyaging westward and China by man traveling eastward, and the result is that the line that marks where the days begin lies between these two in the Pacific ocean and, instead of being a straight line, zigzags about, dividing islands which happened to be discovered from the east from those which happened to be discovered from the west.

There must still be many islands in that ocean where it is not yet decided to which side of the line they belong and where, if one were put down, one would not know whether it were today, tomorrow or yesterday.

There must also be many islands there which, never having been permanently occupied by civilized people, change their day from time to time, so that a ship calling there coming from China might arrive on Tuesday, while another ship calling at the same time from America would arrive on Monday. There must be people living so near this line that by going a few miles they can leave today and get into tomorrow or, by going back, can find yesterday.

Jamaica's Green Turtles.

An official of Jamaica in a report on turtle fishing, which is the chief industry of the Cayman Islands, says that green turtles display an extraordinary sense of locality. It has happened more than once that turtles marked with the initials of their captors have escaped from their crawls in Grand Cayman and within three months have been recaptured at the fishing ground, a distance of over 300 miles. The last instance of this was when a crawl was cut down and 200 turtles escaped. Within three months thirty of them were caught by different fishing boats off the Nicaraguan coast.

An Imaginary Trip.

He—So Belle and Tom are not going on a wedding trip after all? She—No. You see, the fat they've taken is so near the size of a Pullman car that they decided they could be just as uncomfortable without the extra bother of riding in one.—Boston Transcript.

Sore Nipples.

Any mother who has had experience with this distressing ailment will be pleased to know that a cure may be effected by applying Chamberlain's Salve as soon as the child is done nursing. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the babe to nurse. Many trained nurses use this salve with best results.
