

HER SUFFERINGS ARE AT AN END

Mrs. McKinley Sinks Into The Eternal Sleep.

THE FUNERAL HELD WEDNESDAY.

President Roosevelt and Other Officials to Attend Last Rites—Last Hours of One of America's Noblest of Women—Secretary Cortelyou and Members of the Family at the Old Canton Home.

MRS. MCKINLEY'S LIFE.

Born at Canton, O., August 8, 1847.
Daughter of James A. Saxton, banker, who died 1887.
Was cashier of the Stark County Bank, of which her father was president.
First met William McKinley while she was a teacher in the Presbyterian Sunday School at Canton, of which he was the superintendent.
Married William McKinley January 25, 1871, in the Presbyterian Church, Canton.
Mother of two children, Kate born Christmas day, 1872, died June, 1876; Ida, who lived only five months.
From 1877, when Major McKinley first took his seat in Congress, for 14 years she and her husband spent most of their time in Washington.
Was mistress of the White House from March 4, 1897, when her husband was inaugurated president until he died in September, 1901.
Died at Canton, O., May 26, 1907.

Canton, O. (Special).—At 1.05 o'clock Sunday afternoon Mrs. William McKinley fell into the sleep that knows no waking. The transition from life to death was so peaceful and gradual that it was with difficulty that the vigilant physicians and attendants noted when dissolution came.

There was no struggle—no pain. Mrs. McKinley never knew of the efforts made for days to prolong her life, nor of the solicitous hope against hope of her sister and other relatives and friends for her recovery. Mrs. McKinley's last words were for death. An attendant said: "Mrs. McKinley would say, 'why should I linger? Please, God, if it is thy will, why defer it?' She would also say, 'He is gone and life is dark to me now.' Other kind expressions would fall from her lips."

At the McKinley home when death came there were present Secretary Cortelyou, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Barber, Mrs. Sarah Duncan, Mrs. Luther Day, Justice and Mrs. William R. Day, Drs. Portmann, Eymann and Rixey and the nurses.
"Mrs. McKinley lasted hours longer than we expected," said the Secretary. "Her vitality was wonderful," said Dr. Portmann. It was by Secretary Cortelyou that the announcement of the demise was given to the public.

MAY HAVE MIXED DRINKS.

Scientist's Error Possibly Responsible For Deaths.

Manila (By Cable).—A committee of Filipinos appointed to investigate the inoculation of prisoners at Bilibid prison with contaminated serum while a series of experiments with cholera virus was conducted last November has made a report. The committee finds that no one was responsible, and exonerates Dr. R. P. Strong of the Bureau of Science, who was in charge of the bacteriological work of the laboratory system and was conducting the experiments. A scientist who was visiting Dr. Strong was left alone in his laboratory for a while, and he may have accidentally mixed other germs.
Thirteen prisoners out of 24 who were inoculated died.

Drought In West Broken.

Omaha, Neb. (Special).—The drought that has prevailed for many weeks was broken Thursday night, and steady rains are reported from all parts of Nebraska and Southern South Dakota. The rain will prove a salvation to the winter wheat in those sections and comes at a most opportune time for corn.

Woman Indicted For Murder.

Chattanooga, Tenn. (Special).—At Cookeville the Grand Jury returned a true bill against W. S. Bryant and Mrs. Sadie Vestal, charging them jointly with the murder of Chalmers Vestal at Baxter last February. Mrs. Vestal stood high in society in the county before Vestal was killed.

President At Friends' School.

Washington (Special).—President Roosevelt delivered an address at the annual presentation exercises of the Friends' Select School, in this city, where Archie Roosevelt is a student. The President's subject was "The American Boy."

Big Fire In Mexico.

San Antonio, Tex. (Special).—A special train to the Express from San Luis Potosi, Mexico, says: "The great machinery supply and hardware house of Fogarty & Dickinson, one of the largest in northern Mexico, was completely destroyed by fire Sunday, causing a loss of about $500,000, much of which is covered by insurance. The fire was of unknown origin and created a panic in the district in which the establishment was located. The building was one of the largest in the city."

GIVE BOND FOR HALF A MILLION

The Indicted Frisco Capitalists In Court

--Schmitz Carries $210,000.

San Francisco (Special).—The grand jury indicted six millionaires on charges of bribery and attempted bribery, and returned additional indictments against Abraham Ruef and Mayor E. E. Schmitz.

Frank G. Drum, Eugene De Saba, John Martin, Abraham Ruef and Mayor Schmitz were indicted on 14 counts, each charging that they jointly bribed 14 of the 18 supervisors in the sum of $750 a man to fix the gas rate for 1906 at 85 cents instead of 75 cents.

G. H. Umbson, E. E. Green, W. I. Brobeck and Ruef were indicted on 14 counts, each charging that they jointly attempted to bribe 14 supervisors in the sum of $1,000 a man to vote a trolley franchise to the Parkside Transit Company.

Judge Coffey fixed bail at $1,000 on each of the 126 counts contained in the 28 indictments.

The grand jury adjourned until June 10, when investigation of alleged bribery by officers of the Home Telephone Company and by other persons will be resumed.

Millionaires and multimillionaires, presidents and vice presidents and lesser officers of great corporations thronged Judge Coffey's court room Saturday to give bail in excess of half a million dollars to procure personal liberty pending trial on felony indictments returned against them.

First came Louis Glass, vice president of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, who gave bonds in the sum of $20,000 on the charge of bribing two supervisors to vote for the granting of a competing telephone franchise in San Francisco.

President Patrick Calhoun and Assistant President Mullally, of the United Railways Investment Company, and General Counsel Tiley L.

Ford and Assistant Counsel William L. Abbott, of that corporation, each of them indicted on 14 counts on the charge of bribing 13 Supervisors and Mayor Schmitz to grant a trolley franchise under which the United Railways was electrified, had William H. Crocker, president of the Crocker National Bank and foremost capitalist of San Francisco, and President Henry T. Scott, of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, in court to furnish personal bail of $50,000. Arrangements, however, had already been made with a surety company of New York, whose attorney handed to Judge Coffey 56 bonds for $10,000 each.

Attorney Schlesinger gave bail for Theodore V. Halsey, of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, indicted upon the same charges brought against Vice President Glass.

Schmitz had to give $160,000 bail bonds in addition to the $50,000 bonds already put up by him on five indictments charging extortion. After much delay the Mayor, accompanied by two attorneys, President Thomas Williams, of the New California Jockey Club, and President William A. Dingey, of the Contra Costa Water Company, entered and offered 16 bonds of $10,000 each. They were approved.

Before leaving the court room Mayor Schmitz said:

"I have no statement to make at this time further than this: The charges brought against me are absolutely false and malicious. I shall prove my entire innocence in the court."

As Abraham Ruef is a prisoner on charges of extortion to which he pleaded guilty, he prefers Elisor Bigg's Fillmore Street prison house to liberty, and failed to appear in court Saturday.

WRECKERS DITCH FLYING EXPRESS

Hid In Hills and Pulled Rails Apart With Wires.

ONE DEAD, TWENTY-TWO INJURED.

Southern Pacific Flyer Is Thrown From a Trestle Into a Ditch—The Tracks Loosened and Drawn Toward Outer Edge of Trestle as Train Approaches the Structure.

Los Angeles, Cal. (Special).—Train No. 20, one of the Southern Pacific's coast line flyers, due at 9 o'clock P. M., was wrecked at West Glendale, 10 miles north of here, at 12.30 A. M. The wreck was the deliberate work of trainwreckers. One man was killed and 22 persons injured, 3 probably fatally.

In accomplishing the wreck of the train, which was the Coast Line Limited, a devilish ingenuity had been exercised. At a point on a trestle over the Arroyo Seco the fishplates and bolts of two connecting rails on the southbound track had been removed, and in the aperture whence the bolts were taken strands of heavy wire were fastened at the end of each rail. From the appearance of the track after the wreck it was evident that some person hidden on a hillside close to the trestle had pulled the wire as the train approached and spread the rails outward toward the edge of the trestle. The train, three hours late, was traveling at a rate of between 35 and 40 miles an hour. The engine wheels were first to leave the rails, and the engine took to the ties, traveling nearly 100 yards before it was brought to a standstill. The tender, the diner, two Pullmans, the buffet, mail and baggage cars plunged over the edge of the trestle, falling a distance of 16 feet. The buffet car, the express car and one of the Pullmans were turned completely upside down, and the others landed on their sides. All were badly crushed and splintered.

The man killed was T. J. McMahon, of Santa Barbara, a member of the Electrical Workers' Union. He is believed to have been stealing a ride on the baggage car, and had as his companion Frank Naylor, a 15-year-old boy from Santa Barbara, who was fatally injured.

Two Pullmans and the observation car remained on the tracks. The fall crushed and damaged several cars, and it was in the grinding crash that the passengers were hurt.

As soon as possible the uninjured trainmen and passengers scrambled down the steep bank to the overturned cars. Through broken windows and doors, forced with axes, welded from within and without, frightened passengers emerged, while from the darkened interiors came the groans and cries of the injured. A relief train carrying several physicians started from here as soon as news of the wreck was received.

With the aid of lanterns the trainmen made an examination of the track, in order to determine, if possible, the reason for the derailment. Under the first coach, which remained on the train, was found the loosened rails, with the wires securely fastened through the bolt-holes, and the ends uniting in a single strand that led into the brush on the hillside. The injured were brought to this city.

Woman Under Pile Of Rocks.

Lexington, Ky. (Special).—A telegram from Sergeant, Ky., says that the body of Mrs. Ellen Flannery, aged 30 years, a widow, whose home was on Perry Creek, was discovered near her home beneath a heap of rocks. She had been stabbed in the breast, her throat was cut and several bones had been fractured. Floyd Frazier, aged 18 years, was arrested, charged with the murder. No motive for the crime is known.

IN THE FINANCIAL WORLD.

E. B. Havens & Co., a New York Stock Exchange house, failed. The liabilities were placed at $100,000. Employees of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers have decided to demand advances in wages.

Missouri Pacific directors declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent, thus disposing of the fear that the rate would be reduced.

MAY HAVE TAKEN A MILLION

Boeck's Alleged Theft of Gems Steadily Growing.

New York (Special).—That the jewel thefts of J. Edward Boeck, club member, art expert, soldier of fortune and jewelry broker, who disappeared on May 10, will approximate a million dollars and may cause the ruin of several small dealers in precious stones, were the startling disclosures made Wednesday in what has already become one of the most remarkable criminal cases on record. Boeck was indicted on two counts by the grand jury.

That the smooth-tongued adventurer and friends of Eastern royalty had at least three women among his victims, one of whom worshipped him and wore stolen engagement rings which he had given to her, were other developments of one day's investigation. One of the women chased him around the world and finally discovered, it is alleged, that he had a criminal record in many countries, notably in China, where he was suspected of having looted the palace of a high Chinese family during the Boxer troubles. This woman recently appeared in New York and told the Pinkerton detectives what she had learned. She also said that she had been swindled by Boeck out of upward of $35,000.

From one of Boeck's acquaintances detectives learned that the man had frequently said he had been employed by the wife of Senator Thomas C. Platt to sell her home, Tioga Lodge, Highlands Mills. He said he had for years been a close friend of Mrs. Platt, as well as of her husband, and that he had frequently made investments for her. He boasted of his friendship for the aged Senator.

Among bookmakers there was a report that Boeck was the "mysterious source" of a flood of money which poured into the betting ring to back Roseben, the favorite in the Metropolitan handicap at Belmont Park on May 10 just before the books closed. Boeck was a frequent of the track, having become interested in the horses through women associates, who were related to a prominent bookmaker. It is declared Boeck was executing a grand coup to make up enormous losses he had sustained in various ventures. Roseben lost. Boeck disappeared next day.

That he is the smoothest swindler that ever struck the Maiden Lane district and could easily have obtained $2,000,000 worth of precious stones was the opinion of all the large jewelers.

Interesting among the stories told of his remarkable career, which extends to many countries and includes experiences with nobility and Government officials of high rank, was one involving a smuggling venture which was participated in by an American Government employe in Cuba. According to the story, this man brought into America without paying the customs duties thousands of dollars' worth of rare Chinese porcelains and other objects of art. It had been arranged that Boeck, who was an expert in porcelains, should sell them at a big profit and divide with the Government employe. The sales were made, it is alleged, and a snug fortune realized, but Boeck refused to surrender a penny of it to his accomplice, who was unable to take action to recover without revealing his own guilt.

Pawn tickets led to the recovery of something like $85,000 worth of jewelry obtained by Boeck from various well-known houses on memoranda. But it is the belief of the dealers that the most valuable of his supposed stealings he has with him. Many firms where it is known Boeck did business are disinclined to make known their losses for fear of sustaining injury to their credit. It was stated by a representative of Marcellus Pitt & Co., of Maiden Lane, that often Boeck had out for exhibition to prospective customers jewelry of the firm valued at $200,000. Many of the larger firms had the same confidence in him.

WOULD WITHHOLD APPROVAL.

Presbyterian Marriage and Divorce Committee To Act.

Columbus, Ohio (Special).—The committee on marriage and divorce of the Presbyterian General Assembly (Northern) reported this important resolution:

"That Presbyterians are hereby enjoined to enforce the standards of our Church, to hold to strict account all ministers under their call, and to urge all ministers to regard the comity that should refrain from giving the sanction of our Church to the members of another Church whose marriage is in violation of the laws of the Church whose communion they may have chosen."

Gave Him A Hundred Lashes.

Thomasville, Ga. (Special).—R. H. Milam, a white farmer, living near Moultrie, Ga., came to Thomasville to have his wounds dressed, which he asserts were inflicted on him by a band of whitecaps. He tells a harrowing story of being given 100 lashes. He alleges that two men, one claiming to be a deputy sheriff, came to his home and told him he was under arrest, and carried him to the rest of the party. He was informed that the whipping was "because you won't work."

halted Train At Flood's Edge.

Chicago (Special).—A passenger train on the Chicago and Alton railroad had a narrow escape from being wrecked at Lemont, Ill., when a rainstorm overflowed the sewer tunnel and loosened the rails on the railroad bridge. A few minutes before the train reached the bridge E. S. Weimer, ticket agent, who had been awakened by the telephone manager, ran down the tracks with a red flag and halted the train.

NINETEEN MEN DOOMED TO DIE

Protest Made Against Wholesale Execution.

SITUATION SAID TO BE GRAVE.

Men Merely Suspected of Complicity in the Attempt to Assassinate President Cabrera of Guatemala Sentenced to Be Shot—Sentences Were Based Upon False Testimony.

Mexico City (Special).—News was received here of the imprisonment and sentencing to death of 19 men charged with complicity in the recent attempt to assassinate President Cabrera, of Guatemala.

The following telegram has been received from Dr. Rodriguez Parra, Mexican consul at Guatemala City, who is acting as charge d'affaires since the departure of Minister Gambon:

"The author of the plot to assassinate Cabrera committed suicide while the Guatemalan officials were in the act of arresting him. Despite this fact the Council of War passed upon the testimony of 19 persons charged with being suspected accomplices in the crime and sentenced them all to death. Among the doomed are two Italians, one Spaniard, one Belgian and two Mexicans.

"The diplomatic corps met and decided that each minister accredited to the Guatemalan government should ask President Estrada Cabrera for an annulment of the sentences which, they allege, were the result of irregularities and false testimony, and, if this action on their part does not bring immediate results, the diplomatic corps will direct a collective note to President Cabrera. All the members of the corps were in accord with the decision reached, there being not a single dissenting voice."

The situation is considered by Mexican officers to be grave, but there is a prevailing opinion that if the pressure from foreign powers becomes sufficiently great Cabrera will pardon all the men doomed to death, thus endeavoring to nullify the stories of his alleged atrocities which have been sent broadcast. A high officer said that the greatest care would be taken by those entrusted with guarding Mexican interests, for an unguarded word might have serious results. He continued:

"This last act of Cabrera's will convince doubting Thomases among the nations of the world of Mexico's great forbearance in this great crisis. In just 20 days after the alleged attempt was made on the life of President Cabrera three men killed themselves rather than submit to arrest and 19 are sentenced to be shot. Is it within the limits of reason that fair trials could have been given these men? Mexico thinks not, and we will not stand quietly by and see two citizens shot in such a summary manner."

CREMATED IN FURNACE.

Five Men Lose Their Lives in a Pittsburgh Mill.

Pittsburg, Pa. (Special).—Two Americans, well known millmen, and three foreigners were cremated and four foreigners were seriously burned when an explosion occurred at the Eliza Furnace No. 1, of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, limited, in the Hazelwood district of the city. Of a crew of 10 men at the furnace when the accident happened only one, a foreigner, escaped uninjured.

The names of the four foreigners who were injured are not known. They were hurled to a hospital horribly burned.

The accident occurred without a moment's warning. The 10 men were about ready to draw off the molten metal when the ore slipped, falling to the bottom of the furnace. The heavy weight of the ore forced the gas with terrific pressure through the first dust-chamber which was unable to stand the strain, and, therefore, burst.

A tremendous roar accompanied the breaking of the dust-chamber and before the men could escape they were caught by the flames. Willard, West and the three foreigners were directly in front of the furnace. The five other men were back several yards.

For fully 10 minutes the flames shot out before the furnace for a great distance, and when finally the gas was turned off only a few bones of the five men were found.

The four injured men were caught by the first flash and severely burned, but were able to escape before they fell to the ground writhing in agony.

The uninjured foreigner says that Willard's head was blown off by the force of the explosion. Willard and West are said to be two of the most prominent furnace men in the country. They were experts at furnace work, and for this reason it is believed the accident was without warning, as these two men would have known there was something wrong.

The explosion is similar to the one that occurred at the Eliza Furnace No. 2 last January, when 15 men were burned to death and many injured.
