

LOCALS

A bushel of new post cards at the Reporter office.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James L. Decker, east of Centre Hall, Monday night.

Lost—Small brown terrier. Liberal reward offered. Phone or address Zion P. O.

Lloyd Osman, of near Bellefonte, had his foot crushed while working at the stone quarries.

The commencement exercises at the Central State Normal School, Lock Haven, begin Saturday, 22nd inst.

Rev. G. R. Williams, of Snow Shoe, a Presbyterian minister, died at Maple Hills sanatorium, aged seventy years.

Mrs. A. L. Vogt, nee Miss Emile Alexander, of Pittsburgh, is in Centre Hall, the guest of Mrs. Lillie Allison Alexander.

When baby comes, why not make the announcement to your friends by using some of the many "stork" cards on sale at the Reporter office.

The horse sale advertised by Mr. Grove for last Saturday was called off owing to the fact that horses were only in sight when the price was not named.

R. B. Spangler, of Barnesboro, is visiting his mother in this place. He refers to the milling business as being quite brisk and up and abreast with other business ventures.

Beginning of this week, Miss Elva McClennahan, formerly one of the telephone operators in the Commercial Exchange at Centre Hall, went to New York where she will be employed in a sanatorium.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Weber, of Schenectady, New York, were arrivals in Centre Hall Tuesday evening, having come very unexpectedly. Mr. Weber is one of the instructors in Union College, Schenectady.

The Altoona District Epworth League convention will be held in Bellefonte Thursday and Friday of this week. John H. Puff and Miss Gertrude Spangler will represent the Centre Hall chapter of the League, as delegates.

Miss Helen Bartholomew, who just finished teaching a term of public school in Tyrone, came to Centre Hall Tuesday. After a brief stay she will return to Tyrone, where she will be employed as bookkeeper with a firm who are lumber dealers.

P. M. Weber and daughter, Miss Alice, of Huntingdon, were the guests of the Weber family in Centre Hall beginning of this week. Mr. Weber is manager of the foundry department at the Huntingdon Reformatory, and is tied very closely to his duties.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dechant, of Norris-town, sister of Mrs. Phoebe Yearick, and aunt of Mrs. W. B. Mingle, in this place, has been in Centre Hall during the past week or more. Today (Thursday) the former two have planned to go to New Berlin to visit a sister.

Shoeman A. C. Mingle and family had a breakdown in their automobile while running the streets of Bellefonte Friday evening of last week. The axle on the machine broke, throwing the occupants from their seats to the ground. Mrs. Mingle was pretty badly, but not seriously hurt.

Rev. Abner S. Dechant, of Oak Lane, was offered the presidency of the Allentown College for Women, a Reformed institution of which Dr. Thos. S. Land was formerly the president. Rev. Dechant is a nephew of Mrs. Dechant, a guest of the family of W. B. Mingle, Esq., in this place.

Ellis Horner, one of the choppers on Robinson's stove mill job, on the Houser timber tract, was in town Tuesday, and called on the Reporter. He responded to the Reporter's appeal for 4000 eyes to look at the "pink label." Although his credit was up and good, the next pink slip will show it advanced.

A Sober scotylene plant will be installed in the residence of Dr. J. R. G. Allison, in Centre Hall. The plant was purchased through D. H. Martin, of McAllisterville, a representative of the Sober firm. Mr. Martin was in Centre Hall last week, and expects to call here regularly hereafter. He has a number of plants in operation in Millin county, one being in the home of W. O. Resnick, at Millroy, formerly of this place.

The concreting at the Penns Valley bank is completed, and is a decided improvement over all former walks laid at that place. Four pairs of steps—two leading to the bank proper, one to the barber shop and one to Meyer's store, were also wholly constructed of concrete, which makes the improvement of a character to serve almost indefinitely. Aside from being built with a view of obtaining long service from the improvement, Mr. Mingle at all times kept in mind that he was building at the most conspicuous and most frequented point in town, and consequently everything connected with the work has a mechanical appearance.

Pension Bill Vetoes. Governor Stuart vetoed the pension bill. His action was due largely on account of the fact that the legislators had rushed to conclusions without properly studying the subject.

DEATHS.

MRS. MARY E. HESS;

Sunday morning at 7 o'clock, just as she was rising from her bed, Mrs. Mary E. Hess died very suddenly of a hemorrhage of the heart, at the home of her daughter, in Boalsburg. About three weeks ago Mrs. Hess had a similar, and seemingly more severe attack than this one which proved fatal. She was rallying nicely and it was thought her condition was growing more favorable every day. In fact, she was planning to do a little visiting in the near future, consequently her friends were greatly shocked to learn of her sudden death.

Mrs. Hess' maiden name was Brisbane, being a daughter of John and Rachel Brisbane, who lived just east of Boalsburg when the subject of this sketch was born, October 29, 1840.

July 26, 1863, she became the wife of Adam Hess. To this union were born four children, all of whom are living: John, of DuBois; William, of Pittsburgh; Nellie, the wife of Charles Segner, and Harry, of Boalsburg. The deceased is also survived by three brothers: James, of Aurora, Illinois; John, of Girard, Kansas, and William, of Lockport, Illinois. A sister, Mrs. Sallie Rankin, preceded her in death some years ago.

Mrs. Hess was a faithful member of the Lutheran church for many years, and was a charter member of the W. H. and F. Missionary society of the congregation. She was also much devoted to the Sunday school, and will be greatly missed.

The funeral took place from her late home Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. J. L. Stonecypher, her pastor, assisted by Rev. A. A. Black of the Reformed church officiating. Interment was made in the cemetery at Boalsburg, where she was laid to rest alongside the body her husband who departed this life a little over fourteen years ago. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth."

G. W. F. MARK.

Word was received by telegraph of the death of Prof. George Woodward Mark, of Troy, Ohio. The remains will arrive at Spring Mills this (Thursday) afternoon, and the funeral services will be had from the home of the father of the deceased, Henry Mark, near Spring Mills, Friday at 10 o'clock. Interment in the Heckman cemetery.

Mr. Mark a few years ago was a resident of this place. He was a school teacher by profession, and was aged about forty years. He is survived by a wife, Catharine, daughter of Isaac Frain, of Walker Township, and several children. The nature of his illness has not been learned.

MRS. JOHN HUSS.

Mrs. John Huss died at her home in Spring Mills after a lingering illness, aged about thirty-five years. She leaves to mourn her loss two children—a boy and a girl.

Interment will be made today (Thursday) at Spring Mills, Rev. D. G. Gress officiating. Mrs. Huss' maiden name was Schreckengast, and was a native of Gregg township.

School Board Meets.

The Centre Hall School Board effected its organization by electing D. A. Roemer, president; S. W. Smith, secretary, and H. G. Strohmeyer, treasurer. The other members of the board are: John G. Dauberman, G. W. Bushman and John H. Puff, the latter being a new member.

Tuesday evening school teachers were elected, each teacher having received the vote of all directors. The teachers selected are:

High School—Prof. Irvin W. Zeigler, Grammar—James B. Strohm, Intermediate—Helen S. Hosterman, Primary—Maude Sechrist.

The salary of the principal was placed at $75 per month. The other teachers will come under the minimum salary law, and as each will teach under a state certificate, their salaries will be fifty dollars per month.

The salary of the principal was raised from $70 to $75, but under the new minimum salary law and increased appropriation, the cost to the taxpayer in Centre Hall (so far as the salary is concerned) will be $20 per month less than last year.

The tax rate will need to be increased to meet the increase in salaries, but the state will repay the same next year.

Nittany Mountain.

Harry Horner commenced sawing staves for H. Robinson last week.

Nittany Mountain and Black Hawk are keeping up with the rush. Samuel Gingerich and J. A. Hoover had phones placed in their homes last week.

Samuel Larny and wife, of Boonville, Clinton county, visited with A. G. Noll and family over Sunday. Mrs. Larny and Mrs. Noll are sisters.

George Dubbs intends sawing lumber for Robinson's.

Hay for Sale.

Several tons of choice alfalfa hay for sale. No better hay for horses or cattle.

S. W. SMITH.

Rural Line Telephones

Two rural line telephones will be installed, in the residences of Harry W. Frantz and William H. Baird, south of Centre Hall. Branch Company No. 7 & 8, The Patrons Rural Telephone Company, will now add its third pair of wires for a distance of about two and one-half miles to accommodate these gentlemen. There is nothing equal to the telephone in the country home.

No Increase This Year.

School districts will not receive the benefit of the increased appropriation for schools this year. The extra four millions will be paid out during the following two years.

The increase in expense for the present school year occasioned by the new minimum salary law must be met by increased taxation.

Marriage Licenses.

Oscar C. Johnson, Port Matilda. Edith Ewing, Port Matilda. Harry A. Confer, Beech Creek. Maude H. Gardner, Howard. Emory White, Philipsburg. Sara E. Kennedy, Pittsburg. Carl H. Beck, St. Louis, Mo. Bertha Bowes, State College.

Talleyrand as Cook.

Be a cook—some sort of cook, even a ship's cook. Remember Talleyrand. The British authorities gave him twenty-four hours' notice to quit London, and he embarked on a Danish vessel for America. The vessel was held up at sea by an English frigate. A searching party was sent on board. Talleyrand pleaded with the captain not to declare him, as he had no liking for the Tower of London. "I will pass you off as the ship's cook," said the officer. "There is nothing else." After some wry faces the prince consented and with a very ill grace assumed the cotton cap, kitchen apron, carving knife and other appendages in keeping with his new office. When the English officer demanded if there were any French passengers on board the captain replied, "Yes, one poor devil of a limping French cook." Being immediately called up for inspection, Talleyrand made his appearance, saucy in hand and with such a piteous countenance that the Englishman laughed heartily and consented not to make a captive of him.—New York Press.

The Grand Canyon.

Vast as the bed of a vanished ocean, deep as Mount Washington risen from its apex to its base, the grandest canon in the world lay glittering below in the sunlight like a submerged continent. At my very feet, so near that I could have leaped at once into eternity, the earth was cleft to a depth of over 6,000 feet—not by a narrow gorge, but by a gulf within whose cavernous immensity Niagara would be indiscernible and whole cities could be tossed like pebbles.—E. W. G. Weston in The Wide World Magazine.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail, Address Dr. Kilmer & Co. Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Colic and Diarrhoea. Pains in the stomach, colic and diarrhoea are quickly relieved by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by The Star Store, Centre Hall; F. A. Caron, Pottery Mills; C. W. Swartz, Tusseyville.

VOICES FROM THE SEA.

Common Phrases That Have Had Their Origin Aboard Ship.

It is remarkable that a number of common expressions in use every day come to us from the sea. You grumble at a third party for "shoving in his oar" in a conversation. A friend inquires after your health. "Oh, first rate thanks!" you reply, using a term derived from the days of old wooden line of battle ships. Probably each of us knows of some one who is "sailing under false colors."

Politicians are not infrequently "thrown overboard" by their party when they disappoint expectations. We call tall buildings "skyscrapers," a term originally purely nautical. "Close quarters" is a very common expression, which, like "first rate," dates from the time of wooden fighting ships. The "quarters" were protections erected along the bulwarks behind which sailors could lie low and which were used to help to repel boarders.

There are others, too—"half seas over," for instance, and "high and dry." Honest men are said to be "aboveboard." We call a good for nothing man a "derelict," and we urge people to go "full speed ahead" on all occasions when we mean there is need for haste.

DEAD SEA BATHING.

It Must Be Horrible Torture, According to This Account.

In an article on bathing in the Dead sea a clergyman who has made the experiment says: "No sooner has one plunged into the water than one is whipped off one's feet and goes bobbing helplessly about, like a wretched cork. In the effort to regain one's footing and get back to shore one's feet and shins are barked by the jagged stones and pebbles, and when at length one does emerge from its treacherous bosom, with the lower limbs bleeding and torn, one becomes aware of a horrible tingling and burning sensation in eyes, ears, nostrils, mouth and almost every pore of the skin from the brine and bitumen which have penetrated everywhere. Unless great care is taken the bather in the Dead sea is liable to an eruption, which breaks out all over the body and which is commonly known as the 'Dead sea rash.' The best antidote to this is to hurry across as quickly as possible to the Jordan and to take a second plunge therein. The soft and muddy waters of that sacred but dirty stream will effectually remove the salt that has incrustated the body."—New York Tribune.

His Attempt Was Void.

They had been having a discussion concerning the necessity or otherwise of purchasing a new silk dress in order to be on a level with the De Moneys next door. Banks had vetoed the purchase on the ground of extravagance and want of funds, and his wife was much put out.

"Dinner ready, my dear?" he asked in his most conciliatory manner. Her face had been like a stale thunderstorm ever since the disagreement, and Banks wanted to change it.

"Yes," answered Mrs. B. shortly. "Must try again," said Banks to himself. Then aloud: "Ah, I'm glad that, my love. I have what the poets would call 'an aching void.' Sarah."

"You often suffer from headache," she returned in a cutting tone. Banks drew his chair up to the table with unnecessary noise and refrained from further attempts at conciliation for the rest of the day.—Pearson's Weekly.

Buy Hair at Auction?

At any rate, you seem to be going rid of it on auction-sale principles: "going, going, go—n-e!" Stop the auction with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It certainly checks falling hair; no mistake about this. It acts as a regular medicine; makes the scalp healthy. Then you must have healthy hair, for it's nature's way.

The best kind of a testimonial— "Hold for over sixty years." Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Pills, Cherry Pectoral.
