

Birthday Anniversary.

Monday evening the children of James Kennelley, one of the well known and highly esteemed citizens of Spring Mills, tendered him a very elegant entertainment, participated in by a large number of relatives and friends, quite a number being from a distance. The occasion was the anniversary of his sixty-ninth birthday and proved an event of unusual interest. The parlors were brilliantly illuminated and beautifully decorated with evergreen, plants and flowers. Mr. Kennelley being a member of Co. G, 49th Regt., P. V., a hero of grim-visaged war, American flags and the national colors were conspicuous. These emblems were artistically festooned in parlors and diningroom, evidently arranged by skillful hands. The tables in the diningroom were tastily embellished with numerous bouquets of flowers, and furnished with dainties of a choice and elegant character.

The evening was spent in one continuous round of pleasure. Music and song were indulged in. The entertainment progressed in the following order: Song, "Home Sweet Home"; prayer, Rev. McInay; song, "Stand up for Jesus"; address, "Our Comrade," Prof. Krise; song, "America"; address, "The Citizen," Dr. D. M. Wolf; music by orchestra; address, "The Patriot," Rev. McInay; music by orchestra; address, "Our mutual relation," Rev. Haney; song, "God be with you"; music by orchestra; song, "Good night."

At quite a late hour the guests returned to their respective homes, wishing Mr. Kennelley many returns of the day, and expressing themselves as having been delightfully entertained. Mr. Kennelley received a large number of valuable and useful presents. The following persons were present:

Mrs. Jacob Hanel, Mrs. Amanda Leitel, Mrs. Rebecca Sweetwood, Mrs. Kate Condo, Mrs. G. N. Wolf and son, Mrs. Margaret Ruhl and children, Mrs. Peter Annan and daughter, Mrs. Charles Royer, Mrs. Lem. Blair and sons, Mrs. W. B. Hittner and son, Mrs. D. L. Beaton and son, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Boverox and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sheesley and children, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McCool, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barges, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClellan and children, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. King, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Kennelley, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Sweetwood, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goldson and children, Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Haney, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hering, Mrs. Jane Nofsker, Mr. and Mrs. George Gentzel, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gentzel, Lillian Leitel, Lizzie Stover, Bertha Janson, Mamie Ruhl, Ida Condo, Bessie Krise, Bonna Shires.

Haying About Completed.

Farmers in Penns Valley have about completed storing a splendid crop of hay. The product was housed in first class condition, there having been no wet weather of sufficient length to injure the quality of the crop. The grass was from twenty-five to fifty per cent. better this season than last, and at the same market price the crop of 1907 will be worth fully fifty per cent. more than that of last year.

There is an unusually fine set of timothy and clover on the stubble fields which will be the fields from which the bulk of hay of 1908 will be cut.

Wedding Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Heckman have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Emma Rebecca, to Calvin G. Spicher, of Wilkinsburg, which happy event will take place Wednesday, July 31. They expect to be at home after August 15, at 1356 Penn Ave, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

The groom is a son of John Spicher, of Centre Hall, and is making good progress in the industrial world. Several years ago Mr. Spicher went to the southwest and engaged in teaching, but later came back to the Pittsburg district where he has since been located. He is an enterprising young man, and will make his mark.

50,000 Plastering Lath for Sale.

B. D. Brislin & Co., at Centre Hall, offer for sale 50,000 plastering lath. Write or call by phone.

The fellow who is willing to bet his bottom dollar seldom has to dig down very far.

LOCALS.

Miss Marjon Musser, of Northumberland, spent a few days at Spring Mills and Penn Hall.

Miss Mabel Long, of Spring Mills, has been elected to teach the Pike school, in Gregg township.

Miss Mabel Allison, of Spring Mills expects to spend a few weeks at Lumber City, with a camping party.

George W. Dunkle, a veteran soldier, has not been in the best of health during the past few weeks. Although not confined to bed, he is unable to leave the house.

Last week Misses Jennie K. Reifsnnyder and Eva Moyer, of Millheim, embarked on the steamship, Noordam, at New York city, for a six weeks' trip through European countries.

Rev. Andrew S. Carver, a brother of Mrs. W. H. Schuyler, and pastor of the Glen Richey Presbyterian church, and daughter Mary are spending a few days this week at the Presbyterian manse.

Mrs. Mary Goodhart is taking a pleasure trip to Altoona, Johnstown and other points where she has relatives living. At Johnstown she will be the guest of her son, Samuel M. Goodhart.

By the way, the farmer who is crowding his barn with the countifol crops must not give himself too much credit for his success. Keep in mind that Paul and Apollos planted and watered, but God gave the increase.

The festival Saturday night was well patronized and the Methodists feel very grateful for this. The gross receipts were some seventy dollars, the net profits to the church being between forty-five and fifty dollars.

A young son of D. Robert Woodring, of Bellefonte, died in Philadelphia, where he was being treated for spinal trouble. Daniel was the boy's name, and he had been under treatment at one of the hospitals for almost a year.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ocker and daughter, Miss Esther, of Lewisburg, were at Rebersburg among friends during the past week. Wednesday Miss Ocker came to Centre Hall for a few hours among relatives and acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brungard, of New York city, were recent arrivals at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Sarah Alexander, in Millheim. Mr. Brungard left for Kansas City, Mo., but Mrs. Brungard and baby will remain there for some time.

W. Grose Mingle, the head of the Howard Creamery Corporation, purchased a pair of mules from W. Frank Bradford to be used in gathering cream for their Coburn plant. Four wagons go out regularly from the Coburn establishment to gather cream and produce.

Rev. W. K. Foster, wife and son Herbert, are in the country among friends. Rev. Foster is pastor of a Presbyterian charge in Jenkintown, a suburb of Philadelphia, and formerly was located at Centre Hall, which, by the way, is his native home.

The rule will still hold good that it is good policy for the farmer to sleep, consult his wife and a neighbor over a proposition to sign a contract—no matter how large or small. The man who approaches you, Mr. Farmer, will insist on doing business at once, but that does not matter. A second thought has proven a wonderful saving of worry to many a person.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Lee and daughter Grace, of Lewistown, are in the valley, and part of their time is being spent with grandfather M. J. Decker, east of Centre Hall. Mr. Lee for a time was employed at the Standard Steel Works, at Burnham, but after recovering from an attack of sickness engaged with the Lewistown Planing Mill Company, where he is now regularly employed.

Miss Carrie Rutter, of Lorain, Ohio, is the guest of her uncles, Abram P. and Daniel F. Luse, in Centre Hall. She is also spending some time at Spring Mills and other points in the valley. This is her first visit to Pennsylvania, and she is much impressed with the mountain scenery. Penns Cave, Miss Rutter thinks, is quite a wonder, and Centre Hall an ideal town.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy P. Bible, of Roxborough, Philadelphia, were guests of the Misses Bible, east of Centre Hall, over Sunday. Mr. Bible is a son of Frank E. Bible, of Bellefonte, and is engaged with the Crucible Steel Company of Pittsburg. This is Mrs. Bible's first trip to this part of the state, and, of course, she is of the opinion that Central Pennsylvania is just about right.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Long and family, of Newark, Ohio, are guests among their relatives and friends at Spring Mills and other points. Mr. Long was pleased with the rapid transportation east, having left his home at two o'clock a. m., and reached Lewistown at one p. m. His observations led him to say that Pennsylvania farming is more thorough than that in the Buckeye state, but that in manufacturing—especially in the smaller towns—Ohio leads. He is president of the County Christian Endeavor Society, and in that work the counties far exceed those of Pennsylvania. The Longs will remain here until the last of August.

DEATHS.

W. W. MONTGOMERY.

Seventy-four years, ten months and twenty-six days was the age of Wendell Whiteman Montgomery at the time of his death Sunday. Interment was made Tuesday afternoon, ministers of the Episcopal church officiating, the deceased having all his life been a member of that denomination.

Mr. Montgomery was prominent in Bellefonte affairs for years, having lived there since he was about five years of age, his parents having moved from Lancaster county to that place at that time.

When the civil war broke out he enlisted, and later was appointed a clerk in the quarter master general's office in Washington. There he became acquainted with Judge Hale, and it was through his influence that he was appointed postmaster in Bellefonte in 1865. In 1869 he was again appointed to the same position, and reappointed in 1903.

Early in life he was married to Mary Catherine Lingle, daughter of J. J. Lingle, an attorney and former sheriff of the county. Their married life proved a happy one. Mrs. Montgomery survives with the following children: Mrs. J. C. McHugh, Pittsburg; Mrs. John C. Bair, Joseph L., Fred and Emma Montgomery, all of Bellefonte. He also leaves two brothers, Henry H. and Frank C., Bellefonte.

DANIEL GARMAN.

After an illness of about one week's duration, Daniel Garman died at his Bellefonte residence Saturday evening. His age was eighty-seven years, five months and eight days. Interment took place Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Israel Brown, of Harrisburg, officiating.

Mr. Garman was born in Harrisburg, and when a young man located at Jersey Shore where he engaged with a jeweler and learned the trade. In 1856 he went to Lock Haven, and with his brother opened a jewelry store. It was in that place he began the livery business. In 1860 Mr. Garman became a citizen of Bellefonte, and at once opened a livery stable on a large scale, and a year later purchased the hotel that bears his name.

Politically Mr. Garman was a Democrat and during his entire life took an active part in politics. When a young man he held minor borough offices. He was also prominent in the Masonic Lodge, having for fifty-two years been Master Mason. Religiously he was a member of the St. John's Episcopal church.

Mrs. Garman died in 1886. Eight children survive him as follows: Edward, Allen S., Robert, Corney M., Ira D., William H., Mrs. Isaac Maitland and Mrs. Rebecca Cruise. One son, C. Bruce, died last March.

MRS. JOEL STRUBLE.

A very sudden death occurred at Zion, Friday morning, when the angel of death called hence to the spirit world the life of Mrs. Christians Struble, wife of Joel Struble. Mrs. Struble had her usual health when she retired Thursday night and Friday morning she was found dead in bed.

The deceased whose maiden name was Christians Gross, was born in Union county, and was sixty-eight years old. She leaves to mourn her death a loving husband, but no children.

She was a member of the Reformed church, and will be greatly missed. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon. Interment in the Zion cemetery.

MRS. LOUISA BRACKBILL.

Last week the Reporter gave an account of a fall experienced by Mrs. Louisa Brackbill, of Bellefonte, from the second story balcony of a porch, in which the lady broke her arms and received other injuries. As a direct result of this mishap Mrs. Brackbill died Sunday evening. She was born at Centre Hill, June 6th, 1819, making her age eighty-eight years, one month and fifteen days. She was a daughter of John Runkle, deceased, and leaves one brother, James Runkle, Sr.

Her marriage to John Brackbill occurred in 1841. One son, William R., with whom she made her home, survives.

Linden Hall.

James Harsberger is suffering from an abscess on his face which has been causing him trouble for three weeks.

Francis Swabb, of Erie, is spending his vacation with his Grandfather Swabb, at Willow Spring.

William Wieland returned to his home at Mitchell, Nebraska, after spending a week at the bedside of his aged mother, who is seriously ill from heart trouble. It is twenty years since he left Centre county to locate in the west, and this was his first visit east.

The farmers in this section are busy cutting wheat. Much of the hay has been left until after the grain is harvested.

Mrs. Annie Noll returned to her home in Jeannette after spending several weeks with relatives. She was accompanied by her twin boys, who are bright little fellows eight years of age.

Wm. Frazier was kicked on the chest by a horse one day last week, and was off duty for several days.

Henry Houser came over from Hecla to see how the crops were doing on his farm here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Tressler were among those from a distance who attended the funeral of D. J. Tressler, Saturday.

Mrs. J. H. Ross and daughter Irene returned from a two weeks' visit in Altoona.

Will Stuart, of Skiatook, Indian Territory, passed through here in his touring car, last week, on his way to Atlantic City.

Mrs. Mary Heilman, of Heilmantale, is visiting friends here and helping to care for her sister, who has been quite ill.

George Meyer, of Milton, spent several days of his vacation with his mother, before going to Pittsburg for a short visit.

Mrs. Benner Walker, who is recovering from a serious illness, went to her former home, near Snow Shoe, as it is thought the change would benefit her.

Mrs. Nora Smith, wife of Dr. Smith, of Altoona, who recently returned from an extended trip along the Pacific coast, and Mrs. Samuel Musser were recent visitors at the J. M. Ross home.

Georges Valley.

Wheat is ripening so fast that many of the farmers must leave their grass stand and cut the grain.

Mrs. Seward Decker and son Lester spent a few days with her parents here. She also assisted her sister, Mrs. Gobbie, a few days.

Harry Lingle and sister, Mrs. Frick, who have been living in Philadelphia for some time, came Saturday to spend a week or more with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lingle. The young man has an excellent position in the city mentioned.

James McCool, of near Tusseyville, passed through the valley one day last week.

Huckleberries are very plentiful and are being brought out of the Seven Mountains by the bushels.

George Fouat, son of Lew. Fouat, of Pottery Mills, visited friends here for a week.

The barn raising at Wesley Gobbie's Tuesday of last week was a large one. Sixty-five or more men assisted, and with the women and children there were over one hundred present. By this time the building is about completed, and next week will be ready to receive the crops.

Wheat a Fine Crop.

The farmers in Penns Valley are in the midst of cutting one of the best wheat crops harvested for some years. The straw has attained an unusually good length, the heads are both long and well filled with plump berries. By the close of the week the crop will have been cut, and if the weather is favorable some of it will have been stored.

There are many barns that will be too small to hold the bountiful crops the farmer is harvesting, necessitating the stacking of the wheat. This speaks well for the farmer.

Even in the case of a self-made man a woman can finish up the job by making a fool of him.

For that Dandruff

There is one thing that will cure it—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is a regular scalp-medicine. It quickly destroys the germs which cause this disease. The unhealthy scalp becomes healthy. The dandruff disappears, had to disappear. A healthy scalp means a great deal to you—healthy hair, no dandruff, no pimples, no eruptions.

The best kind of a testimonial—"Sold for over sixty years."
