American Fisheries.
According to the figures given in the statistical abstract for the latest reported years the annual product of American waters, fresh and salt, has a value of about $50,000,000 exclusive of the salmon, seal and other products of Alaska. This includes fish of all kinds, oysters and clams, frogs, sponges, terrapin, whale-bone and alligator hides. Nearly one-quarter of the total is represented by the clams and oysters of the New York market. Another quarter is represented by New England's supply of fish of all kinds, oysters, eels and whale oil included. The Great Lakes produce nearly $3,000,000 worth of fish, principally trout, whitefish and lake herring. The Pacific Coast States are credited with $3,400,000 worth of salmon (1904) and $1,000,000 worth of oysters. The cod and the mackerel of the Eastern Coast for the years quoted show a value of about $3,500,000.—New York Sun.

Her Sense of Humor.
"You laughed right in the midst of the ceremony," said the bridegroom, almost reproachfully, to the bride.
"Well," responded the bride, "that ridiculous minister made me promise to obey you, and it struck me as too funny."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Of Course.
Mrs. Sunburst—Why, Mary, what are you putting the flypaper outside the house for?
Mary, the Latest—Sure, an' ain't there more flies outside than inside?—Puck.

Dr. Dinsmore was a Waynesburg College graduate and had a diploma from the Jefferson Medical College, of Philadelphia.

Coal Miner's Singular Token For Widow In Austria.

Washington (Special).—A ghastly scene was enacted at the burial of Michael Bakezki, an Austrian coal miner, whose body was interred in the Independence Cemetery. Bakezki's last request was that his death picture be sent to his wife in Austria.
When the funeral cortege reached the burial ground the body was rudely dragged from the coffin and placed in a sitting posture against the fence, while a photographer snapped the corpse surrounded by laughing friends. The body was then bundled into the casket, lowered into a grave and the funeral concluded.

Scranton gave away millions of dollars in franchise many a year ago and all it can now do is to accept gratefully any "concession" made by public utility corporations.

SENT TO JAIL AS SCOLD.
Chester Woman's Tongue Made Life Unbearable To Neighbors.

Chester (Special).—For the first time in this city the old blue laws relating to a woman being a common scold were enforced, although the charges were moderated by Magistrate John Steckman, who issued the warrant for Mrs. Della Erner as a general nuisance. The complaint was sworn to by police officer Meredith, who, when testifying, said that the woman was a general scold in the neighborhood where she resided on Howell Street, and that the ducking stool should be used on her.
Fourteen neighbors testified that Mrs. Erner was a general nuisance and common scold and that nights she became intoxicated and it was impossible to sleep in a house within a block of where she resided.
Mrs. Erner was held in $300 bail and not having the money was sent to Media jail to await trial at the September term of Court. A sad feature of the woman being jailed is that she has four small children who are dependent upon her for a living.

WOMAN FIGHTS OFF ROBBER.
Saves $1000 By Using Baseball Bat And Shotgun.

Butler (Special).—Mrs. Thomas Cooper, wife of a Jefferson Township farmer, saved $1000 from a burglar by a clever ruse. Mrs. Cooper was alone in the house when a stranger knocked. She refused to allow him to enter and he pushed open the door.
"Throw up your hands," he ordered, pointing a pistol at Mrs. Cooper.
Instead, she grabbed a baseball bat, struck the intruder, slammed the door shut and locked it. The man burst the door open and again attacked the woman. She fought until exhausted and then told the robber to go to an outer room for the money.
She knew that $1000 was secreted upstairs and meant to defend it. She secured a double-barreled shotgun from a closet and when the burglar saw it he fled.

THREE GENERATIONS IN JAIL.
Milton Detectives Break Up Gang Of Robbers.

Milton (Special).—With the arrest of David Keys, an old Civil War veteran and a resident of this place for many years, of complicity in the robberies perpetrated here recently, three generations are now lodged in jail as members of this gang.
They are David Keys, who guarded the plunder; Charles Keys, his son, who was arrested in Harrisburg for floating much of the stolen goods down the river in stolen row boats and who seems to be the leader of the gang, and Clarence Starks, the grandson, who is one of the most desperate characters in town.
There are now eight of this notorious ring in county prison and many more arrests will follow as some of the thieves are very young men and willing to implicate the balance of the crowd.

Austria's fishing industry suffers from the handicap that the fishermen are nearly all in the clutches of usurers. They are compelled to borrow money when the catch is poor and they are never able to get out of debt again.

Thirty-five years ago the consumption of Portland cement was 3,000 barrels per year, and now it has reached 4,000,000. It is said that last year's output would be sufficient to construct a sidewalk 15 feet wide encircling the globe.

They agree that the boy's name shall become Roy Soo Sing, that Charles Sing shall be his father, and in return the boy becomes the legal heir of the Chinaman. The latter is American in all his habits.

FALL AFFECTED MEMORY.
Man's Mind A Blank Concerning Incidents Of A Day.

Nazareth (Special).—Elmer Souerwine, connected with a clothing house here, sustained a fall which has deprived him of all memory of the incidents of the day.
He visited Philadelphia on business and returned to transact business near Deladole. While walking a railroad track with a friend he fell into a coal chute, dropping six feet and landing on his hands and knees.
He cannot recall any incident connected with his trip nor with the fall. He is rational, recognizes all about him and talks of everything except the events of the one day.

$50,000 For Wife's Love.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

How a Veteran Was Saved the Amputation of a Limb.

B. Frank Doremus, veteran, of Roosevelt Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., says:

"I had been showing symptoms of kidney trouble from the time I was mustered out of the army, but in all my life I never suffered as in 1897. Headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, first, and then dropsy. I was weak and helpless, having run down from 180 to 125 pounds. I was having terrible pain in the kidneys, and the secretions passed almost involuntarily. My left leg swelled until it was 34 inches around, and the doctor tapped it night and morning until I could no longer stand it, and then he advised amputation. I refused, and began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The swelling subsided gradually, the urine became natural and all my pains and aches disappeared. I have been well now for nine years since using Doan's Kidney Pills."

Manila Hemp.

Manila hemp is the most valuable cordage fiber in the world. It has been an important article of commerce for over 100 years. The first shipment to the United States was made about 1824. It is interesting to note that the pioneers in the export of hemp from the Philippines were American houses that were established in Manila about that time, and that for 50 years thereafter the American houses of Russell & Sturgis and Pelee, Hubbard & Co. controlled this trade, making advances to the growers and stimulating the production. It is therefore largely owing to American enterprise that Manila hemp is an article of world commerce today.
Manila hemp cannot, apparently, be successfully grown in any other part of the world. It is mainly raised on the Islands of Luzon, Samar, Leyte and Mindanao. The Province of Albay, in Luzon, usually produces over one-fourth of the total crop.

NO RELIEF FROM ECZEMA

For Over Two Years—Patent Medicines, Quack Cures, and Even Doctors Fail—Cuticura Succeeds.

"I was very badly afflicted with eczema for more than two years. The parts affected were my limbs below the knees. I tried all the physicians in the town and some in the surrounding towns, and I also tried all the patent remedies that I heard of, besides all the cures advised by old women and quacks, and found no relief whatever until I commenced using the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. In the Cuticura Remedies I found immediate relief and was soon sound and well. C. V. Beltz, Tippecanoe, Ind., Nov. 15, 1905."

Making Things Easy.

It was hard to speak a disheartening word to the smiling Irish maid who seemed so eager to secure the situation, but even at the end of three days spent in employment offices Mrs. Gregg's sense of justice was keen.

"I cannot let you come thinking you are to have an easy place," she said, with wistful earnestness, "for it isn't. There the five of us and there's a great deal to do."
"Oh, but you don't know me, ma'am," said the dauntless maid. "I can make any place I take easy by just layin' out a little wurk here an' a little wurk there ma'am."
"If that's all that's troublin' you you've no need to consider it at all!"

Peace-Loving Kansas.

Out in Grant County the first jury trial in 10 years was held last week—and this trial was over a trifling damage suit that had no business in court. Not only was there not a criminal action in that time, but there was not even a civil dispute that required the services of a jury. The people of Grant County have little use for a court.

The prohibitory law has always been enforced in nearly all of the short-grass counties. Few of them have jails, and the few jails there are in Western Kansas rarely have an inmate from one year's end to another.
