The mosquito is no respecter of blood.

Keith's Theatre.
"Compromised" is the title of a new and brilliant play by L. J. Vance which is being presented at Keith's Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, this week. Wm. F. Hawtreys, the famous English star, is the leading actor in the cast. "The Phantasmal Phantoms" is a rare and spectacular novelty with ten great people in an acrobatic and terpsichorean surprise act. Others are: Anna Elizabeth Kelley, high-class vocalist; Anderson & Goines, colored fun-makers; Clara Ballerini, Spanish trapeze wonder; Zano, magician. An extra added attraction is the European comedy cyclists, Paulton and Dooley.

Swiped Cookies, Etc.
"The boys about town" had an idea how royally the Misses Krape would entertain their company from Bellefonte Tuesday night, and judging that they had prepared more good things than would be good for the stomachs of the invited guests, swiped a portion of the delicacies and fled to a secluded spot. Mr. Krape was in hot pursuit with a loaded shot gun, but determined as he was to cripple the propelling machinery of the youths they were too active for him to come within fair range.

Mersinger-Dashem.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dashem, near Potters Mills, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening, at six o'clock, at which time Rev. J. M. Reareick united in marriage Miss Bessie Dashem and Edward Mersinger, both of near Potters Mills. The groom had been in the west for several years, but last spring sold his possessions in South Dakota and came east, and for the present expects to remain here. The Reporter extends congratulations.

Picnic at Wolf's Store.
A basket picnic will be held by the Brungart's Lutheran Sunday school, at Wolf's Store, on Saturday, in the woods on Allen Brungart's farm, north of the public road. The Coburn Band will furnish music. There will be a game of base ball, and many other games as well as races of various kinds will be participated in by old and young. Everybody invited.

A President's Daughter.
When President Grant's only daughter, Nellie, afterward Mrs. Sartoris, was a miss of twelve years, she attended a private school in Washington. One afternoon, says the author of "The Olivia Letters," Nellie's lessons were not learned. The carriage came for her, but the teacher dismissed it with the request that it should return at the end of a half hour. The half hour came and glided away with the lesson still unlearned. The carriage came again and was dismissed. At the end of the second half hour the lesson was committed, and Miss Nellie was permitted to go. The next day at the usual hour the young lady arrived, accompanied by her mother. The teacher began to fear she had lost her most cherished pupil, but Mrs. Grant came to thank her for performing her duty.

Reached the Limit.
A Providence girl, who has been married about six months, had wedding cards a short time ago from an old school friend who had given her a wedding present, which, of course, demanded one in return. Among her wedding presents the Providence girl had duplicates in the shape of two silver card trays, and in a spirit of economy she decided to give one of these to her friend. It was marked with her own initials, but it would be only a matter of a few minutes to have them removed and the proper monogram cut. She took it to the jeweler and explained what was to be done. He picked up the tray, looked at it, closely and smiled.

Had a Slew but Sure Gait.
There have been numerous disappointments in the outcome of some of the boys. We remember one boy in particular who was the butt of all ridicule from the boys of his age, and he took it good naturedly. He seemed to have no particular friends and herded by himself. His clothes always looked funny, and he had that awkward swagger over which the rest of us had much sport. No one ever thought that that plug would ever get anywhere or have anything. But today that plug is dressing a better salary than any two of the old gang. He has more money, more influence and more friends than any of the rest of us. The plug had a gait that was slow, but it was sure. He didn't appear to be a bit lighter than he had a surface that tickled on a polish.—Westphalia (Mo.) Times.

Yet He Didn't Need Them.
He had been calling on a young lady for many weeks; but, being backward, he had not been slow. Finally she invited him up to her to start something on the next time he called she told him to the rose in his buttonhole and said:

"I'll give you a kiss for that rose." A young man's blush meandered over his cheeks, but the exchange was made. Then he grabbed his hat and started to leave the room.

"Where are you going?" she asked in surprise.

"To the florist for more roses," he explained.

Dangerous Ignorance.
If his name came to him and said, "I want you to show me on a piece of paper how this hose is drained and why such a paper is used," could the average citizen satisfy that son? Of course he could not. A few might be able to do so, but the average man is an ignorant person on all questions of hygiene.—G. H. R. Dabbs, M. D., in C. B. Fry's Magazine.

All Hers.
"I'm told," said Miss Pepprey, "that your bride is very pretty."

"Yes, indeed," replied Mr. Con Seat. "Several of the guests at the ceremony were pleased to call it 'a wedding of beauty and brains.'"

"Really? She must be a remarkable woman to have beauty and brains too."—Philadelphia Press.

He Listened to All.
Fontenelle listened to everything, and he offended no one by disputing anything. At the close of his life he was asked the secret of his success, and he replied that it was by observing two maxims. "Everybody may be right" and "Everything may be so."

The true strength of every human soul is to be dependent on as many nobler as it can discern and to be depended upon by as many inferior as it can reach.—Ruskin.

Painters just finished putting the extra touches on the dwelling house of William Flory. The improvement is very decided.

Excavations are being made for a new tenement house on the E. M. Huyett farm, west of Centre Hall. The work is being done by William Flory.

Among others who are attending the Williams Grove picnic are Hon. L. Rhone, Ex-Sheriff Cyrus Brungart, Lyman L. Smith, John J. Arney, Miss Pearl Arney and J. Paul Reareick.

Rev. G. W. McInay and Miss Lizzie Stover, W. W. McCormick, Mrs. T. L. Moore and Miss Elsie Moore attended the Epworth League Convention at Mill Hall as representatives of the West end of Penn's Valley Methodist charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Seigh and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Richards and children, of Pittsburg, who for some time had been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Horner, west of Centre Hall, returned to Pittsburg Tuesday. They were thoroughly delighted with their visit here.

Mrs. George Bailey, of State College, and Mrs. William Kahn, of Altoona, both daughters of J. A. Kline, of Centre Mills, Tuesday came to Centre Hall and for a short time will be the guests of their cousin, Mrs. William Homan and family, east of town. Mr. Kahn is a train announcer, in Altoona, which accounts for his nonappearance here.

Because his smoke house went up in smoke and his meat ruined, W. E. Mingle, Esq., is preparing to take every precaution to prevent a recurrence of the loss, and is now building a smoke house out of concrete. In order to insure the best results, Mr. Mingle is personally overseeing the work. The whole structure will be of concrete, and so built that the fire box will be on the outside in order that the heat will not effect the meat while in the process of being smoked.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and Home Swamp-Root dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake; remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Birmingham, N. Y., on every bottle.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

"HOW TO KEEP HEALTHY."

"I am not a believer in too much medicine. Don't take medicine all the time. Get a good tonic and take it until the old vitality returns then stop. A general tonic and system renovator should be taken in the spring and fall. For this purpose there is nothing better on earth than Cooper's New Discovery, but I advise no one to take this medicine 'or any other all year long.

Give nature a chance. Establish regularity in movement of the bowels. Drink plenty of water but not at meal time. Chew your food very carefully and eat slowly. Sleep with the window open, don't be afraid of fresh air and do not eat a great deal of grease. Be regular at meals. Go to bed and get up at the same hour each day if possible. Take a bottle of Cooper's New Discovery twice a year and your life should be long and healthy.

Here is what Cooper's New Discovery does for run-down people who need a tonic: "I have been sick for a number of years with stomach trouble and also from back-aches and headaches. Sometimes I became so weak I could not stand on my feet. My food did not seem to nourish me and I could not gain strength. I felt tired to death all the time. Nothing I took helped me, and hearing so much of the Cooper medicines I decided to try them."

"I have taken two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery with the most remarkable results. I now feel entirely well. My appetite is fine, I sleep well, have no more headaches and am quite strong again. I cannot express my thanks for what these medicines have done." Sallie Middleton, 1957 Central Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ask us about these medicines. We sell them."
