Keith's Theatre.

There is a grand array of world-wide talent at Keith's Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, this week. To begin with, The Song Birds, presented by Wm. Burress and a brilliant company of artists, is on for the second and last week. Philadelphia's favorite star, Corinne, is making her first vaudeville appearance, giving her famous song of nations, dances and mandolin specialties. Frank Fogerty is entertaining with irresistible Irish humor, while Searl and Violet Allen are presenting the original farce, "The Traveling Man." The Military Oc-tette and the "Girl with the Baton" is a grand musical fantasy. An attraction especially for the children is Beatty's trained bears.

Most people would think that as man s, with very few exceptions, "right And now Schwab is going to give a handed" he would be at the same time "right legged." But this is not the case. Almost every right handed man uses his left leg more than his right. For instance, most people find it much more natural to go around circles to the right than to the left. That is beinto action, and it is on this account that bodies of soldiery always start to march with the left foot. Almost all Donald, the two year old son of courses for foot races are made out for Dr. and Mrs. W. E Park, of Sun-running to the right, and dancers will running to the right, and dancers will indorse the statement that the majority of movements are far more easily executed in that direction. The left foot is the one that is placed in the stirrup for mounting a horse, and in jumping it is from the left foot that the athlete Miss Barbara Jane Gobeen, daughter "takes ofk." Thus it will be seen, as a general rule, "right handed" people are "left legged."

A Wellington Ruse.

Once during the Iron Duke's campaign in the Pyrenees it happened that General Picton's disposition for receiving the assault of Marshal Soult displeased him. The danger threatened from in front, and the difficulty lay in delaying the attack until Wellington could effect the change he wished. He was, as usual, equal to the occasion. Waving his hat in the air, he galloped to the front of the regiment as if he meant to order a charge. The whole of Picton's line cheered tremendously, and as the roar died away Wellington was heard to remark half to himself: "Soult is a cautious commander and will not attack in force without ascertaining the meaning of these cheers. That will leave time for the Sixth division to come up, and we shall beat him." This was exactly what happened, and Soult sustained a bloody re-F. E. Smoking In Congress.

The rule against smoking in conress was adopted some years ago at the suggestion of the late Senator Ingalls of Kansas. The Kansas senator complained one day that smoke was being wafted into the chamber from the corridors or cloakrooms. Other senators joined the Kansan in protest. The rule was passed. Later it developed that the smoke came from burning waste near the capitol, and the wind carried it into the building. When it reached the ovectories of Mr. Ingalls it reminded him of a Kansas cigar. But the discovery of the mistake did not abate the rule.-Washington Post.

Parents whose children are still out of school should bestir themselves. The little ones have a right to an education.
