MEAT DEALERS

New Rules Governing Sale of Meats .-Everything Sold in This State Will Have to be Clean and Eresh.

Dr. Leonard Pearson, of Philadelphia, head of the state live stock sanitary board, has started after the butchers and meat dealers and has formulated a set of rules for their guidance. Meat sold to the public in Pennsylvania will have to be clean and healthy. Sellers of diseased or upclean ment are to be severely punished if caught. Here are some of the requirements of the new rules : Walls, partitions and posts in shops and slaughter houses are required to be smooth and without projections or crevices.

Trays and other receptacles used for meat or other edible parts, wagous used for bauling meat and all knives, cleavers, meat grinders, sausage fillers and other tools and machinery must be cleaned after being used so that particles of meat will not be retained in the cracks or crevices. The employment of persons affected with tuberculosis or other contagious or infectious diseases is prohibited in any establishment where meats or meat products are prepared for food. It is required that the clothing of employee, that comes, in contact with meat shall be of a material that is readily cleaused and shall be kept clean. Employees who handle meats or other food products will be expected to keep their hands clean of any filthy or infectious matter.

The use of a part of the slaughter house for a stable is prohibited. The accumulation of stable refuse or of bones, or other waste parts of animals in or adjoining the slaughter house or ice box is also forbidden, The feeding of hogs or other animals on the premises with the slaughter house refuse i not permitted. Where this practice is allowed it is impossible to maintain cleanliness and sanitary conditions, and it is also a means of spreading disease. Slaughtering rooms are to be cleaned at the close of each day's work. Rooms used for this purpose and all rooms used for storing meat or manufacturing meat products are to be kept clean and are to be provided with sufficient light and ventilation.

The storing of hides on the slaughter house floor is prohibited. The meat of any part of an animal intended for consumption must not be permitted to

An Enjoyable Reunion. A very enjoyable reunion of the Jacobs clan was held at the home of Mrs. William Resides, at Bellefonte, Thursday, the venerable Armstrong Jacobs, of Howard, being the guest of honor. Mr. Jacobs is hale and hearty at the advanced age of eighty-four years, reports the Daily News. The youngest direct descendant was Elizabeth Bateman, of Tyrone. The reunion was the first of this family, but it will not be the last for the family will reunite at the home of Mrs. John Leech next summer. Plans are on foot to make this affair a much larger gathering. There were about thirty seated around the sumptuously laden table. All voted this gathering a huge success. Relatives from Philadelphia, Altoous, Tyrone, Howard, Centre Hall, Boalsburg and State College were present. Among them were Mrs. Charles Gobeen, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Souers and son, Altoons ; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hustinge, Charles Bateman and family, Tyrone; Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong Jacobs, Howard ; L. Jacobs, Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs. Boalsburg, and Mrs. John Leech and family, State College. " Ben-Hur."

In addition to the twelve evening performances, matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday of each week.

" Ben-Hur," with its lustrous star of Bethlehem, its camels, Arabian steeds, Oriental trappery, and mimic splendor of the "gorgeous East," is beyond dispute the most elaborate spectacle ever staged in the history of the world.

"Ben-Hur" appeals to all classes, all ages and all denominations of the Christian faith, and draws to it, as to a place of worship, hundreds of thousands who seldom, if ever, set foot within a theatre.

Freedog New Home.

Some months ago the Reporter stated that the Neff Brothers, Prof. C. R. and Charles B., had divided their arge farm, and that it was the intention of the senior brother to erect a new farm building on his portion. Work on the erection of a dwelling house was commenced last spring, and today a splendid home is almost com- This indicates that the subscription pleted. SAD ACCIDENT ON THE MOUNTAINS. Austin Watson Found Dead in the Muncy Mountains, near Gum Stump, Wednesday morning of last week, Austin Watson, the eighteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Watson, of Gum Stump, went into the mountains to hunt, and when he did not return in the evening his parents grew anxious and started to search for the hunter, says the Daily News. The father and a brother traveled all over the mountains from evening until day light, and when they had just about concluded to go home for breakfast, ing friends at Bellefonte. after which they again would resume their hunt, they found the body of the young man cold in death. A horrible sight presented itself to the father when he went to where the boy was lying for he discovered that the whole of the top of his head had been blown Eisenbuth.

The two men carried the body home and prepared it for burial. The mother and father are nearly heart broken over the sad affair.

Keith's Theatre.

The world's best vaudeville is to be had at Keith's Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, at all times, but the bill for this week is especially attractive. The Fadettes, of Boston, America's leading woman's orchestra, is receiving a brilliant ovation. The Village Choir, with the songs of yesterhistoric romance "Ben-Hur" at the day, today and forever, is playing a welcome return. A new feature is Gertrude Hoffman, who appears for the funeral of their brother, Jacob the first time in the Quaker City in imitative caricatures of living celebrities. As a further attraction should be mentioned Harry Bulger, the musical comedy star. Gertrella, soubrette and gymnast, in "A Maid of the Rhine" Bobcay's troupe of whirlwind Arab acrobats direct from the Orient ; Eddie Collins, "The Boy Wonder "; Warren & Blanchard in comedy song and conversation, and the Grotesque Ran dolphs are others on the bill.

Sowing Grain, October 10th.

Last Thursday, October 10th, Charles Stump, farmer for S. W. Smith, sowed five acres to wheat. Mention of this lateness of sowing. The outcome, loss. good or bad, will be noted in these columns.

Twelve days earlier, last season, five acres were sown, and yielded fully it April 1st. The farm is now tenanted thirty bushels per acre. Another plot by Andrew Zettle. of five acres sown beginning of September did not yield nearly as well, and brought down the average yield of the ten acres to a fraction over twenty-four bushels per acre. At the time of " wintering in " the early sown plot looked very promising, while the
